SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY OPENED ITS DOORS TO LARGE ENROLLMENT

Dr. I. S. Sassaman Delivered Opening Address; Many Changes in Institution, Both as to Buildings and to Faculty Susquehanna University opened one Wednesday, September 17 with one of the largest enrollments ever known. As the students entered once again the portals of Susquehanna they found extensive improvements which as yet are not entirely finished. Chief among these is the addition to Selbert Hall. This new addition was brought about because of the increased enrollment which has caused a very crowded condition upon the campus. The present Chapel Hall will hold only about seventy-five per cent of the student body and for this reason the Board of Trustees authorized the Executive Committee to proceed to the enlargement of Selbert Hall by adding two wings, eighty-two and sixty feet respectively, which will afford a beautiful Chapel Hall accommodating five hundred people, also a modern Dining Hall and Kitchen, and on the second and third floors there will be dormitory facilities for eighty young women. This is now under construction, all of the steel work being in place and much of the brick work being finished. This will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and it is hoped that it won't be long until Susquehanna will have a bigger and better Selbert Hall.

There are two other improvements worthy of mentioning, which, although they are not on the campus are indirectly connected with the University. Bond and Key Club will soon be the proud possessor of a new home at the site of their old home on Walnut street. Building operations were begun last June, and everything points to completion at an early date. Phi Beta Rho fraternity purchased the A. E. Whitely home on West Pine street and took possession of it at the opening of the college year.

Besides the material changes on the campus there were also several changes among the faculty. Owing to the death of the beloved Professor, Rev. John B. Focht, D. D., a vacancy was caused in the Seminary faculty, to which Rev. T. W. Kretschman, A. B., A. M., Ph. D., of the Western Theological Seminary at Seattle, Washington, was elected last June. Dr. Kretschman has asked that he might have a short time to arrange his affairs in Seattle, which request has been granted, so that he is expected on or about November 15th. Dr.

Very Interesting Meeting by Y. W.

LOCAL ASSOCIATION HELD THE FIRST MEETING OF COLLEGE YEAR, AT WHICH TIME A HEARTY WELCOME WAS EXTENDED TO ALL

The first meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held last Tuesday evening in Selbert Hall parlors.

The meeting was very interesting, and the president extended a hearty welcome to all the new girls. Misses Morning and Keiser sang "The Lord is My Shepherd." Margaret Spigelmyer read an article on "Maximum Living on the Campus." Verda Long gave one of Edgar A. Guest's poems, after which the meeting was closed by singing "Follow the Glean."

LANTHORN PHOTOGRAPHER HERE DURING THIS WEEK

The official Lanthorn photographer will be on the campus this entire week for the purpose of taking individual photographs for this year's Lanthorn. Every student is requested to cooperate with the staff in having their pictures taken as soon as possible.

Annual Y Mixer Enjoyed by All

Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A. HELD PLEASANT EVENT IN ALUMNI GYMNASIUM. LARGE CROWD PRESENT AND FINE PROGRAM RENDERED

The annual Y. M. and Y. W. Mixer, which was held in Alumni Gymnasium last Monday evening was a marked success, and certainly was true to the name which has been given it, for it was a real mixer from the beginning until the closing part of the program, because every one learned to know each other better, and before the evening was well spent many new friendships were formed.

As the hour of eight approached the young people of the campus began to assemble in the "gym," the scene of the activities. Upon entering the gymnasium name cards were pinned on each individual and after that a general and complete handshaking took place, welcoming the new students at Susquehanna and extending hearty greetings to old friends. Soon the building was filled with chattering voices. A beauty contest was staged, groups choosing three couples to represent them in the beauty pageant. After passing before the judges' stand occupied by the faculty, the award was given to Mr. Jacob Kroon, better known as "Rabbi," and Miss Marion Pounder, as the best looking. Concluded on Page 3

Y. M. C. A. Held First Meeting

ORGANIZATION STARTED YEAR WITH ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE. DR. KERN, THE NEW INSTRUCTOR IN GREEK AND GERMAN, SPOKE TO YOUNG MEN

The Y. M. C. A. held its first meeting of the present college year on Tuesday evening. The attendance was the best for some time. Let each one avail himself of this opportunity and be present at all the meetings which are conducted in the Chapel every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock for worship and devotion.

After the devotional exercises were conducted by the president, Ralph Gramley, the Rev. Dr. Kern the new instructor in Greek and German, addressed the organization, using as his subject the letters Y M C A. Dr. Kern spoke in part:

In Y we find the word young. Youth is the first principle acquired in the Christian life. A person is never able to gain youth nor is he able to restore it. Youth is wonderful and illustrious. It is a talent that one must keep. Youth is the condition of Christianity. Christ's life was youth. Heaven and its language knows no age. Everyone must have a spirit to serve and be active and young, for the young are the ideal souls.

Man, what is he? One who is able to put his manhood in use to those who need help. Manhood demands the establishment of the time to come, to grow, to become intelligent. Man is sacrificial.

Christian. What is a Christian? One who is happy and glad. What is more beautiful than to be happy as one is going nearer and nearer to eternity. Many are afraid of death. A Christian life sees in its life happiness. Life would be useless if people did not get ready for death. Every person must be able to translate his religion into life and get it.

In Christ's life there is an example. He loved to be with Peter, James and John. Yet he loved the twelve disciples and many more. If one doesn't have personal friends his life is nothing, but by having them he will grow stronger. How a person serves the best is the Christian deed and not how much money he receives for his services.

SUSQUEHANNA FOOT BALL SQUAD SHOWING REMARKABLE PROSPECTS

Eight Letter Men Have Returned, Around Which the Team Will be Built. Squad Under Direction of Coach Wingard, Prominent S. U. Alumnus

S. U. Grid Season To Open Saturday

SQUAD WILL MEET SWARTHMORE IN OPENING GAME OF SEASON. STRONG OPPONENTS ON SUSQUEHANNA'S SCHEDULE, CLOSING WITH URSINUS, NOV. 22

This season finds Susquehanna facing a formidable list of opponents, beginning on October 4, when Swarthmore will be met, and closing on Nov. 22, when Ursinus will ring down the curtain on the local plot. Cornell will again be met at Ithaca, and such great rivals as Lebanon Valley and Juniata will endeavor to even old scores against S. U. It is with regret that Albright was dropped from the schedule, as the friendly rivalry had developed keenly from year to year. The Alumni Day game will probably come on October 25th, when Juniata's powerful eleven will visit the local campus.

To those who witnessed the memorable clash with Swarthmore last year, the game this week should bear much significance. Last year the two teams battled nip and tuck for sixty minutes with neither squad being able to cross the other's goal line. The visitors, however, were victorious when their quarterback succeeded in kicking three field goals at long ranges.

Freshmen Won Class Tie-Up

ANNUAL SCRAP VERY MUCH ONE-SIDED WHEN SOPHOMORES FELL PREY TO FRESHMEN. SCORE WAS 90 IN FAVOR OF FIRST YEAR MEN

This event, which is a custom handed down from former years, perhaps from Missionary Institute days, is one of the shortest and most exciting affairs (especially for the contestants) of the entire school year.

Many a bruised limb and skinned nose will live to remind the owner that the tie-up is a he-man's game; and which requires more nerve and cunning than brawn with which to participate.

All 2 o'clock classes being suspended, practically the entire student body was present to witness this event. Also about this time of the day forty-two Freshmen and twenty-six Sophomores appeared attired in anything from bathing suits to foot ball uniforms; many on both sides being out-ruled on account of playing varsity foot ball. Four Seniors and three Juniors, dressed in white, acted as judges.

After each contestant was given two ropes and was admonished in regard to the unfairness of striking, choking or the chewing of flanks, each side took its place at opposite ends of the athletic field.

At the sound of a pistol shot both sides rushed together like lions to a feast. At the expired time of ten minutes the score was nine Sophomores tied and carried off the field and no Freshmen.

Even if the odds were greatly against the Sophomores they can be proud that only nine of their number were tied up, because this shows the fight they put up. The Freshmen

Prospects for a winning team at Susquehanna are better this year than for several seasons past. There are several old men back, around which the team is to be built, and the new material is more plentiful than ever before. The new men who are trying for positions are of such a calibre that every letter man of last year must fight to hold his position.

Eight letter men are in camp, and all are showing up better than in previous seasons. The letter men, Captain Gordon, Bollig, Stuenkel, Hartman, Barnes, Blough, Bullock and Thomas are all preparing for the best season of their careers. The latter five men are playing their last year of varsity ball, so little need to be said as to how they will work for Susquehanna. Much is expected of Hartman and Barnes, the sturdy linemen of last year, and of Blough who was a regular two years ago. Captain Gordon will strive hard to lead his warriors thru a successful campaign. "Ernie" Stuenkel at quarterback, and "Pete" Bollig at half are looking fine this year. In addition to the letter men, "Tiny" Nipple, who has practiced twice as long as the past two seasons, is putting up a strong bid for a guard position. Groce, star fullback on the Junior Varsity last year, is endeavoring to fill "Rogie's" shoes at fullback, and he certainly is showing much promise.

As was before stated there are many new candidates, who have already proven that they have the necessary punch for regular positions. Left end will be capably taken care of by "Patsy" Gimmy, of Endicott High, N. Y. The other wing position is being fought for by George Miller, of Freeburg, Garman and Auten, of Sunbury, and Shuntle, of North Braddock High. Weaver, a Montoursville product, is showing excellent form at both center and guard. Horton, a 246 pound lad of West Philadelphia High, shows much promise. Daubenspeck and Miller, of last year's Freshman team, are going at a rapid clip at tackle. Cussell, star tackle of Harrisburg Tech, appears to be in for a great season, as does his fleet teammate, Stroy, who entered Susquehanna during the latter part of last week. Garrity, former Center College product, and Clemmons, Lebanon star, are sure to be heard from. Another strong back is "Larry" Dodd, who has been handicapped by injuries for the past two years. "Larry" is out to win a regular berth this year. Weston and Pratt, of New York State, and "Red" Streamer are showing up very well, as also are "Ted" Ebberts and "Gene" Sleight, star members of last year's track squad. Brown, the Oriskania star, who reported late, may win a regular berth at end. The aspiring candidates number fifty-five, and the coaching staff is kept busy discussing the merits of so many men.

Foot ball spirit is running higher on the campus than ever before, and each practice session brings out an enthusiastic crowd of students and townspeople.

The squad is under the direction of Coach Wingard, prominent S. U. alumnus, and under his capable leadership a good season is predicted. As assistants "Stew" Bannon, former S. U. star, and "Gene" Keller have been engaged.

With such prospects all S. U. followers are turning their eyes toward the opening game, which will be played at Swarthmore this Saturday. Many students plan to hike to the game to cheer for Susquehanna.

WELCOME

Greetings! Here we are back again at our dear beloved Alma Mater at the foot of another hill in our journey of life. We are just beginning the ascent, upon coming to the top of this hill we will find that there are many more hills to be trodden. But how are we going to ascend this hill, thus completing another lap in our journey? In the beginning we will gradually be brought to realize that there are many obstacles to be overcome, many things to be conquered. Daily we will be brought face to face with golden opportunities, opportunities which, if taken advantage of, will crown our life with success. But will we see these opportunities? Will we seize them or will we continue to loiter in the old rut, finally falling out along the way? Many people can start things, but it takes a person with determination to finish things. Will we be among those who finish college next June with our class or will we be with those who have found some obstacle too hard to be overcome? This is for us to decide, everyone works out his own destiny, everyone makes his own life.

To the Freshmen "The Susquehanna" wishes to give a word of welcome, a word of cheer, to help you in this new venture which you have undertaken. You have entered upon a new epoch in your life. You have seized one golden opportunity, that of entering the portals of a higher educational institution of learning. You have set your feet upon ground which is held sacred by those who have gone before you. Remember that what you are doing has been done by every other person on the campus. All of us were Freshmen once. Some of us have remained so in actions. But it is for you to be a Freshman, and it is a Freshman will, by doing this you will better prepare yourself for the following years of college life and some day you will be graduated a credit to Susquehanna, the institution which nurtured you.

Upperclassmen, "The Susquehanna" wishes to renew acquaintanceships and to remind each other that we were once first year men. So why can't we apply the Golden Rule and do unto others as we would have others do unto us? As we go about on the campus let us cultivate a friendship with those who happen to be wearing the green cap this year. Both we and they will be better benefited by this close association.

All of us are climbing a new hill to success, we are forging another link in our chain of life. As the winds rouse the cheek and as the leaves go swirling down the fence-rows a challenge to activity is in the air, a challenge to accomplish something worth while. Let us accept this challenge, let us work with earnestness and zeal to make this year one of the best ever known in the annals of Susquehanna, both for ourselves and for our school.

SUSQUEHANNA OPENED ITS DOORS TO LARGE ENROLLMENT

Kretschman is a strong conservative theologian and an excellent teacher. Rev. W. C. Beck, of the First Lutheran Church, of Selingrove, has kindly consented to assist in the work of the Seminary until Dr. Kretschman is installed.

The German and Greek departments were very fortunate in securing Dr. H. A. F. Kern, who was educated in the German Gymnasium of Bavaria, having been graduated with honors in history and geography, also a student at the University of Erlangen, and later Missionary Seminary, Neundorf, Prussia. Dr. Kern was a pioneer worker in the Home Missions of the West, in 1918-21 being compiler for the Lutheran Bureau of the National Lutheran Council, subject, Inner Missions. He has come to Susquehanna from Weidner Institute, Junior College, Mulberry Ind. During the late war Dr. Kern was very active, having received commendations from the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston for his services rendered in the launching of the Liberty Bond drives. All his years he has been active in ministerial work and is a great credit to Susquehanna's faculty.

Rev. Jacob Diehl, D. D., of Trinity Lutheran Church, of Selingrove, has also been elected to the faculty as instructor in Psychology. Dr. Diehl, being pastor of the College Church, is very well liked by the students and his influence on the campus will be very great.

The University very deeply regrets to lose Miss Helen Cole from the faculty. Miss Cole has served Susquehanna loyally and unflinchingly for the past five years. Mme. Yvette L. de Marsau is her successor, who is professor of French and Spanish. Mme. de Marsau was born in Paris, having been graduated from the University of Paris. She studied Spanish in Madrid, Spain, after which she came to America and entered the University of Denver, where she received her degrees of A. B. and A. M. Mme. de Marsau comes to S. U. from Hamilton College, Virginia, with most excellent recommendations as to her character, ability and Christian activity.

Miss Leslie Wentzel, who has been a member of the faculty for the last three years, has withdrawn in order to take up advanced study in New York City. Her successor is Prof. A. R. Koch, of the New England Conservatory of Music. Prof. Koch is an excellent teacher, possessing a beautiful tenor voice.

As time comes and goes many changes take place, changes in the campus, changes in the faculty, and changes in the students. Every year opens with new conditions, new obstacles. No year is like the preceding year. Susquehanna University is now in her third decade. The first event of this decade of the existence of the institution has been written on the pages of the Past. After a noble appearance in the arena of the educational world the students of Susquehanna are settling down to the pursuit of knowledge and power. The opening chapel services of the year were held on Thursday morning, September 18. The Chapel Hall was filled to capacity with many eager and expectant faces, who those were eager to take up the thread where the last collegiate year closed, and with those eager to try their hands at the loom of life.

The students were given a hearty welcome by Dr. Aikens, who has been the honored leader of the institution for the past two decades. The customary chapel services followed. Dr. L. P. Young, president of the Board of Directors, led the students in prayer. The assembly was very attentive to the opening address, which was given by an alumnus of Susquehanna, Rev. Ira Sassaman, pastor of the Lutheran Church in Northumberland. Rev. Sassaman first gave a few reminiscences of his college life when the institution was younger. He remarked about the wonderful changes that have been made and are in the making since he was graduated from the classic halls of his Alma Mater.

His main address was woven about the theme, "Essentials to Success." He classified as some of these essentials the following principles: "One of the first essentials to success is a clear vision. The success of an enterprise depends on the amount of actual planning and foresight that has been used. The building of air castles is not a detrimental thing for anyone to do no matter what station in life they may hold. For without a high aim there is little or no progress. It takes the fancies of the imagination to picture the things you would like to possess and the heights you wish to attain before one can clarify his vision to make a definite struggle towards attaining anything in life. The ability of seeing ahead of the present into the future is a needed quality. The cultivation of this in one's life is what makes for happiness in the world. He who plans and prepares for things which only posterity can enjoy is by far the greater man. The man who plants an orchard in the autumn of his life is the man who builds for love. Service is most essential in all of one's efforts. A clear vision is demanded because there must be something definite to pursue. The plan of the architect must exist in his mind before the builder's toy comes into existence.

"Another essential to success is enthusiasm. The ability to carry on the ideal you have fixed is the important thing. You may see what is desirable, but that means nothing if you cannot find sufficient reason to attain it. Enthusiasm, persistence, stick-to-it-iveness are the most essential things necessary to our success.

"The third thing most essential to success is patience. Many a battle has been won by the fact that a man had the ability to wait for results when it seemed there was no progress. Columbus had the patience and persistence when he sailed on the unknown deep, for he discovered America with this quality. His men would have turned back many times had it not been for the master mind of the captain of the fleet. Ask the spirit of George Washington what kept up the faith of his army when they spent the seemingly hopeless winter at Valley Forge. This quality has some very fruitful results and it is well to cultivate it in every way possible.

To attain success one must cultivate courage. He must be of a determined spirit. Trivial things should not be allowed to take hold of him. Be brave. Study the lives of men who were courageous, and take the pattern from their lives. Turn difficulties into opportunities. There will be nothing more valuable than the knack of doing this.

"Again one must use his head. He must observe everything he meets. He must reflect on the important problems of the day. And, above all, he must apply the results of his efforts.

"Lastly, a person must practice loyalty. He should be loyal to himself. Waste no opportunities for advancement. He should care for himself physically, use the gymnasium. Care for oneself mentally. Practice using the library. Cultivate literary attainments. Seek edification in the literary halls. In fact, use all the privileges that this institution affords. Most of all practice loyalty to God. Care for the spiritual body. Omit this and the rest will come to naught. Strengthen this and success will be all the more wonderful.

"Of these few essentials a person must be most mindful. They are the most important things in one's career. There are many more things which would mold one's life, but these are the most essential."

INTERESTING PROGRAMS ARRANGED BY Y. M. C. A.

That greater Susquehanna spirit has seized the local Y. M. C. A. and as a result of this the association has arranged a series of very inspiring programs for the next few weeks.

The following is the program as it has been arranged: Sept. 30, combined meeting of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Rev. Melvin Drumm; Oct. 7, Rev. J. H. Hartman; Oct. 14, Prof. Ira G. Sanders; Oct. 28, Rev. David Kammerer, and Nov. 4, Rev. Fitzgerald.

The cabinet is working very hard in order that this year may be a banner year in Y. M. C. A. work.

SEMINARY

Now I wonder what's the matter? There seems to be something missing in and about the region of Gustavus Adolphus Hall. Some familiar sounds seem to be lacking. Ah! I have it! Some of the members of last year's Senior Class in Theology have not yet returned. What's that? You say they will not return either. Gee! That's right, they are graduated. Say, doesn't it seem funny not to hear our old friend "Slambula" Stong, calling out the Penny stations along the main line amid the silence of the night, or to listen to "Jim" Shannon in a heated discussion on some contestable theological question; or not to see "Myron" Cole presiding on the barber's chair in the DeWitt Bodine room on the second floor? Don't it give you an unutterable feeling of pain to realize that these events are nevermore to be enacted, but only to be given their just place in Susquehanna's history? Precious as was their presence here the influence of their personalities alone remains as our solace. They have departed from us in order that they might realize the goals of their lives, the preaching of God's Word.

Instead of spending his energy in his characteristic genial and good-natured manner in his nightly oratory on the railroad stations Rev. Charles Stong is now earnestly trying to influence his parishioners to follow the right road to life eternal by calling out the stations which they must pass on this journey. He will make an able pastor in his charge at Marysville, Pa., both on account of his character and experience. Rev. Stong has traveled on the Old Continent very extensively, having visited Palestine and Syria. In Syria he attended an institution of learning at Beirut. On his return he visited France and England. Rev. Stong has lately been united in the bonds of holy matrimony with Miss Nellie Grove, of Altoona, his previous home.

Rev. James Shannon now addresses his energies to the sustenance of his flock in Jennerstown, Pa. Standing firmly for orthodox principle while known to us in the Seminary we are sure his field for service will be harvested with the proper implements of truth and sincerity. Rev. Shannon has also been recently married to Miss Susan Reark of the Class of '20. The charge at Jennerstown is justly proud of him.

The day when Rev. Myron Cole held chapel with the A. S. O. boys and other friends in the DeWitt Bodine room at the foot of the barber chair is past. Now he reverently is administering to the need of his flock in Sewickley, Pa., from the throne of the Christian ministry.

Rev. Clair James, the zephyr of Sleepy Hollow, is having excellent success at the pastorate in Reedsville, Pa. Rev. James has also taken to wife a very excellent helpmate in the person of Miss Hilda Lee Hayward, of Baltimore, Md. Rev. James is the first pastor in the Reedsville charge since its separation from the Yeagertown and Lylville charges, a separation resultant from the death of Dr. A. H. Spangler, the former pastor of these three charges. He is also the leading figure in the organization of a local troop of Boy Scouts. Under his supervision the publishing of a monthly church paper, the Reedsville Lutheran, has been undertaken. The first issue proves to be a very fine aid to his pastoral work. A copy of the same was received by the former inmates of Sleepy Hollow with Rev. James' compliments.

Rev. Russell Steininger is attempting to remove dust and soot of dissatisfaction and unrest that conceals the face of the sun at Pileburg, Pa., near the region of the "Smoky City." Endeavoring to restore the souls of his parishioners to a proper appreciation of the spiritual Rev. Steininger is concentrating his resources in the work of the ministry.

Rev. Clarence Naugle has settled definitely in his charge at Luthersburg, Pa., where he has been supplying during his Seminary course. We recollect that as a student Rev. Naugle was untiring in the pursuit of his work and we feel sure that the habits acquired from this practice will be of valuable aid to him in his ministry.

Rev. Maurice Gortner has become pastor at Davidville, Pa. Though exceeded in stature by all his classmates he was scarcely exceeded by any in energy and devotion to his work. With the help of his wife, formerly Miss Ruth Vanderbilt, of Muncy, Rev. Gortner has addressed himself to his tasks in the parish.

Of all the class we have one who still haunts the campus, Rev. Milo Lecrone. Rev. James Goss is completely absorbed with his work in the West Milton charge. Rev. Goss is now applying his undivided time to the shepherding of his flocks in four rural churches. Previously he was the regular supply minister and his efforts will surely be crowned with success.

Rev. Kurt Molzahn, the student from Germany, has undertaken pastoral work in a German Lutheran Church at Johnstown. He tells that his communicant membership is about four hundred. He also adds that his salary will enable him to bring his "Freundin" from Germany so that he might make her his "Frau." Here is an example of simple trust. Rev. Molzahn, also a graduate of many theological schools in Germany, was left almost destitute of resources at the end of the war. Receiving aid from the Lutheran Church of America he came to this country almost penniless and by dint of hard labor and application has attained a comparatively high degree of prosperity and success. We wish him success and we feel sure he will have it for we are aware of the thoroughness of German theologians.

Altho we sustain a loss of great proportions when we recognize that these men have left our sphere of daily relations we are gratified to acknowledge as new Seminararians the following men: Lewis Lesher, John Derr, Wilson Kepner, and Andrew Beahm of the Class of '24; also Blair Harman of the Class of '20, and Russell Knoebel, of the Class of '23, and William Sadtler of Thiel College, son of Dr. Wm. H. Sadtler, professor of Exegesis and Archeology.

We were gratified to hear the familiar voice of Rev. Chas. Stong ringing forth in the halls of Gustavus Adolphus Hall last Monday. Rev. Stong recently recovered from an attack of the grip and came back to his old haunts so that his recovery might be complete.

John Cole, '25, supplied in the Northumberland charge for Rev. Ira Sasman on Sunday. He delivered two sermons besides conducting a Harvest Home service in the rural church of the charge.

John Weikel, '25, supplied in the Grace Lutheran Church in Mt. Carmel on last Sabbath Day.

George Groninger, '25, supplied in his regular charge at Killinger. Charles Wisler, '26, delivered a Rally Day address in the Reformed Sunday school of Selingrove, on Sunday.

Wilson Kepner, '27, has been engaged as the instructor in the Seal course of the Teacher Training Dept. in Trinity Lutheran Sunday school of Selingrove.

Lynne Ramer, '26, will assume his regular place as teacher of the Beginners' course in Teacher Training in the same school.

Wise or Otherwise

When the office seeks the man there is nothing in it.

Few self made men live long enough to finish the job.

Never bet on a sure thing unless you can afford to lose.

Even the thirsty chap tries to dodge the bar of justice.

When women peck at each other they call it kissing—but is it?

The world doesn't spend much time watching a man's good acts.

Let's laugh a little more at our own troubles and a little less at our neighbors.

Some people are so unimportant that they don't even furnish material for gossip.

Some men imagine that their weight on one side of the globe causes the other side to tip up.

A twelve acre athletic field has recently been purchased by Temple University.

ALUMNI

Well, here we are, back on Susquehanna's dear old campus. Our faces show that we are glad to be here. Our scholastic habits are again resumed for the year. We rejoice once more to renew old friendships. But you hear many question one another somewhat in this manner: "Say, Loole, where's Miggs?" "Johnnie, do you know where Rogie is?" or perhaps such remarks as this: "Say Red, did you hear that Shorty has gone to Penn?" Wonder what they all mean? Sounds as if somebody is missing. Well, they really are. It will be many days before we hear Miggs' feminine voice on the campus; maybe we'll never see Rogie racing over the grid with the piskin tucked under his arm; nor will we see the "Local Lad" again unless, with his usual dignified expression, pleading at the bar in the name of justice. They are gone from our campus, but they have left it only in body, for we will often look back to those associations of days gone by realizing they did leave an impression on our lives. Surely we can't forget them. We will always eagerly follow them in their life's career since they have been graduated into the world of reality.

They tell us that Chester Rogowicz is coach of athletics in Pittsfield High. His earnestness has won him admiration among the students in the high school with the result that nearly all elect the subjects in his History course.

Another wind blows in from the west asserts that Campbell Coons is teaching Mathematics and Science in Carriek High, a suburb of the "Smoky City."

The river breezes have carried the message to us that Lloyd Long is asserting himself in the laboratories of Marysville High.

Jake Kron says he is proud to announce that Ralph Kindig is teaching Mathematics in his home town high school at Rochester, Pa.

Lutz dropped in and reported fine progress on the part of the department of Economics, Typing and Shorthand of Mt. Union High, which is under the direction of Miss Hilda Bohner.

Hanks makes a weekly visit to the Dutch metropolis across the river, Balmatia, so we conclude that Mrs. Lucy Metz Hanks is pursuing pedagogical work in that place.

The girl that originated the expression that "men may be humburs but not bum hucks" is filling the chair in English in Dubois High, Miss Ruth Bond.

To get into a pugnacious atmosphere in preparation for future polemics against sin, etc., Harvey Erb has taken up his theological work at Gettysburg Seminary.

Whether to soften the tones of his unusual harsh (?) voice, we know not, but they say Harner Middleworth has migrated to North Carolina, where he is following the teacher's profession in instructing Latin and Bible.

There have been more migrations too, for Joseph McLain and Mrs. Mabel Mumma McLain are occupying chairs in Hartwick Seminary in New York State.

The "Blue Juniata" whispers that Lottie Brosius is teaching English along its banks in Lewistown High.

The local lads say that Russell Delmer has departed for Penn, where he will pursue the course in medicine. William Blough is supervising principal of Hubbersburg High School.

Margaret Wildund Blough is assistant principal of the same high school as well as having become supervisor of Bill's household.

Raymond Klinedinst visited us last week-end and told us he was experimenting both with chemicals and pupils in Mt. Carmel High.

Alvin Carpenter has accompanied Red Delmer to Penn, where he will do his duty in studying Blackstone in his preparation for law.

Oscar Keebler is coaching the boys at Coaldale High how to hold the line, besides attempting to get them to hold the dates of his History course.

Glenn Fisher is working in the office of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department in Selingrove.

Alma McCollough is instructing in the English department of her home town high school in Chicago.

Ellis Updegraff is demonstrating the difficult theorems of Geometry to the students in Milton high school.

Ethel Young has also accepted a position in her home town, Ashland, by filling the chair in the English department.

Lewis Lesher, Andrew Beahm, John Derr and Wilson Kepner have succeeded to the Juniors hereditary front seats in the Theological Seminary at Susquehanna.

The remnant of the class of 1924 will appear in the next issue when more reports come to headquarters.

Ursinus has purchased a new building to be used as a Men's Dormitory. This building has been christened Highland Hall, and is already occupied by about twenty-five men.

HUMOR

Little Girl—"Granddad, were you in the ark?"

Granddad—"No, dearie."

Little Girl—"Then why weren't you drowned?"

Joe—"I lived on vegetables for two weeks."

Harley—"That's nothing, I've lived on earth for twenty-five years."

Dentist—"Pardon me Miss, I must have a drill."

Gaugler—"For goodness sake, can't I have this tooth filled without a rehearsal?"

Doctor—"Have you taken every precaution to prevent the spread of contagion in your house?"

Swank—"Yes, Doctor, we've even bought a sanitary drinking cup and we all drink from it."

Customer—"How do you sell that cheese?"

Clerk—"I often wonder myself, sir."

Frick—"Don't you think he is a perfect fool?"

Morris—"Not yet, Doris, he's only a Freshman."

The main difference between the girl chewing gum and the cow chewing her cud is that the cow generally looks thoughtful.

Y. M. Will Launch Membership Drive

LET EVERYONE BE OUT AND JOIN THIS GROWING ORGANIZATION WHICH HAS GREAT PROGRAM THIS YEAR. REV. J. H. HARTMAN, MAN' OF SUNBURY, WILL SPEAK

This evening at 7 o'clock the Y. M. C. A. of Susquehanna University will hold its third meeting of this collegiate year. Rev. J. H. Hartman, of Sunbury, will address the young men. This meeting will be the beginning of the membership campaign which will continue for two days. Let Susquehanna University have a one hundred per cent representation of the men of the student body in the Y. M. C. A. The membership fee is one dollar, and every member who has been here before will say that it is a dollar well spent.

The Y. M. C. A. at Susquehanna University may not have all the privileges that this organization has at some other colleges or universities, but then the fee is fixed accordingly. The regular weekly meetings are held every Tuesday evening in the Chapel Hall at 7 o'clock. The best speakers, those men who are leaders in the community and religious work, are on the different programs always ready to give to those who may be present that little spark of light which is necessary at times to overcome the clouds of darkness. The young men come away from these meetings refreshed, instilled with new life, better able to take up their work.

Let everyone be out at the meeting this evening, let everyone join this necessary organization of college life, for it is the training school for leadership in the world tomorrow, and those who are Y. M. C. A. leaders on the college campus will be the community leaders of the future, leading humanity on, ever upward to a higher and nobler life.

Joint Meeting Of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

VERY INSPIRING MEETING HELD ON LAST TUESDAY EVENING IN CHAPEL HALL WHEN REV. MELVIN DRUMM ADDRESSED THE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

The Y. M. and the Y. W. C. A. held a combined meeting in the Chapel on Tuesday evening. After the devotional exercises which were conducted by Oliver Sands, the Rev. Melvin C. Drumm, pastor of the Middleburg Lutheran Church, addressed the combined meeting.

Rev. Mr. Drumm took as a subject "O that I were as in the days of old when God watched over me." Here is a picture of Job, a man who loved God but Satan wanted to have him and the consequences were that God allowed Satan his course. In his great trials he exclaimed "blessed be the name of the Lord." The scars of sin will remain.

Rev. Mr. Drumm said that if he had his life to live over again, he would have selected the farm as his birthplace. Nearer to Good and His nature in the open country. He would have selected S. U. for his training because of the good courses and the wholesome atmosphere of Christian life.

He would have selected the same profession, the ministry, which is the most pleasurable, pleasant and the most profitable, and because it is a profession that is not overcrowded.

He would preach the same sermons. Unflinchingly hit sin and build up the Kingdom of God. He would be active in religious, social and educational interests in the community.

He would take better care of his body, which is the temple of the soul. Be more careful in eating and keep his body exercised.

Business Courses Are Most Popular

FROM ONE OF LARGEST FRESHMAN CLASSES EVER KNOWN IN HISTORY OF THE INSTITUTION ALMOST ONE-THIRD HAVE CHOSEN BUSINESS

While the size of the Freshman class is wholly gratifying, especial note should be taken that 38 of the entering class, nearly one-third of the whole, chose the business courses for their college work. This is an exceptionally large number compared with the five young men and women who entered for the same work in the fall of 1923 (last year). The list follows with the address, high school from which they were graduated and the course in which they are enrolled:

Lillian Bigelow, Phillipsburg, Phillipsburg, commercial teacher; Minnie Jo Grosbeck, Phillipsburg, Phillipsburg, commercial teacher; Byron Weaver, Montoursville, Montoursville, 4 year business course; Eva Leiby, Selinsgrove, Selinsgrove, commercial teacher; Michael Pittle, Scranton, Scranton-Lackawanna Col., 4 year business course; Philip Seikov, Conemaugh, Conemaugh, 4 year business course; Albert Salem, Conemaugh, Conemaugh, 4 year business course; J. Dahlen Baird, Reidsville, Reidsville, 4 year business course; Margaret White, Phillipsburg, Phillipsburg, commercial teacher; Mary Weiner, Somerset, Somerset, 4 year business course; Lena Fasold, Selinsgrove, Selinsgrove, 2 year business course; Wilfred Fuge, Pen Argyl, Pen Argyl, 4 year business course; Gertrude McKee, Altoona, Altoona, commercial teacher; Charles Grogan, Moosic, Moosic, 4 year business course; Anna Decker, Milroy, Milroy, 2 year business course; Clarence Derr, Hughesville, Nancy Normal, 4 year business course; Everett Murray, Amherst, Mass., Amherst, Mass., commercial teacher; Kenneth Reed, Amherst, Mass., Amherst, Mass., commercial teacher; Lawrence Long, Sunbury, Sunbury and Beckley College, 4 year business course; Hazel Mabius, Sunbury, Sunbury, commercial teacher; Daniel Sleight, Spring Mills, Gregg Twp., 4 year business course; Willis Pratt, Endicott, N. Tryouts Held For Men's Glee Club

ALTHO THERE WAS AN UNCEASING DOWNPOUR OF RAIN NEARLY FORTY CANDIDATES REPORTED FOR TRYOUT FOR MUSICAL ORGANIZATION

The tryouts for the new Men's Glee Club were held on Monday, Sept. 29 in the Conservatory building. Despite the heavy downpour of rain nearly forty candidates reported. A list of those elected has not as yet been posted at the time of writing, but from present indications there is fine material on hand and the club promises to be the best in the history of Susquehanna University.

Prof. Sheldon, the pioneer organizer and director of the club has set an early date for the first rehearsal so that the club might get an early start in preparing for its first concert. Joseph Law, the business manager, is already making plans for a schedule and is trying to arrange it in such a manner so as to cause the least amount of class cuts for the members as possible. He is also trying to schedule concerts in new territory, thereby hoping to advertise to a greater extent the club as well as Susquehanna University.

Susquehanna is proud of her glee club just as much as she is proud of her athletic teams. Not everyone can star in athletics just as well that not everyone can sing. So each one in his mind must keep uppermost in his mind the slogan, "Loyalty, Service and Sacrifice," and look forward to a greater Susquehanna.

Much Enthusiasm At Pep Meeting

FIRST PEP MEETING OF THE YEAR VERY SUCCESSFUL. LARGE BODY OF STUDENTS IN ATTENDANCE AND MUCH REAL SPIRIT MANIFESTED

The foot ball squad was given a rousing send-off as they started for Swarthmore on Friday, but that was not the only evidence of spirit displayed.

On Wednesday evening a peppy mass meeting was held in Chapel Hall and all the old yells and songs were rehearsed and some new ones introduced.

After cheering practice had once started, several men were called upon to make speeches and they responded splendidly. Among the speakers were Prof. Grossman and Dr. Hontz. Both were loud in their praise of the present squad, and predicted success for Coach Wingard's charges.

One thing which was noted at the meeting was the number of cheer leaders in evidence. In years past Susquehanna could scarcely boast of more than two or three cheer leaders, but this year S. U. is fortunate in having Klieck, head cheer leader, with nine capable assistants. With such a staff the student body can not fail to respond when called upon.

FRIENDSHIP FUND FOR EUROPEAN STUDENTS

The Student Friendship Fund, representing America's share in the European Student Relief, announces that it has collected $427,012 to be distributed among students in the impoverished areas of Europe and needy foreign students in the United States.

Nearly one-half of this sum was contributed by American students during the past year, the remainder being gifts from other individuals or committees interested in the work.

A representative of the European Student Relief states that famine and hardship, particularly in Russia, have caused an unusual amount of illness among students, notably tuberculosis, which is treated with the most primitive equipment.

S. U. Eleven Will Play Bloomsburg

FOOT BALL SEASON WILL OPEN ON CAMPUS WHEN THE VARSITY WILL MEET BLOOMSBURG NORMAL ON SATURDAY. TEAM CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

This week-end will find the foot ball bid piled off on the local campus when the strong Normal School team from Bloomsburg will come to engage Susquehanna in battle array. In years past, the prep school boys have always played strongly against Susquehanna, and the coming game seems to bode no exception.

Bloomsburg is boasting of one of the strongest teams in years and will come here with the expectation of returning home victorious.

On the other hand Coach Wingard has expressed himself as satisfied with the condition of his team and feels confident that Susquehanna will open the home season with a well earned victory. A revised lineup will be seen in action this week and before the game is concluded many new men are expected to receive their first varsity experience.

The Junior Varsity will travel to Bellefonte on Friday to meet the Bellefonte Academy lads. The strength of the home team is appreciated and the Susquehanna boys are priming for a hard conflict.

PROMINENT PITTSBURGH ALUMNUS WAS HONORED

A. G. Gawinske, prominent alumnus of Susquehanna, who is located in Pittsburgh, has been singly honored by the Allegheny Commandery, No. 387, Knights of Malta. He has been appointed as a member of a committee to organize a DeMoloy Chapter in the Allegheny district. This chapter will be known as the Allegheny Chapter Order DeMoloy, in honor of the district organizers. Mr. Gawinske has been very prominent in the Western Pennsylvania alumni activities for the past several years, and is one of S. U.'s leading boosters.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE USE OF THE LIBRARY

The library is open more hours to the students this year than it ever was before, the hours as given below being the schedule for the week:

- Regulations
1. The library is for the use of the faculty and the students.
 2. The library should be used mainly for reading, consultation and study in the library rooms.
 3. When books are taken out, by a teacher or a student, they must always be charge by one of the librarians.
 4. Books are not to be kept out more than two weeks without being returned and re-charged. Periodicals are not to be taken from the reading room.
 5. Reference books and books assigned for reading by a class or group are not to be taken out.
 6. The library will be open from 8 a. m. to 8:50 a. m., from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 6:30 to 9 p. m., from Monday to Friday. Saturday from 9 a. m. to 12, and from 1:30 to 4 p. m.

SUBSCRIPTION TO SUSQUEHANNA DUE

This is the second issue of The Susquehanna. As yet, very few persons have paid their subscription. This paper is like everything else, it cannot be run without money. The subscription price is $1.50 a year, and everyone who is in any way interested in Susquehanna should be a regular reader of the college weekly. The subscription price is now due. Let everyone pay up, and not wait until asked for it. In this way a person's loyalty for Susquehanna will be tested in a different way, by whether or not he subscribes to The Susquehanna.

Susquehanna Gives Swarthmore Battle

IN OPENING GAME OF SEASON SUSQUEHANNA ELEVEN LOST TO STRONG SWARTHMORE TEAM, THROUOUT GAME BOTH TEAMS PLAYED FINE FOOT BALL

In the opening game of the 1924 gridiron season the Susquehanna eleven was overcome by the powerful Swarthmore representatives in a well played game at the latter place. It was the first game for both teams, but the playing was of a high order at all times. Even in defeat Susquehanna played a fine brand of foot ball, and Coach Wingard is to be congratulated for the exhibition which his charges put forth.

The Swarthmore team played a fine game, the most outstanding member of the team being Wilcox, their giant fullback, who was very much in evidence throught the entire game.

The game started at 3 o'clock. Captain Gordon lost the toss, and Swarthmore elected to receive. Susquehanna's kickoff was returned to the twenty yard line. The home team was held for downs and forced to punt. Here the Orange and Maroon threatened when the punt was returned to Swarthmore's fifteen yard line. When she failed to gain the required yardage, S. U. attempted a field goal, which fell short. From this time until the close of the quarter both teams battled furiously and the Garnet managed to score a lone touchdown.

The second quarter was a repetition of the first and the half ended 14-0 in favor of the home team. A long forward pass and a series of sweeping plays netted the Garnet two more touchdowns in the third period, but both tries for the extra point were lost.

In the fourth period Susquehanna seemed to have collected what strength was left and she actually

Junior Varsity Lost Close Game

SECOND STRING MEN JOURNEYED TO DANVILLE AND MET THE HIGH SCHOOL IN A VERY CLOSE CONTEST, THE FINAL SCORE BEING 6-0

While the varsity was opening its season at Swarthmore, the Junior Varsity traveled to Danville to meet the high school team of that place. After staging a furious conflict S. U. was overcome by a close score of 6-0. Altho defeated in this game, the reserves showed enough promise to fare better in the coming games. In this game Elberts and Pratt featured in the backfield with Koch showing up well at end. The linemen must also be cited, as on one occasion they held their opponents for four successive downs on the one foot line.

NOTICE

It is a matter of great importance that every member of the student body be represented in the 1925 Lanthorn. The staff urges that everyone respond to the matter of having their photos taken so there will be 100% representation. The official photographer will be on the campus not later than the middle of this week. Please have your photograph taken before he leaves.

SEMINARY

Talk about speed, you sure can see it manifested in the Seminary. Those future theologians sure do show the pep under certain circumstances. For instance, last week a complete change was made in the executive staff of the Seminary in less than two minutes. We would like to see the same thing happen with reference to our national government and with such amicable conditions existing after the change. Usually there are many regrets on the part of the defeated parties, but no such thing was expressed, either audibly or otherwise, by the defeated candidates for Seminary offices. In fact, and worthy to note, even those elected were timid about accepting the honor of the office. Though the parliamentary employed was rather crude, it at least signified that the Seminary are unwilling to unnecessarily lengthen relatively unimportant details. This does not mean that the offices of the Seminary are unimportant, but there is no necessity of detail where there is no partisanship. Of course partisanship is a very excellent factor in the life of our nation for debate leads to development. Altho there may be partisanship on many theoretical things in the theological course there is not and neither should there be any partisanship with reference to the ultimate Source of things. What an excellent thing for the Church it would be if there were less schisms and more points of agreement. If the Seminary students will manifest this great regard for essentials and exert all their energy for the support of the same, it will mean a successful ministry. If, on the other hand, they will waste their energy in polemics over non-essentials there will be a corresponding lack of service in their ministry.

As the matter lies the Seminary are proud to announce as their officers for the Seminary year of 1924-25 the following men: President, Samuel Sigler, '25; vice president, Lynne Ramer, '26; secretary, Russell Knoebel, '27; treasurer, Wilson Kepner, '27; editor, Lynne Ramer, '26.

In great contrast to the above absence of partisanship it was interesting to note the absolute transcendence of partisanship when the question arose as to the manner in which the Seminary should place its picture in the Lantern. A comparison of the time consumed for election of officers and for the decision of the latter question reveals the fact that it makes a lot of difference as to the manner in which a man's face appears for public view.

The three classes of the Seminary are engaged in the study of a book in their Bible course that was written by a former alumnus of Susquehanna. The book is entitled "Bible Studies in the Light of Recent Research," edited by Augustus William Ahl, A. M., Ph. D. Dr. Ahl has dedicated his book to Susquehanna University, which attaches a greater significance to the study of the text. Dr. Ahl is at present Professor of Biblical Literature and Greek in Thiel College.

Weikel, '25, spent a very busy weekend in the Lairdsville charges. The charge, consisting of four churches, required of him a sermon on Saturday and three on Sunday.

Groninger, '25, confesses his weakness when he said he went home over the weekend. Of course it makes it so much nicer now that she is here at school, but it maketh it bad when she goes home. But with our new car George says miles mean nothing to him.

Feeman, '25, survived the fourfold motion of the fame S. B. & B. R. R. (Sores, Bumps and Bruises) and preached to his regular charge in Turbotville. The fourfold motion (up, down, sideways and forwards) has a settling effect on a hungry preacher's stomach which renders him capable of consuming a greater quantity of his favorite fowl, the chicken.

Cole, '25, supplied at Millville on Sunday.

Swartz, '26, followed the devious valley of the great Karoondlnha (Penn's Creek) to the picturesque village of Kratserville, where he is acting as regular supply in the Lutheran Church.

ALUMNI

It took some amount of detective work, but at last we have discovered the great Gurnshoe Sherlock Holmes of Susquehanna. Detective Duppstadt alias Nimrod, the mighty has been discovered teaching science in Ligonier High at Ligonier.

Grace Barnett is directing the helm in the mathematics and Latin departments at Falls Creek.

Elizabeth Bloom, ex-assistant of dramatics at Susquehanna, is instructing in the Grammar school at Shamokin Dam.

Rachel Brubaker is an employee at the I. O. O. F. Orphanage on the outskirts of Sunbury.

Bruce Dreese is principal of the Burnside public schools.

Morgan Lloyd, who graduated with the class of '24, has resumed his position as principal of the Taylor public schools.

Helen Rearick is instructor in English and Zoology at Warrior's Mark High.

Miriam Rearick is teaching in the Beavertown grades. The fact is self evident that the nearer she is to her home the better Bingham will like it.

Marguerite Reichenbach has begun her work as pedagoge in the Curwensville high school by teaching Latin.

Neither hide nor hair of the illustrious David Shuman has been discovered since his graduation. Probably he is concealing himself under an assumed identity and will surprise us by reappearing as a future Presidential candidate. Information concerning him will be appreciated by the Alumni editor.

Eugene Shybaugh has accepted the mathematical chair in Altoona high.

Frank Smith, another new addition to the Class of '24, on their graduation day, has resumed his position as assistant principal of the Middleburg high school.

Amey Swab is instructing the students in Russell High in her favorite romance language. She is head of the Spanish department in this place. Emily Vanlyke is occupying the chair of English at Vandergrift.

Ruth Welker is sticking close to the home town. She is leading the students into the classics in her English courses in Harbor.

Olivette Yelgast is instructing French in the neighboring town of Northumberland.

Frederick Zihfessen, having returned to graduate with the Class of '24, is now pursuing medical work in the Jefferson Medical College.

Mary Potteiger, of the Conservatory, is instructor in the Susquehanna Conservatory. She is also supervisor of music in the Selingrove public schools.

Mabel Kinsey, having returned to receive her diploma, is still contented and happy, which speaks well for Fetterolf, '23.

Nancy Long has deserted all her friends and entered Juniata College as a special student. We are all sorry that she has left us for we began to think Susquehanna had a monopoly of the Longs.

Maude Lucas is head of the commercial department of the Mt. Amoena Seminary in Mt. Pleasant, North Carolina. She apparently will be able to keep a watchful eye on the reports she hears of "Miggs," who is also a migrant to that State.

Addison Pohle dropped in the other day to review the female section of the Freshman class. He tells us he is organizing a commercial department in Renovo high.

Dorothy Rothermel is head of the commercial department in Watson town high.

Amelia Schell has become a local schoolmarm in her home town of Laurelton.

This completes our account of the Class of '24. We are really glad that they all have succeeded in filling such worthy positions and hope that they will prove worthy of commendation when the year is over. Success in their endeavors is hoped for by all their friends they have left behind.

Beacons of the sky

Between Cleveland and Rock Springs, Wyo., along the night route of the air mail service, tall beacons have been placed every twenty-five miles.

Revolving on great steel towers, General Electric searchlights, totaling 1,992,000,000 candle-power, blaze a path of light for the airplane pilot.

What the lighthouse is to the ocean navigator, these beacons are to the conquerors of the air.

This achievement has been made possible by engineers of the Illuminating Engineering Laboratories of the General Electric Company, working with officials of the Post Office Department. A startling achievement now will be a commonplace of life in the new America which you will inherit.

HUMOR

(If so it may be called)
Leshler had never heard a concert before a certain musical company came to his home town. The soloist had begun to sing and as he became very much excited over the maneuvers of the conductor, he remarked:

"Dad, what's he shakin' that stick at her for?"

"Sh! Son! He isn't shaking the stick at her."

"Well then, what the dence is she yellin' about?"

Just Boys

First—"My dad's bigger'n your dad."

Second—"No sir! He is not."

First—"My dad's older'n your dad."

Second—"No sir! He is not."

First—"Well, anyway, my dad can make more noise eatin' soup."

Father—"Why are you crying, son?"

Son—"I-I swallowed a nail."

Father—"Don't cry, here is another one."

Couch Winiard—"Streamer, what were you doing in that play?"

Streamer—"I was prayin' that my feet wouldn't fail me if Horton should break thru' the line."

After That It's Very Easy

Mike and Pat, who had gone to bed drunk, got up early one morning to catch a train. Mike went down the dark passageway of the hotel, feeling with his foot for the top step of the staircase. The elevator shaft was open and he fell down twenty stories. When Pat came along a few minutes later he reached the open elevator door, but was more cautious, and he called down: "Mike, is that the staircase?"

"Yes, Pat, this is the staircase. I right, but look out for that first step, it's a son-of-a-gun."

Soph—"Are you from the far North?"

Frosh—"No, why do you ask?"

Soph—"You dance as if you had snow shoes on."

They went riding after the party.

And the night was very cold;

He didn't attempt to keep her warm

For fear she'd think him bold,

"Are you nice and warm my dear."

The lad had asked her twice;

And with chattering teeth she said:

"At I-least, I'm n-n-nice."

Believe it or Not

A whole block in the residential district of Chicago was destroyed by fire.

Cause: Two mice drank some home brew, got drunk and began to fight.

They became so infuriated and hot that their fur caught fire, which in turn caught on some dried hops.

Law, '26, evangelized in Avis last Sabbath. It is Joe's ambition to succeed in giving the people in his charge at Avis the wings of the Avis so that they might soar above the sordid things of this world.

Rev. Milo Lecrone supplied at Mt. Carmel on Sunday.

Derr, '27, said he was going to see his parents. Whether he got side-tracked on the down river line and stopped at Harrisburg, is a matter of personal conjecture on the part of some of us. The fact is Johnnie boasts that there is "an only one" in the State capital.

Hanks, '26, in like manner has wandered from our midst. Between here and the neighboring village of Dalmatia a well worn path will soon appear, trodden not by the feet of many men, but by a lone pair. The origin of the path can be traced to the portals of "Sleepy Hollow," the abode of many Knickerbocker Knights.

Bingaman, '25, is deeply interested in the educational work of the Heavertown schools and makes a regular weekly visit to the same village for the purpose of inspection. Probably a continuous manifestation of such deep interest will be rewarded in the process of time.

Dr. Kern assisted Rev. Jacob Diehl, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, in administering the sacrament of the Lord's Supper in Trinity Church on Sunday.

PRESIDENTIAL STRAW VOTE TO BE HELD BY SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY

Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of Middle Atlantic States Planning a Vote on October 22. Haverford News Will Tabulate Results

Susquehanna University will hold a presidential straw vote in the Chapel Hall on Wednesday, October 22. All members of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, among them being Swarthmore, Lehigh, Lafayette, New York University, Rutgers, Haverford, Ursinus, Delaware, Stevens, Dickinson, Washington, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, Bucknell and Susquehanna, will send the results of their vote to Haverford College, where the Haverford News will compile and tabulate the States and return them in ample time for release before November 4.

This vote is being taken in most of the colleges and universities throughout the land. Various organizations are taking charge of the running of the vote. At Susquehanna the work will be in the hands of the college weekly. Ballots will be circulated in Chapel on October 22.

New interest in political problems will be formed, and this is the chief reason for the vote, in order that the college students of the country may be made more keen to the political issues of the day. It will also help to instill into those persons who are lawfully eligible to vote the interest needed to actually register their vote at the polls on election day, November 4.

The Susquehanna is going to work hard to make this vote a success. The other members of the I. N. A. are co-operating, and the Haverford News has kindly consented to tabulate the results. Let everyone on the campus do his duty by being present and by registering his vote.

Y. W. and Friends Enjoyed Bacon Bat

GIRLS JOURNEYED TO BROOK'S BANK ON DELIGHTFUL HIKE, WHERE THEY MADE MANY EXPLORATIONS AND PARTOOK OF A HEARTY MEAL

Last Thursday evening at 4 o'clock about seventy co-eds laid aside their labor and duties of the day and journeyed to Brook's Bank for an unparalleled joy. The Y. W. C. A. was the entertainer for the evening and certainly lived up to any possible tradition that might have existed. From hike to bacon bat everything moved smoothly, the event had been well planned.

After arriving at their destination a number of the more spirited girls went on a number of small explorations and enjoyed some games while others, more practical, prepared to satisfy the extra large appetites that invariably follow fresh-air and active exercise.

The cats were the treat of the entire affair. From entree to dessert they were received with a relish and disposed of with a rapidity that pleased the excellent cooks.

The home coming was still more pleasant than the hike out. At an early hour all the girls were safely restored in the Alma Mater walls, and without exception the new girls acclaimed the event a success, resolving at the earliest possible time to become affiliated with such an interesting and benefitting organization as the Y. W. C. A. of S. U.

Wouldn't it be awful if one of those "round the world fliers" got home and found the milkman had left him milk all summer?

Director of Physical Education for Girls

SUSQUEHANNA HAS TAKEN IMPORTANT STEP IN ADDING MISS DOROTHY REEDER TO FACULTY AS DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

During the past week another important step was taken in Susquehanna's forward progress, in the addition to her faculty of Miss Dorothy Reeder as director of physical education for women at Susquehanna.

Miss Reeder is a graduate of Williamsport high school and of the Kellogg School of Physical Education of the Battle Creek College, Michigan, and comes to Susquehanna with splendid qualifications and training for directing this phase of Susquehanna's enlarged program of physical education. Miss Reeder will also assist Mrs. Kimble in her duties as preceptor.

Susquehanna's enlarged enrollment and the ever increasing number of co-eds made it very desirable to secure, as a member of her faculty, a young woman specially trained and qualified to direct this work, thereby enabling Susquehanna's co-eds to enjoy opportunities and conditions for work in this department similar to those offered by other institutions.

During the past three years, the work has been carried on by Prof. Grossman, and a definite program developed. Under Miss Reeder's direction this work will be continued and enlarged with other interesting and beneficial features added.

Rev. J. H. Hartman Addressed Y. M. C. A.

VERY INTERESTING MEETING HELD BY LOCAL ASSOCIATION. QUARTETTE, COMPOSED OF KROEN, CONSTABLE, KELLER AND EBBERTS, SANG

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening in the Chapel. The devotional exercises were in charge of Lewis Rode. A quartette, composed of Kroen, Constable, Keller and Ebberts rendered a very beautiful selection. Rev. Hartman, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, of Sunbury, then addressed the meeting.

Rev. Hartman said in part, the Apostle Paul in one of his Epistles wrote, "I write to you young men because you are strong." The Y. M. C. A. is an organization handed for Christian work and service. Its duty is to hold forth the banner of Jesus Christ. It is associated in Christian service with courage and strength. Man is best equipped with strong body, but has the love of God in his heart. The environment in which men move effects men just as the climate effects the physical traits. The spirit of college life and the sentiment of the student body molds the moral life. It's the duty of every one to improve that environment in which he is in, to let his light shine for the glory of God. The influence of the strong man morally is felt upon the

SUSQUEHANNA GRID TEAM PROVED STRONG FOR BLOOMSBURG ELEVEN

First Home Game of Season Won by S. U. by Score of 13-6, When She Met One of the Best Teams Ever Representing Bloomsburg Normal

Susquehanna Squad Working Earnestly

TEAM IS WORKING HARD TO IRON OUT THE ROUGH EDGES WHICH WERE APPARENT IN BLOOMSBURG GAME. NEXT BIG GAME WITH JUNIATA ON OCTOBER 25

The present week finds the Susquehanna griders hard at work ironing out the rough edges which were very apparent in the game with Bloomsburg last week. Coach Wingard recognized many faults in the work of his men, and is working tirelessly in an effort to prevent a repetition of them. The squad, almost without exception, came thru the past game without injury and is beginning to work earnestly, as each man realizes that he must struggle to retain his position. The intense heat seemed to burden the team during the first half last week, but in the latter stages of the game the locals showed a comeback which was very pleasing to the coaches and to the followers.

The next big game will be played with Juniata on the University Field, October 25. This game is sure to be bitterly contested, as the Huntingdon boys boast of the best team in their history. Last year the Orange and Maroon triumphed, 5-0, over Juniata in a hard fought contest.

Girls Tried Out

For Choral Club

LADIES' CHORAL CLUB ORGANIZED ON OCTOBER 1 WHEN GIRLS VENTURED TO CONSERVATORY TO TRY OUT THEIR VOICES. LIST POSTED YESTERDAY

There was a general whisper about the campus that the director of the Ladies' Choral Club was going to be very particular as to whom he will choose for this year. Nevertheless, on Wednesday, October 1, many of the girls ventured to the Conservatory building to try out their voices. Ever since that date they have been anxiously waiting for the list of those who "made the Club" to be posted, and yesterday this list was finally posted.

The first rehearsal will be held tomorrow evening and we are sure that with a prompt start and with the aid of such a capable director they are sure to make this year the biggest year the Club has ever had.

The Club members regret very much that Miss Wentzel cannot be with them this year, but they are looking forward to a year of hard work and good results under the most capable leadership of Professor A. R. Koch.

PITTSBURGH-SUSQUEHANNA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Pittsburgh alumni of Susquehanna are already looking forward toward the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Alumni Association. Committees are at work in an effort to make this banquet the most enthusiastic and enjoyable of any of the similar affairs yet held. Tentative plans of the committee of arrangements provide for the banquet to be held November 14 in the parlors of First Church, Grant street, Pittsburgh. President Chas. T. Aikens has been invited to make an address.

Before a large crowd the Susquehanna grid machine defeated a powerful opponent in the Bloomsburg State Normal eleven by the score of 13-6. The prep school boys came to Selinsgrove with the best team that has ever represented their institution, and they felt confident of winning over the local collegians. A large crowd of enthusiastic rooters accompanied the visitors and they let their presence be known by the many cheers which they accorded their team. Bloomsburg responded nobly and really outplayed the home team in the earlier stages of the first half. Pandemonium broke loose in the Bloomsburg section when Kapnusk, a half-back, intercepted a forward pass and ran fifty-six yards for the first score of the game. The attempt at goal was wide.

Altho greatly outwitted Susquehanna showed her mettle when she came from behind in the second half and scored enough points to insure victory. Coach Wingard's charges started off in a listless manner, but once defeat appeared eminent they fought furiously to uphold the Orange and Maroon.

First Quarter

The game started with S. U. kicking off to Bloomsburg. Bloomsburg's ball on the 25 yard line. On first play two yards were gained thru tackle. No gain right end; two yards around left end; Bloomsburg punted to Susquehanna's 35 yard line. Three plays netted little gain, and Bolik punted to Bloomsburg's 20 yard line. The remainder of the quarter netted little

Athletic Program Of S. U. Set Forth

PROGRAM WRITTEN IN RESPONSE TO REQUEST TO PLACE BEFORE STUDENTS, ALUMNI AND FRIENDS S. U.'S AIMS IN THIS PHASE OF COLLEGE LIFE

In the present day scramble for supremacy in intercollegiate athletics two distinct methods or policies can be found in existence.

The first of these, (which places as its ultimate goal but one objective—Victory—and that at any cost), continues to exist and flourish in a number of our Eastern colleges and Universities. This policy tends to take the matter of the conduct of the institution's athletics out of the hands of faculty, students and alumni, and place it largely in the hands of the latter group, ignoring entirely the first mentioned group and utilizing the students only as a means of supporting and making possible their athletic program.

Along with such a policy will usually be found a carefully organized group of individuals, whose one and only purpose is to have a winning team represent their "Alma Mater." Large sums of money will be raised and powerful teams moulded from the athletes who have been influenced to enter said institution as a result of special concessions and financial inducements. Such a program in turn makes possible the staging of "big games" and the collection of large gate receipts, all of which in turn makes possible the payment of said financial inducements to the members of the team.

Of course this entire matter is handled in such a manner so as not to have the institution in any way diminished. Continued on Page 2

GAMBLING ON THE GAMES

They were both well dressed and apparently well fed. There were no signs on their hands that caressed the easy chairs in which they sat nor did any wrinkles show up on the well powdered brows. They were jelly-beans of the first water.

"I have twenty-five bucks on the game with Washington tomorrow and I have a hunch that it is a good bet," said J. B. number one.

"I could only get twenty and had to give odds at that," was the reply of J. B. number two.

Now let's consider this species of college animal. They do not spin, neither do they weave. Their time is spent in loafing thru college. They go out to the games and occasionally make a practice to see how the team is progressing. When the big games come along they place their money where they think the best chance of winning is. Supporting the old college, college spirit is what they use for an excuse.

On the other hand there are some hundreds of men who go out to the athletic field every afternoon. They put on dirty, damp football clothes and go thru all of the hard training, take all of the hard knocks of the game. Three to four hours every day are given to practice and at night they slip in to their rooms so tired out that study is a task. They give all they have for the college and receive in return not one cent.

Leave out the moral question and traditional religion. He teaches his way thru college on the excuse that he is supporting the team.

Only a party to the arrangement; in fact in some cases the "administration" is blissfully ignorant of the existence of such arrangements. In the minds of many people, and especially those not familiar with or interested in the real needs of the institution and the fundamental purpose of collegiate athletics, the aforementioned scheme is ideal and essential to the real advancement of the institution itself.

The other plan or policy that presents itself, and which is followed in many of the colleges in the North, South and especially the Middle West, together with an ever increasing number of the Eastern institutions, places the control and direction of the athletic activities of the institution in the hands of faculty, students and alumni. In such a plan the importance and desirability of having strong representative teams and victory in the various contests is not minimized, just as every institution prides herself in having splendid representative musical organizations, debating teams, etc. It does not carry with it, however, victory at any cost.

Such a plan or policy recognizes the right of every student of the institution to have the opportunity to earn a place on the various teams. It dignifies the value and benefit to be derived by her students from such representation and competition and therefore makes such an opportunity possible for her students, rather than have this privilege given to another "student athlete" who not only derives the benefit therefrom, but in addition is also securing special financial concessions, etc. Further, it recognizes the existence of certain definite and established intercollegiate regulations and practices governing athletics and in her relations with other institutions plans to meet these institutions on a similar basis.

Nor need this second course or plan of necessity do away with the "big game" with all of its collegiate color and setting. Nothing in college life tends to mould and weld into one unified mass the student body as does such an event. Possibly nothing tends to foster a higher degree of college spirit, a truer sense of loyalty and devotion to the institution and a definite cause, than does the service and sacrifice that is called forth in preparation for such an event. "To train for service" is after all the corner stone of the foundation of the American College.

Three years ago Susquehanna apparently faced a crisis or turning point in her athletic career. She had passed thru in succession various periods those in which every man on the team not only played for the love of the sport and his Alma Mater, but even was willing to pay out hard earned cash to furnish its own equipment and training table meals, etc.; a period during which the finest sense of loyalty and devotion to their college and the willingness to serve and sacrifice for their team, was displayed.

From this period or condition Susquehanna gradually drifted to that period in which it was deemed absolutely necessary to single out athletes and induce them to enter Susquehanna, under promise of special financial concessions and inducements—promises made, but seldom kept, except by the University, who found herself involved annually to the extent of several thousands of dollars. (The writer does not wish to be misunderstood in this matter—this entire scheme was planned in all good faith with nothing but the very best interests of the University at heart—the scheme, however, failed to bring lasting results, just as similar schemes have failed and are failing in other institutions).

Such was the nature of the condition facing the athletic board and the writer, when in the fall of 1921 he responded to the request of the board of directors of the University to take up his duties as head of the Department of Physical Education and Athletics. In addition to the aforementioned conditions then hung over the Athletic Association a financial debt; there was a scarcity of equipment; Susquehanna's playing field facilities were not only inadequate, but even a discredit to an institution such as Susquehanna; her male students in the college department numbered possibly one hundred and twenty-five, very few of whom had athletic training or experience prior to entering Susquehanna. College spirit was low; students on Susquehanna's campus possessing athletic ability failed to respond to the call for team candidates, knowing that other men were on the campus, who were receiving special financial considerations in view of their entering Susquehanna and these men would naturally be expected to be members of Susquehanna's representative teams. The desire on the part of the ordinary college student to go out and fight for a position on the team and serve his college was gone, and a period of years has had to intervene in order to overcome this condition. (Again the writer would stress the fact that he in no way desires to leave the impression that any one individual was responsible for such a condition, it simply existed as a result of general conditions at that time in the conduct of athletics.)

Previous to 1921 a program similar to the one outlined in the first part of this article had been attempted. Individuals had promised to contribute to a special fund; different campus organizations had assumed definite financial obligations; groups of alumni had decided to finance some "star athlete" during his college career. The result was invariably the same—increase in the undertaking waned; plans for raising the funds failed to materialize and as aforementioned, the ultimate and final result was the same—the University was forced to meet the obligation involved. Surely an unwholesome and undesirable condition.

Not only did the athletic board face these facts; the University's dire need or funds for general endowment had been but recently placed before her friends and alumni and an effort made to raise $500,000. In addition to this endowment her urgent needs in other lines—a new library, new dormitories, additions to the faculty, etc., had to be met in order to meet and maintain the requirements established for institutions of learning such as Susquehanna.

After months of deliberation and hours of careful discussion, during which time a careful study of Susquehanna's athletic problems was made, together with a survey of the trend of intercollegiate athletics and their direct bearing to the status of the institution itself, Susquehanna's athletic board in 1921 determined on a policy such as has been briefly outlined as being the second scheme or program underlying intercollegiate athletics today.

The persons unfamiliar with the handicaps under which Susquehanna set forth in her effort to establish for herself a name of respect, clean sportsmanship, and fair play in her athletic activities and relations with other institutions, will never know of the hours of planning, of careful thought and effort, given by that splendid group of men—members of the faculty, students and alumni together with Dr. Aikens and the board of directors of the University, in gradually establishing a sound basis for athletics at Susquehanna.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-one found Susquehanna, one of the smallest of the Middle Atlantic States Colleges, starting to put her own house in better order as pertained to her athletics. During the past three years other colleges have taken similar steps and at the present time at least three additional colleges—natural rivals of Susquehanna—have set out on similar programs. Still other colleges with whom Susquehanna never enjoyed athletic relations, have placed her on their schedules because they know they are meeting a team playing upon a similar basis to that which they long since had adopted.

For the first time in a number of years Susquehanna finds herself with a team that is really representative of her student body. For the first time in years she can invite the most careful inquiry as to the status and eligibility of the men wearing the Orange and Maroon. Possibly for the first time Susquehanna has succeeded in measuring up to generally recognized standards in intercollegiate athletics. No longer can Susquehanna be rated with that ever decreasing number of colleges who fail to recognize usual collegiate athletic standards as to eligibility of players, etc.

The goal for which those men in 1921 set out, has not been reached. It is believed, however, that much has been accomplished. Susquehanna's fair name is no longer a byword for the undesirable features in collegiate athletics. College spirit in 1924 is at its height. Visiting teams and our own students enjoy privileges and playing facilities equalled by few colleges of Susquehanna's size. Officials handling our home games, request to be reapportioned because they find it pleasant to handle a game on the Orange and Maroon campus. The present student body (also the male portion in the college department is possibly smaller than that of most of Susquehanna's rivals) is conceded to be the largest and of the highest type ever entering Susquehanna. Today students are coming to her halls, not only from the central portion of the Keystone State, but from its remotest districts; from New England, from New York, from New Jersey, etc. Surely Susquehanna's future is Archie Swanger, '23, is still principal of the Luthersburg public schools. Two able Susquehanna men are now leaders in religion and education in that city. Naugle '24, is pastor of the Lutheran Church while Swanger has gained the confidence of the parents and teachers to a very great degree.

Edna Goff, '23, has been re-elected to the chair in Latin in Derry High.

Thomas Atkinson, '22, is a member of the Senior Class in theology in Mt. Airy Seminary.

Lewis Pawling, '22, is a student in the U. of P. school of law.

Glenn Rickert, '22, holds the principalship of Halifax schools.

Edmund Ritter, '22, is a bank employee in one of Williamsport's important banks. "Doc" is heading towards the future cashiership of the bank in "Blittown."

Clarence Drumm, '23, is an instructor in Pennington Seminary in Hightstown, N. J.

Winston Emerick is occupying a very responsible position in one of Johnston's most important banks. He is head of the foreign department of the Citizens' Trust Co. "Pat" has lately been married to a local young lady, Miss Elva Hare.

Herman Goetz, '22, is district supervisor of the schools in Harrisburg.

Marvin Groce, '23, is finishing a two year course in Economics at Yale University.

Beatrice Fisher, '22, is teaching Science in Lansford High.

George Herman, '23, is supervising in the grades in this town. Herman is a local citizen.

Miles Hummer, '23, is teaching in the secondary schools in the State of Oklahoma.

Mary Dreese, a student at Summer Sessions, is assistant principal in Dauphin High.

Wm. Aucker, also a student during summer months, is assistant principal at Burnside High.

Luther Fisher, '22, is district manager of the Penna. Power & Light Co. He has been notified that he will be promoted to the division manager-ship in the near future.

Harry Sweeney, '23, is still enjoying a great popularity among the students of Follensbee High and among the people of the city of Follensbee, W. Va. Harry is head coach of athletics in that place.

Thomas Weibie, '23, is assistant purchasing agent for the Penn Public Service Corporation in Johnstown, Pa. Tom has made very rapid strides since his graduation from college.

Fetterolf, '23, is holding an official position in the Thomas Kinzey Lumber Co. in Johnstown. Besides becoming a member of the company he has also become a member of the Kinzey family thru his marriage to Miss Mabel Kinzey, business '24. "Tom" Weibie, "Pat" Emerick and "Jack" Fetterolf have secured the most responsible positions of any of the Class of '23. The class is very proud of the success of their friends and wishes them all these young men have secured positions in the same town, the steel center of the West.

H. J. Rothermel, '23, is principal of the Middletown public schools. He has two very able assistants, both Susquehanna alumni. Miss Helen Salem '19, is instructor in languages, while Russell Stettin, '21, is instructor in Science. It is reported that Rothermel is very well liked by his teachers for the very fair manner in which he supervises.

Frank Attinger, '22, is principal of the Sandy township high, near Dubois.

Erma Stahl, '23 is occupying the chair in Mathematics for the second successive year since her graduation.

SUSQUEHANNA TEAM TOO STRONG FOR BLOOMSBURG

gains for either team, but a slight edge was conceded to Bloomsburg.

Second Quarter
The quarter opened with the ball in Bloomsburg's possession in midfield. They failed to advance and were forced to punt. Five yard penalty given to Susquehanna for being off-side. Stroup around right end for seven yards; Bolig circled right end for first down. Bloomsburg held. On fourth down Susquehanna attempted forward pass, but Kapnuskly intercepted it and ran fifty-six yards for touch-down. The attempt at goal was missed. During the remainder of the quarter there was some red hot playing, but no further scoring was registered. At the end of the first half Bloomsburg sported a six point lead, and her followers were wild with joy and expectancy.

Third Quarter
Between halves Coach Wingard injected much fighting spirit into the men and they returned to the fray eager to wipe out the stain of their showing in the first half. The half began with Susquehanna again kicking off to Bloomsburg. Bloomsburg's ball on the 30 yard line. On the first play Bolig recovered a Bloomsburg fumble. Slegle made slight gain at right end. A forward pass was intercepted and the ball returned to Bloomsburg. Two line plays and a pass were broken up. As Bloomsburg tried to punt Hartman broke thru and blocked the kick. Captain Gordon scooped up the ball and ran to the 12 yard line before he was stopped. Thomas around left end for five yards. Another end run netted four yards and a first down. On two line plays Stuenmpfle carried the ball to within two feet of the goal line, and on the next play Groce tore thru for a touch-down. Thomas' drop kick was successful, and Susquehanna assumed a one point lead. After the next kick-off an exchange of punts gave the ball to Susquehanna on Bloomsburg's 35 yard line. At this point Stuenmpfle threw a twenty-seven yard forward pass to Thomas and the latter covered the remaining distance before falling over the goal line. The attempt at goal was wide. Susquehanna again kicked off to the visitors and the quarter ended soon afterward.

Fourth Quarter
Numerous substitutions marked this quarter and only a few unfortunate breaks prevented the Orange and Maroon from scoring several touchdowns. The prep school lads continued to fight hard, but as the time wore on they were completely outclassed by S. U.

The entire Bloomsburg team deserves commendation for the manner in which they struggled against their college foes. Among the Susquehanna men several stood out prominently, but none more so than "Bob" Hartman, sturdy tackle, who made his presence felt both on defensive and offensive play. His tackling was deadly and accurate. "Pete" Bolig continued his high class punting and his defensive work was of the best. Weaver played a strong defensive game when injected into the lineup, as did Gimme, versatile end. Stuenmpfle used fine judgment at his position of quarterback. Groce, hard plunging back, put forth a high class of ball. Dodd, Slegle and Stroup showed much promise and should continue to work well in the future. Captain Gordon and Barnes played their usual fighting game and were much in evidence. Blough, when shifted from end to tackle, showed to advantage.

looming up with great promise. The student slogan of 1924, "Loyalty, Service and Sacrifice" aptly conveys the spirit pervading the old campus. The implanting of this same spirit in the hearts of every true alumnus will speedily hasten the day when that Greater and Grandeur Susquehanna will be in every sense a Reality.

L. D. GROSSMAN, '16. IN ACCORD WITH POLICY

In this issue of The Susquehanna will be found a clear and concise statement by Professor Grossman on the athletic situation at Susquehanna.

I have been drafted into service by the athletic board. The coaching of our football team to me is a labor of love. I would like all friends of the alumni to realize that I am in hearty accord with Susquehanna's athletic policy.

The University has certain rules of eligibility that must be enforced and I will not be a party to breaking any of these rules. The University wishes to discourage the practice of offering to athletes, just because they are athletes, special financial inducements to enter Susquehanna and as long as I am connected with athletics at Susquehanna I shall not be a party to nor responsible for the offering of any such financial inducements.

The $100 Competitive Scholarships established by the board of directors three years ago are not a part of Susquehanna's athletic program. The fact that they are awarded upon the same basis as the Rhodes Scholarships to Oxford University, England, the awards being granted upon the applicants' traits along moral, mental and physical lines has, however, resulted in bringing to Susquehanna's campus a splendid group of young men and we believe has aided materially in building up her present student body. These scholarships do embody those principles of award which are gaining marked favor with the leading American colleges and universities. Here again Susquehanna is laying a sound foundation upon which to establish additional scholarships and which it is hoped alumni and friends of Susquehanna will make possible.

The morale of college athletics has changed and we must change with it. Do not judge the good work that has been accomplished by victories and defeats. If our alumni will just be a little patient and stand by us for a little while longer I am sure we will be able to work out this problem to the satisfaction of all concerned. Let us all give the institution the loyal support she deserves and success must come.

EDGAR R. WINGARD.

ALPHA SIGMA OMEGA
HOST AT RECEPTION

Alpha Sigma Omega fraternity delightfully entertained friends at an informal reception in the fraternity home on Saturday evening, October 11.

Being the initial reception of its kind held this year, 8:15 found everyone assembled in a spirit of delightful expectancy. There was no manifestation of disappointment, judging from the expression of the guests. Felton's Collegians furnished an abundance of harmonic inspiration, which augmented the existing spirit of merrymaking to the extent that when the time for parting drew nigh those present expressed their deep regret that the time had been so short.

Miss Hoyt took up the other phase as to What the Student Means to the Y. W. C. A. The Y. W. cannot function alone, it has to have the cooperation of the student. Every girl should learn to cultivate a sincere interest in the work of the Y. W. C. A. First, it is her duty to try to be present at every meeting. Second, the leader should not be expected to do all the talking. Every girl should enter into the discussions. By the exchanging of ideas everyone will be able to understand more clearly, the perplexing national and religious questions. Third, every girl should think the Y. About The Campus

YOU ARE CHALLENGED

Have you noticed in your going to and fro and up and down over the campus this fall the presence of a dark cloud—a negative and decidedly objectional influence in this moulding environment of ours? It is the all too prevalent use of profanity. If you have not noticed, it may be well to take observation of yourself. Perhaps it is too close to come within your range of vision like the proverbial moat.

He who uses profanity proclaims to all his hearers his inability to express his thoughts in English. He shows himself to be totally inconsiderate and unfit for association with cultured and refined people. He proves the existence and demonstrates the result of laxity and negligence in his past training, both in the home and out. He tells the world of the utter lack of conscious discipline on his own part. He is a bombastic discreditor and humiliation to the one who gave him life and then sacrificed that it might count for something in the scheme of things. By his very evident lack of breeding he automatically excludes himself from the circle of folks who are self-respecting enough to abstain from such obnoxious vulgarities and who would find pleasure and profit in leading away and up any one so sadly afflicted. What a subtle index to mental putrefaction.

But that is the least of it. Is it not hideous to realize that a person can so quickly and in one word confess and proclaim the many glories of God, and yet deny, denounce and flout Him and His promise of punishment for the desecration of His holiness. A very ingenious trick of the devil for the seduction and possession of unthinkable and unconcerned persons, is it not? What will we answer to this grave charge on the last day, when we come face to face with God and find it impossible to lie? We cannot say that we did think and dare not say that we did not care. The only thing left is punishment and remorse; more rending, more agonizing and more hopeless than anything that we are capable of conceiving. That is unless there is a change in our attitude before we reach that state.

There is no time like the present to stamp out this nuisance. Let us thank God for the opportunity He has given us for penitence and make use of it. Let us all join hands with God in a consistent and acute effort to stamp out without mercy the last remnants of this repulsive weakness in ourselves and others. Then too remember that reform like charity begins at home. This done, we will have the satisfaction of knowing that our Alma Mater is more nearly ideal for our having seen our duty and having performed it. Is that not sufficient compensation? The glory, if the performance of duty merits such, belongs to God. Are you loyal in the higher sense of the word to your institution and your church?

M. C. A. IN PRACTICE GAME

Rather than have Susquehanna's varsity idle next Saturday a game has been arranged with the Sunbury P. R. Y. M. C. A. to fill in the open date in the schedule. Failure to arrange satisfactory conditions under which the original game should be played caused Susquehanna's athletic board. In recent session, to order the game canceled.

Saturday's game will be played on University Field with the "Kick off" at 2:30.

Susquehanna's next test will be on October 25th, when Juniata will be met on the home field.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman Lectured

MOST INTERESTING LECTURE EVER HEARD AT SUSQUEHANNA GIVEN BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN ON "THE MISSION OF THE REPUBLIC"

One of the best and most interesting, as well as the best attended lectures at Susquehanna, was given by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman in the Trinity Lutheran Church under the auspices of the University Star Course, Thursday evening, October 16, 1924.

Dr. Cadman, who is considered one of the best preachers of today, was born in England and married an English wife. All of his relatives live in England, but he at present is pastor of the Metro Temple in New York City. He received many degrees from various universities, such as Syracuse, Columbia and University of Vermont.

He began by saying that it was a privilege for him to come to a college dedicated to christianity, since he did not have much hope for purely secular education.

The subject which Dr. Cadman spoke upon was "The Mission of the Republic." In opening this subject he compared America, which is a democracy, to autocracies of the past, and asked the question if America ever produced a Plato, Aristotle or Shakespeare. The United States, as a nation, boasts of her accomplishments, and says that America is eternal. But there is nothing eternal about a democracy. A democracy might fall just as well as an autocracy.

Prof. Sanders Addressed Y. M.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION HELD INSPIRING MEETING AT WHICH TIME SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL OF THE SELINGROVE SCHOOLS TALKED TO YOUNG MEN

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Chapel on Tuesday evening with the devotional exercises in charge of Mr. Sands. Professor I. G. Sanders, supervising principal of the Selingrove public schools, then addressed the meeting.

"In St. John 5 Jesus points out to the Jews three evidences which ought to convince them that He is the Christ. The first one of these is John the Baptist, the forerunner who said 'prepare ye the way, there cometh one mightier than I.' The second evidence is of His own life and works, which should have made them see that He was more than ordinary man. The third is the Scriptures. If they had known the Scriptures they would have found out that it was the spirit of the law that they were to keep instead of the letter of the law. 'But ye will not come unto me that ye might have life.' Will is one of the mysteries of life. Unless the will acts nothing is accomplished, no good can be done against the will of God. The will is the essence of personality. All action is the fruit of the will. The will acts first in every case.

The force of heredity acts upon everyone and exerts a powerful influence as also do environment and education. Judgment should be based on the character of the will. The fact that men are leaders, as general, orators and wherever leadership is involved, is explained that they have developed strong will power. Morally it is the character of the will that counts. The will is the ultimate moral conduct in religion.

In the psychology of the Christian life it is God who worketh in one to will. Everyone's will should conform to the will of God. In the forming of habits in college one's should be, stick to the Bible. A person should

Organization Of S. U. Orchestra

SECOND MEETING OF ORCHESTRA HELD IN SEIBERT HALL, AT WHICH TIME OFFICERS WERE ELECTED—UNDER ABLE DIRECTION OF MISS LAQUAY

The second meeting of the Susquehanna Orchestra was held in Seibert Hall on October 16.

This year the orchestra has more advanced players than ever before. Everyone is deeply interested in this new work, so that everybody may be assured of many fine treats during the coming year. Under the very able direction of Miss LaQuay this will be certain to be not only a hope, but a reality.

The following officers were elected for the year: President, Margaret Schliermund; vice president, Marlin Bickle; secretary, Ann E. Geeting; treasurer, Clarence Detweiler; business manager, Orville Landis.

Philo Held First Meeting of Year

INITIAL LITERARY SOCIETY MEETING OF YEAR HELD IN CHAPEL HALL BECAUSE OF UNUSUALLY LARGE ATTENDANCE. PLEASING PROGRAM RENDERED

On account of the unusually large attendance at the opening meeting of Philo Literary Society the meeting was held in the Chapel Hall. Philo began the year right with a fine program, characterized thruout by a pleasing succession of entertainment, instruction and humorous puns.

Vice President Allison opened the meeting and Dr. Kern conducted the devotional exercises. Several readings by Miss Ann Geeting afforded the audience much pleasure. This talented young lady had full opportunity to display her ability of character impersonation and certainly used the opportunity to advantage. Following this the society was favored with a piano selection given by Miss Catherine Benner. Next on the program was a realistic presentation of a scene in one of the modern alms houses. Mere words cannot describe the ingenious representation of future state of some of our fair co-eds, in fact the playlet seemed so real and true to life each member of the society made a good resolution to avoid too intimate an acquaintance with the reality of "Over the hill to the poor house."

Mr. Allison selected Earl Thomas to fill the extemporaneous number. Mr. Thomas spoke, in general, on the value and need of literary societies. His remarks were characterized by their brisk brief truthfulness and expressed a hope for well attended and mutually beneficial programs this scholastic year.

Philo was edited by Miss Helen Yeingst. Her instruction by philosophical editorial was exceeded only by the clever arrangement of wit and humor, enlivening the laughter and appreciation.

TENNIS COURT REGULATIONS

TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

There has been some misunderstanding in regard to the use of the tennis courts. Please do not play upon the courts during recitation hours as this disturbs those who may be having a class at that particular period. The courts are for the use of the entire student body, but they should be used at the proper time. This has been neglected so far this year. Everyone has been playing at any time which he so desired. From now on let everyone try to make his desires conform with the peace of those about him. Remember that this rule of "not playing during recitation hours" will be strictly enforced.

Nov. 22 Alumni and Home-Coming Day

ATHLETIC BOARD RECENTLY TOOK ACTION FIXING DATE OF ALUMNI DAY ON NOV. 22. EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS BEING MADE. URSINUS IS ATTRACTION

At a recent meeting of the athletic board action was taken fixing Alumni Day on November 22. Extensive preparations are being made to accommodate the many alumni members who are expected to flock to the Susquehanna campus to witness the feature game of the year. Committees from the athletic board and from the Varsity S Club will meet to draw up the plans for the greatest Alumni Day that Susquehanna has ever seen.

The attraction on November 22 will be the powerful Ursinus team. With such a speedy opponent the game should develop into a bitterly contested struggle for the entire sixty minutes of play. Last year the Susquehanna boys were defeated in a hard fought game at Collegeville by the score of 17-6. This year will find Susquehanna out to even up the old score, closing her season with a triumph over her worthy opponent.

Methodist People Host at Reception

RECEPTION GIVEN BY THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN HONOR OF THE STUDENTS OF SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY A DECIDED SUCCESS

The Methodist Episcopal Church was the host at a reception given recently in its social rooms in honor of the students of Susquehanna University.

The rooms were artistically decorated in the Susquehanna colors, orange and maroon, and everything seemed to lend its aid in making the occasion a success.

William F. Groce had charge of the festivity, and gave the address of welcome. The pastor of the church, Rev. J. H. Morgart, led in prayer. This was followed by several selections sung by the Susquehanna Quartet, composed of Kroen, Constable, Keller and Ertle. Rev. H. F. Babcock, of the Methodist Church of Lewisburg, formerly student pastor at State College, delivered the address of the evening.

He talked of the four-fold life, the physical, mental, social and spiritual, and made emphatic the point that

Sophomores Held Opening Picnic

CLASS OF '27 HELD FIRST PICNIC OF YEAR, AT HOUR OF SEVEN CLASS HIKE TO BROOK'S BANK WHERE EVERYONE ENJOYED THEMSELVES TO THE UTMOST

The Sophomore class held the annual opening picnic last Tuesday night. As the clock struck the hour of seven, the class of '27 formed into suitable groups for hiking and started for Brooks' Bank. At first there seemed to be a little surprised excitement among the girls, for it was whispered about that the Frosh were coming to break up the hike, and it was not until the campus and town were left far behind that everyone forgot their cares, and laughter and song reigned supreme.

A half hour of hiking brought them to Brooks' bank, where Miss Reeder with the ukulele and Miss Woodruff with her witty stories entertained the girls while the boys made the fire. (The fire was not long in the making.) After this a few games were

SUSQUEHANNA ELEVEN WILL MEET JUNIATA ON UNIVERSITY FIELD SATURDAY, OCT. 25 IN ONE OF THE HARDEST FOUGHT GAMES OF THE SEASON

The present week will see one of the hardest, if not the hardest, fought games of the year, when Juniata will invade the Susquehanna campus to engage the locals in an important game. This game means much to each school, and neither team will let any stones unturned to garner a victory. Last year's defeat is still fresh in the minds of the Juniata collegians, and they are coming to Susquehanna with the avowed intention of evening up the score.

The Huntingdon boys are boasting the strongest team in their history, and can be counted upon to provide plenty of opposition for S. U. The

Plans Set For Class Soccer

PLANS FOR CLASS SOCCER BEGINNING TO TAKE DEFINITE SHAPE. EVERYONE MUCH INTERESTED ON ACCOUNT OF TROPHIES TO BE AWARDED

During the past week plans for the annual Class Soccer series began to take definite shape and the playing of the games will soon be started.

Under the direction of Miss Reeder the co-eds are gradually getting their teams intact in preparation for the opening of the schedule. Likewise the men are preparing for what promises to be one of the most interesting series of class sport staged on the campus in recent years. The Freshmen and Sophomores will have strong representative teams, while the upper-classmen are preparing to give battle to the championship contenders.

Special interest is being attached to the outcome of the series, in view of the beautiful trophies that have been provided by the present Freshman class, to be awarded to the winners in each series.

A. A. ELECTIONS FRIDAY EVENING

Students interested in announcing themselves as candidates for the following positions should present their names in writing to Prof. Grossman prior to Thursday noon.

Elections for managerial positions will be held immediately preceding the mass meeting on Friday evening.

Positions:

One cheer leader from the Senior class.

Two assistant basketball managers from the Junior class.

Two assistant tennis managers from the Junior class.

Two assistant track managers from the Junior class.

Four sub-assistant baseball managers from the Sophomore class.

The Athletic Association also provides for the awarding to the cheer leader a small gold megaphone. A vote will also be taken on this matter at the above meeting as regards granting this award to the cheer leader last year.

Coupon No. 30 will be used as a ballot. Do not forget to secure your Coupon Book.

Susquehanna—"Loyalty, Service and Sacrifice."

S. U. Overwhelmed Sunbury Y. M. C. A.

DUE TO THE VACANCY IN THE SCHEDULE ON SATURDAY THE SUSQUEHANNA VARSITY MET THE SUNBURY Y. M. C. A. IN A PRACTICE GAME

Showing a whirlwind offense, the Susquehanna gridlers completely overwhelmed the eleven representing the Sunbury Y. M. C. A. Earlier in the season the Y team had defeated the Reserves, and they were confident of repeating the victory against the varsity. In the early stages of the game the visitors displayed much resistance, but after that the Susquehanna backs scored almost at will, and could have amassed a greater total than the forty-eight points which they did counter.

The lineup for this game showed many new faces, and the new men showed greater form, both on offense and defense. The lineup which started the game was, ends, Auton and Shunille; tackles, Barnes and Cassel; guards, Blough and Hartman; center, Bullock; backfield, Stumple, Sleigle, Pratt and Groce. Other men who entered the fray were Weaver, Horton, Daubenspeck, Miller, Koch, Eberts, Garrity and Weston. The playing of these men was very pleasing to the Susquehanna followers and it convinced them that the locals are rapidly rounding into form for the big games which are soon to follow.

The game was too one-sided to provide many features. Pratt, Groce and Sleigle did great work on the offense. Stumple's kicking was phenomenal, as was the defensive work of the entire line.

SUSQUEHANNA STUDENTS MANIFESTING "OLD TIME PEP" AT CONTESTS. NEW CHEER INTRODUCED BY CHEER LEADER KLIK AND HIS ASSISTANTS

As the new yell—"Gr-r-r-r-Rah—Flight team fight," rumbled o'er the field of contest at the opening of the first home game, it was quite evident that the "old time pep" was manifested by the Susquehanna students.

In searching for the cause we find Coach Wingard has put on the field a squad of the most peppy fighters that have been seen at S. U. for many years. This same spirit of fight and optimism at once took hold of the student body. It was essential that this abundance of expressed energy be controlled and directed in a unified manner; hence Cheer Leader Klick and his assistants, Easterbrook and Landis, with their squad of proteges. They are endeavoring to put across a bunch of peppy new yells and songs and promise to build up a program of cheering that has never been equaled at Susquehanna. Also, recognizing the part that the co-eds play in athletics at S. U., Klick has organized a squad of "cheer leaders" from Seibert Hall, which promises to add much to the success of the program. They will make their initial appearance at the "pep meeting" on Friday evening, before the Juniata game.

In order that the labors of these aspirants to the title of "Chief of the Megaphones" will not be in vain, it is absolutely essential that the students individually and collectively, make their support 100 per cent. Dr. C. R. Griffith, professor of Psychology at the University of Illinois, says "I don't believe that there is any magical or mysterious force which a crowd can exercise on a team, but I do think a team is quick to detect small changes in the quality of a voice or in the intensity of a voice which means plenty of support or lack of

IRREVERENCE

Another important word in the English vocabulary which is much abused is reverence. What is reverence? Reverence is veneration, honor, respect. Then what is irreverence? Irreverence is the disregarding of reverence, or the dishonoring, the disrespecting of persons or things.

Last Tuesday evening held the Y. M. C. A. services were being held, even while the speaker was on the rostrum, someone was irreverent. Someone used that time, during which he should have been engaged in worshipping God, practicing or, perhaps it should be said, just blowing upon a musical instrument. During the Y. M. C. A. hour is no time to be indulging in any activity which will annoy those who are present at the meeting. In the first place it is every young man's privilege, yes, his duty, to be present at every Y. M. C. A. meeting. It is there that he will acquire those things which will do most for the molding and forming of his character. But if there is some reason why he can not be present, he should think of those who have laid aside their studies for the hour, and try to cooperate with them and at least permit them to enjoy the benefits derived from the meeting without being annoyed by somebody who unthinkingly is making an unnecessary amount of noise.

Let us also carry this thought farther. When we go into the classroom, if we are unprepared or if we are uninterested in the lesson, at least keep quiet so that those who really want to get something will be able to hear the different discussions. There are many causes of irreverence in the classroom. Let us try from now on to avoid this.

From time to time we find various individuals, groups of individuals, or even organizations disturbing the peace of those about us. Is this reverence? It is not, it is irreverence—the highest degree. Don't forget that not everyone is moved to have a good time at the same moment. Remember that some persons may want to study when you may want to "cut off." Let us think of the other fellow. If everyone on the campus thinks of the other person before himself, then we will be doing away with that reverence which exists, and will be establishing in its place that great virtue, reverence.

SUSQUEHANNA STANDARDS

If a school is going to rise, it is surely worth boasting. Stand up for the best at S. U. and help to overcome the "not so good." The latter exists because each individual is not as loyal as he might be. We cannot be satisfied with "our second best" but let's do "our very best."

Be interested in your school and the things it stands for. The strength of S. U. depends upon the loyalty of each student. The standards which our school stands for may be embodied in the words Susquehanna University, as:

Service Usefulness
Sociability Quality
Unity Efficiency Happiness
Attractiveness Naturalness Neutrality Athletics Utility Nobleness

DR. S. PARKES

CADMAN LECTURED

Nations perish for lack of religion. America was not made by man, but by the Lord God Almighty. This is true when one considers that in many instances the colonies were established for religious freedom. Even in New York the church was built before any other buildings, because they came for religion. The mission of America then was to preserve the Bible in its strictest form, just as Germany's mission was music and Scandinavia's mission was to conquer the sea.

The lecturer further spoke on the "Spirit of America." This spirit is a sort of baptism and demands a wider scope for justice and peace. The thing that kills the spirit of a great nation is superstition. If America would be superstitious there would be a line of defense all along her borders. But America needs no armies or gunboats to defend her borders, because she trusts her neighbors. She does not want to be a nation which preaches peace and sanctions war.

Dr. Cadman closed by saying that if these principles were followed there need be no fear for the future of America.

The next morning the lecturer spoke before the student body at chapel. He spoke mostly of imagination, and touched on religion. The best gift of a student is imagination, and one who does not possess imagination is blind inside. All should cultivate it along right lines as it is the secret of all success. If one wants his imagination to be big it must be given a background and that background is a college education. The great need of America is that background.

In speaking of religion Dr. Cadman said that there was no conflict between science and religion, but religion lives in a realm of its own equal with science. Furthermore, the Bible never made religion, it grew out of it.

Susquehanna is indeed fortunate in securing a lecture of this type, and feels very much benefited by it. Let it be hoped that all the numbers on the Star Course will be as beneficial.

there is no greater act than that of becoming affiliated with the church. Dr. H. A. P. Kern, instructor of Greek and German at Susquehanna University, and who represented the student body, gave a short response. Rev. J. H. Morrart, pastor of the church, then said a few words to the students.

The Queen Esthers had charge of the social part of the evening, which was carried out completely in every detail. Much credit should be given Murray Grissinger for his unceasing efforts in putting this reception across, and the students certainly appreciated the work which he did in order to make the event a success.

SUSQUEHANNA WILL MEET JUNIATA HERE

visitors have a heavy aggregation, which has proven its worth in the past several weeks, when they have shown some creditable records against strong opponents. Their biggest feat has been to overwhelm Schuylkill 32-0, and second to this they have provided hard games for both Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall. With a strong forward line and a fast set of backs Juniata fully expects to come to S. U. to win.

Altho Susquehanna's present record does not compare very favorably with her fast opponent, nevertheless Coach Winard's charges can be counted upon to measure up to great heights in the coming crucial game. Great improvement was noticed in the Sunbury Y. M. C. A. game last Saturday, when Susquehanna rolled up 48 points against her neighbor. Several hard scrimmages are to be held this week in preparation for a hard battle.

Of late years considerable rivalry has developed between the two schools, and this fact only adds to the interest that is manifested in the outcome. Susquehanna respects the strength of the invaders, but will be satisfied with nothing less than a victory.

support. The constant repetition of a crowd of "hold that line!" cannot help but force the members of a team to think as the crowd is thinking, and I believe when there is a fervent thought of an end to be gained the chances are that corresponding actions will follow."

In whatever contest Susquehanna is engaged, let everyone give all that he has to back up the team, and then they will be sure to come thru with their best. Make your cheers count and make it heavy! What do you say?

LARGE RECOGNITION GIVEN TO SUSQUEHANNA SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Susquehanna is steadily growing in prestige. This is being brought about in many different ways. There are new buildings added from year to year. There is an ever increasing number in the enrollment. There are new departments added which necessitate the securing of new members on the faculty. These changes all help to bring about a bigger and better Susquehanna.

The School of Business Administration of Susquehanna University has been coming more to the forefront each year. This year there were more new students enrolled in the business courses than in any other course in school. As a proof of the recognition given the Susquehanna School of Business Administration "The Susquehanna" takes the pleasure of publishing.

GIRLS OF OMEGA DELTA SIGMA GAVE VERY DELIGHTFUL PARTY

On Friday evening, October 10 the Omega Delta Sigma Sorority entertained all non-sorority girls at a party in the gymnasium. Almost one hundred girls were present, and as they entered they were divided into eight different groups, each group representing a college.

An indoor track meet was featured, in which representatives from each college very enthusiastically competed. Mrs. Kimble and Misses LaQuay, Woodruff and Reeder acted as judges.

Thruout the evening cheers were given by each college, but Lafayette won the highest number of points and was awarded the "silver loving cup" by Miss Naomi Ulrich.

Everyone had a very enjoyable time, and after singing the Alma Mater each one returned to her room.

SEMINARY

The approaching convention of the United Lutheran Church in Chicago has caused a dwindling of the ranks of the Seminary students. Dr. Manhart discontinued his work on Thursday afternoon and left for the convention. He expected to first visit his son, who occupies the chair in History in Valparaiso University in Indiana. His son, Dr. George Manhart, is an instructor in the Summer Sessions of Susquehanna.

Another quartet of the Senior Class in Theology has decided to travel together to the convention. Bingham, Kaufman, Groninger and Welkel declared it was their intention to economize on the trip by eating sandwiches in the day coach instead of bunking in the sleeper. These men left for Chicago on Monday.

Lewis Poltz, '25, started for Chicago last Friday. No doubt he will visit Derry en route.

Samuel Sigler, '25, also decided to invade the wild and wooly West with the rest of his class. Sigler left yesterday for the "Gateway of the West."

Cole, '25, was called home last week on account of the severe illness of his sister.

Law, '26, visited his home in Jersey Shore over the Sabbath. He also preached in one of his churches at Avis.

Derr, '27, duplicated last week's visit to his home in Minersville.

Hanks, '26, braved the dangers of the billowy Susquehanna in order to visit his wife in Dalmatia.

Kepper, '27, took a south western route to the village of Mt. Union. Departing with a Juniata county party in a Juniata county car made it seem as tho he were bound for Port Royal. But the fact that Lutz was along with the party in addition to the marked nervousness of the above mentioned person created a suspicion, which doubtless can be relieved when we consider that "Tippie's" own is teaching in Lewistown, near Mt. Union.

Edward H. Johns, of Greensburg, has entered the Junior class of the Seminary in preparation for the ministry.

EXCHANGE

At Thiel College a new method for the initiation of Freshmen has been inaugurated. The initiation is held in the afternoon, thus abolishing night hazing.

The students of Haverford College are going to follow their football team to two of its important games by means of a bus, which is being arranged for by the cheer leader.

At Gettysburg College a Father and Son banquet has been planned to take place on November 15. The idea, which is a very good one, is to bring about more efficient work by a common bond between the home and the school.

On October 18 Bucknell dedicated her new one-half million dollar stadium, by playing Lafayette, one of her strongest rivals. One of the largest crowds ever seen in this part of the State at a football game saw Lafayette defeat Bucknell 21-3.

Every Friday is observed as Song Day by the students of the University of California. The purpose is to familiarize the students with the college songs, and to create a greater degree of college spirit.

The University of North Carolina boasts of having the oldest student. He is Judge Robert W. Winston, who is sixty-two years old. At the age of sixty Judge Winston decided to go thru college again, and he is now a Junior.

An extension course is being offered by Roanoke College. The classes meet every Wednesday and Friday evenings in the old Jefferson high school building in the city of Roanoke, and many people of that city are taking advantage of the course.

Twenty members of the University of California Glee Club spent the summer in touring the United States and Europe, giving concerts in the various towns and cities along the way. Among the European countries toured by the Club were Scotland, England, Norway, Germany, Belgium and France. After a short vacation in Switzerland the men returned home in time for the fall semester.

PROMINENT ALUMNUS TO BEGIN WORK AT HERSHEY

At the close of communion service on Sunday, October 12, Rev. Paul Kinports read his resignation to the assembled congregation at Monongahela City. He will have charge of the services during the month of October, but on November 1 he will begin his new work at Hershey, eleven miles from Harrisburg.

Rev. Kinports has been in Monongahela City for the past five years, and has devoted himself with fidelity to the work which he loves—that of building up the church in his community. During his pastorate, about 225 persons have been added to the congregation, and all debts have been paid.

The pastor has ministered with wisdom and care to the spiritual needs of his flock, and his congregation has received that leadership and direction which has made it strong, vital and real.

Altho the Monongahela people will suffer a great loss thru the departure of Rev. Kinports, their loss will be Hershey's gain.

Rev. Kinports has also been very active in the affairs of the Susquehanna Alumni Association in Western Pennsylvania.

About The Campus

GOOD FORM

Probably the most enervating and demoralizing sound on this otherwise pleasant planet is the bedlam produced by the combined swishing and gurgling of a number of unskilled soup-gulpers, working frantically on a production basis. This is particularly true when the scene of competition happens to be the basement of Science Hall and some ladies and gentlemen are among those also present at the meal. Again it is very discouraging to have to permit some abominably governed monstrosity to clip the supply of mashed potatoes about five feet from the goal line—your plate being the line. It is maddening to recover from your trance of invincible cow and spud murrphys, only to find that some social atrocity has jumped the gun and already obliterated ten of his thirteen cherries or is finishing his second lap in the pineapple race. Is it not petrifying to be docilely arrayed around the board and then have some freshman come swaggering up to assume the head of the table with an air of preposterous swellage, a condition never heretofore contemplated let alone tolerated.

To cut it short, don't space off with your elbows or take more than a half pound of butter at a time. Don't pile more on your plate than it can bear without strain, and take pains to keep your fingers off the rims of drinking glasses. No brandishing of cutlery, tonsil-stabbing or any other form of fencing is permitted. Tie the horse fast before entering. In short, conduct yourself as you really were civilized. We trust that it will not be necessary to remind you personally in the presence of company or in solitude by the unsympathetic tombstone.

JUSTICE

It has been thought well to call the attention of the men of S. U. to a condition which is unfavorable to the team. The trouble is that the demand for hot water for showers is greater than the supply. This situation is not occasioned by negligence on the part of any one, but is due to the fact that the growth of the student body in the past few years has been so rapid that this particular equipment is rendered insufficient.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, both the gym class and the team must be supplied with hot water. Together these number close to eighty persons, and if an outside team happens to be here for scrimmage the number runs close to a hundred. Ordinarily the gym class gets to the showers before the team, and here is where the difficulty lies. The team is by all means entitled to more of the conveniences than the others. Yet there seems to be some who are thoughtless or selfish enough to use more than their share of the water thus forcing some of the team, who are really sacrificing time and energy for the sake of the school, to take a cold shower after a hard practice. The lapse of time between the arrival of the two bodies is not sufficient to allow the system to refill. The request, then, is that every person not in uniform be as conserving of the available supply as possible. Let each man take personal thought in the matter and consider it his duty to call the attention of any glutton observed to the fact that he is trespassing on the rights of a real man. Let it be remembered that any condition which tends to inconvenience or dissatisfy the team, makes for defeat and humiliation. In like manner, common decency toward those who are worth sacrificing for, makes for victory. There is enough for all if all are willing to exercise justice toward the team and be as loyal to them as they are to us.

Williams, the Freshman, bought a pair of shoes at Poe's Shoe Store last week. On Saturday night he was seen shuffling along very slowly and was questioned by a passer-by.

"Why are you walking so slow?" "Well," said Williams, "Mr. Poe forgot to cut the string which holds the shoes together."

Benner—"Lj nne, what do you think of women who imitate men?" Ramer—"I think they are idiots."

SUSQUEHANNA'S POLICY OF CLEAN SPORTS PRAISED BY LEDGER CRITIC

Director Grossman Extolled For Charting Course Which Eventually Leads to Greatest Honors on the Field of Glory

By STONEY MCINN
Sports Editor The Evening Public Ledger

Susquehanna's Crusaders. That's what they are calling the football team of the university situated in this fine little town.

Why Crusaders? Well, Susquehanna has determined to put its athletics on a strictly amateur basis. Sports for all and sports for sports' sake is their motto.

An energetic and enthusiastic young athletic director, L. D. Grossman, who lives in Ardmore, Pa., who graduated from Susquehanna in 1916 and who later was in charge of athletics at Lower Merion High, is the man who started the crusade.

Grossman came to Susquehanna four years ago. He admits—in fact, all the men connected with the university in an official capacity admit—that football players were favorites at that time.

An athlete with a reputation who could make the team was sure he could remain in school. Maybe sometimes it was not essential that he be up to the mark in his studies.

Susquehanna was not alone in the practice of getting good material for the eleven and holding it despite any financial and scholastic difficulties the student might be having.

And then Grossman came to Selingrove, looked the situation over and said football padding must cease.

Met With Opposition

He met with opposition from all sides. Why, man, all the colleges in our class have good football teams, the new athletic director was told.

We don't want our teams to disgrace us. The only way to get good teams is to find some way for the players we need to attend Susquehanna. Your pure amateur is 'way ahead of the times.

What we are writing has to do only with Susquehanna. We know nothing about any other colleges. It seems well to mention that right here.

"This year in Susquehanna, I am happy to say, no special consideration of any sort whatsoever is shown any athlete," continued Mr. Grossman, "and the spirit is fine."

"In previous years we had trouble getting our boys out for football and other sports. They knew that our regular team was handicapped, that we had persuaded some stars to come here to play football. Now every boy who has the physical qualifications must come out for football. He must try for the team, and he knows that he has a good chance to make the varsity. It has changed the athletic perspective for our entire student body and of our graduates, too.

"We eventually will have a football team that will hold its own with any team in our class. Of course, we will be more careful in making up our schedule in future years. We can't play any teams that won't do what we are doing, namely, playing games for fun and recreation as a side line to the business of getting an education."

Ed. Wingard is the football coach at Susquehanna. He is a former Selingrove glider. Later he was assistant coach with Pop Warner at the Carlisle Indian School and was head coach at Pittsburgh.

Backing Up Grossman

"I am frank to admit that it required three years for Grossman to convince me that we should adopt his amateur policy. I call it amateur because that is what it is," said Coach Wingard.

"Now I am even more enthusiastic about it than Grossman ever was. I am heart and soul with him in his crusade. I had given up football. I am a business man and haven't the time to devote to coaching, but they drafted me for this job at Susquehanna.

"When I became convinced that Grossman was shooting at the right target there was only one thing for me to do—show that I was with him and anxious to help my alma mater further its crusade by agreeing to coach the team.

"Right now my team needs two players to make it a winner in our class. There was a time when we would have gone out and dragged in those players. All college men know how we would have done it.

"But this year we will lose games that we might have won just because we are going to remain firm in our pledge—keep our athletics clean and for the real students of Susquehanna."

Susquehanna has a light football team and most of the players are inexperienced, but they have the proper spirit and light for the jobs in a way that is awakening a new brand of athletic enthusiasm at the Selingrove university.

Hayes Gordon, a 153-pound center, is the captain. He came from Ridley Park High and is a fighting leader, which explains why so light an athlete is the center and captain. The ends are John Auten, Sunbury High, 133 pounds; Raymond Garman, Sunbury High, 158; Patsy Gimme, Union Endicott, 150, and Ernest Shuntill, North Braddock High, 146.

Think of that! Four ends who range in weight from 133 to 158 pounds. But what they lack in heft they fully make up in fight.

Light Team from End to End

There is a little more poundage at the Susquehanna tackle positions, but not as much as the college coach would want.

Roger Blough, 160 pounds, from Susquehanna Academy; Ernest Cassel, 160, Harrisburg Tech; Robert Hartman, 171, Selingrove High, and George Miller, 153, Freeburg High, are the varsity tackles.

There is some weight at the guard positions. Harley Barnes, 191 pounds, from Middleburg High; Jesse Horton, 246, West Philadelphia High; Tom Nipple, 212, Gettysburg Academy, and Atwood Weaver, 180, Montoursville High, are the heavies who park on either side of the center.

Susquehanna has a good backfield. Harold Bolig, 145 pounds, from Selingrove High; Lawrence Dodd, 144, Yeagertown High; Eugene Steigle, 150, Gregg Township, and Earl Thomas, 145, North Braddock, are light but fast men who play the halves. Martin Charrity, 146 pounds, from Beloit High, and Ernest Stuemple, 156, Williamsport High, are active quarterbacks, mentally and physically.

Wilfred Groce, 153, Susquehanna Academy, and Reginald Stroup, 150, Harrisburg Tech, are the fullbacks. And that is the list of varsity players.

Not much to brag about for weight, but Ed. Wingard and Prof. Grossman are satisfied so long as they are following out their crusade.

S. U. Overwhelmed Juniata Eleven

SUSQUEHANNA PUT UP HARDEST FIGHT EVER SEEN ON UNIVERSITY FIELD SATURDAY WHEN SHE DEFEATED STRONG JUNIATA TEAM 10-0.

Susquehanna is being represented by another aggregation of worthy players. The question long asked by the followers of the team was answered by the men themselves last Saturday, when they entered the game against their bitter rival, Juniata, under apparently great odds.

Juniata was being represented by the best team in her history, and her men were all powerful and heavy. Newspaper men were giving them a three touchdown edge over S. U., and the result was that the visitors came to Susquehanna's campus just bubbling over with enthusiasm. The local college men realized that odds were against them, but they entered the fray with fire in each eye, and with the determination to attain glory for Susquehanna. Showing a whirlwind offensive power that could not be stopped, the Orange and Maroon skirted Juniata's ends and ripped thru her line at will. When Juniata occasionally had the ball, Susquehanna held their offensive in check and even broke thru and threw the runner for a loss most of the time. Juniata's fleet backfield men were unable to get started, due

"LITTLE CRUSADERS" WILL JOURNEY TO CHESTER TO MEET THE STRONG PENNSYLVANIA MILITARY COLLEGE TEAM ON SATURDAY

Another hard game looms ahead of Susquehanna's grid men this week when they journey to Chester to meet the Pennsylvania Military College team. In meeting the Cadets the locals have a very busy afternoon ahead of them, as the home team has been winning by a clean-cut margin over all of her late opponents. Her latest accomplishment was a 23-0 victory over Ursinus, a team which held the powerful Penn team to a similar score earlier in the season. The Cadets have a veteran team at their command, since not one of last year's varsity team is missing. Despite the seeming odds against her, Susquehanna will enter the fray undaunted and confident. Last year S. U. stopped

ALUMNI GYMNASIUM SCENE OF MASS MEETING FRIDAY EVENING. COACH WINGARD AND CAPT. GORDON SPOKE. CO-ED CHEER LEADERS INTRODUCED

Alumni Gymnasium was the scene of an enthusiastic mass meeting on Friday evening, when the student body gathered to hear words of encouragement and hope for the coming battle with Juniata. After a rehearsal of some old and new yell, several great speeches were given. Among the speakers were Coach Wingard and Captain Gordon. Realizing the strength of Juniata neither one predicted victory, but both said that Susquehanna would be fighting every minute, and that when Saturday evening came around there would nothing but fine remarks heard concerning the work accomplished by the Orange and Maroon.

Ladies' Auxiliary Will Give Musicales

MUSICAL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN BY THIS GROWING ORGANIZATION, THE PROCEEDS TO BE USED IN FURNISHING NEW DINING HALL

Ladies' Auxiliary of Susquehanna University will give a musicale in Trinity Lutheran Church, Wednesday, October 29 at 8:15 p. m., presenting the following talent:

Prof. A. R. Koch, tenor; Miss M. Vera LaQuay, violinist; Prof. P. M. Linebaugh, accompanist, of the Conservatory of Music faculty; Mrs. S. R. Michaels, reader, and the song cycle quartet, consisting of Mrs. S. Homer Perk, soprano; Mrs. E. R. Wingard, contralto; Mrs. A. F. O'Daniel, bass, and Mr. F. G. Burrows, tenor, assisted by Mrs. Harold Blue at the piano, presenting "Dorothy's Wedding Day."

The program will be under the personal direction of Mrs. E. R. Wingard. Tickets 50 cents. Proceeds of the musical will be used for the new dining room, which has been assumed by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Students Pleased With Reception

FACULTY AND STUDENT BODY OF SUSQUEHANNA TENDERED RECEPTION BY SUNDAY SCHOOL AND CONGREGATION OF FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH

The faculty and student body of S. U. were tendered a reception by the Sunday school and congregation of the First Lutheran Church, Selingrove, last Wednesday evening. The reception was held in the large new Sunday school room.

Rev. Beck, who presided, gave the address of welcome. This was followed by several selections sung by a mixed chorus of S. U., under the direction of Prof. Sheldon. The Misses Herman, former students of S. U., followed with a piano duet. Rev. Beck gave a reading entitled "Dat Apple," after which Miss Pott-licker, '24, rendered a piano solo.

Dr. Atkins made some very timely remarks and gave some good advice to the students present. The ladies of the church then took charge of the program and invited everyone to the basement, where an enjoyable time was spent.

The student body wishes to express its sincere appreciation to all those who helped to make the evening a success.

DATE AND SPEAKER FOR PITTSBURGH BANQUET

Definite assurance from President Chas. T. Atkins that he will be available to address the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association on October 21, Friday, has settled the plans of the committee of arrangements for that date. The banquet will be held in the social parlors of the First Lutheran Church, Grant street, near Sixth avenue, and announcements with reservations cards are being sent Secretary Gawinski to all members whose addresses are available.

Happiness has a peculiar way of coming and going without warning.

Susquehanna University held its presidential straw vote last Wednesday morning in Chapel. The Republican candidate, Calvin Coolidge, won by a large majority, amassing a total of 163 votes. The Democratic candidate, John W. Davis, had 39 votes, and the Progressive candidate, Robert M. LaFollette, drew 23 votes.

Not all of the student body voted, but in general this shows the political tendencies of Susquehanna. The vote was taken in order that there might be awakened among the students a keener interest in the political issues of the day, and that by voting at a straw vote it might influence some persons to vote at the regular election in November.

The results of the vote at Susquehanna have been sent to both the New Student and the Haverford News, the last of which has kindly consented to tabulate the results for the colleges who are members of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association. As soon as the entire returns have been compiled they will be published in The Susquehanna.

CLUB AND FRIENDS ENJOYED VERY DELIGHTFUL WEINER ROAST AND MARSHMALLOW TOAST AT BROOK'S BANK ON LAST THURSDAY EVENING

Bond and Key Club and friends enjoyed a very delightful weiner roast and marshmallow toast at Brook's Bank on last Thursday evening.

As the clock chimed the half hour after seven, the little party of young people left Seibert Hall under the very able chaperonage of Prof. and Mrs. Creager and Dr. Kern. Everyone went prepared to withstand the cold blasts of Father Time, as he is gradually bringing the cool evenings of Autumn into full swing. The party had a very enjoyable hike to the place of the festivity, and everyone remarked upon the glory of the heavens and the peacefulness of the night.

MEMBERS OF EPSILON SIGMA FRATERNITY ENTERTAINED FRIENDS AT FRATERNITY HOME ON COLLEGE AVENUE SATURDAY EVENING

On Saturday evening the Epsilon Sigma fraternity entertained their friends at Hallowe'en party, which proved to be one of the most delightful parties ever given by the local fraternity.

The house was very artistically decorated, appropriate to the occasion. The Orange and Maroon orchestra furnished the music, and everyone enjoyed several hours of merry-making, and only too soon came the time when the music ceased and reminiscences could only be recalled of having spent a most pleasant time.

Mrs. Kimble and Miss Reeder were among the guests of the evening.

There will be a special musical service at Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday evening, November 2.

THE SECRET OF THE AROUND THE WORLD FLIGHT

The world is marveling at the accomplishment of the three American aviators who have just circled the globe by airplane. They have been given everything to can imagine in the way of testimonials for what they have accomplished. I would not take one iota of their credit away. Only those who have tried flying can know how much courage it requires to face an 825 mile trip across an icy ocean, or to face the torrid deserts of India. Long days of plain hard work keeping in the air.

But it is not the unusual courage nor the ability to fly that made the Round the World trip possible. There are a hundred flyers in the American Air Service who could have accomplished the feat. Success in this case was spelled with preparation. In little rockbound inlets, out of the way villages and a hundred difficult places to rise were supply stations and landing fields. If a motor went wrong there was no new one ready. Were a landing gear broken another was on hand. Behind all of this preparation, somewhere is a man with a lot of patience and brains.

It is because of these precautions that the Americans succeeded when the British and Italians fell out because of trouble.

College students can learn a lesson on the value of preparation from the world cruise.

Inspiring Meeting

LOCAL ORGANIZATION LED IN DISCUSSION OF THE LORD'S PRAYER BY MISS VERDA LONG AND MISS ANNA NORWAT TUESDAY EVENING

The Y. W. C. A. held a very interesting and profitable evening session, Tuesday evening, October 28th, when Anna Norwat and Verda Long of the meeting. The subject discussed was the Lord's Prayer. The meeting was so well attended that the room was full. The prayer was read and then the discussion followed. It was more than a repetition of what we have said before. When we reach to pray we should not let our minds wander. It is not a matter of saying words, but of thinking about what we are saying. It is more than a repetition of what we have said before. The meeting was closed by singing several songs and the benediction.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION OF YOUNG MEN HEARD VERY INSPIRING TALK BY PASTOR OF FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH OF SELINGROVE

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting in the Chapel Tuesday evening. After the devotional exercises Rev. W. C. Beck, pastor of the First Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Selingrove, and at the present time a member of the Seminary faculty, addressed the meeting.

Rev. Mr. Beck based his remarks on 2 Samuel 23:15-17. "Here is given a picture of the three mighty men who risked their lives in order to secure water from the well of Bethlehem to give to David. These men performed a heroic deed. It compares to the chivalry of the Middle Ages. If every deed that man performs would first be meditated upon many of them would never be performed. There was also friendship to their leader, they were drawn to David by influence. They had sympathy with his need which is also needed among men today. They were also loyal to David, being willing to gratify him. Sacrifice was manifested in this act. Courage is needed in every situation of life. Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend. The call today is for courage, service and sacrifice. The power of sentiment as applied to David applies to man today.

"The offering of the water to the Lord exalted the estimate of human life. Today we need to call this back to a right estimate of human life. It is not as high as it ought to be. As a King, David renounced his privilege. Here is a solemn recognition of God. An unreserved surrender of every gift to God who is worthy. Nothing is ever lost or wasted which is consecrated unto God as an offering. Whatever gifts and powers one may possess, they should be realized and the best use made of them in consecrating them to Jesus Christ."

The Rev. David Kemmerer, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, of Sunbury, and an alumnus of Susquehanna, will be the speaker at the meeting on Tuesday evening, October 28.

BOND AND KEY CLUB HELD WEINER ROAST

The Club, said a few words, and then called upon both Dr. Kern and Prof. Crozier for several remarks. After these two elder members of the party had caused those present to almost burst their sides with laughter, everyone participated in the chief event of the evening, that of roasting weiners and toasting marshmallows.

The remainder of the time was spent in the singing of songs and the telling of stories until Father Time, who, strange to say, had been working all this time, suggested the hour of departure.

The hike home was even more wonderful than that one out, and everyone who was present at this festivity is hoping to enjoy with Bond and Key some more of her delightful gatherings.

great celebration. Three cheer leaders were introduced, and they tended to add much color and vim to the cheering. The meeting adjourned with everybody joining in the singing of the Alma Mater.

Wise or Otherwise
Some men get an awful jolt when they fall in love. Things that are better left unsaid are often overheard. A man never does anything desperate if he feels regularly.

A woman's heartbreaks are as bad as a man's indifference.

The less said about the age of women and canned goods the better.

It's wonderful what good memories people develop after having done you a favor.

Freshmen Enjoyed Delightful Outing

CLASS OF 1928 ELUDED THE SOPHOMORES AND MADE A SUCCESSFUL GETAWAY, ENJOYING THEMSELVES IN A HIKE AND WEINER ROAST

The Freshmen are certainly deserving of being lauded for their successful getaway from the vigilant and watchful eyes of the Sophomores on Monday, October 13. It may be well to state just how the getaway was accomplished.

The Sophomore and Freshmen girls were playing hockey during the physical education period, being supervised by Miss Reeder. After a while Miss Reeder dismissed the Sophomore girls so that the "Fresh" girls might be free to make their getaway. This, they proceeded to do by grouping themselves in the lower soccer field, where they were joined by the Misses Woodruff and Reeder as chaperones. Thence, they proceeded along the railroad tracks until they reached a point above the new cottages. There, they crossed the fields to the highway, where they were joined by the boys, who had gone off the campus in groups of two and three prior to the girls' coming. What a merry and exciting party it was that hiked to the "X" farm near Pawling Station. Here an enormous camp fire was built, stories were told, and the "doings" of the evening began, which consisted of the roasting of weiners and the toasting of marshmallows on forked sticks.

At 10 o'clock the "pilgrims" began their "lonely" trudge to Seibert, Hasinger and Selingrove Halls respectively. "Gents were made—"Good night boys," all having agreed that they had enjoyed one of the most delightful times of their lives, and also the thrill of having made a successful getaway.

HUMOR

Two small boys were puzzling their brains to invent a new game. At last one of them said eagerly, "I know filly, let's see who can make the ugliest face, will ya?"
"Aw gwan," Was the reply, "look what a start you've got."

A Freshman was in great haste last Monday morning to reach Chapel Hill when he was accosted by an upper classman, "where are you going so early in the morning?"
"Oh I'm going to Glee Club rehearsal and I have to be there by 6:45."

Professor—"Young man, I wouldn't cheat that way if I were you."
Eager Student—"How would you cheat then?"

He reached the station just as the train pulled out in his shirt sleeves.

Rhodes—"What would be a good joke for The Susquehanna?"
Baubenspeck—"Junjata."

Roberts—"If the earth is round, why don't we fall off while it is revolving?"
Prof.—"Because the 'law of gravity' forbids it."

Roberts—"How did they stick on before the law was passed?"

He felt like a stone on a Mt. When he met her at the Ft. But oh what bliss
When he started to kiss
He didn't even try countin'.

Ebberts—"What's the difference between a mule and a turnip?"
Morning—"I don't know."
Ebberts—"You'd be a dunce of a guy to send for a peck of turnips."

Coach—"Who let that man thru there?"
Cassel—"I did, coach."
Coach—"Why did you?"
Cassel—"He told me to get the devil out of the way."

"Hello—Really?—A ten pounder?—When did it come? Just yesterday?—Is it fat?—Very well, send the ham right up with the rest of the groceries."

William Knifsey spent the week-end under the parental roof at Newport.

"Bill" Brubaker carried the news of the Susquehanna victory back to Millersburg on Saturday evening.

"Duss" Mitchell spent the week-end with the Third Floor Faculty.

Cassell and Stroup journeyed to Harrisburg with their parents after the game on Saturday.

Swisher and Ertle "Lizzied home Saturday night.

Tommy likes to ride in the Straight Eight so much that he went to Middleburg with Popeano over Sunday.

The Hanner brothers enjoyed a chicken dinner with relatives in Sunbury on Sunday.

Ebberts was visited by an old acquaintance from State over Saturday and Sunday.

Many alumni returned Saturday to see the "Little Crusaders" come thru with "Ye Old Pep."

Rode was called home suddenly on account of the death of a friend.

SEIBERT HALL

Miss Rebecca Hess has been a visitor at Seibert Hall.

Mrs. Edgar Hanks was a visitor on the campus on Saturday.

Mrs. Russell Auman spent Saturday on the campus.

Miss Nancy Long, who is attending school at Juniata, was a visitor here this week-end.

Miss Vera Graybill was also seen on the campus Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Goynne visited their daughter, Helen, on Saturday.

Mrs. William Blough has also been a visitor at Susquehanna this week-end.

Misses Mary Reigler, Anna Brosius and Mary Gontger spent the week-end at their homes.

Miss Lillian Bigelow was visited by her parents on Sunday.

Miss Margaret Keiser spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Shamokin.

"SUSQUEHANNA" WON FROM "BUCKNELL"

Coaldale High School, coached by Thomas P. Ramer, a former S. U. student and three sport athlete, defeated Tamaqua, a team of huskies playing the gridiron game under the tutelage of one Max Reed, last year's captain, and center at Bucknell for several years.

"Tom" and Max have met on the gridiron several times in seasons past, and needless to say "Tom" gleaned some satisfaction in "slipping one over" on his ancient rival.

Considering the fact that Coaldale is a town of six thousand people, and Tamaqua one of fifteen thousand, the odds should ordinarily have favored "Bucknell." However the Coaldale gridders, manifesting the results of a Susquehanna game, came out victorious, maintaining the old S. U. fighting spirit until Tamaqua yielded to a 3-0 defeat.

Incidentally Coach Ramer's squad has not been defeated this season, and a "battle royal" is sure to occur when his huskies meet the warriors from Pottsville, who are coached by none other than Chester Rogowicz, better known as "Toxie," who was a three sport man at Susquehanna four years.

"Tom" and "Rox" were team mates for several years, fighting loyally side by side for the glory of the Orange and Maroon.

NATURALIZED FRATS

With the decadence of classical learning, Greek-letter fraternities at Harvard are fast going out of fashion. Last year the Falcon Club changed its name from Lambda Chi Alpha to its present name. Alpha Phi Sigma is following suit, and has given itself a thoroughly English name, the Trident Club. In changing its name, the Trident Club is making no attempt to change its status.

A census of automobiles on the campus of the University of Minnesota was made by the Minnesota Daily. Of the 637 machines on the campus 302 were Fords.

ALUMNI

Mary App, '22, is instructing English in Millersburg High. This is her second consecutive year in that position.

Alice App, '22, is an assistant principal in the Williamsburg High School. She occupies a chair in the French Department.

George Bortoff, '22, is an assistant principal in the Freeburg High School. Whalen Fenstermacher, '22, is an instructor in the Boys' High School in Reading.

Verda Gearhart, '22, is teaching Latin in Johnston High.

Winex Graybill, '22, has accepted his last year's position in Port Allegheny High. Winex begins a second year in coaching athletics in which he won fame last year. He also teaches the classes in the Science group.

H. C. Hendricks, '22, is assistant principal in the Selinsgrove High School. He is also head of the commercial department.

Ralph Wetzel, '23, has become a member of the hardware company which was formerly Herman and Sealer, in the local community.

Adam Bohner, '21, is a student in the Franklin and Marshall Seminary, where he is preparing for the Reformed ministry.

Mildred Brungard, ex-'23, is teaching grade work in the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home near Sunbury.

Lloyd Bohner, '22, is principal of the High School work in the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home near Sunbury.

Ernest Walker, '21, has finished his course at Dickinson Law School. At present he is engaged in pedagogical work in his home town.

Sara Hassinger, ex-'26, is teaching in the grades at Beaverdale.

David Shuman, '24, is teaching in the High School at Honeybrook, near Lancaster.

Some of the alumni present at the Juniata-Susquehanna grid contest were Rev. Walter Brown, Rev. Burleigh Peters, Rev. and Mrs. Russell Auman, Mrs. Edgar Hanks, Margaret Heldt, and Raymond Klinedinst.

Miss Nancy Long, ex-'25, now a student at Juniata College, was in attendance at the defeat of the Juniata College eleven.

Miss Rebecca Hosse, ex-'26, now a student at Penn State, came back to root for the home team.

Rev. Clarence Nangle, a member of last year's graduating class of Susquehanna University, has received and accepted a call to the Lutheran pastorate of the Allegheny Synod, recently made vacant by the resignation of Rev. W. Selner, who served this field for many years.

The Clarion Mission in the beautiful town of Clarion, with its large State Normal School, has had a number of years to labor before real prosperity came to them. Less than two years ago they extended a call to the Rev. H. G. Stuempeff to become their pastor. He was just graduating from the Susquehanna School of Theology. He accepted the call and took up the work. During this time they have added more than fifty per cent to their membership, and they have erected on their lot a splendid parsonage fully equipped for the comfort of their pastor, and have added $200 to the salary for his needs.

The mission and the pastor are keeping in constant touch with the students and are caring for the spiritual needs of the Lutherans who attend the State Normal. The church has a splendid standing in the community, and the future looks brighter for Grace Church than at any time in her history. Pastor Stuempeff is very much beloved by his people and the community, and is a force for righteousness among the people.

THIEL HAS NEW RULING

Grades for all students are reported to the dean at the end of each semester. Students who are below passing in any subject at the time will be officially warned; and students who are below passing at mid-semester in more than one-fourth of the work for which they are registered, will be asked to withdraw from the college.

The Red and Black states that smoking in and around the college buildings has been prohibited by the W. and J. trustees.

SUSQUEHANNA TO PLAY P. M. C.

P. M. C.'s sensational record by journeying to Chester and winning by a 6-0 score from the home team. The Cadets will be out to avenge this defeat, and Susquehanna will endeavor to make it two victories in a row.

The "Little Crusaders," as the local team has been named by her followers, is one of the scrappiest teams that has ever donned the Orange and Maroon. Light in poundage, she makes up for this handicap by entering into every game with each man fighting every minute to uphold the honor of old S. U. During the past week, Rearick and Sleight, two promising candidates, were severely injured and lost to the team. Instead of being disheartened Susquehanna's representatives manifested enough power to smother her old rival, Juniata, under a 10-0 defeat. The loss of Stuempeff to the team comes as a severe blow, as his generalship was above reproach. But his team mates will endeavor to make up the handicap by having each man exert a little more effort.

Coach Wingard expresses himself as being well pleased with the work of his charges, and his confidence in them knows no bounds. He knows that he has the confidence of all his men, and the men in turn know that their coach is working thru them to establish a bigger and better Susquehanna thru athletics. All are determined that Susquehanna, the school which has taken the initiative among the smaller colleges, to have clean athletics, shall not be weakened. Coach Wingard deserves much commendation for the results which he has accomplished with the raw material which he found awaiting him at the beginning of the season. This material is being worked into a real machine that is fighting for the glory of the game and for the honor of the institution.

To the fierce onslaught of Coach Wingard's men. Shortly after the kick-off Susquehanna succeeded in pushing the ball to Juniata's 25 yard line, from which point Bolig dropped back and executed a pretty drop-kick from a difficult angle. Not satisfied with a three point margin, the Susquehanna gridders came back in the second quarter and literally swept their heavy opponents from their feet, scoring a touchdown when Gimme made a wonderful catch of a well thrown pass from Stuempeff. Thomas drop-kicked for the extra point, making a total of 10 points. This ended the scoring, but the remainder of the game found Susquehanna continually threatening Juniata's goal.

The game opened with Susquehanna kicking to Juniata. Juniata's ball on 30 yard line. On the first play Gimme broke thru and tossed the runner for a loss. No gain around right end. Juniata kicked and Susquehanna took the ball in her own territory. On first play Thomas picked up a few yards off right end. A Susquehanna player was caught holding and the result was 15 yard penalty. Stuempeff thru line three yards; Bolig eight yards around right end; Dodd ten yards at left end; incomplete pass and ball went to Juniata. Juniata forced to kick; Stuempeff off tackle six yards; Dodd off tackle for first down; Bolig one yard thru line; Groce three yards thru line; Dodd took ball for first down; Thomas five yards at left end; Bolig one yard thru line; Groce first down on pass from Stuempeff; Bolig no gain; Dodd five yards at right end; no gain on line play. Bolig dropped back to 30 yard line and kicked a pretty field goal, Susquehanna 3, Juniata 0. Susquehanna again kicked off and held Juniata for downs. Then a whirlwind offense followed and ended only when Gimme took a forward pass from Stuempeff and registered a touchdown. Thomas' drop-kick was successful, and the score stood 10-0, with Susquehanna leading. The remainder of the half saw the playing entirely in Juniata's territory.

Between halves Coach Wingard expressed himself as much pleased with the work of his men, and he told them that he wanted them to work their best, as Juniata would strive harder in the second half and would be hard to stop.

Bearing the words of the coach in mind the boys returned to the field and fought even harder than they had done in the first half. Juniata showed greatly improved form, but could make no headway. In the latter part of the game, Dalley, in their plunging fullback, made several short gains, but when it was necessary to hold, Susquehanna's forward line was impregnable.

To start the second half Susquehanna again kicked off and held Juniata for downs. The entire half was bitterly contested, with each team showing great form and fighting hard every minute. The Orange and Maroon backs gained more ground than their opponents, and very seldom was the time that they could be thrown without a gain. More spirited playing has never been seen on the local field, as the two teams were so eager to win that their spirit and enthusiasm carried them offside on several occasions, the referee stopped play and warned the contestants that unnecessary roughness would not be tolerated. Several near encounters bobbed up, but cool heads intervened and prevented violence. Near the close of the game Bolig attempted another field goal, but it went wide. Several passes were attempted by Juniata, but the game ended with Susquehanna's goal line uncrossed, and not seriously threatened.

The victory was a costly one for Susquehanna, as Stuempeff, the heady field general, was severely injured in the second quarter, and had to be carried from the field. This loss came as a severe blow, but between halves he spoke to his teammates and asked them to come thru victorious. Before the team went out for the second half each man gripped Stuempeff's hand and pledged his best. Then they went out and could not be stopped.

It is a difficult matter to pick out any particular individuals as the stars of the game, because every Susquehanna man was much in evidence. "Larry" Dodd possibly was the outstanding star of the game insofar as prior to this time, although a member of the varsity squad, he had never displayed more than ordinary ability on the field. Saturday's performance marked him as one of Susquehanna's outstanding backfield men and one of her most consistent ground gainers. With Groce at fullback, Bolig and Dodd, halves and Stuempeff calling the signals, Coach Wingard has a fast and hard fighting set of backs although they are exceedingly light.

Susquehanna's line proved itself another of Saturday's surprises. Their opening up of holes on offense and their breaking thru on defense was a remarkable exhibition of football. "Bob" Hartman and his running mate "Nick" Blough in the tackle positions played the best game of their entire college career, as did Barnes, another Senior, filling the one guard position. Weaver, playing his first year of college football, put up a real battle at the other guard position, while Thomas and Gimme proved their worth at the wing positions, getting down the field fast and tackling hard. Captain Gordon, proved himself a real leader at the pivot position, inspiring and urging his men on and all the while playing a wonderful game himself.

The Juniata team, although playing a good game, failed to have the fight manifested by their lighter opponents.

About The Campus

THE LOST ART

When we stop and survey this rapidly progressing civilization in which we are soon to be at least local leaders, we find that there is a penalty imposed upon us for our desire for spectacular attainment. That is, attainment or accomplishment as it is measured from the commercial view point. Just as rapidly as we become over-progressive in one activity, we lose ground in another. The terms efficiency and production have been deprived of their meaning by our use of them in trying to describe our frenzied haste in getting nowhere in particular. And all to what end? Is it true that we have lost the art of meditation? If this is true, how did it happen?

Meditation, as a faculty, is one of the priceless gifts of God. Still, as with many other such blessings, we fail to make use of it. Can we also fail to see that it is in these hours of silent contemplation that each of us sees his own soul in the reflector of unguarded thought or acute self-analysis? Just recently, we were shown how dreaming precedes building, how great projects are the product of the imagination of great minds. The closer application of this, however, is to the world of Portland cement and steel I-beams. In drawing a parallel to this thought it can be said that meditation precedes attainment is a much more precious and intangible field. It is the realm of the spirit. Bear in mind that this abstract soul which we are destined is certain to outlast the most pompous of man's material achievements, whether for better or for worse is for us to determine. The purpose of man on earth is not to glorify himself, but God. We can do this only by cultivating the best that is in us. That requires meditation.

Sober reflection insures a keen sense of true values. The lack of it renders one incapable of anything but a superficial conception. Its absence makes a man sordid and a woman little else than human bric-a-brac. Its presence causes a man to honor the inference in his title and a woman to be more than a blessing.

The fact that the development of this ability in ourselves is a practical thing, surely, cannot further escape our notice. It is true of us all that we live to die and die to live in the state which we chose. Our first duty is to ourselves, and we cannot see us as we are if we do not create the opportunity to meditate by once in a while side-stepping the mad rush of the rabble. It is not how much we get done, but how well we do it that gives satisfaction. Put first things in first place—spirit before secular achievement.

MYSELF

By Beckwith

I have to live with myself and so, I want to be fit for myself to know: I want to be able, as the days go by, Always to look myself straight in the eye:

I don't want to stand with the setting sun
And hate myself for the things I've done.

I don't want to keep on the closet shelf

A lot of secrets about myself.
And fool myself as I come and go
Into thinking nobody else will know
The kind of a man I really am;
I don't want to dress myself in sham.

I want to go with my head erect,
I want to deserve all men's respect;
And sure in the struggle with fame
—and self,

I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and —know

That I'm bluster and bluff and empty —show.

I never can hide myself from me,
I see what others can never see;
I know what others can never know:
I never can fool myself and so Whatever happens I want to be Self-respecting and conscience-free.

fares of the evening and while the merry-making was in progress, he was engaged in the spirit which had gripped his prodigies during the evening. As Mr. Wingard left the speakers' stand he was accorded an ovation that would do credit to any man in National affairs. The students wanted him to know that he had their support and they did so in a fitting manner.

The second speaker was Stewart Bannon, assistant coach, and his speech was well received also. Mr. Bannon rarely appears as a speaker, but on this occasion he did his bit towards making the evening the great success that it was.

The next speech was one which will ever ring in the ears and minds of those who were fortunate enough to hear it. We all knew that Prof. Grossman was a great physical director, and a complete success as a graduate manager, but we did not know that he possessed the rare gift of oratory. The speech which Prof. Grossman put across reached the heart of everyone and his efforts were not in vain. His listeners broke into his speech several times to rightly applaud statements which were remarkable in their conviction and truth. Mr. Grossman eulogized the men who are at present representing Susquehanna on the gridiron and said that they were truly entering into the spirit of Sacrifice, Service and Loyalty to which they desired to pledge themselves at the start of the present season. He complimented the men for their wonderful display of spirit and grit and predicted that these men were the ones about whom Susquehanna's future would be built. During his remarks he also received from the students a very definite expression as to their desire that in the future their team shall be christened the "Little Crusaders" in honor of their efforts to put Susquehanna in her rightful place. He also told the students of the splendid movement which the "Varsity "S" Club was about to launch. As the athletic director left the stand, he was accorded an ovation rivaling that accorded Coach Wingard.

The next man to be called forward was one of the Senior members of the 'varsity football squad—Thomas. He first spoke of the appreciation which the team members felt for the splendid cooperation accorded them by the student body. He next dwelt on how athletics had been revolutionized at Susquehanna during the past four years. An account of conditions existing three years ago was contrasted with the favorable conditions that exist today. He spent several minutes in telling the crowd just how important a part Prof. Grossman plays in keeping Susquehanna in an enviable position among her rivals. Mr. Thomas told how the name "Little Crusaders" was received by the members of the squad. As the meaning of "Crusader" came to them, they determined that the student body would have just reason for so highly honoring them. He closed his talk by announcing the high esteem in which Coach Wingard was held by all members of the squad. Mr. Wingard has won the confidence of his men and they will give their all to help him to aid Susquehanna.

The next speaker was a man who holds a place of prominence among students and graduates alike. Mr. Horton, our beloved Registrar, told just what the student body meant to him. He expressed his appreciation for the privilege of witnessing the greatest celebration on record. As Mr. Horton closed his short address the student body gave a tremendous ovation to prove to the registrar that his place in the hearts of the students is assured.

Immediately following this address, Dr. Aikens, president of the University, was called upon, and he responded nobly. He told the student body that he was well pleased at being present to see such a marvelous display of Susquehanna spirit. He stated that he had long been waiting for such a day to arrive, when the students would hold their college spirit foremost, and above anything else. He expressed himself as confident that a new era in Susquehanna's history had arrived, and henceforth we would all be one big unit, striving for a common cause. Dr. Aikens expressed himself as well pleased with the evening's proceedings and assured his listeners that the "Varsity "S" Club and the student body would have the hearty support of the faculty in all of their undertakings. As Dr. Aikens concluded his speech, the students voiced their appreciation of his splendid remarks. To them Dr. Aikens has become one of their number and ranks as a personal friend to each and every student.

Before the gathering came to a close, more singing and cheering was in evidence. The cheer leader asked every person to join in a cheer for "Ernie" Stuenkel, 'varsity quarterback, who was unable to be present on account of a severe injury sustained in Saturday's game. The cheer was so hearty that "Ernie" surely must have heard the echo at his home in Williamsport.

After another demonstration of pep, a rousing invitation was extended to have every person be present at the mass meeting Thursday evening, at which time the team will be given a rousing send-off prior to journeying to Chester to meet Pennsylvania Military College on Saturday.

Thus ended the celebration. The crowd wended its way homeward with thoughts of a ne'er to be forgotten evening still fresh in their minds. For several hours the embers of the bonfire continued to burn—for many years will the embers of the night, now but a memory, remain ablaze in the hearts of all who were privileged to witness it.

REGULATIONS AND CON- STITUTION GOVERNING ATHLETICS AT S. U.

The following regulations were adopted by the joint action of the Executive Committee of the University and the student body.

Article I

Physical Education and Athletic Activities shall be under the direction of the Professor of Physical Education, who as head of the Department of Physical Education shall be a member of the University faculty.

Article II

He as well as any paid assistants he may require shall be elected by the Executive Committee of the University in consultation with the Athletic Board.

Article III

All students of the University shall be required to pay an athletic fee of fifteen ($15) dollars which shall entitle them to admission to all home contests and also active membership in the Athletic Association.

Constitution of the Athletic Association of Susquehanna University

Article I Members

Section 1. All students as provided in the preceding regulations are Active Members of the Association, who alone possess voting privileges at the meetings of the Association.

Sec. 2. Graduates, ex-students and members of the Faculty of Susquehanna University are eligible to Associate Membership by paying the annual dues of six ($6) dollars which shall entitle them to a coupon book admitting them to all home contests.

Article II Meetings

The Association shall meet annually the first Thursday in May or at the call of the President or upon written request of five (5) active members. A majority of the Active Members shall constitute a quorum.

Article III Officers

The Officers of the Athletic Board, to be organized as hereafter provided, shall be the Officers of the Association.

Article IV Athletic Board

Section 1. Membership. There shall be an Athletic Board which shall consist of four (4) alumni members, one of whom shall be from the Theological Department; four (4) Faculty members, one of whom shall be the Professor of Physical Education; and four (4) undergraduates who shall be of at least Junior standing when they assume office.

Sec. 2. Election. The alumni members shall be elected by the Alumni Association; the Faculty members shall be elected by the Faculty and the four undergraduate members shall be elected by ballot by the Association at its annual meeting the first Thursday of May, due notice of which meeting shall be published in The Susquehanna of the issue preceding or posted on the Bulletin Board the Monday preceding the day of the election. The tellers shall consist of the Professor of Physical Education and two members of the Athletic Board and candidates for election, to be appointed by the President.

Each Active Member of the Association may vote for any four eligible students on the first ballot and on subsequent ballots for as many candidates as there are places to be filled.

A vote equal to a majority of the ballots cast shall be necessary for an election.

On any ballots that may be necessary after the first, twice as many candidates shall be eligible to be voted for as there are places remaining to be filled, these to be chosen from those highest on the list but not elected in the preceding ballot.

Sec. 3. Meetings. The Athletic Board shall meet annually for organization during the week of commencement, at the call of the retiring President, to serve until the next meeting. Other meetings may be called by the President at any time or at the request of three members. Five members shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 4. Officers. (a) The Officers of the Athletic Board shall be a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer.

(b) The President, Vice President and Secretary shall perform the usual duties pertaining to their respective offices, except that the President shall have published annually a revised and correct copy of the Constitution of the Association.

(c) The Treasurer shall receive and be custodian of all funds belonging to the Association, and shall disburse them under direction of the Athletic Board. He shall publish an annual report in some undergraduate publication, fully itemized, and showing the exact expenses of each sport activity. His accounts shall be audited annually by an expert designated by the Athletic Board. He shall see that donations for special uses are so expended. He shall confer with the Managers of each sport on all financial matters pertaining to that activity. Taking fifteen ($15) dollars as a basis, the dues of the Association shall be divided as follows: Football, $5.00; Soccer, $5.00; Field Hockey, $5.00; Basketball, $2.00; Baseball, $3.00; Track, $2.00; Tennis, $1.00; General Fund, $1.00.

(d) The Assistant Treasurer, to be elected by the Athletic Board in consultation with the Treasurer, shall assist the Treasurer by taking charge of the selling of the tickets at the home contests. He shall make a report of the number of tickets received, number sold, and the amount of money taken in, and shall submit the report and money to the Treasurer at the close of the contest.

Section 5. Power and Duties. The Athletic Board shall hear reports from the various sport activities and shall have in conjunction with the Executive Committee of the University, ultimate authority in all matters which may arise in connection with Athletics at Susquehanna University.

Article V Athletic Activities
This Association shall foster the following sport activities, namely:—

Football, Soccer, Field Hockey, Baseball, Track, Baseball and Tennis.

Each of these sports shall be administered by a Captain, a Manager, and two Assistant Managers together with the existing Coach, except that in Football and Baseball there shall also be four (4) Sub-Assistant Managers.

Article VI

Subordinate Officers

Section 1. (a) The Captain shall be elected by the men who have been awarded the Varsity S in the season of sport just closed.

(b) The Manager shall be elected from the Assistant Managers, as soon as possible after the close of the season of sport, by the Captain, Manager and Coach of said sport and the Treasurer and Professor of Physical Education. Assistant Managers in Football and Baseball shall be elected from the Sub-Assistant Managers of these sports in like manner.

(c) The Assistant Managers (except the Football and Baseball Assistants, who shall be elected as heretofore provided) shall be elected, after consultation with the Faculty, from the Sophomore Class, to serve during their Junior year, by the Active Members of the Association. The Sub-Assistant Football and Baseball Managers shall be elected in the same way to serve during their Sophomore year. The method of election to be that used in electing undergraduate members to the Athletic Board. Candidates desiring these offices to submit, in writing, their name to the Professor of Physical Education.

(d) The Cheer Leader shall be elected by the Active Members of the Association at the end of his Junior year to serve during his Senior year. Method of election to be same as that followed in the election of undergraduate members to the Athletic Board. He shall serve in all sports. He shall call out and be responsible for assistants and shall suggest to the Athletic Association at least four names from which his successor shall be elected. (To be Continued)

HENRY CAVENDISH

1731-1810
English chemist and physicist, of whom Biot said, "He was the richest of the learned and the most learned of the rich. His last great achievement was his famous experiment to determine the density of the earth."

He first made water from gases

Henry Cavendish, an eccentric millionaire recluse, who devoted his life to research, was the discoverer of the H and the O in H₂O. In fact he first told the Royal Society of the existence of hydrogen.

He found what water was by making it himself, and so became one of the first of the synthetic chemists.

Cavendish concluded that the atmosphere contained elements then unknown. His conclusion has been verified by the discovery of argon and other gases.

The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have found a use for argon in developing lamps hundreds of times brighter than the guttering candles which lighted Cavendish's laboratory.

In this age of electricity the General Electric Company has blazed the trail of electrical progress. You will find its monogram on the giant generators used by lighting companies; and even on the lamps and little motors that mean so much in the home. It is a symbol of useful service.

Gala Demonstration Marked Triumph of Team Over Juniata

COLLEGIANS STAGED SPECTACULAR PARADE THRUOUT VILLAGE AND CONCLUDED NIGHT OF FROLIC WITH FINE TRIBUTES TO "LITTLE CRUSADERS"

"The greatest celebration in the history of the institution."

"The real beginning of a greater Susquehanna."

"A celebration that makes a man feel glad that he is a part of Susquehanna."

"Did you ever see such an enthusiastic crowd?"

"The spirit here tonight surpasses anything that Selingsgrove has ever had the pleasure of witnessing."

Such remarks were not infrequently heard during and after the Mass Meeting held Monday night near the Athletic Field. Every man, woman and youth, who witnessed the program, witnessed a scene that is going to live forever in the annals of Susquehanna's history. For the past few years we have been approaching just such a time, and last night the opportunity presented itself. When the evening was over everyone left the huge bonfire, enthusiastic but solemn, because he had witnessed not only a celebration, but a ceremonial. The celebration was in honor of the brilliant football victory attained over the powerful Juniata eleven last Saturday. The ceremonial was in honor of Susquehanna's "Little Crusaders," who are showing the true spirit of Sacrifice, Service and Loyalty to Susquehanna.

The present team is a light aggregation, but each member has pledged himself to work his best in order that Susquehanna might make a stand for clean athletics and still maintain her place as a formidable foe for all rivals. Every man on the present squad is a bona-fide student and is playing football for the love of the game and not because he is under a professional obligation. At the start of the present season much gloom prevailed among some followers and students because the material was exceptionally light and no coach was on hand to assume the reins. At this time Mr. E. R. Wingard was drafted by his Alma Mater to take charge of the team.

For a time prospects were discouraging, but the faithful coach never lost hope. Each night he was on the field, advising the men just what to do, and showing how to do it. Each day Coach Wingard and Prof. Grossman got together and talked over plans as to how the real Susquehanna spirit might be instilled into the men. Gradually the men became imbued with this spirit and their work began to improve by leaps and bounds.

As the first couple games rolled around the followers of the team became more enthusiastic. The team had lost to Swarthmore after a heroic battle. They came from behind and defeated Bloomsburg's heavier team, after trailing at the end of the first half. They had much fight in the practice game with Sunbury P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. These games passed into history with the real test with Juniata looming ahead as a gigantic barrier. Juniata was coming to Selingsgrove with the best team in her history and she was going to add the Orange and Maroon team to her string of victims. Her team was strong and newspapermen would not concede to Susquehanna a fighting chance.

The student body assembled at a mass meeting in the Alumni Gymnasium on Friday evening and staged an enthusiastic demonstration to show the team that it was going to be well supported. Among the speakers were Coach Wingard and Captain Gordon. Realizing the odds against which Susquehanna would be battling against, neither coach nor captain would promise victory, but they did promise that the student body was going to be proud of their team on Saturday night. Coach Wingard referred to his boys as the "Little Crusaders," because they were going into the morrow's fray to sacrifice much in order that Susquehanna's principle might be upheld. The coach expressed himself as being proud of his men, and stated that not one of them was unwilling to sacrifice his all to serve Susquehanna. The meeting closed with the singing of the Alma Mater, written by Prof. Sheldon.

History Made on Saturday
What Susquehanna's "Crusaders" did to Juniata is now a matter of history, but the event will never be forgotten. Following the game, it was requested that no celebration be staged Saturday evening, but that every one should prepare for the greatest jubilee in Susquehanna's history on Monday evening.

Monday morning Cheer Leader Klick announced elaborate plans for the evening's celebration. A large parade was to be staged thruout the streets of Selingsgrove, and later everyone was to assemble around a huge bonfire and join in some hearty cheering and singing and listen to some real Susquehanna speeches. Each class was asked to take an active part in preparing stunts, signs, etc. for the big night.

Following the announcements by the cheer leader, Dr. Aikens informed the students that the faculty was extremely interested and that they would cooperate with the students by granting them a special half holiday in order that more time could be devoted in completing arrangements for the celebration. For this courtesy the students joined in an enthusiastic A-N-N-A for Dr. Aikens and the members of the faculty.

Every Student Busy
The afternoon found every student busy doing his share towards making the evening one long to be remembered. The Freshmen and Sophomores busied themselves piling up wood for the huge bonfire, while members of all the classes could be seen making arrangements to have their class stand out prominently in the parade. The wood was secured thru the co-operation of Mr. Horton, our beloved Registrar. The Varsity "S" Club also was busy planning their "Surprise" to be presented at the celebration. Nor were their plans in vain, for the response manifested by every person in the assemblage was ample proof that the Varsity "S" Club was justified in launching a movement that would cause every student, alumnus and the townspeople to know that Susquehanna had awakened to her real needs and was actively engaged in meeting them.

At the afternoon football practice Coach Wingard told his men that he was proud of them and that they would forever be known as the "Little Crusaders," because they had fought so valiantly for a worthy and noble cause and had come thru even better than most people had dared hope. He asked the men to participate in the evening's festivities but to return on the morrow ready to resume practice for the hard battles in the future.

Cheer Leader Klick Organizes Splendid Parade
At 7 o'clock on Monday evening everybody assembled for the events which were to mark an epoch in the history of Susquehanna. Shortly after this hour, the parade began to move towards the town and the festivities had begun.

Leading the procession were Susquehanna's five cheer leaders, the best staff that has ever stood before a Susquehanna student body. Cheer Leader Klick was on the job as chief marshal and his assistant cheer leaders responded nobly to every appeal. Directly behind the cheer leaders came the revered members of the faculty in machines. Following closely behind their educational guides came the members of the team, also in machines. After the long procession of machines came the band, organized especially for the occasion by "Pat" Clemens, one of Susquehanna's student boosters. Following the band came the respective classes: Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshmen, in the order named.

Each class represented some phase of the game with Juniata. The Senior class showed how Juniata looked "Before and After." The Juniors had prepared a neat float and carried upon it their class football heroes. Captain Gordon was seated in an easy chair in the middle of the float, surrounded by the other members of his class.

The Sophomores represented various phases of the game and attracted much attention, while the Freshmen co-eds were very original in demonstrating just how Susquehanna's football heroes should be "treated."

As the parade moved down Market street, throngs of the townsfolk crowded the sidewalks, first to wonder and then to join in paying homage to a team and University that has proven itself a credit to Selingsgrove. Never did the townspeople take an interest in a celebration such as they manifested on Monday evening. The parade was halted at the fountain and traffic on Market street was blocked entirely for some time. Mere traffic on the Susquehanna Trail was not permitted to interfere with this gigantic movement which had come to mean so much.

During the halt the cheer leaders called for cheers and songs and the enthusiastic followers responded nobly. The band played and stirred everyone to a high pitch and thus the return journey to the campus was started. The parade had produced the desired effect and throngs of people accompanied the long student procession to the scene of the fire.

As the crowd came near the torch was applied and a tremendous blaze soon was piercing skyward. The blaze meant more to the onlookers than merely a flame. It symbolized Susquehanna blazing a trail of glory for herself upon the honor roll of colleges who foster clean athletics, and who place their college spirit higher than the mere winning of a game.

Before any speeches were called for, each class collected into groups and tried to outdo each other in exhibiting a display of Susquehanna spirit. As these class stunts were concluded, everyone joined hands and formed a monstrous circle around the blazing fire. The members of this circle enjoyed themselves by dancing and merry-making. To any person who had the pleasure of witnessing the wonderful spirit that was manifested, the occasion will never be forgotten. All minor spirits that have oft prevented such a display, were forgotten and Susquehanna was one great big unit. Each person desired to show every other person that he was for Susquehanna, first, last, and always. Truly, it was such a night as we had all dreamed of, but had never before realized.

Head Cheer Leader Klick proved himself a real leader. None other could have taken his place in "putting over" such an evening, and after the dances were concluded, he called every person towards the speakers stand, which in this instance proved to be a portion of the entrance to Haslinger Hall. No other speakers stand could have been more appropriate for the occasion. The time for speeches had come and every listener was hungering to learn who the speakers would be and hear what they would have to say.

The first speaker of the evening was our coach, Mr. Wingard, who has endeared himself to every student on the campus. Coach Wingard told how proud he was of his "Little Crusaders" and expressed his confidence in them to accomplish other great things at Susquehanna. He thanked the student body for their hearty cooperation and gave them all credit for making possible a greater Susquehanna spirit. The coach was very active in the affair.

Varsity "S" Club Launches Drive For $1000 Improvements

FUNDS WILL BE EXPENDED FOR ERECTION OF ENTRANCE TO ATHLETIC FIELD. INTENSIVE EFFORT SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30

Coming as a grand climax to what has been conceded the finest and greatest celebration ever staged on Susquehanna's campus, when last night Susquehanna students and townsfolk turned out en masse to honor her "Little Crusaders" and their coach—Mr. Wingard, for their phenomenal victory over Juniata last Saturday, came the announcement that the Varsity "S" Club of the University planned to launch a drive for $1,000 in order to make possible the erection of a suitable entrance to the new Athletic Field.

Plans have already been definitely formulated for the drive, which will be "put over" on Thursday, October 30th. Prof. Grossman was selected by the "S" Club as campaign director and Roger Blough, a Senior and veteran tackle on Susquehanna's eleven, to act as campaign treasurer.

Class teams, under their team leaders, have been organized and the final details of the campaign have been thoroughly worked out. Everything is set for this, the greatest student drive ever planned for Susquehanna.

Work on the new entrance has already started and teams are busily engaged doing the necessary grading. Plans for the entrance have been selected and approved by the "S" Club and the orders for the necessary materials placed.

When completed the entrance will consist of two beautiful brown-stone pillars with attractive iron gates. The gateway to be flanked with an iron fence harmonizing with the entrance itself, while leading to the entrance will be an attractive approach bordered with shrubbery.

Upon the brown-stone pillars will be engraved the following:

Right hand pillar—Top—"May the Best Man Win." Below—"Dedicated to the Little Crusaders."

Engineers are now busily engaged in drawing up the final plans and making the necessary blue prints of the entrance in order that the work incident to the making of the pillars and iron work can be rushed.

Present plans call for the completion and dedication of the entrance on November 22nd, said dedication to be one of the features of the annual Alumni Home Coming Day celebration.

Campaign Flashes

1—Altho the "Stock Certificates" call for payment on or before November 22nd, partial payment of 50% can be made on or before said date with the balance due on or before March 1.

2—Pay no money to any person unless you receive in exchange the official "Stock Certificate" which is your receipt.

3—An itemized statement covering all receipts during the Drive together with the expenditures will be published and placed in the hands of every subscriber.

4—Remember the date, Thursday, October 30th. Alumni! failing to receive this announcement in time to "subscribe" on the above date can send their subscription to the treasurer, Roger Blough.

5—The progress of the Drive will be announced at Chapel on Thursday morning, at 12 o'clock noon, with the final announcement at the mass meeting Thursday evening.

Susquehanna Gave Battle to P. M. C.

LITTLE CRUSADERS FAILED TO KEEP THEIR SLATE CLEAN AGAINST PENNSYLVANIA MILITARY COLLEGE BEING OVERWHELMED BY A 31-3 DEFEAT

The Little Crusaders failed in their attempt to keep their slate clean against Pennsylvania Military College on Saturday, when they were overwhelmed by a 31-3 score.

This victory is the first that the Cadets have ever earned from Susquehanna, but it comes as a reward for the smashing game, which they played. The Susquehanna gridlers were playing far below their standard, and it was very seldom that they exhibited flashes of their true form. The wearers of the Orange and Maroon seemed tired after their long journey and did not show the fight and pep, which has become an important part of their daily work. Altho the Cadets held the upper hand during the major part of the game, the Susquehanna men were not powerless. On several occasions S. U. took the ball and marched

SUSQUEHANNA BOYS PLAYED DICKINSON AT WILLIAMSPORT, THE LATTER EXPECTING AN EASY VICTORY, BUT FOUND IT HARD TO CAPTURE 19 POINTS

Fresh from a victory over the strong Cornell Freshman team, the Dickinson Seminary football squad awaited the coming of the Susquehanna Junior Varsity last Saturday. Dickinson supposed the Junior Varsity to be woefully weak, and expected to run up one hundred points without trouble. But they had not considered the fighting quality of Coach Bannon's charges, and before the game was long under way they realized that they were in for a strenuous afternoon's work.

With the P. M. C. game a matter of history all eyes are being turned toward the game at Ithaca, N. Y., where Cornell will be met in the annual engagement. It will be remembered that last year Eddie Pfann and his teammates smothered the local representatives under an avalanche of touchdowns. But Cornell last year boasted of the best team in collegiate circles, and ran up large scores against such teams as Colgate and Dartmouth, so that Susquehanna's showing was anticipated on Page 4

DR. MACLAUGHLIN TO ACT AS TOASTMASTER

The committee on arrangements for the annual Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Banquet, to be held in First Lutheran Church, Grant street, Pittsburgh, on Friday, November 21, are elated over having secured Dr. C. P. MacLaughlin as toastmaster for the occasion. As a popular student, active in student affairs, and as an interested alumnus, Dr. MacLaughlin, class of 1898, has an intimate knowledge of Susquehanna events of the last thirty years. His interest and his popularity as a dinner speaker thru the Pittsburgh district assure those attending the banquet an enjoyable evening.

Entrance Drive Went Over Top

PEP MEETING ON THURSDAY EVENING WAS SCENE OF ENTHUSIASTIC CELEBRATION CONSISTING OF SENDOFF FOR TEAM AND CULMINATION OF DRIVE

At the pep meeting held on Thursday evening in Chapel Hall an enthusiastic celebration took place. The meeting was held for a two-fold purpose: First, to give to the football squad a rousing sendoff before they went to Chester, where the P. M. C. gridlers were to be met, and the second purpose was to note the culmination of the big Entrance Drive being fostered by the Varsity "S" Club.

A large crowd was present, but many, who otherwise might have been there, were missing on account of other important activities. Despite the lack in numbers the enthusiasm exhibited was above the high standard of the present year. Everybody was in good spirits, due to the recent victory over Juniata, and the still more recent pep meeting of last Monday night. Klick's fine staff of cheer leaders were all present and led in a great manifestation of cheering. Shortly after the beginning of the

GIRLS OF SORORITY HELD A HALLOWE'EN PARTY WHICH WAS ONE OF THE MOST ENJOYABLE EVENTS OF SEASON. SEVENTY-FIVE GUESTS PRESENT

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the Halloween party held in the gymnasium by Kappa Delta Phi Sorority on Thursday evening, Oct. 30. About seventy-five guests attended this event, eagerly anticipating a delightful evening with the mystic spirits which are supposed to be abroad when supernatural events take place. These delightful expectations were entirely fulfilled immediately upon entrance to the Gymnasium.

What a transformation! What a scene for a party amid such a mysterious atmosphere which prevailed in this weird and striking place, preparing the guests for unusual entertainment. The appropriate decorations, which were effectively carried out in Halloween colors were indeed a credit to the wealth of superstitions and traditions upon which this celebration is based. Witches, black cats, bats, owls, bogies and jolly faced pumpkins, all were there, contributing to the spirit of the fun. A very delightful program was rendered, while in a distant corner, peering anxiously from behind an immense lot of cornstalks, an amusing scarecrow looked on in silence. Even the moon had come out for the occasion to smile indulgently at the gruesome old witch, who, upon her broomstick, was doing her best to reach the sky so that she might look down upon the entire scene. From another corner a num-

SUSQUEHANNA ALUMNUS UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Mary Elizabeth Holderman, daughter of Mrs. John L. Holderman, of Kingston, Ohio, and Rev. J. Paul Harman, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church, of Braddock, Pa., who graduated from Susquehanna in '16 and '21, were united in marriage on Wednesday, October 23, at Kingston, Ohio, by the father of the bridegroom, the Rev. H. E. Harman, of Pittsburgh.

The happy couple will spend several days motoring along the Lakes and the St. Lawrence, after which time they will be at home at 504 Fourth street, Braddock, Pa.

The Susquehanna wishes to extend to them best wishes for happiness.

Glee Club Working For Coming Season

MEN'S GLEE CLUB OF THE UNIVERSITY IS WORKING WITH UNTIRING EFFORTS UNDER DIRECTION OF PROF. SHELDON TO PREPARE A FINE PROGRAM

The University Men's Glee Club, under the untiring efforts of Prof. Sheldon, as director, is attaining remarkable results in preparing for the coming season. A very excellent program has been outlined by Prof. Sheldon, and if properly prepared on the part of the club, will be the best ever given.

Rehearsals are held regularly every Monday and Tuesday evening in Chapel Hall, and thus far very few absences have been recorded. Every man in the club realizes that there are only twelve more rehearsals in which to prepare the repertoire and unless there is 100% cooperation this

SOPHOMORE GERMAN CLASS AND FRIENDS MOTORED TO DANVILLE AND VIEWED WORK OF GREAT ARTISTS IN CATHOLIC CHURCH AND CONVENT

The Sophomore German class and friends, with Dr. Kern as chaperon, motored to Danville. Here they visited the Catholic Church and convent, where they noted the architecture and paintings of great artists. The students that were along on this trip have become interested in the study of art and wish to continue in this study. For this purpose an Art Club is being formed under the capable direction of Dr. Kern. The aim of the Club is to have one lecture and trip each month. Many interesting and educational trips are being planned.

Y. W. Recognition Service Impressive

SERVICE VERY IMPRESSIVELY PERFORMED BY PRESIDENT, VERDA LONG, MARGARET MORNING SANG, THIRTY-FIVE GIRLS JOINED ORGANIZATION

The recognition service of the Y. W. C. A. was very impressively performed by the president, Verda Long. Candles were distributed to all the members and the new girls, after which the members, with lighted candles formed a semi-circle around the new girls. The president read several passages of Scripture, and told of the purposes of the Y. W. C. A. The new girls were recognized by lighting their candles at the Great Candle. All the girls remained standing while Margaret Morning sang "Halleluia," by Frederick Hummel. In closing they sang "Follow the Glean," as they marched one by one from the room.

Thirty-five girls joined the organization, and from all indications a successful year seems to be in store for the Y. W. C. A.

SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY WELL REPRESENTED AT CONVENTION OF U. L. C. OF A.

Friday morning in Chapel, President Aikens read several greetings sent to Susquehanna from various members of the faculty who were attending the Convention of the United Lutheran Church of America. The greetings stated that there were many Susquehanna Alumni in attendance at the Convention, there being sixty-seven together at a Susquehanna luncheon. Everyone was enjoying himself to the utmost at the greatest convention ever known.

Reorganization of Sr. Debating Club

LITERARY ORGANIZATION BEGAN WORK UNDER DIRECTION OF DR. WOODRUFF. NEW OFFICERS ELECTED. REV. BECK TO COACH DEBATING TEAMS

Last Thursday evening saw the reorganization of the Senior Debating Club under the very able direction of Dr. Woodruff. Harland Fague was elected president; Guy Lubold, vice president; Lucy Herr, secretary, and Morgan Gwyn, manager of debate.

On account of several other activities being held on the same evening, not such a large number of students were in attendance, but those who were present manifested an intense interest and mentioned others who, altho not being able to be present at the time of organization, intended joining at a later date.

Dr. Woodruff gave a few points on the matter of debate, and then told of securing the services of Rev. Beck of the First Lutheran Church as coach of debate. In the person of Rev. Beck the Debating Club will have a fine coach, and it is hoped that with his assistance several teams may be formed with the purpose of intercollegiate debating in view.

Rev. Kemmerer Gave Talk To Young Men

Y. M. C. A. WAS ADDRESSED ON TUESDAY EVENING BY REV. DAVID KEMMERER OF TRINITY LUTHERAN OF SUNBURY. PROF. GROSSMAN THIS EVENING

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening in the Chapel. The devotional exercises were conducted by the president, Ralph Gramley, after which the Rev. David Kemmerer, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, of Sunbury, gave a very interesting address.

Rev. Mr. Kemmerer said in part: "In St. John 11:42 one reads in the account of Jesus at the raising of Lazarus that he spoke, 'And I knew that thou hearest me always; but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.' It was not for his own glory that Jesus Christ came into the world but for others. Everyone's concern should be for the welfare of others. To be a better keeper for his brother. To be more fit for life and make it a better place to live in. Christ came for the redemption of man. To have in mind the other fellow should be the motto. Pattern after the Nazarene which is the surest and the best way to aid men to imitate what he said. Take for example the great Voltaire, that man of renown, of power and of influence. What did he do? His dying breath was no more than of an infidel. Charles the Ninth a man who soared high under the providence of God, said at his death, 'I am taking a leap into the night.' Prepare for life's work and ever have in mind others. If concern is to be for the welfare of others

MANY FRIENDS HEARD OF PRETTY WEDDING

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Pilgrim Holiness Church, near Freeburg, on Saturday evening, when Miss Marguerite Reichenbach, of Sunbury, became the bride of William S. Bickhart, of Port Trevorton.

The Rev. E. R. Clough performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by relatives and a few friends.

Miss Reichenbach was a member of the graduating class of 1924, of Susquehanna University. Mr. Bickhart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter S. Bickhart, of Port Trevorton.

Their many friends extend congratulations.

College Presidents Held Fall Meeting

DR. AIKENS ATTENDED MEETING OF THE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE PRESIDENTS' ASSOCIATION, WHICH WAS HELD IN CONWELL HALL, OF TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

On Thursday, October 30 President Aikens attended the Fall Meeting of the Pennsylvania College Presidents' Association, which was held in Conwell Hall of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

Matters pertaining to college government were considered, but the problem of organic relation with the Pennsylvania State Educational Association occupied most of the business session of the Association. The perplexing question of proper articulation between the colleges of the State and the State Educational Association has become very important. A committee was appointed to enter into conference with the Pennsylvania Department of Education, and it is earnestly desired that relations may be established which may prove mutually beneficial.

ADDRESSED STUDENTS

South America is the coming part of the world. There are great resources in South America, perhaps not any greater than those in the United States, but they are becoming exhausted, while those of South America are just being opened up. Destinies are great, because the countries are great.

Everyone seems concerned with who should come into the United States, but the people can go to South America because there the countries are not densely populated. Think of the opportunities for the future, the world is going to go to South America. The United States put on four big boats for South America because the future of great industries lies in that continent.

The students of South America look very much like the students of the United States. The basis for their educational life is Spanish. The women are interested not only in house-keeping but also in social affairs. She is interested in movies and tennis. The men are especially interested in football. There are many women who are lawyers, pharmacists, dentists and doctors. They have entered the professions and have made good.

Santiago, Chile, is the big Y. W. C. A. center in South America. It is here that Jesus Christ is doing something for the students. There is no other organization more respected. Some thing for the girls of Christian countries to think about is that there is only one student secretary for young women on that continent.

meeting Mr. Blough, treasurer of the drive committee, was called upon to give a report on the progress of the drive. As he arose all were silent, anticipating and hoping for the best of tidings. When Mr. Blough announced that the goal had been passed, the spirits of his listeners knew no bounds and a loud demonstration took place. Further reports showed the Senior Class to be the leader in the raising of funds, but the Freshman Class pushed their elder brothers to the limit before conceding to defeat. The other teams finished in the following order: Sophomores, Theologians and Juniors. The report is not yet complete, as subscriptions are still coming in.

The drive reports were followed by a few spirited talks on the football outlook. Many remarks were made to stir the men to greater deeds, and to instill into them a degree of fight that is hard to overcome. Each speaker was heartily applauded and cheered by the student body. The meeting was brought to a close when every person arose to his feet and joined in the singing of the Alma Mater.

On the offense Ebberths and West showed to great advantage.

Steinmetz

The spirit of Dr. Steinmetz kept his frail body alive. It clothed him with surpassing power; he tamed the lightning and discharged the first artificial thunderbolt.

Great honors came to him, yet he will be remembered not for what he received, but for what he gave. Humanity will share forever in the profit of his research. This is the reward of the scientist, this is enduring glory.

Emerson tells how the mass of men worry themselves into madnesses graves, while now and then a great, unselfish soul forgets himself into immortality. One of the most inspiring influences in the life of a modern corporation is the selfless work of the scientists in the laboratories, which it provides for their research.

SUSQUEHANNA GAVE BATTLE TO P. M. C.

straight down the field, only to lose it as a result of a fumble or an intercepted pass. Several times when P. M. C. threatened to score the Crusaders refused to yield and took the ball on downs. Much credit must be given to St. Paul's warriors for the manner in which they executed their many trick plays. They completely fooled the S. U. representatives on two occasions and then dashed forty yards for a score.

The game opened with P. M. C. kicking off to S. U. Susquehanna's ball on the twenty yard line. After two plays Bolig punted to midfield. At this early stage the Cadets showed great power and swept down the field to their first touchdown of the afternoon. Instead of being disheartened Susquehanna came back with a rush. Susquehanna kicked to P. M. C. and held them until they were forced to punt. After reeling off several first downs on pretty runs by Dodd, Bolig and Groce the locals came to a stop on P. M. C.'s fifteen yard line. At this juncture Bolig dropped back and kicked a beautiful field goal from a difficult angle. The remainder of the first half was spent in red hot playing, a break giving another touchdown to the home team. Their try for the goal was blocked.

The second half opened with Susquehanna kicking to the Cadets' five yard line. After there had been an even exchange of punts, the locals became momentarily disheartened when one of their backs dropped a punt while standing on his own fifteen yard line. This was a sad blow to Susquehanna's hopes and really led to the two following touchdowns scored by P. M. C. The final touchdown was scored on a neat fake play near the line of scrimmage. The attempts for the extra points were prevented by the charging linemen.

Magner, husky fullback of the Cadets, was the star of the game, as he reeled off several substantial gains. For Susquehanna several men showed up well, but no individual was up to par, unless it was "Tiny" Nipple, who played a whirlwind game at guard, when he was put in during the second half. "Tiny" repeatedly stopped the plunges of P. M. C. and forced them to resort to other methods of attack. Dodd and Bolig showed up well in the offense, until both were forced to leave the game on account of injuries.

CRUSADERS TO MEET CORNELL

claimed creditable. This year Cornell is minus a host of her stars and as a result has been beaten by both Williams and Rutgers. In her game last Saturday against Columbia Gil Doble's proteges showed a strong comeback and easily won by a 14-0 margin.

Coach Wingard's charges have been improving steadily thruout the season and can be counted upon to put forth a real struggle against their more experienced opponents. The mistakes that cropped out in the P. M. C. game will be remedied and greatly improved all around playing will be noticeable. Several Susquehanna stars may be unable to break into this important game, but their substitutes will be men of experience, who will prove worthy understudies. "Ernie" Stuempfle, heady quarterback, is sadly missed, but will be in shape for the Lebanon Valley fray. Sleight is rapidly rounding into shape and is again covorting about in uniform. Dodd and Bolig were both forced to retire in the P. M. C. clash, but their injuries are not serious enough to keep them out of this week's workouts. Cassel's injury was painful, but he is ready to resume his position at tackle.

Before the close of the season the Crusaders expect to have several more victories to their credit.

Susquehanna Lost To Cornell Eleven

CRUSADERS OVERWHELMED BY BIG RED TEAM IN GAME PLAYED ON SATURDAY AT ITHACA BY THE SCORE OF 91-0. PLUCKY STRUGGLE PUT UP BY S. U.

The annual game with Cornell resulted in an overwhelming triumph for the big Red Team coached by Gil Doble. Thruout the game his charges continued their fierce onslaught toward the Susquehanna goal line and before the close of the game had amassed an even greater total of points than was theirs last year when the mighty Penn and his cohorts performed for the big Red machine. It was Susquehanna's misfortune to do battle with Doble's warriors just as they were recovering from an early season slump.

Many followers of the Susquehanna gridders journeyed to Ithaca to witness the game, and they were rewarded in the plucky struggle which the Susquehanna boys put up in the face of overwhelming odds. The Orange

Rev. E. Bonsell Talked in Chapel

SECRETARY OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT OF THE STATE SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION OF PENNSYLVANIA ENUMERATED FOUR IDEALS IN LIFE

A very inspiring and helpful talk was given to students of Susquehanna University at Chapel exercises on Friday, Nov. 7, 1924 by Rev. Edward Bonsell, who is secretary of the Young People's Department of the State Sabbath School Association of Pennsylvania. Rev. Bonsell has had charge of many summer camps thruout the State for several past summers and is well qualified to speak to students on ideals which they should strive to attain in college so that they will be better prepared for life's battles when they go out into the world of hard knocks.

Rev. Bonsell enumerated four ideals. The first of which was the necessity of living a real definite devotional life. Much is being said today in regard to the Fundamentalists and the Modernists. Rev. Bonsell claims that neither of them have any theological importance. If the Bible is to be read with the idea of getting the most good from it, these two factors will not enter in.

The second ideal which he discussed was "Physical Fitness." Every student should accept the challenge to become physically fit. Colleges of today should compel every student to play games because there is some

Subscriptions For Entrance Soaring

ENTRANCE DRIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE STILL COMING IN. TOTAL IS NOW $1,082.50. ENTRANCE TO BE DEDICATED NOVEMBER 22 TO LITTLE CRUSADERS

Latest reports from the Campaign Treasurer, Roger Blough, revealed the fact that subscriptions to date, for the new Entrance to the Athletic Field totaled $1,082.50. In addition the treasurer has been advised of still other subscriptions that will be received by him during the coming week. Individuals desiring to contribute to this undertaking should send their checks to the Treasurer.

Work towards the completion of the Entrance has been progressing nicely. The necessary grading has been done and the concrete foundations for the pillars finished.

The entrance will consist of brownstone pillars, the contract for same has been placed with the Hummels-town Brown Stone Company. Each pillar will have a total weight of over two tons. The Gateway will consist of a twelve foot double iron gate, while connecting the pillars with the Alumni Gymnasium and Hasinger Hall will be erected an attractive iron fence. The contract for the gate and fencing has been placed with the Enterprise Iron Works of Indianapolis.

Freshmen Presented Fine Trophy Awards

CLASS OF 1928, THE DONOR OF TWO VERY FINE TROPHIES TO BE AWARDED TO WINNERS OF THE GIRLS' AND BOYS' INTER-CLASS SOCCER SERIES

Wednesday morning those students who attended Chapel saw the presentation, by the Freshman class, of two of the finest trophy awards which are owned by Susquehanna University. Winifred Fuge, in behalf of the class of 1928, made the presentation speech. The response was given by Theodore Elberts, secretary of the Athletic Board.

The trophies are for Interclass Soccer, one being for the winner of the boys' series and the other being for the winner of the girls' series. This is a new sport at Susquehanna. Although the girls and boys have been playing soccer for several years there have never been any class teams organized. Under the direction of Miss Reeder the girls expect to have a very peppy team, and under Prof. Grossman the boys will be out to win. Much zeal and enthusiasm will be added to the sport by this new incentive which has been made possible by the members of the Freshman class.

Preliminary Plans Made by Committee

SUSQUEHANNA'S HOME COMING TAKING ON DEFINITE SHAPE. INDICATIONS POINT THAT THE 1924 EVENT WILL ECLIPSE FORMER CELEBRATIONS

Plans for Susquehanna's annual Fall Home Coming are gradually taking on definite shape with indications that the 1924 event will eclipse all former events of this nature.

Starting with "Susquehanna Night" on Friday evening, at which time a general meeting of students and alumni will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium, the week-end of November 22nd promises to be one succession of interesting events.

Debaters Met For Definite Purpose

SENIOR DEBATING CLUB IN SECOND MEETING OF YEAR THURSDAY EVENING. NO DEFINITE PROGRAM WAS GIVEN, BUT CERTAIN PURPOSES SET FORTH

Thursday evening the Senior Debating Club held its second meeting in the lecture room of the Science Hall. No regular program was followed out, but several members gave remarks and suggestions as to how to become a working organization.

The president of the club, Harland Fague, opened the meeting and told of the work of the club and what it expected to do this year. William Sadtler, who was formerly a member of the Varsity Debating team at Thiel, explained the workings of the debating team at the western college. Dr. Woodruff gave some very timely suggestions instilling into those present a greater realization of the need of literary activities in the school. David Davis expressed his desire of helping the club all he is able in whatever capacity possible. Morgan Gwyn, manager of debate, read a letter which he had received from Juniata College which stated that they desired to meet Susquehanna in debate. No definite action was taken on the letter, but it is the desire of the club that an effective organization be brought

Prof. Grossman Gave Fine Talk

Y. M. C. A. HEARD DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION ON SUBJECT OF LIFE'S JOURNEY. MEN MUCH INSPIRED. NO MEETING THIS EVENING

At the weekly meeting the Y. M. C. A. held in Chapel on Tuesday evening Professor Luther D. Grossman, head of the Department of Physical Education and Director of Athletics of the University, gave a very helpful talk to the young men.

Prof. Grossman took as a subject "Life's Journey."

In making a journey the first thing to consider is preparation. Whatever the plan may be in life there is a certain preparation that is undergone first of all. When life moves as a song there is no demand to be prepared, but when a crisis arises there is need for preparation. In college there is a preparation for the journey thru life. To make a journey then one must be prepared and be ready.

The second factor is physical fitness. To be really able to enjoy life there is need for a strong robust body and also to render a greater degree of service to others. There are three classes of people in physical fitness: first, those who thru lack of training can not take care of themselves; the second class, who strike an unhappy medium and the third class, who are willing to help the unfortunate to take care of themselves. In order to do the real things of life successfully a physique and a strong body are necessary, one who enjoys real physical vigor and strength.

The third factor is personality and character. Association means much in life, to be able to cultivate friendship and to have friends. Nothing occupies such an important place as personality and therefore the need of possession and cultivation of personality.

The fourth factor in making a journey is to have a purpose, definite goal, an objective in life, something to strive for. One who has a purpose will be more beneficial, he will be a factor in advancing this world.

Dr. M. H. Fisher Addressed Students

DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION IN THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION TALKED TO STUDENTS ON POSSIBILITIES OF AMERICA

The students of Susquehanna University had the rare privilege of hearing Dr. M. Hadwin Fisher, director of education in the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, who is also interested in Synodical work and an alumnus of the institution.

Dr. Fisher told of the possibilities of America. Probably America is the melting pot, but it would be better if it were a retort for refining and distilling.

What is America? It is the land of opportunity. Something seems to speak of progress and demand one to do his best. The ideal of Americanism is to develop and to give. To the abundance of those things which a person has received he should add his own increment in order to enrich humanity. A person should become the ambassador of clear citizenship. He should speak in terms of service rendered.

There is something of an opportunity that lies within the handclasp of every person. He should try to rebuild American thought. There is always someone patterning after a person, therefore he should be his best. But he is unable to be his best unless he keeps himself in the most fit condition.

DON'T KNOCK

The United States has just passed thru one of the most epoch-making days in her national history. One week ago today the election to the office of President of the United States was held. Calvin Coolidge, of Plymouth, Vermont, the Republican candidate, won the election.

Last Tuesday we were Republicans or Democrats, or perhaps we adhered to some other party. In the late campaign each party set forth its platform and upon that platform did it contest for the election. Someone had to win, somebody always wins, the Republican candidate won. Yes, we were Republicans, we were Democrats, but now let us all be true blooded Americans and not knock. If we are Republicans of course it will be natural for us not to knock, but if we are Democrats or of some other party let us, too, contribute to the common good and back our president who no longer is a Republican, but an American.

The trouble with too many of the people of our nation is that they are too narrow. They vote a certain ticket because their father and even their grandfather voted that way before them. They are bigoted, they are partisan, and they can't get away from it. During an election it is natural for them to vote for their party candidate, but even then they should show their preference for the best man, regardless of party affiliations. They should think of America first. An election having been completed every one should join hands for a stronger nation supporting whoever may have been elected to office.

The college students should think of this, for it is in their hands that the destiny of the nation and of the world lies. Even on our own campus we have people who are narrow-minded, people who would vote for a man regardless of his principles. Think of Susquehanna think of her ideals and traditions. If a certain person is running for office and he is the one for the office, then he is means vote for him. We must not sacrifice the good of one school for narrow party politics. It is being done, we all do it, but why not eliminate it? That after a man has been elected, then we should support him even tho he may not be of our own fraternity. We should not knock, but boost for a bigger and better Susquehanna.

Let us remember always that it is while in college that we mold and fashion our characters. If we "play dirty" here, we will "play dirty" in life. Just as we support and don't knock our school and those who are the leaders of the school, so will our attitude be toward the big problems that we will have to face as we go out into the world.

AN ABOMINABLE NUISANCE

What is an abominable nuisance? The musical instrument on the second floor of Selingrove Hall playing after 11 o'clock at night, is an abominable nuisance. Are you going to stop running this instrument at such a late hour? Those who own and operate the machine are known, and if this disturbance is kept up the Student Council will deal accordingly.

In the first place, at school in a dormitory room is no place to have a phonograph. You are here not to idle away your time listening to the ragtime music which this instrument may produce, but to better prepare yourself for some good in life. In the second place, if you have an instrument you should know when to operate it. During study hours and late at night is no time to furnish music for the surrounding community. Think of the other fellow, and do not be a common nuisance.

The Association Dinner was held in the Penn-Harris Hotel on Friday evening, November 7, at 7:30 with Laura H. Carnell presiding. Addresses were given by Mrs. John B. Hamm, Miss Sarah M. Sturtevant, and Dr. Barnard, of the State Department of Education.

Several of the other speakers at the conference were Mrs. Lillian K. Wyman, William Penn High School for Girls; Dr. Ellen C. Potter, Secretary of Welfare; Anna W. Nock, South Philadelphia High School for Girls; Mary C. Pencock, Philadelphia Normal School; Ruth A. L. Dorsey, Dean of Women, Drexel Institute; Mary Louise Brown, Dean of Women, Carnegie Institute of Technology; Edna Arnold, Shippensburg State Normal School; E. Marie Lentz, Altoona High School; Florence Kunkel, Edinboro State Normal School; Lois Cory-Thompson, Dean of Women, Grove City College, and Grace Hanton, Dean of Women, Thiel College.

At the business meeting the following Executive Committee was re-elected for the ensuing year: Laura H. Carnell, chairman, Temple University; Gertrude E. Bradt, secretary, Mansfield State Normal School, and Elizabeth Lewis, treasurer, Nesquehoning High School.

a high order, a real novelty being provided by each class.

The moving picture play of the Cannibal Isles, given by the Juniors, was decided as best by the judges, and the president of the class was well "prized" by the committee.

Among other prize winners of the evening were Catherine Benner and Naomi Fogel, who were proclaimed to be wearing the most original costumes. Rev. and Mrs. Creager received the first prize for being the best dressed couple, he as an Indian chief and she as his squaw. Miss Emily Smith and Harry Ditzler took the laurels as the poorest dressed couple, while Miss Esther Shaffer appeared in the most unique costume. This interesting part of the program was followed by most delicious refreshments, including tasty root beer, brick ice cream and homemade cake.

Other additional features followed after which came the end of a perfect social.

evening the students plan an attractive parade. This will be followed by the meeting at which time it is planned to have, in addition to the usual speeches on such occasions, a special speaker.

Saturday morning will find the co-eds starting the day's festivities with outdoor sports, scheduled for 9 o'clock. At 10:30 the annual Frosh-Soph football game will be staged. This game ever has failed to be a real battle, rivaling even the varsity tilts during the season. At 1:45 p. m. the dedication of the Athletic Field Entrance will take place, followed immediately by the Susquehanna-Ursinus football game.

Sense and Nonsense

One of the largest factors in progress is evolution. That is, a change from one state into another by natural means. All nature is subject to evolution. A business man knows there is no progress where there is no change. An individual does not grow, does not expand to his full height unless there is a certain revolutionary process going on in his life. And woe to the man who fails to fall in with this evolution or fights to prevent it.

To continue to hold to a dead, dragging, profitless fossil is to refute evolution. The societies at S. U. are good examples of this very idea. They are just institutions. Their usefulness has been served and the time has come for them to pass out, taking their place with the one-horse carriage and the hoop skirt. In their present condition they yare dying remnants of forgotten glory.

Contrast fifteen years ago with the present. Then a student hardly stepped on the campus before he was approached to join a society. Competition was keen. Rivalry became so heated at times personal and general discussion of the relative value and virtue of the societies had to be stopped to prevent flying fists. The programs were always filled out to the letter. It was considered a rare privilege—something to be worked for during the college years—to be elected an officer in a society. Today we can't even seem to elect officers. We have been trying it for two months. Today the programs, in most cases, are never put on and when they are, the result is an especially arranged entertainment.

Much value could be derived from societies. Platform work in all phases is a necessary part of all education and if the abolishing of societies is advocated something must replace them. In this age of specialization the attention must be turned to one thing at a time. Formerly the societies took care of all the following things and took care of them well, but, to repeat, that day is past.

The past record of our college debating clubs is anything but desirable. Why not throw all possible energy into the college debating clubs, permitting them to participate in intercollegiate debates by utilizing the time and money wasted now on the societies. Consider too the Glee Club, the Choral Club, the Dramatic Club, and the student recitals. These organizations did not exist when societies were at their full power. Certainly anyone who fears the student will lack the opportunity to become trained or to express his ability in public appearance will easily overcome that fear by a careful consideration of the present state of affairs.

One last word. Why not give the tradition of society every consideration and, if they must go out, let it be with a last blaze of glory that shall pay proper respect and homage to the esteem they once held in our college community. One grand finale and then the curtain.

ALPHA SIGMA OMEGA TO BUILD NEW HOME

The original lot upon which the present home is located, extends from Walnut to Pine street. It is the intention of the fraternity to move the present frame house to the rear of the lot, facing it upon Pine street and model it into a private dwelling.

Arrangements are being made for the drawing of plans for the proposed new home, which is to be modern in every detail. Indications are that it will be constructed of stone and of the Colonial style architecture.

This move is looked upon with favor by friends of the fraternity from the fact that it is keeping pace with the spirit of the growing Susquehanna; and also that it will add to the material strength of the local organization.

With the full realization of the importance of these contests the Susquehanna boys are determined that only success shall crown their efforts and are making all exertions to bring laurels to their institution. Coach Wingard is desirous of having his men in great shape for the final game on Alumni Day against Ursinus, but he realizes that top form must be reached before the coming Saturday if Susquehanna is to return from Lebanon victorious over Lebanon Valley.

In meeting the Anville Collegians the locals are facing a very formidable foe. Lebanon Valley, in her latest game, overcame the powerful Third Army Corps team. In the two games prior to this one, she rolled up a total of 106 points against Haverford and Schuylkill. With this knowledge of her opponent's play the Orange and Maroon gridlers will enter the fray prepared to stage a wonderful fight for victory. Each member of the team is expressing confidence in Susquehanna's ability to win, and is assuring his followers that the team will be up to the form displayed in the Juniata game, when it sprang into prominence on account of its fighting qualities.

The Susquehanna team is in better physical condition now than she has been at any time since the Juniata tilt three weeks ago. All regulars, with the possible exception of Stumpfle, heady quarterback, will be found in the lineup at the start of the game.

ALUMNI

ATTENTION SEMINARIANS AND ALUMNI!

Dr. Manhart has brought to the attention of the writer the need of a memorial portrait of Dr. David Bittle Floyd to be placed in the Theological rooms of the seminary. He has requested me to write all of the men who took work under Dr. Floyd and ask them to contribute toward the purchase of a suitable portrait. Each person will be given credit thru the columns of The Susquehanna for all contributions. In case a larger sum is subscribed than is necessary for the portrait, the additional money will be used to purchase something useful for the Theological Department. Dr. Manhart will be consulted as to what is needed most.

We are asking each man to contribute one dollar or more. Please send in your check as soon as possible to Dallas C. Baer, Hughesville, Pa. Do not make it necessary to write you but act NOW.

The following men have each paid one dollar.

Rev. H. W. Miller.
Rev. Earl Mohney.
Rev. P. W. Huntington.
Rev. A. F. Klepper.
Rev. Dallas C. Baer.

On Sunday, Sept. 28 at Davidsville, Pa., occurred the installation of Rev. Maurice R. Gortner as pastor of this charge, which consists of three congregations. The charge to the pastor was delivered by the Rev. Charles M. Teufel, Woodlawn, Pa., an uncle of Pastor Gortner, and the charge to the congregation was impressively given by the Rev. L. P. Young, D. D., missionary superintendent of the Allegheny Synod. The latter had direct charge of the ceremony of installation in which he was assisted by Pastor Teufel. The day was a rainy one, though the auditorium was filled at both services. This, together with many other evidences of cooperation and good will, indicated the delightful attitude of the people toward Rev. and Mrs. Gortner. A most striking evidence in this direction was a wedding gift shower given this young couple soon after their arrival upon the field.

Miss Hilda Bohner, '24, is very ill at her home in Sunbury.

Rev. Park W. Huntington, Sem. '22, reports that extensive repairs are being made in his church in Jersey Shore. Rev. Huntington is pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church in that city. The interior of the church is being frescoed, while new pulpit furniture, carpets, and new pews are being secured. This will make the church doubly attractive and will make the accommodations more satisfactory. Rev. Huntington is putting on a special campaign for the month of November in his church. He is attempting to reach two goals, one to secure a 150 attendance to prayer services on Wednesday and 300 in Sunday evening services. For the first week he reports 145 in prayer meeting and 225 in church.

REV. E. BONSELL TALKED IN CHAPEL

thing found in playing games which is important; mostly team play. Churches would be better if they had more team play. Another reason for the importance of playing games is to learn to play fair. And if persons are not taught to play fair and they are Modernists or Fundamentalists, unfair methods will be used when they are caught in a corner.

The third point was "Personal Ideals." Every student should strive to attain the very highest ideals. This is akin to personal habits. May everyone therefore possess habits of such nature that the estimates of oneself by others will not be lowered.

The fourth and last ideal which Rev. Bonnell discussed was that one should not lose touch with the local church. When many students go back to the little local church they often say: "The sermons are rotten; I'm not going to that church." But it must be realized that everyone as individuals are the persons that can make that particular church what it should be.

These ideals as set forth by Rev. Bonnell are the things worth while when one comes to a community. If one does not come to college for the social life these ideals should be carried out. In behalf of the student body, the staff welcomes Rev. Bonnell back again.

The club will meet regularly every Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Questions of present day importance will be discussed in the form of debate. Let all Juniors and Seniors be out to debate and try out for the Varsity Debating team.

study? Can he build this month's character on last month's Bible study and prayer? People sometimes find it almost impossible to pray because prayers seem useless and unreal—they never "get anywhere." Is this because they do not come in the right attitude? They should pray sincerely, in faith, with persistence, in the right spirit and alone. For the Savior has said "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

What sort of clocks are the people today? Are they eight day clocks and need winding only on Sunday? They should make it a rule to begin the day with Bible study and prayer. "Regularly always costs a persistent determination not to surrender to adverse circumstances or wayward moods. But consider what it would mean each morning to put the life at God's disposal." Somebody has said, however, "Before we can worship anywhere, anywhere, one must have learned to worship sometime, somewhere."

Would a person's clock get along well without a habit of winding it up? Has anyone found the kind of prayer habits that fit his particular self? Is he doing the same thing, when he "says prayers" that he learned from infancy in childhood, without putting his mind on them? What sort of key best winds his clock—a group prayer-meeting, his own private devotions or while he is taking a walk?

Margaret Keiser sang "Blessed are the Meek" by Stephens.

The meeting was closed with the Association motto.

Social contacts must be observed. Work's call gives a person the power of resistance, the power of achievement. Everyone should be subject to all the laws of nature, and not do just as he pleases.

Real thinkers are in great demand. Only fourteen per cent of the Americans think through to a conclusion, and even then many of these conclusions are incorrect. Only two per cent think through to a correct conclusion. The trouble is that people are not socially clean and straight.

The Christian life should be developed. It doesn't matter what a person is, but that thing that he is one hundred per cent, believing that God has fitted him to the task and will expect something in return. There is a need of finding ideals and directing purposes so that they count for most in life. A person should turn to the great power above, and then in the praying of the Lord's Prayer he will be able to pray the whole prayer as true one hundred per cent Americans.

During the past week representatives of the Perryhill Nurseries, of Harrisburg, landscape gardeners, visited Susquehanna in order to determine the best arrangement for the planting of shrubbery, flanking the Entrance. A contract was placed with them for twenty dwarf trees and shrubs, same to be planted in accordance with plans suggested by them, thereby insuring an attractive and harmonious effect.

Every effort is being made to rush the work on the pillars and fencing in order to have same in place for the dedication on November 22nd.

and Maroon eleven fought at all stages of the game, but were hopelessly outweighed and the result was inevitable. Previous to the start of the game Coach Wingard told his men what he expected of them, and they came thru in a fitting manner. They realized that they would hardly win, but at the same time they realized that their institution must play this powerful team for more reasons than one. It would mean prestige should the Crusaders return victorious and a loss would be no stain upon their season's record. In addition such a game enables the team leaders to see their way clear to provide all comforts for members of the squad for the entire season.

At the start of the game Dellig kicked off for Susquehanna and then was immediately replaced by Pratt. Cornell returned the kickoff to the thirty yard line. It required four minutes of furious playing before Doble's warriors went across for their initial touchdown. From this time until the close of the game the wearers of the Red would circle the ends or smash thru the line for substantial gains. On several occasions Susquehanna would hold for downs only to give way before the fierce onslaught. The offense of the Crusaders was much limited, but it frequently burst forth. The best ground gainer proved to be Groce with Dodd running him a close second.

The score could have been limited to a great extent had the regulars been playing thruout, but under the existing conditions Coach Wingard thought it advisable to send in substitutes early in the game. Four regulars were unable to enter the fray, while the remainder of them got just enough action to keep them in prime condition. Barnes, stellar guard, was unable to make the trip, but should be in great shape for the final game on the schedule.

The entire team played well, but the playing of several men was outstanding. Koch, in his first varsity game, played a wonderful defensive game and was in practically every play. His tackling was fierce and brought much applause from the Cornell stands. On one occasion when a Cornell back got loose on a kickoff Koch put on a burst of speed and brought him down from behind on the fifteen yard line. Pratt was another new man whose defensive work was commendable. He backed up the line in great style, as did Garry during his stay in the game. Of the veterans Dodd, Groce and Hartman played their usual smashing game and were much in evidence at all times.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

OPINION PLEASE?

Last year, it is to be remembered, several members of the faculty joined hands in a noble effort to set to rights about the campus some disagreeable conditions. But with the coming of a new year some have forgotten that they have a duty to perform both to themselves and to the institution in re-training from intoxication. It is to be regretted that there are those among us who possess a distorted conception of the qualifications for manhood, but such is the case. Perhaps we can stifle our contempt sufficiently to ask what does make a man. Is it clamoring for the sordid applause of doped, disorganized minds, or is it striving to live up to the highest ideals we are capable of placing before ourselves? We think it is the latter. Benjamin Franklin has said, "Who dares do more than a man is none."

Furthermore, the absolute folly of such conduct is apparent if we but pause to consider. Every submission to this impulse on the part of any, marks a step in the destruction of his moral stamina along with the undermining of the conscience. In a display of moral obliquity and mental weakness a fitting or appropriate celebration for a clean, hard fought victory by our team. On the contrary, it is a shadow over that victory and as such is rank disloyalty. Consider too, the reflection on the student body as a whole.

But there is no use crying over spilled milk, the thing to do is to clean it up, so let's set to with a common purpose and a definite determination to do it. There is no weapon so deadly as the expressed disapproval of the mass. If we want these conditions, why not support them openly? If not, why not condemn them openly with as great or greater force? Common consent can drive out these things and if necessary the responsible parties with them. Nor can it be said that Susquehanna would be losing anything of value. Just as the mass is greater than the individual, so is its best interest important enough to justify any action it might take in furthering those interests.

A SIMILE

We, the students of S. U., have before us the opportunity of doing well a thing which will be a source of satisfaction for some time to come. Whoever conceived the idea of erecting a monument to clean sports in the form of an entrance to our Athletic Field, is deserving of considerable credit. Not for a long time has any movement been fostered on the campus which is expressive of such high ideals. Nor has it been recent that any new undertaking has been given the support this has by the students. The start the work has been given without ready finance is the assurance of a great trust, which we dare not violate. Since the first throes of enthusiasm have passed, it is now time to demonstrate to what extent we are sincere. True loyalty and that only will put the thing across.

In this connection, it is well to stop and consider for a while that achievement of glass and metal we sometimes see in the window of a jeweler or optician's shop. For want of its name let us call it an orthometer. There it stands, a hollow glass sphere on a glass pedestal. Inside it has four little paddles fastened to an axle, by means of short wires. On one side of each paddle is a coat of silver, and on the other a coat of lamp black. The thing appears to be nothing worthy of consideration until the sun begins to shine. Then the paddles begin to revolve around their axis. Very slowly they go at first, but as the sun shines brighter and shines on the paddles more directly, they begin to increase in velocity till one begins to wonder where all the power is coming from.

In some respects, we are all orthometers. As soon as the light or spirit of an idea strikes us, we show signs of life. The more we are in accord with the idea, the greater vigor we show in our actions. Our support of this newly launched project is the orthometer of our loyalty to it. If the light dies, there will be no activity in the sphere of our concretely expressed ideals.

Susquehanna Lost To Lebanon Valley

SUSQUEHANNA GRIDDERS WENT DOWN TO DEFEAT BEFORE STRONG LEBANON VALLEY ELEVEN IN ANNUAL GAME AT ANNVILLE BY SCORE OF 27-0.

In the game played at Annnville on Saturday the Susquehanna gridgers went down to defeat before the strong attack of the Lebanon Valley representatives by a score of 27-0.

Despite the score it may be said that the local team played their second best game of the season and were deserving of a better fate. Every man went into the game with a grim determination to do his bit and when the game came to a close each man knew that his efforts had not been in vain. With even breaks the score would have been different, and the fact that so many Susquehanna alumni and students were present served to stir up the players to their greatest efforts.

The game opened with Lebanon Valley kicking to Groce of S. U., who re-

FINAL GAME AND ONE LONG LOOKED FORWARD TO WILL BE PLAYED SATURDAY WHEN POWERFUL URSINUS ELEVEN INVADES SUSQUEHANNA CAMPUS

The game toward which everyone has been casting longing eyes and for which they have been anxiously waiting, is to be played this week, when the powerful Ursinus eleven will come to the local campus to try to conquer Susquehanna's fighting Crusaders.

Both teams have been only fairly successful in winning games this year, altho the visitors boast of a veteran team, which has been greatly strengthened by the addition of several prep school stars. Their biggest feat of the present season was the conquering of the Haverford eleven to the tune of 29-0. They held Swarthmore to a 13-6 score, while the latter team scored a 26-0 victory over the Orange and Maroon. But despite the fact the Collegeville lads are "doped" to win, Coach Wingard's charges are determined to close the season by putting this game on the right side of the ledger. The

On last Tuesday afternoon when the lid was pried off the interclass soccer league schedule the Freshmen lost no time in jumping into the league lead by defeating the strong Junior class representatives by the close score of 1-0. As the score would indicate, it was a thrilling battle thruout, strong defensive play by both teams featuring.

On Thursday afternoon the fast Sophomore team sprang into a tie for first place with the Freshmen thru the winning of an easy victory over the Seniors. A good offense was flashed by the Sophs. The game ended with them holding the long end of a 6-0 score.

Plenty of action is promised in the future soccer games, as the teams are

Final Plans for the Big Event Completed. First "Susquehanna Night" to be Held on Friday Evening. Saturday Will Mark an Epoch in Susquehanna's History; Co-Ed Field Hockey, Fresh-Soph Grid Tilt and the Final Varsity Game of the Season with Strong Ursinus Team

SUSQUEHANNA FOOTBALL SQUAD

Susquehanna's Annual Fall Home Coming Day will be ushered in by a Students' Parade Friday evening followed by the "First Susquehanna Night" in the Alumni Gymnasium.

The Moose Band of Selingrove has volunteered its services for the occasion and will head the procession, which is scheduled to start at 7:30, and they will also be in attendance during the evening's festivities in the Gymnasium where ample accommodations are being provided for what promises to be one of the largest gatherings of Susquehanna men and women.

Saturday will in all probability mark an epoch in Susquehanna's history. Considerable interest centers about the Co-Ed Field Hockey match scheduled to open the day's program at 9 a. m., when the Freshmen will vie with the Sophomores for honors. At 10:30 the Annual Fresh-Soph grid tilt will be staged. This affair has never failed to be a real struggle rivalling even some of the 'Varsity games of the season. This year's game will most likely equal former games and the spectators will enjoy a real treat to say nothing of numerous thrills.

At 1:45 p. m., immediately preceding the Ursinus-Susquehanna football game, the dedication and presentation of the Entrance to Susquehanna's New Athletic Field will take place. At 2 p. m. the final gridiron tilt of the season will start with the Orange and Maroon eleven facing the strong Ursinus team.

Tomorrow evening, November 19, at 8:15 o'clock, the second number of the Susquehanna University Star Course will be given in Stanley Theatre. For this entertainment Neilson Bureau presents Noah Beilharz, America's Noted Character Artist and Entertainer, who will read "Mister Antonio."

Mr. Beilharz is a man of fame on the platform, and crowds have listened with admiration to his interesting entertainments. Every student at Susquehanna should avail himself of this privilege of hearing Mr. Beilharz. Students and friends of the University who have the regular Star Course tickets please tear off and bring the single ticket only, bearing the proper date. It is the red one. For anyone not having the course tickets the single admission price is seventy-five cents.

DISCUSSION ABOUT THE CAMPUS IN REGARD TO HOLDING A JUNIOR PROMENADE. NECESSARY TO KEEP PACE WITH THE PROGRESS OF SUSQUEHANNA

Much discussion is heard about the campus at present in regard to the possibility of holding a Junior Promenade. In the past a promenade has been practically unheard of at Susquehanna, especially a Junior Prom. But in order to keep pace with the progress of Susquehanna this phase of college life is, without a doubt, necessary.

Why necessary? This question may be asked and can be stated in brief form. Practically all of the social functions at Susquehanna are conducted by fraternal organizations (fraternities and sororities as well) and unless one is affiliated with one of these organizations, he or she is deprived of this phase of college development. Also for the purpose of fostering a more democratic spirit among the student body a promenade would greatly aid in attaining this ideal.

Kern, which made a trip to Gettysburg to visit America's greatest battlefield in order to learn more of the history of this great battle of the Civil War. No member of the Club, who having visited this historic spot, returned to the campus, who was not instilled with a greater love and patriotism for his country.

FINE DISPLAY OF SPIRIT MANIFESTED ON SUSQUEHANNA'S CAMPUS WHEN FORTY STUDENTS VOLUNTEERED SERVICES. DEDICATION NOVEMBER 22

Possibly no finer display of spirit has been manifested on Susquehanna's campus recently than that of the forty or more students who last week volunteered their services in order that the grading necessary for the plotting of the tract adjoining the new Entrance might be completed.

The splendid response to the drive for funds for the Entrance, prompted the 'Varsity S Club committee, appointed to determine the plans for the Entrance, to put over this additional improvement. Drawings had been submitted by the Berryhill Company, landscape gardeners, and were accepted by the committee and work started immediately.

ALUMNI DAY

Saturday, November 22 will be the Annual Fall Alumni and Home-Coming Day for Susquehanna University.

This is a growing tradition among our American Colleges and is a comparatively new institution at Susquehanna. It will be a gala day in every respect from the rising till the setting of the sun, and it should mean much, both to the alumni and to the students.

To the alumni it seems like a great magnet drawing them to the dear old campus to think over and talk over the "good old days" with pals of days never to be forgotten. Just to see a football game played by strangers, just to mingle with unfamiliar faces, most of whom are the sons and daughters of those who went to school when they did, just those things have an unseen power of drawing the old grads back to the classic halls of their alma mater.

But Alumni Day is even more than this. The alumni are anxious to return not only for the sake of meeting former schoolmates and reviving past incidents, not only for the sake of seeing a football game, not only for the sake of mingling with unfamiliar faces, but also for the sake of bringing to their vision once again those things which are permanent, those dear old buildings, the halls of which still ring in fond recollection of merry songs and laughter, and the trees of the campus which "might whisper secrets grave, amusing and profound."

This glad event should also be a day of gladness for the students. We should be glad to see our big brothers and sisters of yesterday, and we should welcome them to their old home, remembering that it will not be long until we, too, will join their ranks, with our college days, the happiest days of our lives, gone forever.

Let all of us, as students, cultivate the great virtue of friendliness and try to make Susquehanna's alumni feel as though they are really returning to their former home. Then we can feel sure that they will have a pleasant background upon which they can bring to memory their loving reminiscences of the past.

NOTICE, THE SUSQUEHANNA CORRECTS UNTRUE REPORT

As a result of false information secured by The Susquehanna, an erroneous statement was published in this paper on November 4th, under the heading, Many Friends Heard of Pretty Wedding. The article told of the marriage of Miss Margaret Reichelbach, which, since, has proven to be an untrue statement.

The Susquehanna regrets very much that thru misinformation it was made the instrument for the dissemination of this unauthentic statement.

NOTICE

An election for the various assistant and sub-assistant managerships will be held Wednesday morning, Nov. 19 immediately following chapel service. Coupon No. 30 will be used as a ballot.

The offices are as follows:
Two Juniors as assistant basketball managers.
Two Juniors as assistant tennis managers.
One Senior for cheer leader.
Four Sophomores as sub-assistant base ball managers.

VARSAITY "S" CLUB ELECTED OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Varsity "S" Club held on last Monday evening the following officers were elected: President, Earl Thomas; vice president, Stewart Dannon; secretary, Wilson Kepner; treasurer, Roger Blough. This organization is making itself known on the campus thru the launching of the drive for the $1,000 improvements which are presenting themselves in the form of an entrance to the Athletic Field and an improved driveway between the Gymnasium and Haggins Dormitory.

is found to be guilty of that crime, not because of his own self, but because he has arisen from a bad situation, it is the crime of his father that he is accused of. The father should teach his son not as a father, but as a friend. He should learn to understand his boy. The thing that the father should impart to his son are his ideals. If the father has lacked something he should give to his son not only those things which he lacks, but also those things which he lacks. He should give to his son soul, nobility of character and the knowledge of rectitude and duty. A father can not tell his son to be good, the son has to learn by the example of his father. Being a father is the most dangerous thing in the world for a person is then molding the opinion of the next generation.

The son must always remember that his father knows best, for his father has had the experience. He should take as his ideal the best son, who was Jesus Christ. The father should study the Godhead of the Scriptures, and the son should follow in the footsteps of the Nazarene. These two things will help to make a more solidified family. Every nation that fell was caused to fall because the home had fallen. Every home fell because the children had no respect for their parents. The children had no respect for their parents because they were not worthy of respect. These things will not happen in the case of our own nation if the fathers study the Scriptures and the sons take as their ideal Jesus Christ.

appointed by the president of the class to make investigations as to the possibility of holding a function of this sort and to submit suggestions for the same. Many questions confront the committee at present; the greatest of which is: Shall this be a subscription affair and be open to the entire student body, or shall it be exclusive to Juniors and Seniors?

The committee is willing to receive suggestions on the matter from anyone and solicits the co-operation of all as well as members of the Junior class in making this, the first Prom, a success.

COMPLETION OF ENTRANCE NEAR

Tuesday morning found the stone-setters busy erecting the Brownstone pillars. At the same time the work of planting the numerous trees and shrubs—approximately 175 plantings—was started under the direction of the Berryhill representative. The erection of the iron fencing and the placing of the gates immediately following the erection of the pillars, will mark the completion of the Entrance and unless unforeseen delays occur everything will be in readiness for the official presentation and dedication on Nov. 22nd.

Sense and Nonsense

Say Grad—
When you come—
To the old Entrance—
All alone and wishing—
For a look at somebody—
You knew, Who could—Swing a wicked line—
Of bygone days—
Some dried up runt—
Who you that would—
Be a failure and—
Who fooled you bad. Or some Portly figured Adonis—
Who just naturally—
Always sneaked your pie—
Or some sweetheart—
Older now and married—
But still able to do—
Your happiness more good—
Than a free ticket to heaven—
Say! Honest now—
Ain't it a grand—
And glorious feeling—
When you meet—
And ain't you both—
Damn glad you both came back—
Now I'm asking you?

Students who are in the habit of going home over the week-end, are expressly invited to remain on the campus for Alumni Day, Nov. 22 will be one of THE days of the entire college year. There will be more doing on this day than our campus will see for many a long moon. Students! Make it a point to be on the campus Alumni Day. It is your duty and privilege, so take advantage of it.

If the hope of a nation is in the future generation, the hope of a college is found in its Alumni. What the alumni say about their college and do for it determines in a large way its natural health and growth. There is the privilege of sending young blood into the school each year, to them is entrusted, in a large part, the financing of improvements and additions, they, if successful in life, should be the ones to provide suitable scholarships for needy students, and in a word, the Alumni are the active, interested, self-sacrificing agents for the advancing college at home and abroad. If this is not the case the college is not one of the advancing sort.

A man is a man for all that.
And a Grad is a Grad tho' he's fat.
With a whole hearted twinkle and a worry caused wrinkle.
To the Grad! Here's my hand and my hat.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Prof. Follmer said in part: "The observance of a holiday depends upon the personal feeling. There would be no need of patriotism if the days such as the 30th of May and the 11th of November were celebrated in the right manner. During the war the men in the service were working day and night, and at home there was a strong feeling conducive to patriotism. The war has not touched the young people, but if war comes conscription will take them. Full armament, the newest and the deadliest, has led to war. Others tried to disarm, to do away with arms, but disarmament did not do away with war.

"Take the animal kingdom, each animal has a way or means of protection, the snake its tongue, the elephant its tusks, the cat its claws and so each is prepared to defend itself from enemies. What has man for his defense? His mind, his brain. Why should man turn backward by using his brain and his hands to go and fashion implements of war?"
"The biggest half of it is I. In the I is the most important. The biggest half of I is You. Each one in his own part will be the future. If each would decide in his own mind first, there would be less trouble. One always finds what he is looking for. If for war, he will find war, and if for peace, he will find peace. Peace is the desired state on earth. It is God's will. Therefore one should use his head and his brain as God has given it to him."

Familiarity breeds contempt.

ALUMNI

PITTSBURGH-SUSQUEHANNA BANQUET "BIGGEST AND BEST EVER"

"Biggest and best ever" is the slogan of the committee on arrangements for the Annual Banquet of the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association, to be held Friday evening in the parlors of the First Lutheran Church, Grant street, Pittsburgh. "Not much speaking, but good," is their second thought. Dr. C. P. MacLaughlin will act as toastmaster, with President Aikens as the feature speaker. More attention this year will be paid to the reunion feature. With ex-Glee Club members, former cheer leaders, and erstwhile athletic and literary luminaries present to regale with anecdote and song, those in charge are anticipating a most successful program.

Reservations received indicate the largest attendance since the organization of the Association.

It is with deep regret that The Susquehanna learns, thru President Aikens, of the serious sickness of the most loved former students and friend, Mathias P. Moller, Jr., '21, of Hagers town, Md. "Ted" was one of the most popular students at Susquehanna during his four years here and his many friends at S. U. regret that he has been overtaken by the lingering typhoid fever, but sincerely hope he may get along well, under the excellent care and attention he will receive. Ted had expected to be present at the Alumni Reunion on the 22nd, as he is deeply interested in the affairs of his Alma Mater.

James David Carleton, a former student of Susquehanna University, has entered a professional school, School of Mines, of the University of Pittsburgh this fall.

Rev. Thomas Atkinson, ex-Sem. '23, a graduate of Mt. Airy Seminary, reports improvements in his church in Sinking Springs, near Reading. Rev. Atkinson has already made many innovations in his church, especially the choir arrangements and like improvements in the musical services.

Rev. Melvin Drumm, '20, was installed pastor of the Middleburg Lutheran Church on Nov. 2. Rev. M. W. Reardon, D. D., of Millifburg, preached in the morning to the pastor and the congregation. In the evening Rev. Chas. R. Bowers of Zion Lutheran Church, of Sunbury, preached on the subject "The Kind of Church the World Needs." The act of installation took place at these services.

Rev. C. B. Botsford, of Cumberland, Md., reports that their anniversary services were a splendid success last October 19. Mayor Thomas W. Koon, of Cumberland, Md., was the speaker at the services. Mr. Koon has been mayor of Cumberland for four successive times. Rev. Botsford reports for October 21 sermons, 255 visits, 5 new members, 8 baptisms, 3 weddings, 3 funerals, in the performance of the above duties he walked 125 miles.

LETTER FROM CUBA

President Aikens has recently received an interesting letter from Richard Montero, who was a student at Susquehanna several years, in the department of Business Administration. "Dick" says he has not forgotten Susquehanna and often thinks of the pleasant years he spent here, with deep feelings that he would like to return.

Richard was a typical friendly Cuban, and entered into the spirit of S. U. as few foreign students do. He was quite active in athletics and worked like a trojan to win in the various sports and he was quite successful. He endured many hard knocks in a cheerful manner.

Richard is quite happy in announcing in his letter that he was married on Saturday, October 25th to Miss Bernadine Duque and seems proud in saying "now I am a married man." We congratulate Mr. Richard Montero, Jr., on his matrimonial venture and wish Mrs. Montero much happiness as they sail across the sea of life together.

We also congratulate Richard on the very splendid position he occupies in the office of the American Consul. He is Secretary in the American Consular offices of the U. S. government at Matanzas, Cuba, and wants his old Susquehanna friends to know that he is making good, in which he reflects credit on Susquehanna.

BEAUTIFUL MARRIAGE SERVICE SOLEMNIZED

A very beautiful wedding ceremony took place on November 5 in the First Lutheran Church, of Phillipsburg, when Miss Hazel Marion Hoffer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hoffer, and Mr. Muro Ellsworth Northamer, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Northamer, were united in marriage by the bride's pastor, the Rev. Ernest L. Pee.

The church was very prettily decorated with huge clusters of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns, which were fashioned in an attractive style around the altar. A finely executed musical program was rendered, after which the bride was given in marriage by her father, the double ring ceremony having been used.

The bride is a graduate of Susquehanna University. Mr. Northamer is a member of the firm composing the Phillipsburg Cleaning and Pressing Company, of Phillipsburg.

The happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Washington, D. C., and upon their return to Phillipsburg will be at home in the Hoffer-Drown apartments. The Susquehanna extends hearty congratulations and best wishes for their future happiness.

URSINUS TO PLAY
HERE ALUMNI DAY

Coach is confident that his men will come thru and will leave no stones unturned to bring a glorious victory to Susquehanna.

A large crowd of alumni will be flocking to this game to see the 1924 grid squad and to compare it with the teams of the days when they were winning glory for S. U. The members of the present varsity are determined that they shall not fare poorly thru any comparisons.

The Ursinus game will mark the final appearance for many of the Susquehanna men. Among those who are preparing to make their last grid game their best are Hartman, Barnes, Blough, Nipple, Bullock and Thomas. These men have given their all for the past several seasons and are out to wind up their careers in a blaze of glory.

Couch Wingard will have his entire squad available for the final contest, as every member came thru the Lebanon Valley game in fine shape, and "Ernie" Stumpfle, who has been on the sidelines with injuries since the Juniata game, will be back at his post, calling signals. His presence seems to add vigor to the playing of his mates, so followers of the Crusaders are expecting them to overcome all opposition and wind up the 1924 season with a creditable record.

their way into the avenues of the battlefield. Before making the tour of the field the different members of the club partook of the lunch which had been so gratefully given by Mr. Horton, and which had been prepared by the girls.

Dr. C. A. Fisher, who formerly lived near Gettysburg, and who had been over the field on several occasions previous to this time, then acted as guide and took the club over the field and pointed out to the members the places of interest and gave a detailed history of the battle at each decisive point.

The club returned home in the evening, everyone satisfied that he had not only spent a very enjoyable day, but that he had also learned to know more of the history of his beloved land.

United States in all world matters. The constitution of Australia is largely modeled after that of the United States. She is practically a free country, making her own laws and governing herself independent of England. The greatest need of Australia is people, people, and then more people.

In reference to the Eighteenth Amendment Dr. Gordon said that the United States is dry and should remain dry. The United States has a large responsibility. The nations of the world are looking to her to help them solve their problems. As goes the United States so goes the world.

turned the ball to the thirty yard line. Dodd went around left end on first play and Groce went thru line for two yards. Thomas circled left end. Bolig punted and the Lebanon Valley receiver was downed in his tracks. After falling in two line plays, Lebanon Valley fumbled on their own twenty-five yard line and Thomas recovered for Susquehanna. The referee disallowed the recovery and returned the ball to Lebanon Valley, who then punted. The remainder of the quarter was spent in an even exchange of punts. Near the end of the first period a blocked Susquehanna punt netted Lebanon Valley their first touchdown. The try for goal was successful.

The second quarter was a repetition of the first. Lebanon Valley scored on a forward pass after several line bucks and end runs had been repulsed. The try for the extra point was frustrated, and the half ended 13-0 in favor of the home club. In this quarter S. U. picked up several substantial gains.

The third period opened with Susquehanna kicking to Lebanon Valley. No gain on the attempts. Lebanon Valley punted to Sleight. Groce one yard thru line. Sleight no gain. Groce attempted to punt but was hurried, and Lebanon Valley took the ball on downs. After several plays Lebanon Valley scored their third touchdown from the six yard line. An attempted forward pass was knocked down. Susquehanna again kicked off and held Lebanon Valley for downs. Lebanon Valley punted to Stroup. Stroup no gain. On triple pass Thomas picked up eight yards around end. A fumble on next play was recovered by Lebanon Valley. After several plays Lebanon Valley fumbled and Gimme recovered. The period ended with neither team inflicting further damage.

The fourth quarter was a repetition of the others except that the playing was harder and faster. When Captain Gordon and Wueschinkel of Lebanon Valley were removed the game became very exciting. Shortly afterward Lebanon Valley picked up two points when Bullock's bad pass from center sailed over Groce's head and resulted in a safety. Not long afterward another break gave Lebanon Valley her final touchdown. The attempt at goal failed. The game ended shortly afterward with the ball in Susquehanna's possession with the locals working hard for a touchdown.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

MEN OF NATURE

Fall is here and almost gone! It seems but last week that the flowers were blooming and the birds filled the warm air with song. Yesterday the glory of nature was expressed in color, but today we see barrenness. The thought of this seems to remind us that time is whirling silently on, taking us along just as the flowers. In a number of particulars, we and the flowers are traveling the same road. Let us for a time think of a man as a flower.

Spring we all have, a time of hope and trust. Crocus-peeping into life like children sneaking down-stairs on Christmas morning. Just buds, but filled with potential beauty and power. Sometimes the frost of unknown descends and carries a few buds along to show what we can hope for them. This one is woody and that delicate. This staunch and that pithy. One shoots up rapidly only to be affected or altered by every whim of the elements. Another grows slowly but so solid is the result that it is almost unchangeable. There are green briars with thorns of no use except for purposes of contrast. Then there are roses with thorns to protect their beauty. Both sorts serve their purpose in this garden of life. Thistles there are—dangerous beauty choking the wheat. Scrawny potato vines feeding the nation. Also a million weeds living just because they have not died. Large solid trees producing fruit to add variety to life and make it more pleasure.

Now the great clock ticks again and it is fall. Some of the plants lacked appreciation for the opportunities of summer, so that they have lost the basis for a season's work. Others did not fail and are ready waiting for the harvest. The past is not to be remade and so the fruit is either ready or waiting to be destroyed by the frost. Existence comes only too soon to pick the fruit and gather the grain, robbing with an iron hand, stealing the result of a season's effort. But the plant submits, since the time is at hand when a new life must be considered. This preparation precedes a letting up of vigorous activity, allowing a softness and mellowness to permeate its being. There is no use to strive further because winter is already making itself felt.

So winter comes, sometimes with a about and a crash, sometimes so stealthily as to almost escape notice. This plant took thought and grew a tuber, this a bulb and this a powerful root that it might arise and live again when the time for new life arrives. But this did not take thought so that winter's death means its destruction forever. Thus it seems that for every sort of plant there is a parallel in human life.

have been met with reasonable degree of promptness. The various campaign teams are co-operating in order to aid the treasurer in making the collections, pledged for this week. Almost 50 per cent of the money pledged has been paid and it is the purpose of the Varsity S Club to raise this percentage as much as reasonably possible before Saturday.

The prompt payment of subscriptions, payment of which was promised on or before November 22nd will enable the treasurer to meet the necessary expenses incident to the erection and completion of the Entrance. The response to date has been splendid; students have manifested a marked degree of co-operation. A real task has been assumed, the successful completion of which will carry with it no small degree of honor. Why not set another record this week? Let's Finish the Job.

ATHLETIC FIELD ENTRANCE DEDICATED ON ALUMNI DAY

SUSQUEHANNA GRID MEN GAVE HARD FOUGHT BATTLE TO URSINUS SQUAD

Little Crusaders Fell Before Fierce Onslaught of Ursinus Warriors in Alumni Day Game. Final Game of Season for Susquehanna

As the curtain fell upon the football season of 1924, the Susquehanna eleven fell before the fierce second half onslaught of the Ursinus warriors in an exceptionally hard fought game.

With the start of the game the Orange and Maroon representatives tore into their heavier opponents and completely swept them off their feet with a dazzling display of line bucks, end runs and forward passes. Thruout the first half the locals held the upper hand and at half time Susquehanna was leading, 7-0. With the start

Sophomore Co-Eds Won Soccer Trophy

SOPHS WON FIRST GAME, 1-0; FROSH SECOND GAME, 2-0; DECIDING GAME WON BY SOPHOMORES, 2-0, WHICH GAVE TO THEM THE INTER-CLASS CUP

Much interest was shown in the Freshman-Sophomore Co-Eds' Soccer games. In the first game the teams seemed to be evenly matched, and each team tried hard to score until finally the Sophomores made one goal. The ball was taken down the field in the direction of their goal several times, but the Freshmen prevented them from scoring any more.

Several days later the second game

FRESHMAN GIRLS DEFEATED ON ALUMNI DAY BY CLOSE SCORE OF 1-0. GAME VERY HOTLY CONTESTED AND BOTH TEAMS SHOULD BE COMMENDED

Saturday morning the Sophomore co-eds lost no time in defeating the Freshman class representatives by the close score of 1-0 on a rain soaked field.

During the first half of the game the ball was in Freshman territory for a while, but then the tide turned and was in favor of the Sophomores. They kept it in their territory the remaining part of the game.

Despite the score it can be said

TEAMS REPRESENTING TWO LOWER CLASSES BATTLED EACH OTHER TO A STANDSTILL MONDAY AFTERNOON IN ANNUAL GRIDIRON CONTEST

In one of the greatest games ever played between members of the two lower classes, the present teams of the Freshman and Sophomore classes battled each other to a standstill on Monday afternoon.

First one team would hold the upper hand, but only to see her rival forge to the front by furious play. In the first quarter the Frosh assumed the lead when Vorlage fell on a blocked kick behind the goal line. The Sophomores scored in like manner when Brown recovered a blocked kick behind the yearlings' line in the second quarter. Both teams played exceptionally good football.

DR. AND MRS. SADTLER SHOWED GREAT HOSPITALITY IN ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN SEMINARIANS AT THEIR HOME LAST WEEK. EVENING MUCH ENJOYED

The hospitality of the respected and honored friend of Susquehanna, Dr. William T. Sadtler, manifested in the entertainment given to the Seminary students at his home last week, was very highly appreciated. The Seminary students attended en masse, married and otherwise. The stages were very much in the minority, most of the same being married men whose wives were in their homes many miles away. The new home of Doctor Sadtler is a cozy place in the northeastern part of the town near the banks of the mighty Karondinha (Penn's) Creek. Previous to this time he has been somewhat crowded for sufficient accommodations in his living quarters. Now he is finely situated in a roomy dwelling of exquisite workmanship.

After the assembly of reverends futuro esse had gathered with their fair companions, William Sadtler, Jr.,

SPECIAL FEATURE ENJOYED BY SUSQUEHANNA MEN ATTENDING UNITED LUTHERAN CONVENTION WAS SUSQUEHANNA LUNCHEON HELD ON OCT. 24

Susquehanna men were much in evidence at the United Lutheran Church Convention held in Chicago, October 21st to 30th.

One of the special features enjoyed by some of S. U.'s former students, alumni and friends who attended the great gathering of Lutherans was the Susquehanna Luncheon held in the grill room of the Edgewater Beach Hotel at high noon, Friday, October 24th.

The luncheon proper was dispersed with Susquehanna yells and songs. Dr. Sanford N. Carpenter, of Johnstown, president of the Susquehanna Alumni Association, acted as toastmaster and cheer leader, assisted by Rev. John B. Kuisley, of DuBois, secretary of the Association. Dr. H. C. Prof. Beilharz presented a play in three acts entitled "Mr. Antonio." In presenting this play he used neither paint nor make-up to portray the different characters, but by simply changing his voice and facial expression he held his audience spell bound from start to finish.

The play, "Mr. Antonio," portrays Antonio, an Italian, who finds Mr. Journee, the mayor of Abatonia, drunk and robbed in a saloon in New York City. He gives him money and clothing and sends him on his way. Antonio

THANKSGIVING

Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day. The majority of us will not be on the campus, but wherever we are, whatever we are doing, we should take time to thank God for the wonderful blessings which have been ours to enjoy for the past year. We should be happy just for the joy of living.

Stories are told of people in foreign countries who are destitute of home and food, people who have no friends, but notwithstanding all these things they are thankful.

An American was found conversing with an old Mexican on a crowded smoking car. As time sped by and station after station was passed the two soon fell into a very deep conversation. It was learned by the American that the only education which this Mexican had acquired was two weeks in night school in Dallas, Texas. But with further conversation, even the Mexican had very little education he portrayed himself to be a fine gentleman and a clear thinker. Finally upon being asked about conditions in Mexico, he replied with sadness in his eyes, "Poor Mexico, if she only had many schools like we have here and a stable government she would be a very wonderful country."

This is a true story, and only goes to show the countless opportunities and advantages which we have that are not found in other countries. We, as college students, in this land of education, enjoy many things of priceless value, things which may seem trivial to us now, but as we go out into the world we will learn of their great value. As this Thanksgiving season comes, let us all stop to ask the question, whether or not we really appreciate everything which comes our way.

MANY PEOPLE HEARD

remembers Mr. Journee to be a respectable man in his own community, and also remembers his being arrested at one time in Abolonia by the mayor for playing a street piano on Sunday. Miss June Ramsey, a hired girl in the house of Mr. Journee, is sent away on account of going to a dance. Mr. Antonio arrives at Abolonia and is threatened of being arrested for playing on the streets on Sunday. Antonio then threatens to tell on the Mayor about his being drunk in New York City. The mayor lets him off. Antonio takes June happily with him and goes to Italy to spend the remainder of his life in ease.

The play is based on the Christian principle of the "Good Samaritan." Those who heard it feel that it was worth their while to hear an entertainment of this kind. Prof. Bellhars must surely have been horn and lived many years among the types of folks he presents from the platform.

spoke as representative of that organization, because it was thru its efforts that the campaign for funds for the erection of the Entrance was put "over the top." He stated several reasons why the Entrance now stands; the reorganization of the Varsity "S" Club as a live wire organization on the campus, the thoughtfulness of Coach Wingard and the many sleepless nights, combined with many days of unceasing labor on the part of Prof. Grossman, the generous contribution of both financial and physical assistance by the student body, and the cooperation in every possible manner given by the faculty. Dr. Aikens, president of Susquehanna, then gave the response in behalf of the University, thanking everyone who had anything to do with the erection of the Entrance.

In dedicating this Entrance to the Little Crusaders, another definite step has been taken in the forward progress of Susquehanna University. The institution is in a stage of growth, and it has golden opportunities at its very door. All that is necessary is that someone should have the key to unlock them, and in the unlocking of these opportunities new possibilities and developments will be seen on the campus leading to the realization of a Greater Susquehanna.

comes to Susquehanna from the Western Theological Seminary, of Seattle, Washington, and is very highly recommended. He is a strong conservative theologian and an excellent teacher.

Time to arrange his affairs at Seattle has caused him to be unable to be on the campus at the beginning of the college year, but his work being completed in the West, he is now ready to take up the duties of his new position, and the student body extends to him a hearty welcome.

minor purpose is to promote a better feeling of friendship among its members. This club does not conflict with any of the fraternities, societies or other organizations of the school, but will rather tend to strengthen and assist them. This organization was born at the dawn of a new era in Susquehanna's history; an era in which a permanent campaign for a better, larger and greater S. U. has just been launched, hence its greatest aim is a natural running mate with the spirit now manifested wherever we find friends of our Alma Mater.

The membership of this club is open to all Master Masons who are either members of the Board of Directors, members of the Faculty, Alumni, including all former students or members of the student body. The Summer School students who are qualified are also eligible for membership, as the club wishes to be representative of the whole University.

This body has a thoroughly active character. It does not have room for graduate, honorary or alumni members in the usual meaning of these terms. All members must be of the positive working type who will hold the high ideals and noble purposes of their organization in mind at all times.

The Masonic Club will keep its charter open until Monday, January 12, 1925, that those eligible may have an opportunity to secure charter membership if they so desire. After that date the charter will be closed and membership will be more difficult to secure, entailing more time, trouble and expense.

Masons of Susquehanna, your Alma Mater is now on the verge of great developments; your aid and co-operation is needed to make these successful; your club stands ready to aid in these movements so your course in the near future should not be of the Fabian nature.

Any mere description of what will be done at this conference would fall altogether to convey the inner spirit and inestimable values of three days of life and study, work and play with Dr. Curry. The Susquehanna Associations have elected Miss Barbara Telfemer as their group leader at these sessions, and the other delegates as elected by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. Music of the evening was supplied by the family of Mr. Earl Thomas, the present holder of the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna scholarship, who by his earnestness and manly conduct has won the admiration of the association. Miss Helen Cole, formerly of the faculty, gave a reading. Gawinski's choir led the assembly in old Susquehanna songs. Rev. Dr. H. C. Michael gave reminiscences of olden days, reading from "The Spike," published in 1898. His closing verse is worthy of publication.

Go, Susquehanna men, go.

Bring honor to her name.
Till everywhere that you have went They're glad that you have come.

President Aikens in the principal address of the evening, gave a brief review of Susquehanna's history and progress, gave details of the present status of affairs and predicted what lay beyond. The association gave a farewell greeting to Rev. C. M. Teufel, who has been called to the church in Newport News, Va. Greetings and good wishes were directed sent to the team in their home-coming game.

DR. KERN ADDRESSED JOINT SESSION OF Y

work of a home missionary has various tasks to consider and to commit ones self to the same as many of the people who settled there came from Southern Russia and had to be served in their own language, which can not be compared with high German. The ancestors of these people had moved from Germany in 1758 under the reign of Catherine the Great, to Russia, in order to cultivate the tremendous fertile grounds of the Volga River valley. In the run of time their charters for liberty and appreciations for service were under the absolutistic government nullified and a hard persecution was their reward. Under various hardships and pressure thousands of these people left the country secretly during the night, abandoning their homes and friends and found new engagements for life and an industry in the prairies of their beloved country.

According to the statistics between the years of 1898-1906 nearly a half million of those people have settled down west of the Mississippi and in cooperation with other laborous emigrants transformed great prairies into inviting farm countries with a certain sacrifice which is seldom known.

The speaker invited his audience to different pictures which were the experience of a Lutheran missionary; not only the spiritual life demanded his time and effort, his help and preparation, as his congregations were small but large in number. His parish extended over a territory of 350 miles long and 85 wide. It became necessary to hold services every evening of the week in several of the churches and the sermons not shorter than an hour and a half. During the day it became necessary for the missionary to do public school teaching to have these people better acquainted and at home for those principles of which the United States stands for. Many odd features and occurrences brought certain vitality and life to such men, but those things had to be overcome as every moment had another invitation for work. As such the pastor had to work as agent for the government, as teacher in the schools, as nurse at the sick bed, as builder in erecting houses and last but not least as private adviser in different questions. The work of a home missionary in this field was not an easy task by any means, but had its joys and rewards in this great service of a love for others which is greater than the measure of man's mind.

The Rev. W. J. Shultz, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church at Espy, will speak on Tuesday evening, November 25th.

PARTY ENJOYED BY SEMINARY STUDENTS

began the program of the evening by welcoming the theological students and their friends. He thereupon passed among the august members of the assembly twenty of the famed Bostonian vegetable, dried and neatly enclosed in an envelope, on each side of which was written the negative and affirmative terms of everyday speech. He next informed the assembly that upon every occasion they should use the envelope as their means of communication when either the affirmative or negative particles were to be used, and also as a penalty for every time they failed to use this means of communication they would forfeit one bean to the person addressed; the idea of the game being the acquisition of the greatest number of beans.

Armed with a tooth pick, two sticks of Black Jack chewing gum, a pencil and cardholder, the party next contested for a competitive prize. The aim of each one was to reproduce from memory or imagination some image by the use of the above named implements. The reproductions were placed on exhibit and passed upon by competent judges, by whom the prize was also awarded.

The brethren were then called upon to reflect and remark upon the merits of the occasion. Everyone, by word of mouth, admitted that it was a "solemn occasion," but neither by dint of force of will or otherwise were they able to materialize what they by common assent adjudged.

And so the evening went very pleasantly. Solos by Miss Ruth Hermann, of Selingsgrove, added materially to the evening's events. Mr. Beard, a junior in the Seminary played to the accompaniment of the theological psalmists while social groups huddled in cozy corners. Quips and chirps from the Seminary whiffs filled the air while merry laughter pervaded the whole assembly.

Mrs. Sadtler was not to be outdone by the Doctor in the entertainment for, as characteristic of all women, she satiated watery tongues and sugary teeth. At the lead of a group of explorers Dr. Sadtler showed his deep interest in antiques and a deeper interest in the practical and present issues of life. He uncovered some very precious family relics and opened his study to the view of many an eager pair of eyes. His sister, an ex-missionary to India entertained many by relating experiences in the Mission work and by explaining many Indian scenes.

The brethren finally concluded they had received a sufficient amount of relaxation from the strenuous daily tasks of the Seminary and one and all thanking Dr. Sadtler for his hospitality began to marshal forces for the utterance of the legendary Hebrew yell. With a will it was given, everyone realizing they had spent a fine evening for a very fine purpose and had received a manifold return for their expenditure. With a final adieu they returned to the campus exceedingly hilarious, even so much so that some students in the dormitories wondered what Freshmen were being hazed that night.

was played. The Sophomores were determined that they would win and the Freshmen were determined that the Sophs should not. The result was that an exceptionally good game was played by all members on both teams. But hard as the Sophs tried, the Frosh scored two points and they none.

It seemed perfectly fair that each team should win one game, but the third game was to determine which team would win the cup. Both teams were out full force, and they both played very hard. For a time it was hard to tell which team would win. The ball was taken back and forth over the field several times before either team scored. However, the Sophomores excelled the Freshmen and brought the score up to 2-0 in their favor, giving them the trophy. Every Freshman and every Sophomore were very enthusiastic thruout the entire game. Those who couldn't play showed splendid class spirit with their yells and cheers.

Much credit should be given both teams for their wonderful spirit and pluck. Miss Reeder should also have due credit on account of her proving herself to be an excellent coach. She drilled the girls not only during the gym period, but also gave much of her extra time for this purpose.

that the Freshman team played one of their best games of the season. Every guy went into the game with a determination to do her best, and when the whistle blew each girl knew that her efforts had not been in vain.

Both teams can be commended for the splendid game they played under the undesirable conditions.

FIRST "SUSQUEHANNA NIGHT" CELEBRATED

by floats, etc., following. The predominating spirit of the parade was to represent the modern Crusaders. Red and green fire torches were used, producing a beautiful lighting effect. At the public square the parade assembled for cheering which was nobly conducted by Head Cheer Leader Klink and his cheer leading squad, which raised the enthusiasm of the crowd to its highest pitch.

The parade headed by the band and followed by many townspeople made its way to the gymnasium, where an organized meeting was held in honor of "Susquehanna Night."

The meeting was opened with a cheer for Coach Wingard, after which Samuel Sigler, president of the athletic board, gave a talk in which he stated that the aim of the meeting was to produce a bigger and better Susquehanna. Roger Blough, secretary of the "S" Club, was then introduced as one of the Crusaders and spoke upon the advancement which Susquehanna has made athletically since 1918. Dr. H. A. Allison, professor of History, spoke upon the merits of the present physical director, Prof. L. D. Grossman, stating that altho he had never received a Varsity "S" at Susquehanna, but due to the improvements and great stride which he has brought about in athletics at S. U., the board decided that he was deserving the right to wear a letter. Dr. Allison here presented him with a maroon sweater with an orange S upon it. Prof. Grossman, Coach Wingard, Rev. Sanford Carpenter, of Johnstown, and Dr. Wm. S. Ulrich, of Minneapolis, Minn., then spoke in the order presented, stating their views on the future welfare of the institution.

A motion was then presented by Newton Catherman, of Selingsgrove, to organize a Boosters Club, with an executive committee consisting of six alumni members, three of these to be from Selingsgrove, two faculty members and one member of the student body; for the purpose of securing 500 new students and to boost Susquehanna generally.

The committee stands as follows: Dr. C. A. Fisher, Dr. H. A. Allison, Coach Ed. Wingard, Prof. L. D. Grossman, Newton Catherman, all of Selingsgrove; Prof. N. A. Danowsky, Northumberland; Rev. S. N. Carpenter, Johnstown; Rev. Wilson P. Ard, Bellefonte; Roger Blough, Johnstown.

The meeting was fittingly closed by appropriate cheers. Let it be hoped that the spirit instilled by the first "Susquehanna Night" will be a source of inspiration to every true "Son of Susquehanna" toward greater things in the future.

of the second half the Crusaders continued to hold the upper hand, but shortly thereafter the locals were weakened by injuries to several men, necessitating their removal from the game. The substitutes tried hard, but they were unable to stop the onslaught of the Ursinus lads and Susquehanna was forced to how to defeat. Altho she was beaten Susquehanna continually threatened the Ursinus goals as a result of blocking several kicks and completing long passes. A detailed account of the game follows:

First Quarter
Ursinus kicked off to Susquehanna; Groce received and carried the ball for fifteen yards; Dodd off left end one yard; Bolig punted; Ursinus fumbled and Blough recovered on the 40 yard line; Dodd one yard off tackle; Groce one yard thru center on back; Bolig kicked to Ursinus, Thomas fell on it; Ursinus kicked on the first down; Bolig received on the 40 yard line; Thomas two yards off right end; Dodd no gain thru line; Groce four yards off tackle; Bolig goes back to drop kick; Ursinus' ball on 10 yard line; Ursinus no gain thru line; Ursinus punted to Bolig on 45 yard line; Bolig passes, Ursinus intercepts and fumbles, Bolig recovered; Thomas completes pass, Bolig to Thomas for thirty yards; Bolig hit off tackle; Groce no gain off tackle, Bolig tries for drop kick; Ursinus received, tackled on 15 yard line; Ursinus four yards thru line; no gain thru line; penalty, Susquehanna offside; Blough smears tackle play; Ursinus completed pass; no gain thru line; one yard off left end; no gain thru center; Ursinus kicked to Bolig on 30 yard line; Groce three yards off tackle; Stuemple one yard thru center; Bolig threw pass, Ursinus intercepted; penalty fifteen yards for holding; Ursinus completed pass, Dodd broke up long pass. Score 0-0.

Second Quarter
Ursinus' ball on 20 yard line; Ursinus drop kicked, Hartman blocked and recovered on 40 yard line. Thomas. Concluded on Page 4

Ursinus kicked to Stuenpfle, Susquehanna's ball; Ursinus intercepted pass, Ursinus' ball; Weaver smeared tackle play; Ursinus punted, Susquehanna blocked, and Hartman recovered for a touchdown. Bolig made extra point. Score 7-0. Ursinus kicked off to Susquehanna, Dodd received and carried the ball ten yards; Dodd five yards off tackle; one yard thru line; penalty offside; Groce punted out of bounds, Ursinus' ball, incomplete pass; completed pass for twenty yards. Score, Ursinus 0, Susquehanna 7.

Third Quarter

Susquehanna kicked off to Ursinus on the 25 yard line; loss off tackle, two yards off left tackle; Ursinus kicked to Stuenpfle on 48 yard line; Groce two yards on line buck; Steigle no gain off left end, same off right end. Susquehanna kicked to Ursinus; no gain off end; twenty yards off left end; fumbled but recovered; thirty yards thru line; no gain thru line; three yards thru line; incomplete pass; ten yards around end on double pass; four yards thru line, score 7-7. Susquehanna kicked off to Ursinus on the 25 yard line; five yards thru tackle; off tackle for first down; incomplete pass; thirty yards thru line; two yards thru center, touchdown. Score, Ursinus 14, Susquehanna 7.

Susquehanna kicked off on the 45 yard line; Ursinus' ball on the 20 yard line; six yards off tackle; three yards off tackle.

Fourth Quarter

Ursinus in possession of ball; penalty, offside; two yards off left end; Thomas blocked punt and recovered; Steigle no gain off end; Thomas ten yards off triple pass; incomplete pass; Ursinus' ball on 3 yard line; no gain thru line; eight yards off tackle; thru center for first down; ten yards off right end; thirty yards thru line; two yards on open formation off tackle for first down; eight yards thru line; twelve yards thru center; no gain thru tackle; no gain thru center; held for downs on 3 yard line, Susquehanna's ball; Bolig kicked, Ursinus' ball on 40 yard line; Ursinus thrown for loss; incomplete pass; penalty five yards; fifteen yards around right end; touchdown off end on hidden ball trick. Score 21-7.

Ursinus kicked off to Susquehanna; Pratt carried the ball twenty yards; tackled behind line; incomplete pass; complete pass for fifty yards, Bolig to Thomas; incomplete pass; intercepted pass. Score, Ursinus 21, Susquehanna 7.

Altho beaten in the final game of the season, Susquehanna does not count her season a failure. Few victories were won, but in practically every game the locals forced their heavier opponents to their utmost to win. The victory over Juniata was the crowning event of the season, and was the game which the locals were most desirous of winning. Instead of being downhearted in any respect Susquehanna is already looking ahead in the expectation of a banner season in 1925.

The Ursinus game marked the closing of the football careers of many Susquehanna players. The regulars, who have played their last game under local colors are Barnes and Hartman, a pair of linemen who have fought side by side for the past two seasons; Blough is lost from the other side of the line; Thomas, an end, has also played his final game; Nipple and Bullock, capable linemen, have given much service when called upon and will be missed during the next campaign.

S. U. Preparing for Basketball Season

FIRST CALL FOR CANDIDATES ISSUED TWO WEEKS AGO WHEN MANY MEN REPORTED TO COACHES FOLLMER AND BANNON. PROSPECTS BRIGHT

With the close of football season, all eyes are turned toward the prospects of Susquehanna's basketball team for the coming season. The first call for candidates was issued two weeks ago and found many responding. The squad was greatly augmented after Thanksgiving, when the majority of the football men reported to the coaches. The squad has been working hard under the capable instruction of Coaches Follmer and Bannon.

Prospects for the coming season are exceedingly bright, as several veterans are back and will be ably supported by the prep school stars who are among the new men. Four varsity men from last year have returned, they being Bolig, Brown, Kurtz and Thomas. Among the other candidates "Newt" Hanner and "Abe" Martin, star forwards of last year's Junior class team, are showing up well. "Larry" Dodd, is a greatly improved tosser, and will be heard from. Some of the new men who are showing up well are Young, Kinsey, Hanner, Duden, Vorlage, Shue, Haney, Shuntile and Weaver.

The big problem before the coaches is to find a center who will fill the shoes of Rogie, star center for the past four years. Leading candidates for the position are Brown, Duden and Haney. The many forward and guard candidates assure local fans that those positions will be well taken care of.

ALPHA SIGMA OMEGA HELD ALUMNI DAY RECEPTION

The Alumni Day reception held by Alpha Sigma Omega Fraternity at their home on November 22 was if anything, more than an ordinary success.

When the rhythmic strains of the able music makers began, the couples had already been assembled in happy anticipation of the event. Pretty faces, light laughter, happy association and good fun characterized the evening's festivities. The decorations were skillfully arranged and caused much comment for the guests.

As the time for departing drew nigh and Mrs. Kimble performed her duty in collecting her fair charges, happy tho' tired, they reluctantly journeyed to Selbert Hall to dream of an evening joyously spent.

EPSILON SIGMA FRATERNITY HELD ANNUAL ALUMNI PARTY

The Epsilon Sigma fraternity entertained at its annual Alumni Party on Saturday evening, November 22nd, at its home on Walnut street. The house was very artistically decorated with the college colors, Orange and Maroon being appropriate in every manner. The music rendered by the Orange and Maroon orchestra added much to the spirit of the occasion. When the hour for departure drew near the guests and friends expressed their appreciation of having spent an enjoyable evening which was brought to a close only too soon by fleeting time.

MAIL PACKAGES EARLY

One of the important features in the Shop Early, Mail Early campaign, which is being put on thruout the country by the Postoffice Department, is the proper addressing and securely wrapping of Xmas packages. When you wrap your Christmas packages, wrap them securely, put your address in the upper left corner, so, if by any chance, it should go astray, it can be returned to you and not sent to the dead letter office. The good folks of our community last year helped to bring joy and happiness to hundreds of thousands of postmen and clerks. Let's do our shopping early and mailing early again this year.

SOPHOMORE CALENDARS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

The Sophomore Calendar of Susquehanna University, which is published annually by the Sophomore class, is now on sale and can be procured from any member of the 1927 class.

This issue of the calendar is somewhat different from the calendar of former years and is without a doubt the best ever published. The cover is of maroon leather, and has six pages which contain cuts of the University buildings, together with cuts of the athletic and musical organizations.

This publications is under the direction of Eugene Adams as editor, and Franklin G. Stover as business manager, who merit much credit for their efforts. It will be attempted to distribute approximately three hundred copies among students and friends. This many must be sold or it will be Concluded on Page 3

"Ernie" Stuempfle Elected Captain

SUSQUEHANNA'S VERSATILE QUARTERBACK TO PILOT 1925 FOOTBALL SQUAD. JOHN SPIGELMYER ELECTED TO THE POSITION OF MANAGER

At a recent meeting of the varsity football letter men, "Ernie" Stuempfle, versatile quarterback of the last three seasons, was elected to captain the 1925 football squad.

"Ernie" has proven to be one of Susquehanna's best, and is deserving of the great honor thus bestowed upon him by his team mates. In his Freshman year "Ernie" became a regular in mid-season and has been the regular signal caller ever since. As a Sophomore he won the distinction of playing thruout the entire season without missing a single minute of play. During the past season "Ernie" was injured in the Juniata fray, but came back in time to play a phenomenal game against Ursinus.

At the same time John Spigelmeyer was elected manager of the squad and he is certainly deserving of the honor, as he has worked very faithfully. With "Spig" in charge the next gridiron team will be well taken care of. As assistants he will have "Bill" Drubaker and Franklin Stover.

SUSQUEHANNA vs. SUSQUEHANNA

In November 15th Susquehanna met Susquehanna on the football field in the persons of C. J. Rogowitz (Rogie), '24, and Thomas Ramer, '23, thru their high school teams, Pottsville and Coal-dale, respectively.

In a recent issue of The Susquehanna "Tom" stated his anticipation of a victory over "Rogie," so the latter set about to reverse the statement, which he did, 12-7. Both "Rogie" and "Tom" are veteran gridmen of S. U. and have creditable records, the former being captain of the team for two seasons. They are now teaching and coaching in the same county and, no doubt, all athletic contests between their teams will be close and hard fought, and victory sweet to the winner.

"Tom" has had a year's lead on "Rogie," but by all indications "Rogie" has not let any grass grow under his feet.

It appears that the new Crusaders next fall from that section will already have had the Susquehanna spirit.

ELECTION FOR MANAGERS

An election will be held for the following managerial offices Wednesday morning, Dec. 10, immediately following Chapel:

Two asst. Tennis managers, Junior. Two asst. Track Managers, Junior. Four sub-asst. Base Ball managers, Sophomore.

Four sub-asst. Foot Ball managers, Freshman.

Coupon Number 28 will be used as a ballot.

THE AMERICAN CAMPUS MAKES DEBUT AS NATIONAL COLLEGE MAGAZINE

The American Campus, "a monthly review of college life and comment," is the name of a new publication whose initial number was received by The Susquehanna today.

The purpose of this new magazine, according to its announcement, is to present a condensed and colorful, month by month, news and literary review of college happenings—to collect, condense, classify and set forth briefly the most interesting events, thoughts and trends moving across 500 American campuses. Its editorial staff is comprised of a group of experienced college men, chosen from all sections of the country.

Its December number contains a great variety of news and feature articles. Subjects range from "Girls Who Go Unkissed," to "Automobiles at College." Some of the more than fifty articles discuss:

Does a College Training Pay? To Queen or Not to Queen? Students Who Earn Their Way, Passing of Joseph Conrad, Woodrow Wilson at College, Poetry in Southwest, On the Drama, Best Book Reviews, Selected Editors, Humor and Sports.

Pro and con discussion of "Should Freshmen be Hazed?" and "Do Fraternities Help or Hinder?" will feature the January issue.

The address of the magazine is Box 385 Grand Central Station New York City, and its price is four issues for a dollar, by mail.

FORMER S. U. STUDENT UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Maria Newman Geiselman, an alumna of Susquehanna, and Eric Verner Gabrailson, of York, were married here Saturday afternoon at the West Walnut street home of the bride's uncle, Rev. Dr. Charles T. Aikens and Mrs. Aikens.

The ceremony was performed by President Aikens. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Grace A. Geiselman, also a Susquehanna alumna, as maid of honor. The best man was David Ott, of Johnstown. The wedding march was played by Mrs. S. A. Geiselman, wife of the bride's brother.

The bride made many friends in Selingsgrove during her years at Susquehanna, all of whom join in wishing her much happiness. After their honeymoon tour of New England, Mr. and Mrs. Gabrailson will be at home in Hanover.

Alpha Sigma Omega Host At Banquet

SECOND ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET WAS GIVEN IN HONOR OF THE VARSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD BY LOCAL FRATERNITY ON FRIDAY EVENING, DEC. 5

The second annual Football Banquet was given in honor of the varsity football squad by Alpha Sigma Omega Fraternity at its fraternity home, 308 Walnut street, Friday evening, December 5, 1924.

At 8:15 23 guests, consisting of the varsity squad, Head Coach Wingard, Assistant Coach Bannon, Director of Athletics Grossman, Uncle Frank, the property man, and Dr. Houtz, who later acted as toast master, surrounded the banquet table. The whole roast pig and the good things that went with it quickly disappeared in true football fashion and proved that Mother Zellner's ability as a good cook is by no means to be questioned. To Robert J. Keeler, the fraternity caterer goes the credit for the general arrangement of the affair, which was performed in a very satisfactory and up-to-date manner. Musical inspiration was furnished by Pat. Clemens and his college orchestra, which liberally played popular numbers during the banquetting and thereby helped to digest the victuals partaken.

After all stomachs were fully satisfied, Dr. Houtz, the toast master, made a few remarks in regard to football and called upon others to speak, the first of which was Prof. Grossman, who spoke on the subject of Susquehanna's standing in the athletic world. Coach Wingard spoke principally on plans for the 1925 season. Assistant Coach Bannon spoke on the difference it makes to one to sit on the sidelines instead of playing. Captain Gordon extended his greetings and best wishes to the next year's captain, Stuempfle, who accepted the same with a short speech. The retiring members of the squad, those who will be lost by graduation, namely, Thomas, Barnes, Hartman, Nipple, Bullock, Blough, in turn made short speeches, expressing their intention of continuing to boost Susquehanna in every possible way. Uncle Frank, when called upon, gave a toast of good friendship, after which the banquet was adjourned by giving a few cheers and singing the Alma Mater.

To Alpha Sigma Omega goes the honor of giving both the first and second annual football banquets. Much credit is due this fraternity for its initiative along this line. It is positive that the fraternity's efforts are appreciated by all true friends of Susquehanna.

Trinity Lutheran choir will hold a Christmas cantata, "The Morn of Glory," on Sunday evening, December 14, at 7 o'clock.

Alumni Formed Library Club

NEW ORGANIZATION FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF SUSQUEHANNA IS LIBRARY CLUB. EACH MEMBER JOINING AGREES TO PROVIDE ONE BOOK ANNUALLY

Most recent of the various organizations looking for the improvement of Susquehanna is the Susquehanna Library Club. This club, organized recently by three recent alumni of the University, aims to operate among the alumni, under-graduate body, and friends of Susquehanna, with the sole objective of building up a better and larger supply of books of standard authorship, making possible more and deeper research work. Each member joining the club agrees to provide one book annually in whatever field of study the donor may choose. Record will be kept of all books received from club members, and published from time to time. Follows the list of members to date:

Rev. L. G. Shannon, Psychology; Wm. T. Decker, Sociology; Rev. J. P. Harman, History; Rev. H. E. Harman, History; Rev. Chas. T. Aikens, D. D.; Rev. Frank P. Manhart, D. D.; Geo. B. Manhart, Ph. BOND AND KEY CLUB HELD BANQUET FOR THE ALUMNI

Bond and Key Club held a most successful banquet for the old grad members Alumni Day in their new dining hall. Heavily laden tables were the inspiration for the pouring out of fond S. U. recollections. Frank Faust of the class of '17 acted as toastmaster for the occasion.

Susquehanna spirit was at its height during the entire evening, and in closing the Alma Mater was sung with great zeal and enthusiasm.

The following alumni and honorary members were present: Prof. Frank Faust, Prof. Paul Faust, William Gortner, Ralph Witmer, Rev. Lester Shannon, Rev. Elwood Swope, Rev. Guy Middeworth, Rev. Walter Brown, Rev. B. I. Peters, Hon. D. R. Perry, Esq., Prof. J. Campbell Coons, Prof. Lloyd Long, Dr. Woodruff and Prof. Keener.

MOST SACRED PLACES

Not only Palestine, the gathering place of many globe trotters, contains sacred places. The world is full of them. Who can forget the Campo santo from Genoa, a most picturesque place, where art and surrounding vicinity have given their best to make the resting place of many hygone centuries a sacred place. Even in Nizza is a sacred place, where the stranger enters with the most queer feeling. There is grave on grave which is not unusual, but those bodies who were laid away ended their own life. Here is the truth only too true oh vanity of vanities.

Our country has also many places where the nation gathers from time all the attention of the world. All the wheels of business stop-another one, a hero, an American, is laid aside from the last bugle call in Arlington. Is not every mother and father a hero, was not every person who fought the battle of life with love and energy a hero? Maybe no monument will proclaim who have after them the great personality, because he or she was one of many. But the ground in which they are laid is holy-sacred, most sacred. A nation which forgets its ancestors is soon balanced and lives no more in the annals of World History. Honor thy father and mother, that thou livest long in the land which the Lord thy God givest thee.

My dear reader-Just listen and think it over. Around us are many cemeteries, the flower gardens of love of this vicinity. The people, the fathers and mothers who have toiled here on this earth of ours are still beloved to them, who buried them; shall we go to their graves and plant hate or curse like vandals have done?

No, that cannot be done, or would you like to have your father's or mothers' or teacher's grave be the place of a joke?

Can I safely say that was never done? Can I say we always speak reverently of such most sacred places? Oh please never again it hurts them and later you. Like crusaders, and they sacrificed to protect the holy graves-we are crusaders and every grave is sacred unto us.

AN AWAKENING

Susquehanna University has recently enjoyed one of the rarest treats in its history. You, who read this, have had the privilege of witnessing one of the greatest Christian efforts ever carried on upon the campus.

Those who have inspired us with greater realities have left us, and now it is up to us to "carry on." There seemed to be some misunderstanding as to the reason for these men and women coming here and giving a little bit of their life to us. They did not come because they think that the problems are all settled on the State College campus, but they came because they were invited to come to share with us the realities which they have experienced in dealing with exactly the same problems which exist on the Susquehanna campus.

Yes, these fine men and women have left us, answering their call to service in another field. But are we going to fall now? Are we going to stop working because they have stopped in our particular field?

This effort has met with various opposition. Some years ago the athletic director was laughed at because he had a dream of a bigger and better Susquehanna thru athletic relationships. His plan met with opposition, but today we glory in the fact that we are one of the first colleges which has a clean athletic program. Prof. Grossman's dream has come true. It culminated in the dedication of an entrance to the Athletic Field some few weeks ago, the inscription upon the entrance reading, "May the best man win." He stood for a right principle. He met opposition. But because he was firm in his convictions his dream has become a reality. Again we can go back much farther. Two thousand years ago Jesus Christ was crucified because he stood for what was right. Some of us still crucify Him. Some of us have crucified Him. But remember that there will be a resurrection. The efforts of the past week may have been crucified, but it is up to us to see that there is a resurrection.

The banner has been nailed to the staff. Are we going to keep it there, raised aloft, ever leading up higher, or are we going to lower it? We have been awakened but we must keep awake. We must carry on in the weeks and months to come, ever remembering that it is up to us as individuals to live the proper Christian life.

Article VII

Eligibility

Section 1. (a) No student shall be eligible to represent Susquehanna who has not registered at the opening of the semester or within ten days thereafter, who is not an Active Member of the Association, who is not an amateur, who is not in good scholastic standing, who is under discipline, who holds a degree from any institution recognized as a college or university by the Carnegie Foundation, or who is a student in a professional school of graduate standing.

(b) No student who has represented one college, or university, in athletics as a member of a college or university team, and who transfers to Susquehanna University, shall be eligible to represent Susquehanna in athletics until after he has been in residence at least a full college year, and has earned credit for a full year of scholastic college work.

(c) No student shall be eligible to represent Susquehanna University in athletics who shall have played, while a student at the University, professional or semi-professional base or football, unless he shall have secured in writing from the Athletic Board, permission to do so.

Note: For definition or principles of Amateur sport see Appendix.

Article VIII

General Regulations for the Awarding of Insignia

Section 1. Committees. All committees as hereinafter provided for the awarding of insignia shall be responsible to the Athletic Board.

Section 2. Varsity Letters. The Varsity S for all branches of athletics shall be as follows: Football, an eight (8) inch orange, block letter; Basketball, a six (6) inch orange, block letter; Baseball, a five (5) inch, block letter; Track, a five (5) inch orange, block letter; Tennis, a four (4) inch orange, block letter.

(h) Each man receiving a Varsity S shall receive a certificate attesting the same and signed by the College President, Professor of Physical Education and Captain of the sport in which the letter was awarded.

Section 3. Class Numerals. In each sport the class numerals shall be identical in color and style. The numerals shall be plain Arabic, 3/4 inches high.

(b) Each man receiving his class numerals shall also receive a certificate.

Sense and Nonsense

Somebody said that it couldn't be done, but it is finished, and that on schedule time. Our new entrance is a lesson in itself or, better still, it is a number of lessons. First of all, it is a reward of thinking. Someone had an idea, had a mental picture of a much needed addition to the Athletic Field, and now that idea is a reality. Secondly the entrance is the reward of hard concentrated action on the part of several and particularly one individual. Thirty days is all the time it took to change from the commonplace to the beautiful, and while the majority of the students take it as the everyday thing, certainly those individuals directly responsible for the change have every reason to feel well satisfied.

Some men are naturally born to instill pep and enthusiasm in other men. They are born real leaders and are not content until they are at the head of some good movement, pushing with all their might. The individuals who originated the S. U. Booster organization are just such men. The idea was not conceived over night or on the spur of the moment, but it was the result of an attempt to meet a real need. The time and conditions at S. U. needs just such an organization. There are too many things that are just allowed to run until they wear themselves out and die a natural death. Instead of this program of things there should be a go-and-get-the-needs spirit and it is for this purpose the Booster Club has apparently been organized. Watch the Club. It cannot help but accomplish good. The personnel of the executive committee is ample proof for the statement.

Isn't it a pleasure to meet a knocker? Reference is made to the wooden or brass knockers found on some doors. They have some use. Still there is a remarkable similarity between the useful and the human kinds, for the human knocker surely has a head of wood and certainly uses plenty of brass in his knocking. His preverted mentality seems to find a great pleasure in dragging a little deeper into the mire anything that does not please what sense he forces himself into believing he possesses. It doesn't matter a rap if the thing he knocks has not had a fair trial, if he has not made an investigation and learned the facts concerned, if a hundred million other people support the thing and he opposes it, if he cannot and does not attempt to offer a more feasible plan of procedure, all these do not matter so long as the knocker feels like knocking. His motto is "What I don't like, is not right," his campaign slogan is "Keep knocking," and his total usefulness is a minus quantity. It certainly is a pleasure to meet a knocker and the next time it happens, grasp the opportunity, give him some of his own medicine, and do not forget to KNOCK him hard.

ate attesting the same, signed by the Professor of Physical Education and Captain of the sport in which the numeral was awarded.

(c) Numerals shall be awarded by the same committee that awards the S in each sport. Numerals shall not be awarded in any sport to a man who has received his S during that season in the sport.

Section 4. Special Awards. (a) Student Managers shall be given the S of their respective sport with a small M placed upon the middle bar of the S.

(b) The Cheer Leader may upon vote of the Athletic Association be awarded a suitable gold charm properly engraved.

(c) Any athlete who has won the Varsity S three years in succession, in one or more sports, shall be awarded, upon graduation, a gold trophy of a sport in which the S was won, with a maroon S placed thereon.

(d) Any athlete who has won the Varsity S in three major sports shall be awarded, upon graduation, a white V neck sweater with a seven (7) inch maroon S placed thereon.

Barnes and Fopeano spent the week-end at their homes in Middleburg.

Vorlage entertained friends from Bucknell on Saturday.

Lutz spent Saturday and Sunday under the parental roof at Mt. Union.

Kniesly spent the week-end at his home in Newport.

Rokowicz spent some time on the campus on Saturday.

SEMINARY

Cole, '25, has supplied in the Millville charge for the last two Sabbaths.

Sigler, '25, preached in Vernon Naugle's church in Berwick on Sunday.

Groninger, '25, returned home to supply his regular charge at Killinger.

Bingaman, '25, has been absent from classes for a season. We suppose he is attending the centennial convention of the Lizard Run Township Primary Dep't.

The men in the Seminary have been voicing many very favorable sentiments concerning their new instructor, Dr. Kretschman. We were told, before his arrival, that he was a consecrated teacher and every inch a gentleman; now we believe it, not because we were told by another, but because we have seen for ourselves.

Johns, '27, led the devotional services in the First Lutheran Church on Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Beck, who is teaching Homeletics to the Junior class, is opening this opportunity to all the members of the class in order to initiate them into the experience of conducting the church services. The week previous to Thanksgiving vacation the services were conducted by Blair Harmon. The week preceding they were read by Andrew Beahm. Next week they will be under the direction of another of the class.

Hanks, '26, again put forth from the shores of his native land, endangering his life upon the broad and gleaming waters of the majestic Susquehanna with nothing between him and the angry waters but the Hoover's Island Rapid Transit, in the quest of starting his wife in the regions of Dalmatia with his darling.

Ridenour, '25, attended some auction sales in the rural districts on Saturday. The country folk were very suspicious of his presence, manifesting the same by many sidewise glances and by a constant watch of his person wherever he would go. We do not know how well their suspicions may have been founded, but it is a general axiom that country people have pretty good intuitions.

EXCHANGE

NEITHER CAN WIN

When Cornell debates Colgate on October 31, one member of the Ithacan team will advance the merits of Coolidge as a candidate for the presidency, another will speak for Davis, and the third for LaFollette. The Colgate team will make a similar division. At the close of the debate, the audience will vote on the respective candidates as influenced by the discussion of the speakers.

Ursinus College can be given much credit for the inducements given to students who desire a college education, as twenty-eight per cent of the student body have direct self-help jobs. Of the 273 students enrolled in that college, seventy-six have direct self-help jobs; of the seventy-six, seventy are boys and six are girls.

Columbia suffered a great loss in the death of Percy D. Haughton, who was head coach of football, and who was bringing Columbia to the forefront in the recognition of her growing strength. Susquehanna extends her deepest sympathy to all those directly affected by his sudden death.

ALUMNI

Rev. H. Clay Bergstresser, '17, has announced his resignation to the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, of Littlestown. At a recent meeting of the Trinity Evangelical Church, of Hazleton, he was unanimously elected pastor to that church. He will begin his labors in his new charge this month. Rev. Bergstresser will succeed Rev. John Wagner, D. D., who has retired from the active ministry.

Claude Gitt Aikens is the proud father of an eleven pound baby girl. This event was celebrated by indulging in a roast turkey dinner, at which Dr. Aikens, the president of Susquehanna, was attendant.

The contributions to the Dr. Floyd Memorial are still increasing in number. Rev. D. C. Baer has been receiving the contributions. Many letters expressing favorable comment upon the securing of such a memorial portrait have been received. The contributors up to the present time have been A. W. Smith, H. R. Shippey, J. P. Harmon, F. R. Manhart, I. W. Bingaman, M. J. Ross, M. C. Drumm, J. M. Ueber, Fred Crossland, Dr. A. W. Ahl, W. E. Sunday, C. R. Allenbach, R. F. Steininger, W. J. Schultz, P. H. Stahl, C. R. James, T. B. Ueber, M. R. Gortner, J. D. Curran, J. E. Reish, R. N. Stump.

Miss Ruth Cassler, a former Susquehanna student and secretary to President Aikens, is now assistant cashier in the People's National Bank of State College. Miss Cassler is enjoying a leave of absence, visiting friends in California during the month of December.

Miss Margaret Swartz, ex-'24, of State College, has taken a position in the First National Bank of State College.

Mrs. J. Randall Miller, nee "Ted" McCormick, '16, of Millheim, was elected secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania at its recent meeting in St. John's Lutheran Church of Williamsport, Rev. A. W. Smith, '14 and '17, pastor.

Rev. W. P. Ard, '15 and '18, of Bellefonte, is serving as president of the Kiwanis Club of that cultured county seat. Rev. Ard represented his organization at the National Kiwanis Convention, held recently in Denver, Colorado.

Rev. J. F. Harkins, '15 and '18, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church of State College, and Lutheran student pastor of Pennsylvania State College, will hold a banquet in his church for the 450 Lutheran students in the college Friday evening, December 5th. Prof. N. N. Keener will be the chief speaker.

Rev. C. E. Naugle shot a ten-point buck, weighing 180 pounds last week, while on a hunting trip. He also got the limit of cottontails this season.

Artificial lightning was first publicly demonstrated on June 5, 1923, in the laboratory of the General Electric Company at Pittsfield, Mass., when a two-million-volt spark crashed into this miniature village

What's the use of artificial lightning?

It is mainly experimental, aiding General Electric scientists to solve high power transmission problems. Many such experiments yield no immediate return.

But in the long run this work is practical and important. It is part of the study which must go on unceasingly if this powerful force, Electricity, is to be fully tamed and enlisted in your service.

Experiments like these are particularly thrilling and important to young men and women, who will live in an age when electricity will perform most of life's hardest tasks. Know what the research laboratories of the General Electric Company are doing; they are a telescope through which you can see the future!

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

About The Campus

NEW CLUB

There is and has been at S. U. for some time the need of a department of art. But the facilities are limited and there is very little opportunity, due to the location to make use of one of the existing museums. We have here very efficient departments in literature, science and business, which are fundamental to broad understanding, but accomplish very little in the way of developing the sense of the beautiful. This esthetic appreciation is just as essential to harmonious and symmetrical education as any of the other branches. To fill this very aching void in our curriculum, it is proposed that a club be formed for the express purpose of studying art. It is to be called "Friends of Fine Arts." The project can be put thru in good time with the co-operation of all those interested.

The purpose of this club has been stated is to fill the need of an Art department, broaden our range of activity and teach all those interested the meaning and true value of art. It will be valuable in pointing out the beauty in the things of nature which ordinarily escape our notice, as well as in training its members to criticize and appreciate the paintings and sculpture which come under their observation. It is not, however, the purpose of this organization to be responsible for social intercourse other than that which is incidental to its original purpose.

According to present plans, it is impossible for this activity to trespass on the rights of any other, since all the time taken will be Saturdays or holidays, when the students are under obligation to no regular program. Thus will be eliminated the objection that students are doing injustice to their work for the sake of extra activity. The territory to be covered is included within a radius of fifty miles. This insures small expenses and does not hamper the body by scarcity of subjects for study. It is proposed to have a meeting of the club on Monday evening once every month. The first part shall be devoted to the transaction of business. The second part shall be used in the study of a painting or piece of sculpture or example of architecture. It is proposed that the membership be limited to fifty persons.

In view of the fact that there has never been this opportunity before and that it is a thing so badly needed to really complete our education as far as it can go here, let each one foster the idea till it is a well established fact. The undertaking does not require the opposition of bigoted persons for the accomplishment of selfish ends.

MY APRIL LADY

When down the stairs at morning
The sunbeams round her float.
Sweet little rivulets of laughter
Are rippling in her throat;
The gladness of her greeting
Is gold without alloy;
And in the morning sunlight
I think her name is Joy.

When in the evening twilight

The quiet book-room lies,
We read the sad old ballads,
While from her hidden eyes
The tears are falling, falling.
That give her heart relief:
And in the evening twilight
I think her name is Grief.

My little April lady,

Of sunshine and of flowers,
She weaves the old spring magic,
And breaks my heart in flowers!
But when her moods are ended,
She nestles like a dove;
Then by the palm and rapture,
I know her name is Love.

—S—

Henry Van Dyke.

Apparently what happened on Alumni Day was a presentation of the entrance to the University, given by the S Club, under whose guidance it was erected. The real truth of the matter is that the Athletic Policy of S. U. presented to the Athletic World a new ideal for clean sports. It presented in the entrance certain ideas that if carried out will remove some of the older athletic cobwebs and institute newer, bigger and better ideals.

Christmas Greetings And Best Wishes For The New Year

RESUME OF SUSQUEHANNA FOOTBALL SEASON OF PAST YEAR CREDITABLE

Little Crusaders Played some Remarkable Games. Prospects for 1925 Bright. S. U. Certain of Success Under Leadership of Captain Stuempfle

"ERNE" STUEMPFLE
Captain of 1925 Grid Squad

With Susquehanna's 1924 football season now a matter of history, it will be well to glance back over the schedule and consider that the record compiled by the team is a very creditable one.

If games won were all that counted toward a successful season, the past one indeed would have to be termed a lean one. Before the season started prospects were very gloomy, as practically the entire squad from the previous year had departed and Susquehanna was without a coach. While the season was yet in its infancy, prospects still looked doubtful, but when Coach Wingard came to S. U. the enthusiasm garnered by the players went a long way toward forming the proper football atmosphere for the entire student body. More men turned out for the grid squad than ever before and when the first game rolled around the team was eagerly awaiting action.

After Swatmore had taken the opening game, Susquehanna settled down and amassed three consecutive victories. The first was an unimpressive victory over Bloomsburg, after a strong second half comeback. Next came an overwhelming victory over the gridders of the Sunbury Y. M. C. A. The next game was the one which Susquehanna desired to win above all others, the Juniata game. Previous to the game, Coach Wingard gave his men a stirring talk and also told the student body that his Little Crusaders were going to make the school proud of them. When the game was over, a glorious 10-0 victory had been earned in a fray which was fiercely fought from beginning to end. The title of Little Crusaders became officially recognized, and as such, all Susquehanna grid teams will take the field. The Juniata fray was costly in that "Ernie" Stuempfle, brilliant quarterback, was lost to the team for several weeks.

Following the Juniata game, decisive defeats were handed to Susquehanna by both P. M. C. and Cornell. A defeat at the hands of Lebanon Valley lacked satisfaction for the locals.

In the final game of the season, Ursinus was met in a contest which was second only to the Juniata game in importance. It marked the annual Alumni Home-Coming Day. Altho Susquehanna fought fiercely and held a seven point margin at half time, the superior weight and experience of the visitors was telling and the Crusaders were forced to accept defeat. In this game Stuempfle returned to the lineup and as a result the team's offensive power was greatly strengthened.

Prospects for the 1925 season are already beginning to take on a brilliant hue as only four regulars, Barnes, Blough, Hartman and Thomas, Concluded on Page 3

Y Organizations To Give Tableau

"THE BRIGHTNESS OF HIS RISING," A CHRISTMAS MIRACLE PLAY OF THREE SCENES, TO BE GIVEN THIS EVENING IN THE CHAPEL HALL AT 6:30

This evening at 6:30 o'clock the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. will give a tableau in the Chapel Hall called "The Brightness of His Rising." This is a beautiful tableau of three scenes enacted by sixteen characters. A quartet composed of Misses Keiser and Beckley, and Messrs. Roberts and Popeano will furnish a number of selections, also several selections will be sung by a chorus which is coached by Prof. Sheldon. AT WEEKLY MEETING HELD ON TUESDAY EVENING WITH MARGARET SPIGELMYER AND CATHERINE FOPEANO IN CHARGE, FINE DISCUSSION ENSUED

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting last Tuesday evening, at which time the topic of "The Puzzle," was discussed. Margaret Spigelmeyer and Catherine Popeano were in charge.

Some of the questions discussed were: Just what do you call fun? Does a girl who is trying to be Christian in her living have a right to have a good time? Do girls who are trying to hold to Christian standards sometimes seem to be lacking in fun? Is it difficult for a girl who keeps her ideas to be popular? Should she be content Concluded on Page 3

NEW ENTRANCE TO ATHLETIC FIELD A MUCH APPRECIATED IMPROVEMENT

Susquehanna Took on a New Growth in the Erection and Dedication of Entrance to Athletic Field. Beautiful Addition to Lower Campus

NEW ENTRANCE TO ATHLETIC FIELD

On Alumni Day Susquehanna took a new growth in the dedicating of the new Entrance to the Athletic Field.

Not long ago this entrance was a dream, but with much work and perseverance it became a reality. It is an addition to the lower campus of which the University may well be proud.

The Entrance consists of two brown-stone pillars similar to those at the main entrance of the campus. Upon them may be found the dedication, "Dedicated to the Little Crusaders," also the inscription, "May the Best Man Win." These few words which are contained in these two sentences indicate the beginning of a new era in the athletics of Susquehanna. It is the culmination and the realization of a policy which has been struggling bravely for the last several years.

The pillars are situated midway between Hassinger Memorial Hall and the Alumni Gymnasium, and connecting them with both of these buildings is an iron fence. It is planned that in time a similar fence will enclose the entire Athletic Field.

Surrounding the pillars and on the west side of the walk between Hassinger Hall and the Gymnasium various shrubbery and trees have been planted. A miniature boulevard has been formed where before there was nothing but barren earth.

All these improvements, the pillars, the fence, the trees and shrubbery, go to make up the new Entrance, and each one of these will last on into the future ever reminding Susquehanna's sons and daughters of the hard struggle which was endured in order that S. U. might be able to give to her neighboring colleges contests which are played on the basis of a clean athletic program.

Basketball Squad Working Earnestly

COMING SEASON LOOMS BRIGHTER AND BRIGHTER EACH WEEK. FIRST GAME WITH JUNIATA AT HUNTINGDON AT CLOSE OF CHRISTMAS RECESS

The outlook for a very successful basketball season at Susquehanna looms brighter and brighter each week. With the first call for candidates several weeks ago a few veterans reported along with an unusually large number of new men who had done excellent work on their high school and prep school teams.

Since the first week Coaches Folmer and Bannon have been working patiently with the entire squad in order that no promising material might be overlooked. With the start of the present week however, it has been found necessary to cut the squad in order that the coaches might devote their time to the most promising candidates, so that a winning or strong five might be available for the opening game, which will be played at Huntingdon, with Juniata as the opponent, at the close of the Christmas recess.

CLASS BASKETBALL GAMES BRING OUT FINE SPIRIT

Very few games bring out more spirit than is manifested at a class basketball game at Susquehanna. All classes including the Seminary, are enrolled in the league, and this season each team looks strong enough to be a contender, so everyone is looking forward to some great games.

The opening game last evening found the Freshmen contending against the Juniors, the champs of last year. On Wednesday evening the Senior machine will endeavor to show her prowess when the Sophs are met. The final game of the week will find the Freshmen again in action, this time against the strong Seminiars.

Public Debate This Evening

DEBATERS TO GIVE FIRST PROGRAM OF YEAR IN CHAPEL HALL AT 7:30 QUESTION IS ONE WHICH IS BEING DEBATED IN INTERCOLLEGIATE CIRCLES

The first public debate of the year will be held this evening in the Chapel Hall at 7:30 o'clock, immediately following the Y. W. and Y. M. play.

The question for debate is, Resolved: That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. The affirmative speakers are Lee Boyer and Morgan Gwyn; the Negative speakers, Louis Rode and Alfred Rising. Each speaker will have ten minutes for his first speech, and the chief on each side will have four minutes for rebuttal. The Affirmative having the last rebuttal speech. This question is one which has been fought out pro and con during the recent presidential campaign, but no one should permit the result of the election to prejudice him in regard to his opinion of the question. It is the question which is being debated by most of the colleges in the intercollegiate debating world.

Susquehanna expects to enter into intercollegiate debating this year and therefore let everyone support the varsity debating team which will soon be elected. The debaters are coached Concluded on Page 2

CHRISTMAS

To the good readers of this college paper The Susquehanna wishes a very Merry Christmas.

Christmas, what does it mean? To some of us it only means an exchange of presents. Is this all that it should mean? We are reared from little up with the idea instilled into us that as each Christmas comes it is a necessity that we make a trip to the store with a long list of the names of our friends for whom we must buy presents. Such remarks as these are often heard amidst the rush of the Christmas shopping, "He didn't give me anything last year, I won't give him anything," "He didn't pay much for what he gave me, I will get him something which costs about the same," "Oh, he gave me such a costly present, I just must give him something nice," these and many others, but none of them portray the true spirit of Christmas.

Christmas may mean to some of us only a day of feasting at which time we may satisfy the craving of our gluttonous appetites. By so doing many of us shorten the length of our lives, for many of the things which we cram down our throats really turn out to be the nails of our coffins.

The little boys and girls on the streets and in the slums, those children who have no homes, are afflicted with a very deep pain on Christmas Day when they see their more fortunate brothers and sisters enjoying everything which the Christmas season offers them.

Yes, Christmas has many different meanings to the various people with whom we come in contact. But let us go back nineteen hundred years ago and think of the first Christmas. The Christmas which we celebrate is really the birthday of Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. He was God's gift to the world. The three wise men who saw the star in the East and came to worship Him brought with them gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. That is where we have acquired the idea of giving at Christmas time. Christ was the gift to the world, and the wise men gave gifts on that first Christmas. But they gave not because they wished to receive, but just for the joy of giving. Let us give, this Christmas, not to exchange, but because of the happiness which will come to us in the giving. Also let us remember what the day really is, that it is the birthday of Our Master, and let us honor it as that, ever remembering Him as the greatest gift to man.

DEBATING

This evening Susquehanna University will witness its first public debate of the year. These men who have been chosen for this debate have shown marked ability along the line of argumentation, and the question is one which is being debated very extensively by the colleges of Eastern Pennsylvania.

What are we, as a student body, going to do about this very important activity? We should back the debaters and the Debating Club to the limit. Give them all the support which they need.

If sufficient material can be developed and trained in the Debating Club, Susquehanna will be represented this year in Intercollegiate debating circles.

Let's get back of that team, which will soon be chosen to represent the University. Let's show as much interest in our debating teams as in our athletic teams. Students, faculty, alumni, boost our varsity debating team, give to it those things which it is vitally in need of. The expenses of the athletic teams are paid when they go out to meet a neighboring college on the field, why not pay the expenses of the debating team when it goes out to meet one of our neighboring colleges on the rostrum? Why not furnish the individuals who make up the team with the proper uniform which would consist of a full dress suit, just as the individuals who make up the representative athletic teams are furnished with the proper uniform for each particular sport.

We would never think of our athletes buying their own uniforms and paying their own expenses, and yet that is exactly what we expect our debaters to do. Think these things over. The debaters are willing. They have a good coach, and with the backing of everyone on the campus debating will become one of the chief activities at Susquehanna.

is the style of devotion which has found its beginning in the center of Asiatic life and surroundings one certainly has learned to listen to the expression of his neighbor and find also art and perfection in the attitude of such glorification.

After the sermon, which was powerfully delivered and filled with the Yiddish philosophy, everyone got acquainted with the young Rabbi. He showed with great pride his thorax, which was placed in a consecrated place. The architecture which was observed in common with the plans of the tabernacle, and is in its way with the Oriental conception powerful and majestic.

The Friends of Fine Arts went home satisfied that it was worth while, but regretting that they did not invite more of their friends.

Y. W. GIRLS HELD JAPANESE BAZAAR

which the bazaar was given.

Japanese novelties of all kinds could be found at any one of these festive looking booths, and those who came to buy found more than one delightful Christmas gift waiting to be purchased. Many took advantage of this splendid opportunity and did their Christmas shopping early.

Delicious home-made candies, made by Susquehanna's co-eds, were for sale, almost all of which were disposed of within a few hours. Ice cream and cake were sold also, the cake being baked by several kind friends of the Y. W.

Only those who patronized the affair could appreciate the many beautiful things on display. Old Santa himself could hardly have provided a more beautiful array of gifts, but best of all, the success of the bazaar was better, also less noticeably, portrayed in the Y. W. C. A. work of the present year.

He—"Once I loved a girl and she made a fool out of me."

She (very sweetly)—"What a lasting impression some girls make."

Sense and Nonsense

Christmas is the one season of the year when everyone seems to forgive and forget. When the misfortunes and unhappiness of the year are submerged in the glad rejoicing of the season. When man to man is brother and all the world is kin. Pity the person who cannot find some joy in Christmas. Who looks on this season as the spenders' folly and the merchants' heyday. Who believes the spirit of Christmas is the spirit of barter and commercialism. These may exist but they need not blind the vision to all the good that also graces Christmas.

Give! Give! Give! Is the message of the bells. Give for the good you may do and the real pleasure the giving gives you. That person who gives only for the sake of return, for formality, or for appearance, hurts himself and the one to whom he gave. The best of all gifts are those we cannot place a value on—sympathy, affection, friendliness, inspiration, and the greatest of all, love. If we could only give and receive more gifts of this nature, how much greater and simpler would our Christmas joys and memories be.

So often in the mad rush to be prepared for Christmas, when it comes, the concern for these things is so great that the real essence of the season is forgotten. Why cannot the rumble of the struggle cease, why cannot the flurry and furious race be moderated, and why cannot consideration, humility, meekness, and inward joy prevail in this one time of the year if in no other?

Students! Return to your homes, enjoy your vacation, give your gifts, indulge your appetites for Christmas delights, but do not forget that these things are merely the trimmings and not Christmas itself. Never forget that Christmas was made for Christ and Christ was not made for Christmas. Never forget that Christ hated shams, he killed hypocrites, that he scorned the unnecessary and the untrue. Remember that Christ sought to help the poor, not to indulge the rich, to comfort the comfortless, not to add luxury to the idlers, to heal the broken spirits, not to flatter friends, he tried to turn hate to love and to cheer where sadness reigned before. Do some of these things and your Christmas will be filled with unparalleled joy, and in a measure you will come to know the true Christmas ideal—to love and to give.

PUBLIC DEBATE THIS EVENING

by Rev. W. C. Beck of the First Lutheran Church, and the debating teams are sponsored and receive their training in the Debating Club. This organization held its regular meeting last Thursday evening, at which time definite action was taken regarding the first public debate which will be given this evening. These men who are debating this evening may or may not be selected for the varsity debating team. If there are students interested who think that they can debate better than these men, come around to the regular meeting of the Debating Club and try out for the team. This invitation is given to all students of any one of the four college classes. Let everyone at Susquehanna help to make a real fighting debating team.

Katherine Klinebar spent the weekend in Middleburg.

Miriam Hackenberg was also in Middleburg over the weekend.

Katherine Kull was visited by her brother on Saturday.

Mary Reigler spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Millersburg.

Miss Elizabeth Houser was visited by her brother, of Altoona.

DR. FRYE SPOKE IN CHAPEL ABOUT MISSIONS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Dr. Chas. L. Frye, of Philadelphia, a representative of the Lutheran Church in America, spoke to the students of Susquehanna University at chapel services on Monday morning on the subject of missions in South America.

The Twentieth Century has seen the development of South America. Vast resources of that country have been and are being developed. All the world is looking to that continent for its food supply.

It is up to us as Christians to give them the Bible, the church book, and the school. It can be readily seen that there is a vast opening in missions in South America. May we, therefore, trace our steps in that direction and thus establish relations of brotherhood on that continent.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC STATES COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AT PHILADELPHIA

Dr. H. A. Allison and Prof. L. D. Grossman represented Susquehanna at the annual meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association at the Bellevue Stratford, in Philadelphia, on Saturday, December 13th. The chief topic under consideration was the present trend of intercollegiate Athletics with the discussions centering around an address delivered by Prof. C. W. Savage, of Oberlin College, on "The Control of College Athletics."

During the business session Lebanon Valley College was admitted as a member of the conference. Prof. Grossman was again elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Association and also appointed a member of the Games Committee.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association, embracing colleges throughout the entire United States, will meet in New York, December 29th and 30th.

OMEGA DELTA SIGMA GIRLS HOST AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Omega Delta Sigma Sorority entertained Saturday evening at an informal Christmas party in the gymnasium.

The large gathering of about a hundred seemed filled with the true Christmas spirit of mirth and good cheer.

The gymnasium presented a very festive appearance which immediately helped to raise the spirits of all for a better enjoyment of the party. All around the sides of the room were triangles of spruce and others of red and green crepe paper. Thus, underneath the balcony there was a large enclosed space where tables were placed for those guests who wished to play games. At the one corner of the room, a large snow cave, covered with snow and icicles, served as an appropriate place for the orchestra. Outside of the cave were two snow men, who, if judged by their expression, seemed to enjoy the party immensely. In the ceiling, a red star in a background of green, had been artistically constructed. An old fashioned "Paul Jones" helped to increase the merriment of the party and all the guests entered into the informal spirit with a great deal of zest.

The only shadow was the necessity of breaking up the party when the guests slowly wended their way home in the glorious moonlight.

BIBLE CONFERENCE REPORTED TO Y. M.

ligion of Jesus?" A Chinese missionary said that Americans had inoculated just enough religion into their lives to make it dead sure that they would never come to the true teachings of Jesus. Too many students are afraid of personal hardship, social ostracism and financial hardship to follow Jesus. A new world reformation is necessary. The New Testament is the main guide for checking up Christianity.

An Indian said "You Americans have given us an encrusted Christ." Lloyd George said "If another war comes it will be by the will of the Christian." The Christian world can prevent war if it will. Ghandi, when he heard of the great Christian movement in India said that he wouldn't become a Christian because it would put him in the wrong light. How did Luther find out that the Christianity of his time was encrusted? Not from parents or college professors, but from the Bible.

Life is nothing but problems and problems. In every act a person does, he has solved a problem. There is more power in one act than in ten sermons. The biggest problem of today is "Whether the way of the cross is the way of life." The trouble is that people do not follow closely enough.

to live in a corner and keep her standards if she is not strong enough to pull the crowd her way? What would a girl do if she had to choose between popularity and her convictions? Could she still have fun if she chose her convictions?

The girls gave their opinions on the different questions, which made a very interesting program. The meeting closed with the Association motto.

are lost thru graduation, along with Nipple and Bullock, varsity substitutes. The squad will consist of men, all of whom have had from one to three years' varsity experience. With the addition of one or two prep school stars, the locals should experience one of the most successful seasons in the annals of football at Susquehanna. The team will be under the leadership of Captain "Ernie" Stumpefle, and with such a leader, success is certain to smile upon the Orange and Maroon. Coaches Winard and Rannon are looking forward with optimism, and Susquehanna students are eagerly awaiting to witness the big year.

HUMILITY

Christmas is coming, and with it a lot of valuable thoughts. One of these is consideration of the great gift of Jesus Christ to the world. What a bounteous love there must be to justify such a condescension. It is evident that the great strength of Christ was in his humility before God.

Humility as a policy demands consideration. It was not the property of Israel. But where is that great nation? Nor was it the slogan of Babylon. And what is left of Babylon but the name? What did the mighty armies of Rome do to perpetuate her honor and glory? Her own aggressiveness caused her ruin. And who envies Napoleon?

But the quality of humility is fundamental to the Christian religion. This force has never had to admit ultimate defeat. Hence it appears that humility renders its possessor undefeatable. Still can it be said that humility admits defeat rather than engage in conquest? To what extent and before what must we be humble? Solving this riddle will prevent monotony for an hour or so.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Thomas H. Duffy

When the snows of December are falling.

Like a sweet benediction on earth. And the beautiful Yuletide season. Draws near with its joys and its mirth:

And you're out buying presents for loved ones.

Though you're poor, or you're blessed with wealth.

Don't forget to buy all you possibly can.

Of the stamps that bring somebody health.

They are nothing but wee bits of paper. But they serve such a merciful plan. That the angels above have brighter eyes.

When they see man's compassion for man.

And they bear a most heavenly sanction.

For these words in the Good Book you'll see.

"Whatsoever ye do unto the least of these,

So, also, ye do unto me."

Do you think that our blessed Redeemer.

Who watches and cares for us all. Will not notice you buying these health-giving seals.

When he sees just a wee sparrow fall? He will see and remember it clearly.

And when you knock at the gates to get in.

You'll find that the Christmas seals you have bought

Will outweigh quite a bit of sin.

So, buy all you can this season. And when at last Christmas dawns bright.

You'll find that the presence of angels will fill your home with their light.

And a wonderful peace will surround you.

While into your heart there steals A beautiful sense of contentment.

For having bought Christmas seals.

THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

The best and biggest men of all times have been self-made men—most of them started out with what the world would call a poor chance.

Their chances were no worse and no better than those which surround every individual today.

Self-made means self-help—and self-help means, first of all, the true spirit of service and helpfulness to others.

The world is a great store house from which we can take out no more than we put in. We get in return in proportion to what we give in service.

It is the universal law of life.

Opposing Captain—"Why don't you fire Smithers out? He can't tackle, he can't run, and he can't kick."

Coach of Home Team—"No, but every member of the team owes him money."

Doc. Surface—"Where do bugs go in winter?"
Freshman—"Search me."

Susquehanna Five Lost to Juniata

SUSQUEHANNA'S 1925 BASKET BALL SEASON OPENED WHEN S. U. QUINTE MET JUNIATA AT HUNTINGDON, LOSING BY THE SCORE OF 37-28

In the fast and closely contested game which marked the opening of the 1925 basket ball season, the Susquehanna five was forced to lower its colors before the fast team which represented Juniata College on the floor.

The game was played at Huntingdon, and was the fourth encounter for the home team, while Susquehanna was playing her first game. The showing made by the locals assured the Orange and Maroon followers that another strong five will represent the institution during the next few months. Previous to this game, the team, comprised for the most part of green men, was of unknown calibre; but all doubts as to their ability were dispelled when they held their powerful opponents on even terms thruout the contest.

The game started off with Juniata immediately plunging into a four point lead. Hancey scored the first point of the game, and incidentally of the season, when he caged a foul. After Juniata had registered another goal, Kurtz came thru and tallied the initial field goal. The remainder of the half was bitterly contested and little scoring was done on either side. Knisely, a promising forward, registered a second field goal in this half which closed with Juniata leading 11-7.

In the second half both teams came back strong, playing hard and display.

S. U. Will Meet Formidable Foes

FIRST HOME GAME TO BE PLAYED FRIDAY EVENING WHEN THE ORANGE AND MAROON WILL MEET JUNIATA SATURDAY EVENING S. U. GOES TO STATE

The first home game of the basket ball season will be played this Friday evening, when the strong Juniata quintet will invade the local court.

The game has always been a thriller in past years, and this year promises to be no exception, as the invaders already boast of one victory over the locals. However, the encounter of last week was the opener for Susquehanna, and followers of the S. U. team are confident that their favorites will score a victory in this supreme test.

Saturday evening will find Susquehanna engaging in her annual tilt with Penn State at State College. Last year the locals were snowed under by a large margin, but are expecting to give their rivals some real opposition in this game. Juniata gave State a real scare in the pre-holiday season, and Susquehanna hopes to do even better.

Altho the team played at Juniata last week without the services of Coach Folmer and Bolig, stellar guard, it refused to become discouraged and put forth determined opposition against its rival's advances. The showing of Knisely and Duden in the opening encounter was very gratifying and much is expected of these lads in the near future. Hancey, Shuntle, Blecher and Shue also showed up well and will be heard from later. The only veterans on the squad are Bolig, Kurtz and Thomas, along with Brown and Blough, substitutes of previous years. Both Brown and Blough are showing improved form and will have to be reckoned with when the regular team is finally selected. Other men displaying improved form are Young, Sleight, Vorlage, Martin, Streamer, Ebberts, Dodd, Hanner F. Sleight, Adams and Miller. With such reserve strength all varsity men will have to keep hard

BASKETBALL GAME WON BY SENIORS

With interest in the inter-class games increasing daily, each team is striving to obtain the league leadership and thus secure the handsome trophy which accompanies that success.

On Wednesday night the Senior quintet kept pace with the onrushing Freshman five when she defeated the Theologs, 25-17, in a well played contest. At half time the game looked safe with the Seniors leading 15-9. But at the outset of the second half some sensational baskets by Ramer and a timely field goal by Groninger tied the game, each having fifteen points. This aroused the Senior team led by Bannon and composed of Hanner, Blough, Martin, Dunkle and Clark, came back and forged into a substantial lead. The Senior team remains undefeated and will have much to say when the championship laurels are distributed.

Local Fraternity Became National

ALPHA SIGMA OMEGA ENTERED THE ROLL OF NATIONAL FRATERNITIES WHEN SHE BECAME THE MU ALPHA CHAPTER OF PHI MU DELTA

Susquehanna University entered the National Fraternity field when Alpha Sigma Omega, local, became a chapter of Phi Mu Delta.

Installation took place on December 20th, just before the Christmas vacation, when a degree team from Massachusetts Institute of Technology officially took over the Local into the national organization. The ceremony was performed in the evening at the chapter house and was followed by a banquet. In addition to the degree team the National Executive Committee was represented by J. Ralph Spaulding, of the University of Vermont, who is

TRAVELING SECRETARY OF STUDENT VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT OF FOREIGN MISSIONS TALKED TO STUDENTS ASSEMBLED IN CHAPEL ON MONDAY MORNING

Most people have the wrong conception regarding foreign missions. They think that a foreign missionary lives a dehumanized life. But the truth is that a very rigid physical examination has to be passed, and one desirous of becoming a foreign missionary should have the best possible training, not only in college and in graduate work, but also in actual experience in this country. He should be successful at home before going abroad.

The chief requirement of a foreign missionary is that he should possess a deep spiritual life. He should realize that others have need of the knowledge of Christ.

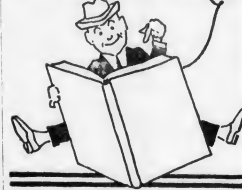

Today, in one sense, it is easier to be a foreign missionary because there are no great physical hardships to be overcome as there were in the past. But then, in another sense, it is more difficult because of the impact of Western civilization on the countries of the East. Along with the knowledge of Christ, which is given to other nations, there is also given the ways and customs which are found in Christian nations. To these there is no distinction made, they are all looked at as coming from Christian nations.

The foreign mission field is very large, altho the chief needs are educational, medical and evangelistic. The missionary enterprise is primarily spiritual. The primary aim is to make Jesus Christ known to the world.

Where should a person put his life? In choosing life work he should have

Do You Know? the name of this book?

You are allowed eight guesses, but the first seven do not count. The name begins with "L," ends with "N," and has eight letters; a crossword puzzle that is not cross.

Yes, you've guessed it; Lanthorn is right. But do you know that this title is the old English spelling for lantern or light. Do you know that the Lanthorn is the most important single publication ever edited on Susquehanna's campus, and assuredly is the most treasured.

When other organizations have failed, and other publications declined, the Lanthorn has always been a huge success.

Each issue is better than its predecessor and this year is no exception. The finest theme, the clearest art, the largest and most beautiful scene section, and the snappiest write-ups; these are only a few of the improvements you will note in the 1926 Lanthorn.

But friends, as the subscription list has nearly reached the limit, you must send in your order soon or do without the Annual, as the number of copies must be assured the printer at once.

Students, if you desire a friendly light that will bring back all the memories of this school year, and throw the faces of old friends before you on the printed page, order your 1926 Lanthorn today.

Address all orders to Donald Rhoads, or John R. Spigelmyer.

FOOTBALL MEETING

Coach Wingard would like to meet with all football men in the "gym" Friday at four o'clock. This meeting is very important.

Isn't a lower rate of interest on money, but a higher interest in work. It is more paint on the old place and less paint on the young face.

RADIO ENTHUSIASTS TO ENJOY FIRST INTERCOLLEGIATE NIGHT

With more than 300 former students of universities and colleges from all over the United States expected to participate, what is believed to be the first intercollegiate night on the air is to be broadcast from WGY, the General Electric Company broadcast studio at Schenectady, N. Y. Friday night, January 20, 1925, has been tentatively set as the date for this unique program.

Well known college airs will be sung by groups from the various institutions represented, following which each group will give the best of its college cheers. An intercollegiate quartet comprised of the best voices to be found among the membership of the Edison Club, the General Electric college men's organization, will sing several numbers, and numerous instrumental numbers will be rendered by the Club orchestra.

Bond and Key Boys Favorably Situated

NEW CLUB HOUSE ALMOST COMPLETED WITH MANY ADDITIONAL IMPROVEMENTS. SOME OF THE BOYS HAVE ALREADY MOVED INTO NEW HOME

The boys of the Bond and Key Club who have already moved into their new home are rapidly becoming more and more favorably situated.

Altho a few minor details are still in the process of completion, the major part of the work is finished. The house has been beautified by a decided enlargement of the entire structure. Hardwood floors thruout, an imposing brick fireplace, a sun parlor, a porte-chiere and many other improvements are additional features. Stucco has been applied as an outer surface. With all these improvements Bond and Key is justly proud of its new home.

Y. M. C. A. to Hold Special Meetings

LOCAL ASSOCIATION TO PUT ON A SERIES OF VERY INTERESTING PROGRAMS THRUOUT THE YEAR. COME AND SEE THE FIRST ONE THIS EVENING

This evening at 6:30 the Y. M. C. A. will hold its first meeting of the new year. No outside speaker has been procured, but it is the plan of the local association that, at least for a while, the meetings be conducted more or less by the young men themselves.

Lynn Rauer will have charge of the meeting, at which several topics relating to the new year will be discussed. Several other students will participate in the program.

Let everyone come out and see what the Y. M. C. A. expects to do during 1925. With the pep and enthusiasm which the leaders have expressed everything seems to point to a very successful year.

WHAT THIS COUNTRY NEEDS

What this country needs is not a new birth of freedom, but the old-fashioned $200 lower berth.

It isn't more liberty, but less people who take liberties with our liberty.

It isn't a job for every man, but a real man for every job.

It isn't to get more taxes from the people, but for the people to get more from the taxes.

It is not more miles of territory, but more miles to the gallon.

It is more tractors and less detractors.

It isn't more young men making speed, but more young men planting spuds.

It is to follow the footprints of the fathers instead of the footsteps of the dancing master.—Exchange.

New Dining Hall Being Occupied

PLEASANT SURPRISE GREETED THE STUDENTS WHEN THEY RETURNED FROM THEIR VACATION UPON FINDING THE NEW DINING HALL READY FOR USE

Last Monday and Tuesday when the students returned to the campus following their annual holiday vacation a pleasant surprise greeted them. They found the new dining hall ready to entertain them three times daily; breakfast, dinner and supper. The knowledge of this fact was appreciatively received by everyone, as it is a large improvement over the old dining hall and a still much larger one over the temporary dining hall in the Science Hall, which was used while the new one was under construction.

This very necessary improvement is situated on the south side of the first floor of Seibert Hall, where formerly was the Music Hall, and runs the full length of the building. The interior is finished very nicely, and the ceiling being high gives the hall a spacious appearance.

Due to the untiring efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliary, new chairs and tables have been placed in the hall. The tables are square, seating eight persons, and because of their size they seem to give to the whole hall an atmosphere such as is found in the dining rooms of the large hotels.

As yet the new hall is not fully completed, but in the near future it is hoped that it will be entirely finished. Then Susquehanna will be able to boast of one of the finest college dining halls in the State.

Debate to be Held Thursday Evening

DEBATING CLUB WILL MEET ON THURSDAY EVENING AT 6:30 AT WHICH TIME A PUBLIC DEBATE WILL BE HELD TO WHICH ALL ARE INVITED

Thursday evening at 6:30 the Debating Club will hold its second public debate of the year in the Chapel Hall. The question will be the same as has already been debated at Susquehanna, for it is the purpose that the different debaters become entirely familiar with all phases of this question as it is the one used in intercollegiate debating circles: Resolved: That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. The affirmative speakers will be William Nichols and John Sanderson; the negative speakers, Roger Blough and Harold Swank.

Everyone should be out to give the debaters that real enthusiasm which they ought to have if they wish to go out to meet other colleges on the roster.

REV. WM. S. ULRICH BEGINS AS S. U. FIELD SECRETARY

Returns to His Native Town After Marked Success in Lutheran Work in Far Northwest

Bringing to his new post a wealth of valuable experience acquired during the past 17 years in the northwestern section of the United States, the Rev. William S. Ulrich has returned to his native Selinsgrove to enter upon his new duties as field secretary of Susquehanna University.

The Rev. Mr. Ulrich was graduated from Susquehanna University and then pursued his theological studies at Mt. Airy Seminary, Philadelphia, being graduated in 1899. He served a Lutheran pastorate in Fargo, N. D., for eight years. His organizational ability resulted in him being made field missionary of the English Evangelical Lutheran Synod of the Northwest nine years ago, which post he relinquished to serve Susquehanna.

THE NEW YEAR

The last time The Susquehanna was published we were enjoying the latter part of the year 1924. With that issue the staff closed its work for the calendar year.

Now The Susquehanna staff wishes to extend to each and everyone a very prosperous and happy New Year. As we have entered upon this new year, the year of 1925, we doubtless have made new resolutions which we hope will help us to work and to serve much better this year than ever in the past. We should make these resolutions, yes we should resolve to live a better life, but we should not only make them, but keep them. We do not know what the year 1925 has in store for us. For many of us it may mean success, we hope that it will mean this for all of us, but we will have to work and work hard to attain this high ideal. We are the masters of our own lives. We shape our own destinies. It is for as at the beginning of this new year to grasp every opportunity and advantage that comes our way and to put it into the best possible use in our lives. Most of us are young, we have a great future before us if we will but seize the opportunities as they present themselves, heed the call of duty, and go forth to a greater service.

THE NEW DINING HALL

When we returned to school last week we found that the new dining hall was almost completed. At least sufficient work had been done upon it making it possible for us to eat in it.

Everything is new, making us think of our homes from which we so recently have come. But it will only remain new as long as we respect it as we do our homes. Do we want to have a fine, comfortable place where we may enjoy our food without being continually confronted by those things which point to much misuse? Of course we do, but to do this it will depend upon every individual who enters the hall. If we mar the tables, the chairs or the building in any way we will only be hastening the time when we will no longer have a beautiful dining hall.

The old dining hall is a thing of the past. The new dining hall is our latest addition to Susquehanna's campus. Let us help keep it just as bright and beautiful for the years to come as it is now so that we and those who come after us may always be able to point with pride to our dining hall as one of the neatest and most attractive places on the campus.

A SUGGESTION

During these winter months when it is necessary that everyone wear wraps or coats, most especially over coats, to go to and from classes, considerable comment has been heard upon the campus suggesting that there be some particular place where these things might be put.

Someone will ask the question whether it isn't alright to lay them over the seats as many of them are found that way through the day. Yes, it may be, but what are we to do with them during chapel? At that time every seat is taken, and if we wear an overcoat to chapel service we are almost forced to keep it on. There is no place to put it. Why not have a cloak room, some hooks along the walls or at least several clothes trees? Any one of these would be very much appreciated by the student body.

editor of the "Phi Mu Delta Triangle," a quarterly magazine of the fraternity. According to "Baird's Manual of College Fraternities," the fraternity of Phi Mu Delta was founded in March, 1918, growing out of the National Organizations of the Commons Clubs, which was founded at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn., in 1899. The chapters at Connecticut Agricultural College, University of Vermont, and New Hampshire State College, are the mother chapters of the present fraternity. The badge is shaped like the Greek letter Delta, black with gold margins, upon which are displayed the Greek letters Phi Mu Delta in each angle of the triangle; and in the center a sapphire. The colors are black, white and gold. The fraternity flower is the jonquil.

The annual convocation or convention was held at the University of Maine during the Christmas vacation. The chapter from Susquehanna was represented by Geo. S. Bullock who is the present president. Mr. Bullock reports as being well pleased with both the trip and convention. The next convocation will be held at the University of Illinois in December of 1925.

The chapter at Susquehanna is the Mu Alpha chapter, which means the Alpha or first chapter in the Mu district. The Mu district comprises practically all of the Middle Atlantic States. The official cognomen of the fraternity is the "Phi Mu Delta." It cannot be shortened to "Phi Mu's," as a national already exists as such; and the name cannot be shortened to "Phi Deltas," as another national goes by that name.

Alpha Sigma Omega was fortunate, from the fact that she was successful in her first attempt in petitioning a national fraternity. She is also fortunate from the fact that S. U. is by far the smallest school included in the chapter roll of Phi Mu Delta. She is fortunate in becoming the Alpha chapter of the district, altho petitions from this district had been previously turned down. She is fortunate in becoming the first national fraternity at Susquehanna. Above all she is fortunate in choosing a fraternity which will make for greater service to S. U.

Phi Mu Delta does not have a large chapter roll; nevertheless it is a fraternity of excellent reputation. It is undergoing a period of conservative and careful expansion and it is hoped that ere many years it can take its place among the larger fraternities of the country.

The Alumni Association of Mu Alpha chapter, which was incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania, will continue to exist at present as Alpha Sigma Omega Association. Each chapter Alumni Association of this fraternity is entitled to a voice and representation at the National Convocation. Rev. Wm. A. Jamson, of Petersburg, Pa., is the president of Mu Alpha's Alumni Association.

Intercollegiate night on the air is being sponsored by the Edison Club. Those in charge of the affair state that Schenectady is one of the few places in the country from which such an entertainment could be broadcast. They base this statement on the fact that there are more young college graduates here than in most cities, since so many graduates join the General Electric forces immediately upon finishing college.

Sense and Nonsense

I Resolve. Talk on Paint. Cure for Love

To live a bit more for others every day. To keep smiling in spite of everything. To do my work with more enthusiasm and earnestness. To learn to say no. To steel my will by using it on every occasion necessary. To enrich my mind with good books and profitable experiences. To enlarge my friendship with noble characters. To find myself at the close of each day nearer to God. In a word, to grow stronger in body, finer in character, richer in mind and greater in spirit. This is my New Year's resolution.

A lot of things were made before woman, but we girls can't help that. We agree to allow the other creations to stand unchanged and unblemished, but when it comes to our own faces we insist on some alterations, merely to bring out the hidden beauty of course. Yet after looking around at some of the alterations we rather wish we had let the Creator do the thing. The strange part of it all is that Women Who Know do not bother the stuff or else do it with extreme care and moderation. We hope there is truth in the statement that women are not as bad as they are painted, for some of us surely are terribly painted.

By mutual consent of those interested we wish to present to the general public the long looked for cure for love. We are told there are many weary eyed youths and broken-hearted maidens looking for something to relieve the sad aching in their hearts. Many forlorn elderly maids, to say nothing of boarding house bachelors, who are also desirous of some remedy. Therefore we suggest this cure for those in love. Get married. This remedy is guaranteed. Ask any married couple.

We would like awfully much to know why the chapel seats are so much in demand at other than chapel times.

Literary Societies will meet next Monday night.

Why not establish at S. U. a matrimonial bureau. Or better still, give the one we have a name.

The above announcement about literary society is incorrect, the meeting has been postponed. Very successful meetings were held last week and we hope the pictures will be a success.

A man has a right to believe what he wishes, but he has the right to teach only those things which will encourage thinking, increase faith in things, right wrongs, and boost progress.

The test of a philosophy is not the number of followers it has, but the character of the followers.

Can you imagine Santa Claus on a hot Fourth of July afternoon at a ball game selling pop corn balls? Strange. Strange. But truth is truth. When the cat is away the mice will play. And we'll tell the rooster-eyed world some nice know how to play.

S. U. WILL MEET FORMIDABLE FOES

Verda Long was a guest of her sister, Nancy, at Juniata College, over the week-end.

Gertrude McKee was at her home in Altoona over Saturday and Sunday.

Mabel Goss spent the week-end at her home in Lewistown.

Miriam Hackenberg, Mary Ella Gaugler, Grace Smith and Catherine Popeano were at their homes in Middleburg.

Ruth Gaugler and Gertrude Walker spent several days at Northumberland.

Katherine Kull visited in Ashland.

Miss Ethel Nicholas, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, has been entertained in the dorm this week.

Margaret Keiser visited at her home in Shamokin.

Mary Reigler spent the week-end at her home in Millersburg.

SEMINARY

Sigler, '25, supplied at West Milton on Sunday.

Cole, '25, assisted Rev. Sassaman, of Northumberland, in administering the Lord's supper to the members of the Lutheran Church of that community. He also preached in a rural church of that charge in the afternoon.

Schwartz, '26, preached in his regular charge in Kratzville on Sunday.

Dr. Wm. T. Sadtler visited in New York City during the holiday season and participated in the anniversary exercises of the foundation of a church in Brooklyn. This church was founded ten years ago by Dr. Sadtler himself.

Kaufman, '25, supplied in the Yeagertown charge on the Sabbath.

Bingaman, '25, has been unable to return to the campus on account of an injury sustained by his mother.

Hanks, '26, once more has braved the ice floes of the mighty Susquehanna in order to reach the Dutch metropolis.

Weikel, '25, deems it unnecessary to go home every week-end since Christmas vacation. Wonder why the sudden apathy?

Law, '26, is supplying for Rev. Park W. Huntington in the Lutheran Church at Jersey Shore. Rev. Huntington is assisting Rev. Baer, of Hughesville, in special services in that place.

ing some of the best basketball ever seen on the home court. Susquehanna played hard, fast ball and at all times kept the Juniata followers on a nervous edge. On several occasions the home team pulled away, but on each occasion the S. U. five went doggedly to work and closed the gap. Toward the end of the struggle Juniata scored several points by resorting to methods of freezing the ball.

Susquehanna played without having the services of Coach Follmer, but his assistant, Coach Bannon, handled the squad in a very capable manner and deserves much commendation.

Every man on the Orange and Maroon squad menaced the Juniata goal in the second half with the result that a total of eleven field goals was rung up. Of the new men, Knisely and Duden stood forth prominently, and Haney, Shuntle, Blecher and Shue showed much promise. Of last year's squad, Kurtz, Brown and Blough played well. For Juniata the work of Livengood, Weller and Daley stood out.

ALUMNI

Rev. C. R. Botsford, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, of Cumberland, Maryland, has begun the seventh volume of his church paper. Rev. Botsford is a very conscientious believer in the efficacy of printer's ink, being himself formerly of that profession. His little church paper is a fine collection of the most important events in his church's progress. Two gifts of his congregation during the last month were dedicated for use in their church, a Baptismal Font and two pedestals on which to place the offering plates.

Rev. Russell F. Auman, '20 and '23, and Mrs. Lillian Auman '23, are completing their second year in the parish at Thompsonstown. Rev. Auman has been very successful in his work at that place. He has undertaken the publication of a church paper which he calls the Parish Messenger. Rev. Auman took part in the pantomimes and tableaux which were rendered in his church on Christmas. All Rev. Auman's friends will remember that he is especially apt in this kind of work on account of his fine voice.

Frank S. Attinger, '22, is principal of Sandy Hight School at DuBois. John S. Bangson, '15, is an instructor in Benedict College in Columbia, S. C.

Miss Margaret Benner is teaching in Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, N. C.

Rev. D. C. Baer, '20 and '23 is completing his second year as pastor of the Lutheran Church in Hughesville. Rev. Baer has been very active in his work in that parish. He is also sponsoring a movement to obtain a memorial portrait of Dr. David B. Floyd for the Seminary.

Miss Dorothy Bonawitz, '21, is teaching in the high school at Hughesville.

Rev. M. M. Allbeck, '94 and '97, has been pastor of the English Evangelical Lutheran Church of Zelonople since 1919. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Zelonople Orphan's Home. He is also minister to two Old People's Homes in the vicinity.

Orris H. Aurand, '21, is teaching in Lehman, Pa.

Miss Mary Anderson, '24, is doing office work in Philadelphia.

Miss Alice Bastian, '14, is teacher of Mathematics in the McKinley Manual Training high school in Washington, D. C.

Rev. Park W. Huntington, '18 and '21, is assisting Rev. Dallas C. Baer in special prayer services in his church this week. Rev. Huntington is pastor of the Lutheran Church in Jersey Shore.

Piercing the Great Divide

West of Denver is the Continental Divide; hemmed in behind it is an undeveloped district twice as large as Maryland. That fertile area the new Moffat Tunnel will open up.

General Electric mine locomotives are carrying out the rock, and G-E motors are driving air compressors and pumping water from underground rivers.

The conquests of electricity on land and sea, in the air and underground, are making practical the impossibilities of yesterday. It remains only for men of ability to find new things to do tomorrow. Thus does Opportunity of 1925 beckon college men and women toward greater things as yet undreamed, and to a better world to live in.

The General Electric Company includes many specialists—engineers who know about tunnels; engineers who know about street lighting; engineers who know about the electrification of factories. These men are helping to build the better and happier America in which you will live.

If you are interested in learning more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

KNOCKS

In our journey thru this life there is one thing we cannot escape, and that is education. We get it whether we like it or not. Of course it comes in different forms, camouflaged so to speak. Quite a large part of it we get from books consciously or otherwise. But there is a greater and more vital part that was never written in books and if it were, we of the superiority complex would fail to accept it. So the only way left is to have it kicked and hammered into us. This is gladly done tho at considerable expense in what has been termed the University of Hard Knocks.

Sometimes these knocks are awful soul-racking experiences, which seem to disorganize and scatter our whole being. Again they are not so jarring, but just as full of hurt. One comes like a rain storm out of a beautiful mackerel sky. Another comes and goes, leaving us stripped, just as an efficient second story man. But every time we know we have been jolted and about as often wonder why.

We have forgotten that there is a law as unchangeable as the one we transgressed—the law of compensation. Every suffering and each trial makes of each one a bigger and stronger person, if he overcomes. Of greater value as compensation is the attainment of that sublime quality called sympathy or understanding. For every jolt or knock we receive in proportion a measure of understanding. With each jar the horizon becomes broader and the sunny days have a warmer light. Each blow gives our life a new value, both to ourselves and to the whole human family. Nowhere has this been better illustrated than in one of the lectures of Ralph Parlette. The story is about red mud.

One day a man stood looking down into a great hole in the earth. It was so big a hole that the steam shovels snorting around in the bottom looked like toys. All they seemed to be getting done was to shovel ton after ton of red mud into some railroad cars. The man halted a native of the section to ask him why the mud was being taken out of there. The reply was that it was being hauled away because it was not worth anything as long as it stayed there. Further inquiry revealed the fact that the red mud was iron ore. So that was why it was being torn from its cradle and thumped into a car. What an awful jar it got in that drop.

Soon the car was in Pittsburgh and the ore got put in a dingy iron contraption with a lot of murky filth that might have been coke before it got in such a state. Shortly things began to feel warm, and then decidedly hot till the suffering caused the ore to break away and run down into some funny little pits of sand where it cooled. How it puffed with pride! It was worth something now. It was "pig iron." But that was not to the end. Soon a Hnsky picked it up and threw it with many more into a great furnace which was already very hot. But it didn't mind so much. The past experience had taught it a lesson. But just as it was beginning to get warm like the furnace, it was taken out and put under a large steam hammer. Bang! One awful wallop and all its form was lost. A few more, it was no more full of bubbles. No, it was wrought iron now. It could be used for many purposes. People would pay money for it now. But some folks are not satisfied to give any thing a rest. Soon it was taken and abused and made to suffer all sorts of punishment. Just as all hope seemed madness, it was squeezed into a square bar by a set of heartless rollers and laid on a pile of metal marked steel. A few more such indignities, and it found itself in small pieces like tiny ribbons. Next it was taken and wound into coils. Later a man took it in a pair of tongs and put it in a pot of melted lead till it got hot, but as soon again he threw it into a kettle of cold oil. Then it found itself in a wax-paper carton. It was a watch spring now. Yes, that bit of red mud could only be had for five dollars now, and all because of those terrible knocks and jolts which had at one time seemed to be the destruction of it. And so it is with man.

SUSQUEHANNA CAGEMEN WILL INVADE EASTERN SECTION OF PENNSYLVANIA

Coach Follmer's Basketeers Will Endeavor to Get Going at Top Speed This Week When They Meet Schuylkill, St. Joseph's and Temple

After a rather disastrous start, Coach Follmer's basketeers will endeavor to get going at top speed this week when they make their annual invasion of the eastern section of the State.

Schuylkill College will be met on Thursday evening at Reading in what is expected to be a thrilling encounter. Last year Susquehanna broke even with Schuylkill in a two game series, and both teams are out for a clean sweep this season.

On Friday evening Susquehanna faces a new rival when St. Joseph's College will be met at Philadelphia. St. Joe's strength may be gleaned from their showing at Chester when they ran up a 32.5 score on the P. M. C. cadets in the first half. The Philadelphia team has great offensive and defensive power, but the S. U. men expect to overcome both.

Saturday evening the strong Temple University five will be met at Philadelphia. The strength of Temple has never been questioned and this year is to prove no exception, since they have already won five out of their first six games.

The trip will be a supreme test for Susquehanna, but every member of the squad is confidently awaiting the outcome. Up until the present time, Susquehanna has felt the loss of veteran material, but the new men are gradually rounding into a perfect machine and results will soon be forthcoming.

Coaches Follmer and Rannon are working tirelessly to iron out the rough edges, and a great improvement is noticeable. Among the new men, much is expected of Duden, Blecher and Kinsley, in addition to the other members of the squad. "Pete" Bolk seems to have struck his stride and will be a stronger factor than ever before.

The reserve team is in the midst of a heavy schedule, and are expected to better their fine record of last year. In the game against Selinsgrove high the fine guarding of Cameron brought forth much favorable comment.

S. U. Admitted Into Membership

SUSQUEHANNA WAS REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL MEETING OF NATIONAL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HELD IN NEW YORK DECEMBER 29 AND 30

In accordance with the action of the Athletic Board, Dr. George E. Fisher and Prof. L. D. Grossman represented Susquehanna at the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association held at the Hotel Astor in New York City December 29th and 30th. This association embraces colleges from every State in the Union and in 1925 will celebrate its 20th year of existence.

At the business meeting of the association on the 30th Susquehanna's application for membership was presented and favorable action taken.

A brief report of the convention proceedings will be given by Dr. Fisher and Prof. Grossman at the regular Chapel service on Wednesday morning.

Winter Football Training at S. U.

SIX WEEKS COURSE ON THE TECHNIQS OF FOOTBALL TO BE GIVEN IN LECTURE FORM BY COACH WINGARD, MEETINGS TO BE HELD EVERY WEDNESDAY

An opportunity will be given to all football candidates for training throughout the winter in the form of a six weeks course on the techniques of the sport, provided for by Coach Wingard. Lectures will be given on Wednesday of each week, beginning January 21st. There is always something new confronting the player. All men do not play their positions alike and to the best advantage. This course will afford an opportunity to "learn how to play the game."

"The Little Crusaders" have brought that real live and active college spirit which has been for so long in the background, to the highest pitch. The Crusaders have found it a pleasure and honor to represent Susquehanna on the gridiron. The students are back of them, which is raising the competition for a varsity berth to the keenest edge.

Every prospective football candidate has the opportunity to keep himself physically fit through the year; developing in him the strength that in turn is the strength of Susquehanna.

Getting Ready For 1925 Grid Season

SCHEDULE INCLUDING 10 GAMES, THREE OF WHICH ARE TO BE PLAYED AT SELINGROVE, COMPLETED. TEAM TO MEET CORNELL AND LAFAYETTE

Manager John Spigelmyer has completed the football schedule for the 1925 season, and it has recently been endorsed by the Athletic Board, so that Susquehanna is now in readiness for one of the greatest football seasons in her history.

The schedule, which includes ten games, does not include Ixismis and Bloomsburg, both of whom were met last fall, but they have been replaced by Haverford, Drexel, Schuylkill, Lafayette and Temple.

The squad will journey to Ithaca to meet Cornell in the opening game. Lafayette will be played toward the latter part of the season. The reason for playing these two larger schools is in order that Susquehanna may be possible to maintain her athletic program (to say nothing of gradually improving and enlarging its scope of opportunities for Susquehanna students). Aside from the marked financial benefits derived from these games, experience has proved that Susquehanna's grid warriors derive individual benefits from experiences gained in meeting men drilled to the minutest detail in gridiron tactics. As a rule fewer and less serious are the injuries in these games than in the regular games on the schedule.

Three of the games, those with Drexel, Temple and Lebanon Valley, will be played at Susquehanna. The schedule follows:

September 26, Cornell at Ithaca.
October 3, Haverford at Haverford.
October 10, Swarthmore at Swarthmore.

October 17, Drexel at Selinsgrove.
October 24, Schuylkill at Reading.
October 31, Juniata at Huntingdon.
November 7, P. M. C. at Chester.
November 14, Lafayette at Easton.
November 21, Temple at Selinsgrove.

November 26, Lebanon Valley at Selinsgrove.

MRS. WAGENSELLER TO ACT AS PRECEPTRESS UNTIL MRS. KIMBLE'S RETURN TO CAMPUS

Due to the prolonged illness of Mrs. Kimble, the Dean of Women and Preceptress of Selbert Hall, Mrs. Bertha Wagenseller has been engaged temporarily to act as Preceptress until Mrs. Kimble's return from the Williamsport Hospital. Mrs. Wagenseller is fully qualified to act in this capacity as she is well acquainted with college life; having been a student at S. U. in 1906 and later having been graduated from Key Mar College in Hagerstown, Md.

FOLLOWING LECTURES BY DR. PIKE MENTAL CLINIC HELD AT DANVILLE

Many Students Journeyed to Danville, Where They Were Permitted to View Inmates of the State Hospital for the Mentally Deficient

In the memories of many the 17th of January will be a day fraught with the memory of human wreckage, with a heart full of sorrow and sympathy, and with a soul of hatred and anger against those who oppose any measures for the prevention of human mental deficiency. More than fifty students from the University were permitted to view the inmates of the Danville State Hospital in a clinic held there on Saturday, at 10:30.

After having finished his course of lectures on Abnormal Psychology, Dr. Pike requested the students of the Freshman Class and others to attend the clinic. The students left for Danville on the 9 o'clock car and arrived in Danville via the D. L. & W. R. R.

The campus and exterior of the institution is a very beautiful sight. The main building is covered with ivy. There are two wings to this building.

one for the men and one for the women. The central portion contains the administration headquarters and reception rooms, also the nurses' rooms. The building is of stone of a greenish hue. The central portion of the building rises higher than the two wings and is topped by a spire with a clock. There are also many other buildings on the campus, especially the work-shops for the patients. The campus itself is well laid out and gardenized.

The students were conducted to the auditorium of the hospital, where they were welcomed by Dr. Pike and other members of the staff. Dr. Pike introduced Dr. G. P. M. Free, the assistant superintendent of the institution, who spoke in the absence of the superintendent. Dr. Free gave the history of the Danville State Hospital. It was the second of its type to be established in Pennsylvania. The date of its establishment was 1868. At present it contains over 1600 patients. For the care of these patients the State and county appropriate $5.29 per individual. This includes all the expenses for the maintenance of the hospital.

There are three methods of entrance

Speakers Presented Interesting Debate

WILLIAM NICHOLS AND JOHN SANDERSON UPHOLD AFFIRMATIVE, ROGER BLOUGH AND HAROLD SWANK DEFENDED NEGATIVE ON SUPREME COURT QUESTION

Last Thursday evening those who attended the meeting of the Debating Club enjoyed the privilege of hearing one of the best debates ever heard from Susquehanna's rostrum.

No time was lost in preliminaries, but the meeting was promptly called to order, the president stated the question and the speakers on the respective sides, and also gave the additional information in regard to the order of the debate. The question was: Resolved, That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. The affirmative speakers were William Nichols and John Sanderson; the Negative

Y. M. Held First Meeting of Year

LOCAL ORGANIZATION BEGAN A NEW SERIES OF PROGRAMS, THE FIRST OF WHICH PROVED VERY INTERESTING, AS MANY OF THOSE PRESENT TOOK PART

The Y. M. C. A. held its first meeting of the New Year on Tuesday evening in the Chapel Hall. The Cabinet decided to change the order of the meeting and instead of having outside speakers to speak, the meetings will be conducted by the members. Lynn Rauer had charge of the meeting and various topics were discussed by Harland Fugue, Charles Wisler and John Weikel.

Mr. Jacob O. Kroen sang a very beautiful solo, "I've done my work," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

"The New Year means a new life. Resolutions are tried things that a person makes. Men will try again to make these things new. Newness suggests freshness. Is New Year's Day the best day to make resolutions? After one has been tempted is the best time. To be on time is a good resolution to make, especially when it involves getting to class on time. People observe one's every step. It is useless which relates to the physical, it is repugnant which is the mental

Orchestra Has New Place of Meeting

MUSICAL ORGANIZATION HAS FITTED UP NEW ROOM FOR REHEARSALS IN BASEMENT OF SCIENCE HALL, NAMED "ORCHESTRA HALL"

The Susquehanna University Orchestra, which has been carrying on its rehearsals under rather unfavorable conditions in Selbert Hall parlor up to the present time, now has a regular hall, which has been fitted up especially for its use. The new room has been named "Orchestra Hall," and is in the basement of the Science Building. It is spacious, warm and well lighted, and makes an excellent place in which the orchestra may prepare for its annual concerts.

The students of Susquehanna look forward more and more every year to the home concert. Miss Vera LaQuay, the very efficient director, to whom the success of the orchestra is due in a large measure, goes so far as to promise that the program of this year will eclipse all those of previous years in real enjoyment for the music lovers. At a recent meeting of the orchestra, the words "Harmony and Perfection" were chosen as the Motto of this organization and every one is working enthusiastically to attain that ideal.

Rehearsals are held in Orchestra Hall every Thursday evening from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. The executive board requests all organizations on the campus to cooperate in keeping that period open for the use of the Orchestra alone. In planning for this year's program, Miss LaQuay has chosen some very difficult numbers and it is very important that no other meetings or rehearsals that would affect any of its members should conflict.

The musical organizations of the campus, together with the athletic teams, debating, art and science clubs are all working to make Susquehanna better. In order for each to do its biggest service, these organizations must cooperate and respect each other's rights. Let us all keep working for a bigger and better Susquehanna.

The "Varsity" "S" Club believes in Susquehannians and their pledge.

S. U. Five Bowed to Juniata and State

ORANGE AND MAROON PASSERS FAR BELOW PAR IN BOTH GAMES AS THEY WERE FORCED TO DEFEAT AT THE HANDS OF TWO STRONG TEAMS

The past week did not bear much fruit for Susquehanna insofar as victories were concerned, but instead the S. U. passers were forced to bow in defeat before the skill of Penn State's Nitany Lions and Juniata's fast traveling five.

The Susquehanna five was far below par in both games and did not measure up to what was expected of them by followers of the institution. After the fine start in the opening game the Orange and Maroon team was expected to do great things by defeating Juniata on the home court, and by giving State a real chase at State College.

On Friday evening Coach Follmer's passers met Juniata in the opening game of the home season. It was probably one of the most bitterly fought contests ever staged in the Alumni Gymnasium, and at times the game inclined toward roughness. At the close of the first half Juniata led, 11-3, after having displayed a whirlwind attack and impenetrable defense.

The second half was a repetition of the first, except for the fact that Susquehanna's guarding tightened up. The result was that neither team scored more than two field goals. The final tally found the Huntingdon boys on the long end of a 19-8 score.

It was a bitter pill for the Susquehanna five to swallow, but it will only serve to spur the members of the team on to greater efforts in future combats. Their shooting was very much off color, but the student body is back of them, ready to lend its assistance and encouragement at all times. Such spirit is bound to bring success.

The game with Penn State, also more creditable than that of the previous year, still left much to be desired. The score, 52-17, was very much one-sided, but the game itself was not as uninteresting as the score would make it seem.

The marvelous passing attack of the

COLLEGE EDUCATION AND COLLEGE LIFE

There is a vast difference between a college education and college life. At one time it was that necessary that a college or university should be situated in some secluded spot, and that this was the only place where scholastic attainment might be acquired. But today everything seems different. We find the institutions of learning to actually be a whirlwind of "outside activities." Take right here on the Susquehanna campus, there are many things which might be included in "outside activities;" social, dramatic, musical, athletic, journalistic, art; or organizations and organizations. The result is that an outsider observing the workings of a college really wonders "where the studying comes in." And this is a problem, we wonder ourselves where the studying comes in.

Many of us come to college in the fall of our Freshman year, go on into the Sophomore and Junior years, and come to the spring of graduation. Yes, we receive a diploma, but what knowledge have we acquired? The majority of us, swayed by mob rule, will have completed not a college-education, but a course in college life. Then what will our four years in college amount to? How will we be able to serve humanity? We will be prepared in one phase, perhaps to the extreme, but as far as the fundamental education is concerned we will have nothing.

College life should not be neglected, college education should not be neglected. The trouble is that college life receives too many knocks. These "outside activities," more often known as extra curricular activities, have their place in a well rounded development. We who have acquired only college education without the college life, are lacking in a very great essential, as likewise are we who have acquired only college life without the college education. They should be acquired together. We should know in just what proportion to take of each, remembering that our primary purpose should be to stress the college education. Then with this college education we should try to gain a proper amount of college life. Too many of us try to emphasize college life as the most important thing and dawdle around with college education.

A very important thing worth remembering in the case of college life is the fact that it is made up of organizations. Practically all extra curricular activities constitute organizations of one kind or another. Some of us think that we would like to join this that or the other, that it is very nice to belong to all these various organizations. It may be, but we should remember that too many organizations are harmful to us. We should investigate the merits of each. Some of them may be of no use whatsoever to us, some may be only time wasters, and then others, if utilized in the proper way, may be of great benefit to us.

We should emphatically stress college education and we should choose those "outside activities" which will help us in the future rather than only lend their present pleasantness. Then, with both a college education and a college life after having received our diploma we will feel qualified to enter upon the voyage of life doing service for others.

DON'T FORGET TO PAY YOUR SUBSCRIPTION FOR ENTRANCE

At the recent meeting of the 'Varsity "S" Club, further plans were discussed and made for bringing to a successful conclusion the drive for the Athletic Field Entrance. February 1st was the original date set for the final payment of subscriptions and the next ten days will be marked by a united effort on the part of the members of the Club to complete the task. Contributors who have not paid their subscription to date are urged to do so before the first of February. The 'Varsity "S" Club assumed the obligation because of their confidence in Susquehanna students and friends. YOU ARE A SUSQUEHANNIAN—YOU WILL NOT FAIL TO DO YOUR PART.

DR. PIKE HELD MENTAL CLINIC

into the hospital. The first is voluntary commitment and by far the least occasional. The second is commitment by court decree, and the third, commitment by force after the affidavit of two physicians that the patient is a menace to the health of the community. Occupation, diversion, and amusement are the three chief factors in the care of the patients. Movies, entertainments of many sorts, manual training and labor are some of these.

At the conclusion of this short history of the institution and its work Dr. Pike gave a short introduction. He signified that there are two classes of people, normal and abnormal. The first class is able to take its rightful position in society and to maintain it; the second is not. It is for the aid of this second class that the institution was founded. The error about the entire thing is that the patient is not committed to the institution at the proper time, but always too late for recovery. He appealed to the audience that they would in their civic life be on the alert for the manifestations of mental disease.

Following his introduction a number of cases were explained to the students in the clinic. The first was a case of a talented pianist, a woman who had both optical illusions and hallucinations. Another case was that of an educated woman who had auricular hallucinations. Another case was that man who had optical illusions and at the same time suspicion of the antagonistic work of the pro-Germans. Another case was that of a well-educated doctor who imagined he could make a dollar for every dollar he had and so increase his wealth indefinitely. A very interesting case was the one illustrating the transformation of personality in which an old white-haired lady believed herself to be the "only reality." Pithable cases were presented to those present in the form of two imbeciles and an epileptic boy. The saddest cases and the ones that stirred up the wrath of all were those innocent ones whose lives are marked by the curse syphilis given them by their parents. Two addicts to alcohol, and two of morphine were shown, illustrating the effects of each. About a dozen of the most horrible looking specimens of humanity were then placed before the audience to illustrate the effects of heredity. It is a fact that after viewing these twelve there can scarcely be room left for doubts of the effects of heredity. Then four of those poor creatures who were somebody's fathers and mothers, but who were abandoned by unloving sons and daughters, were shown to the audience. Last of all two cases that were pronounced cured were shown. There was a marked difference between these two and the abnormal ones. The distinct feature about them was either the entire lack of emotion

Being Collegiate.
Mud Hens.
Be Strong.

Be collegiate. The cry of the new age. Begun in colleges and now penetrating young Americans from Fifth Avenue to Fifth Alley. The only thing that seems to matter now is the nearness to which we can come to the perfect state exemplified by our modern erosion known as being collegiate. To be collegiate one must be absolutely independent—free thinking is very essential. One must be attired like a combination sandwich mixed with the trimmings of a red-headed water melon and the north side of a juvenile jamboree. Also to be collegiate one must coin a few remarkable phrases, remarkable for their lack of grammar censorship. After this if one can assume an air of boredom, smile faintly and answer "unprepared," feel at home in company that would make Theda Bara join the Salvation Army, swing an educated calf-skin, write home for money without saying anything else, and cuss, swallow, cut and toss a line with more strands than the Atlantic Cable. If one can do all of these with the swish of the common-place, one has a faint right to be classed among the collegiate. Still it's rather faint.

Since women have been known as chickens for some time and since they are rapidly being converted to the use of beauty clay, we see no reason why they cannot justifiably be called "mud-hens."

Still being collegiate has its drawbacks, because most people like to appear sensible once in a while at least.

Gone! Too soon, but not forgotten. O little statue! Little statue of Liberty. The warm sun of authority has melted you away, and now, mingled with our tears, you drip slowly from our prison walls.

In one thing our institution is inconsistent, and we believe, fortunately so. It stands for high principles in everything and takes religion as a matter of course. Yet for the benefit of those who do not know and to the credit of the culinary department we report that to date the milk has not been baptized.

Be strong!
We are not here to play, to dream, to drift;
We have hard work to do, and loads to lift;
Shun not the struggle—face it; 'tis God's gift.

Be strong!
Say not, "the days are evil. Who's to blame?"
And fold the hands and acquiesce—oh shame!
Stand up, speak out, and bravely, in God's name.

Be strong!
It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong,
How hard the battle goes, the day how long;
Paint not—fight on! Tomorrow comes the song.

After the clinic in the auditorium the students were taken into the wards of the hospital and shown the methods of treatment of the patients. The wards were as clean and tidy as the wards of any general hospital. The dining halls, kitchens, and everything was as neat as any other institution for the sick. Everything was in direct contrast to what everyone imagined an asylum for the insane to be. It was a most delightful experience and a wonderful day's education. An awakening to a problem which none had scarcely imagined to be so great was one of the greatest results of the trip.

PHI BETA RHO FRATERNITY HELD PARTY FOR PLEDGEES

On Saturday evening, January 17, the Phi Beta Rho Fraternity gave a party in honor of the incoming members at its new home at 400 W. Pine street. The house was beautifully decorated with the fraternity colors. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening's entertainment.

The excellent music furnished by the orchestra was a big feature in the party and added much to its enjoyment.

The party took place with much "pep" and hearty good will. A general good time was enjoyed by all, and when the time for departure drew nigh the guests expressed their appreciation of having spent an enjoyable evening which was brought to a close only too soon for the happy couples.

GATHERING OF "S" MEN HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

"Varsity "S" men to the number of about forty gathered at the National Hotel last Wednesday evening for their second monthly meeting and social "get together."

With President Earl Thomas presiding, an interesting business session was held, during which time numerous items of importance were discussed.

Dr. George Fisher, who coached Susquehanna's first grid team, and who was a delegate to the recent convention of the National Collegiate Association held in New York, gave an interesting account of some of the outstanding features of the New York meeting.

A "Varsity "S" Club meeting without "eats" is doomed for failure. Wednesday's meeting was successful—"eats" provided the final number on the program.

They sat on the porch at midnight. Their lips were tightly pressed. The old man gave the signal. The bull dog did the rest—!!!

JUNIOR FIVE PROVED TOO STRONG FOR SOPHOMORES

Due to the postponement of the big game between the Senior and Fresh teams, but one game was played in the class basketball league last week.

The Junior team, last year's champion, proved to be too strong for the Sophomore five. In the early stages of the game, it promised to be very close, but the experience of Dodd, Elberts, Seigle and Co. proved to be too much for the Sophs and they were forced to defeat.

The entire Junior squad displayed their winning form, while Miller was the mainstay of the Sophomores. The game was rough but very interesting.

With each game the league race is growing tighter with the Senior, Junior and Freshman teams as favorites to come out ahead.

SPEAKERS PRESENTED INTERESTING DEBATE

speakers Roger Blough and Harold Swank. Rev. W. C. Beck and William Schwirian were appointed as critics, and Ralph Gramley, Marlin Grubb and Martin Enders as judges.

Each speaker did very well and showed that he was intensely interested in the question. All of the four speakers had their material well in hand, and talked the allotted time, showing that much more could have been said if sufficient time had been given. At the close of the discussion the judges rendered their decision in favor of the Negative. Then Rev. Beck, who is coach of the debating team, acting as first critic, told the boys wherein they might make their debate stronger and gave a few constructive remarks. William Schwirian, as second critic, complimented the debaters upon their fine presentation of the question and said that he hoped that there would be many more such debates at Susquehanna. Dr. Woodruff, who is sponsoring the Debating Club, spoke on various phases of the question and showed that he was much pleased with the manner of the debate.

At a special business session of the Club a program was arranged for Thursday evening, January 22, upon the same question with the Affirmative speakers, George Martin and Robert Keeler, and the Negative speakers Guy Luhold and Lester Lutz. The manager of debate, Morgan H. Gwyn, has been in communication with both Juniata and Lebanon Valley, and it is hoped that suitable dates can be arranged to meet the teams of these two colleges in intercollegiate debate.

Nittany lads could not be stopped, but the Susquehanna men never stopped trying. They gave a game exhibition of basketball and their spirit was well received by the vast throng attending the game. The shooting of the Orange and Maroon basketballers was again below par, as only six field goals were registered. The foul shooting also was poor.

The outstanding men of the game were Blecher and Bolig. Blecher won many admirers on account of his sterling work both on the offense and defense. "Pete" Bolig came into his own after being a real hard luck player for more than a year. His work stood out prominently and his mates awarded him high honors. The other men were below par, but their fighting qualities were never to be questioned.

ALUMNI

Rev. Charles Lambert, D. D., '01 and '04, just completed his fourth year as pastor of the Elyburg charge. The new year was ushered in with a very pleasant gathering of a large number of his people at the parsonage on New Year's eve, at which time the pastor was presented with a well filled purse as a mark of appreciation from members of his church.

On New Year's Day the joint council of the pastorate met at the same place to close the business of the year, and to make plans for the coming year. Near the close of the meeting the pastor was asked to retire for a time and when he was recalled he was informed that the council had voted him an increase of $240.00 in salary.

During his pastorate the three churches have been beautified and improved and a fine new garage built at the parsonage.

Charles W. Smith, ex-'26, is continuing his education at Penn State, where he is taking a course in engineering. Charlie intends to visit the campus between semesters.

Evelyn Allison, '20, is instructor of French in Hanover high school.

Dorothy Allison, '19, is at present teaching in the Junior high school in Williamsport.

Merle A. Beam, '22, has moved back to his home in Johnstown.

Rev. C. R. Allenbach, '05 and '08, is a clergyman in Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Ray Leidich, of Tremont, Pa., who was a student at Susquehanna several years ago, is now a member of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Miles Hoffman, '22, is attending Columbia University at present and is a candidate for the A. M. degree at that school. Anyone wishing to correspond with him will address his mail at 524 W. 124th St., New York City.

Rev. Ira W. Sussaman, formerly pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Northumberland, has resigned from that charge and will take up new duties in the Grace Lutheran Church in Williamsport.

Roscoe Treaster, '19, is employed at present by the State Highway Department as a civil engineer, and is located at Pleasant Gap, Pa.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul M. Kinports were tendered a reception by the members of the Holy Trinity Church at Hershey, at which time greetings were given to them by the various organizations.

CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION WILL AID DEBATORS ON FREE SPEECH

Efforts to promote debates on free speech in colleges and high schools have been started by the American Civil Liberties Union in sending out circulars to over a thousand debating societies throughout the country, offering the organization's help in preparing them. Specific subjects proposed for debate cover the Ku Klux Klan, the exclusion of aliens for their opinions, injunctions curbing rights during strikes, the abolition of laws punishing utterances, censorship on plays and moving pictures and freedom to meet without interference by public officials. The Union offers to supply material and to answer debater's inquiries. The announcement also says that a debater's handbook on free speech will be available shortly thru a regular publisher.

The letter, signed by Rev. John Haynes Holmes, acting chairman of the Union, and Roger N. Baldwin, director, suggests the following debating topics, calculated to arouse lively interest in college and school circles: 1. All laws punishing speech on public matters should be repealed; 2. The courts should be deprived of the power to issue injunctions in industrial disputes; 3. Aliens should not be excluded from the United States nor deported after admission merely for their political or industrial opinions; 4. Public officials should not be vested with power to interfere with meetings; 5. The Ku Klux Klan is a menace to democratic institutions, to tolerance and to freedom of opinion.

HUMOR

Policeman (to man who is diligently searching for something under a street lamp)—"What are you looking for?"

Dumb—"I'm looking for a pocket knife I lost down the road there."

Policeman—"Then why don't you go back and look for it?"

Bell—"Cause there's more light here."

Flap—"Where's your roommate?"

Jacks—"Well, if he's as dumb as I think he is, he's in Danville. And, if he's as bright as he thinks he is, he's in the White House."

Wife (at breakfast table)—"I want to do some shopping today, dear, what's the weather forecast?"

Husband (consulting paper)—"Rain, hail, thunder and lightning."

She—"Isn't it provoking, dear?"

Mother sent me a recipe for some wonderful floor polish, but I've mislaid it."

He (tasting soup suspiciously)—

"Are you sure you mislaid it?"

Dr. Sadtler (in Bible Class)—"What does it mean when a person is 'poor in spirit'?"

Yeings—"When he hasn't got any 'push.'"

Speaking of Eats

A young lady was learning to drive a car and she was doing fine until she came to a steep grade, whereupon the car began to slow up. "Feed her gas," cried her mate. "I did, just a few moments ago. How often do you have to feed this thing?"

"Sacramento, caramba, macaroni!" cried the long whiskered gent as he dashed his knife into the bowl of Hungarian goulash.

Shipwrecked Sailors

"Mike, if one of us should survive, what'll I tell your folks?"

"I'll hit you hard," said the aviator to Mother Earth as he fell 5,000 feet to the ground."

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

FABLE AND FACT

Long, long years ago, in the distant past, was an educational institution named after a river which ran close by. It was small but select, since each member of its student body was the incarnate perfection of his type. In fact, it was a model school because of the fact that it had the select minority of the territory. The primary purpose of the school was education, so as to ascertain the progress of each individual during the academic term, sciences called examinations, were conducted. Naturally, the examinations being given ideal persons, were model affairs. The students, and each was that, filed into the classroom, automatically dispersing themselves after the fashion of the checker board so that a possible weakling would not be tempted to steal a glance at his brother's paper. The questions were placed before the class and from that moment not an eye turned to right or left, but kept strictly to its task of making a perfect exam. The professor adjusted his ponderous spectacles more from habit than necessity and proceeded absorbingly to extract the cube root of infinity. All was silence save for the hissing of speeding pens and pencils.
Occasionally one of the students stretched a bit to relieve muscles cramped by the inactivity incidental to such strenuous thought. After some hours, the monotony of the hissing pencils was broken by the sound of a chair sliding, followed by the sound of cautious footsteps. All knew that one of the members had finished, but each was too intent on his own examination to look up. Shortly every one was finished. The cube root of infinity was established with sufficient accuracy so the last couple oozed out of the room like mist in the sunshine, leaving it in eternal silence to await the next exam.

But alas and alack, that's a long time back. The passing years have left behind a generation not so conspicuous for its perfection. In fact there are times when fairly certain evidence of human weakness might be had. Now the students come early to claim a back seat. The keynote of the examination is cooperation. Perhaps the questions are given in several sets. In that case it is necessary to give the wizards of the class each a different set to work out. While waiting, the class may make pictures on the corners of crib sheets or any other approved indoor sport. In due time the sets are worked and ready for distribution. The professor doing temporary police duty needs must wink or sneeze a bit and before he has regained his composure the questions have covered one step of their journey. The wizards have now only to sit and appear occupied till everyone is thru with the original.

Then the questions may come like shot from a cannon. In that case have pity for the unfortunate one who knows the subject, but not the insignificant details of this particular text.

Or again the exam may be in half the vegetation of a ten acre field. In this case, the one who happens to know the common name may set the key in reverse gear till he comes to the uncommon name, which may then be broadcast without interference, static or otherwise, by means of the deaf and dumb language.

In other words, exams are the best possible illustrations of nothing at all.
When they are so utterly useless, why have them, especially when their only certain result is to encourage dishonesty. We implore thee most honorable faculty or whoever, not to lead us knowingly into temptation.

To Meet Temple

THRILLING GAME WILL BE SEEN ON FRIDAY EVENING IN THE ALUMNI GYMNASIUM WHEN TEMPLE QUINSET INVADES SUSQUEHANNA TERRITORY

On Friday evening the students and fans of Susquehanna's basket ball squad have a rare treat in store for them when the Orange and Maroon tossers will face the powerful five from Temple University in a game in the Alumni Gymnasium.

Altho this game comes between semesters a record crowd is expected to witness the contest, which is sure to be a thriller. The game played with Temple in the Alumni Gymnasium last year is still fresh in the minds of local fans. Temple led until the last few minutes, when Susquehanna rallied and by a great burst of speed overcame Temple to the tune of 29-22.

In the game played at Philadelphia between the two fives last week the same fighting qualities were manifesting themselves. Coach Follmer is working hard with the squad and feels confident that victory will crown the efforts of his charges. The improved form noticeable in all varsity candidates is very encouraging and leads the followers to expect great things of the team in future contests.

Susquehanna Lost On Eastern Trip

IN THREE VERY HARD FOUGHT GAMES, SCHUYLKILL, ST. JOSEPH'S AND TEMPLE, THE ORANGE AND MAROON TOSSERS BOWED TO DEFEAT

From the standpoint of victories, the eastern trip taken by the Susquehanna basketeers during the past week was quite unsuccessful, but Coach Follmer has expressed himself as satisfied that his warriors are at last ready to assume their natural playing ability and bring forth some victories.

Tho the season thus far has been unsuccessful, the inexperienced Orange and Maroon team has gradually been rounding into a strong machine and is now ready to step out and uphold Susquehanna's basketball prestige among her rivals. Very seldom indeed can it be said that a team looks good in defeat, yet that is just what can be said of the Susquehanna team. In all three games they never ceased fighting and when the opponents seemed to hold the upper hand the S. U. five struggled the harder to come out on top.

On Thursday evening Schuylkill triumphed over the Susquehanna tossers, 29-20, in a game replete with thrills. Inability to cage foul goals cost Susquehanna victory in this fray, since only ten fouls were made in thirty-two trials. In the matter of field goals the two teams were about even. The entire Susquehanna team was in evidence during this fray, but hard luck at the baskets caused their downfall.

The second defeat came at the hands of St. Joseph's College at Philadelphia on Friday evening. It is hard to learn how Susquehanna lost this encounter, 34-20, as they outplayed their opponents through the game. Again Susquehanna fought hard, but seemingly to no avail. A five man offensive swept the St. Joe quintet off their feet, but they managed to score quite frequently by permitting one man to lie back and bang baskets. In this game Brown and Blecher displayed some real playing ability.

The strong Temple five overcame the Susquehanna passers, 46-28, in the final and fastest game of the entire trip. Too many fouls was one of the leading issues in this setback. The first half ended 16-13, with Temple leading, by virtue of having nine or ten

DR. JOHN I. WOODRUFF
FIRST FOOTBALL COACH

A close study of athletic history at Susquehanna revealed the fact that Dr. John I. Woodruff is in fact the "dean" of football on the Orange and Maroon, preceding Dr. George Fisher by a few years as active coach in this sport.

Approximately thirty-three years have passed since the introduction of this sport at Susquehanna. A rather interesting study of the changing conditions in this sport can be made by viewing the numerous pictures of Susquehanna's Varsity grid teams as found in the Alumni Gymnasium. With the exception of a few years a complete gallery of these teams can be found there.

Student Body Heard Conference Report

PROF. GROSSMAN AND DR. GEO. FISHER GAVE REPORT ON MEETING OF NATIONAL COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HELD IN NEW YORK CITY

On Wednesday morning in Chapel, the student body enjoyed the privilege of listening to the report of the meeting of the leading athletic coaches and officials of the country, which was held in New York City during the Christmas holiday season. The reports were given by Prof. Grossman and Dr. George Fisher, the men who represented Susquehanna at this meeting, the conference of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Many important phases of the conference were presented by the two representatives, and each phase was appreciated by their listeners, who were eager to know just how Susquehanna's athletic policy measured up to that of schools in other parts of the country. When they learned that Susquehanna stood far ahead of most of Pennsylvania's colleges, and that the rules as laid down by the conference were similar to the ones toward which S. U. has been striving for the last four years, they were indeed exceedingly gratified. The four points emphatically stressed by the association, to all of which Susquehanna is adhering, are the adoption of physical training for a period of two years or longer, the encouraging of outdoor life and recreational sports, the institution controlling and directing intercollegiate sports, and combining with other colleges to obtain cleaner sports. Prof. Grossman and Dr. Fisher had no need to feel uneasy when these points were announced, as they knew that Susque-

JUNIOR AND SENIOR GIRLS PREPARING FOR CAMPAIGN

Determined that the present season shall not find the upperclass team one to be toyed with by the Freshman and Sophomore teams, as has been the case in the past few years, the Junior and Senior girls are practicing faithfully in preparation for a hard schedule of games with their rivals.

There is not an abundance of material to select a team from, but those candidates who are making strong bids for regular berths are mostly players of experience. The team is captained by Margaret Morning, and she is sure to prove a fine leader, as she is a sterling player with inexhaustible reserve. "Katie" Beachley is certain to hold down a forward position since she has long been recognized as a stellar floor artist. Mary Gaugler and Martha Larson, forwards of last year's championship team, are both available and are counted upon strongly. "Ann" Norwat, star center of last year, is certain to prove a wonderful guard, as is Grace Smith of the 1923 cup winners. Mary Reiger and Christy Zimmerman round out a squad which is being counted upon to upset the calculations of the two underclass teams.

Dramatic Recital

Much Appreciated

STUDENTS IN MUSIC AND DRAMATICS GAVE VERY FINE RECITAL TO APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE WHICH RENDERED MUCH HEARTY APPLAUSE

A recital was given in Chapel Hall on Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock by the students in music and dramatics. The hall was filled with an appreciative audience, who by their expressions of applause indicated this recital to be very enjoyable.

The first part of the program consisted of individual performances, such as vocal and violin solos, and readings. The second part consisted of a sketch given by members of the S. U. Dramatic Class. The third and final part was several selections by a string quartet, composed of members of the music department.

The program was as follows:

Violin solo, Arnold Mochalski; reading, Anna Geatting; vocal solo, Helen Haines; readings, Martha Ertle; readings, Sylvia Markley.

Sketch—subject, Grandpa; cast: Mr. Carbone, Geo. Martin; Mr. Brook, Luther Weaver; Mary Ann, Sara Brungart; a maid servant, Margaret Spigelmayer. Scene in home of Carbone.

String quartet: 1st violin, Miss Schmiermund; 2nd violin, Mr. Michaels; viola, Miss Kessler; cello, Miss L. Brungart.

Many who performed on this program are new students at Susquehanna. It is self evident that our college will contribute to the world, in the future, many who will become leaders in the fine arts.

Friendship Topic At Y. M. Meeting

NEW MEETINGS VERY INTERESTING AS SUBJECTS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE ARE DISCUSSED. NO MEETING THIS EVENING ON ACCOUNT OF EXAMINATIONS

The Y. M. C. A. held its weekly meeting in the Chapel on Tuesday. After the devotional exercises, which were in charge of John Weikel, the subject of "Friendship" was discussed by Wilson Kepner, Andrew Beahm, Bruce Shafer, Harold Swank and John Sanderson.

What is Friendship? It is not getting into evil. Friendship is a sentiment expressed by one towards another. The help of one toward another. There are several elements in Friendship of which the outstanding one is Love. Christ held love for all. If one is a friend to his fellow men here he is going to be a follower of Christ. Sacrifice and a willingness to serve others makes friendship.

There are many questions arising and it is a person's duty to answer them. How does Friendship enter into daily life. True friendship can be

DR. M. HADWIN FISHER GIVING SERIES OF LECTURES

Dr. M. Hadwin Fisher, director of the Educational Department of the State Sabbath School Association, is holding a series of fourteen lectures in the Seminary Department during this week for all young men contemplating the gospel ministry and any others who wish to attend.

This series began yesterday, and the exact times of the remaining lectures will be announced later. Dr. Fisher is a Susquehanna alumnus, and is a very ardent booster of old S. U. He is a man of keen intellect, fine literary ability, and remarkable persuasion in oral discourse. Everyone who is in any way interested in Christian work should hear these lectures, which will be given during the entire week by Dr. Fisher.

Examinations Will Be Held This Week

EVERYONE IN MIDST OF MUCH WORK AND INTENSE ANXIETY, EXPECTING A HARD BATTLE AND HOPING FOR THE BEST DISPLAY OF THEIR KNOWLEDGE

Today the student body of Susquehanna University began a period of hard work wrought by much care and intense anxiety. Examinations started this morning at 8 o'clock, and as the company of boys and girls slowly moved to and from the classrooms an outsider observing their actions would surely have known that something extraordinary was taking place.

Each student is equipped with paper and pencil as his weapons against the attack of the faculty, whose chief weapon is a list of questions. Sometimes the weapon of the latter is very effective, so much so that some students do not emerge from the battle as fit as when they entered. Then on the other hand, there are those students who can not be daunted by any list of questions no matter how large or how hard they may be.

Those who have studied and done good work during the entire semester are unafraid of the attack. Others shake with fear and trembling. To many it only means burn the midnight oil for a few days and then it will all be over. Whether it will all be over with them is the question. To many others examination time merely means a time of vacation. Everyone has his whims. Everyone looks at it differently.

These examinations will close the

DR. HOUTZ VERY MUCH MISSED BY STUDENTS

Dr. Houtz, who has been ill for several days, has returned to his work, as his condition is very much improved.

Susquehanna students greeted him with pleasure, as Dr. Houtz was very much missed by the student body. Everyone knows this beloved professor as a man who is willing to give all and take nothing, one who always has a smile and a cheery word for everyone he meets. Because of the life which he lives while in contact with the students everyone is glad that he is able to be with them again in the classroom.

BOND AND KEY CLUB HELD SMOKER FOR ITS PLEDGEES

On Wednesday evening, January 21, Bond and Key Club celebrated the completion of its new home by holding a smoker for this year's pledgees and honorary members.

Extemporaneous speeches and performances, as well as appropriate musical numbers, were distinguishing features. The spirit of the occasion was exceptionally fine, and many were the outbursts of carefree merriment.

Bond and Key is very well satisfied with its initial house-warming and the impression formed by their pledgees.

Students Viewed Eclipse of Sun

JANUARY 24, 1925. MEMORABLE DAY IN LIVES OF MANY PEOPLE. SUSQUEHANNA STUDENTS TOOK ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITY OF SEEING TOTAL ECLIPSE

Many people will remember January 24, 1925, as a memorable day in their lives, as it was on this date early in the morning, that the shadow of the moon blotted out the sunlight perfectly, which is known to the astronomers as the total eclipse of the sun.

Susquehanna students were much in evidence Saturday morning hunting glass and trying to smoke it, some even preparing their instruments of vision before the great day arrived. Shortly after breakfast, at 8 o'clock, upon looking at the sun they could see that the moon had already begun its journey across the line of vision between the earth and the sun, as a very small part seemed to be missing from the sun on the upper right hand edge. As the students continued to focus their smoked glasses upon the great orb of light they saw that the sun was gradually being overshadowed.

Upon constant observation they found that at a few minutes after 9 o'clock the sun was as completely

Y. W. Addressed By Miss Wiggins

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT WELFARE WORKER TALKED ON LIFE OF FOREIGN STUDENTS AND HARDSHIPS UNDERGONE TO SECURE AN EDUCATION

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in Clio Hall on Tuesday evening. The speaker was Miss Wiggins, an International Student Welfare Worker.

During the past year Miss Wiggins has been in Europe studying the condition of the students there. She told of the terrible hardships that those war-ravaged countries had to do in order to secure an education.

The speaker spoke of the period of reconstruction at the present time, and asked everyone to recall the reconstruction period in the United States after the Civil War. She said that perhaps the people in America would think it foolish to give financial aid to these foreign people, but if they looked beyond the selfish idea they would realize that it is for the betterment of the whole world that these people should be given an education.

Miss Wiggins described the life of a student in the University of Petrograd. The students there live in a room that is only large enough for a bed and a small table, there is not even space for a chair. They rarely own any clothing save that which they have on their backs, and if they did own any there would be no place to put it.

They have not even the means to buy books. The only way they can secure book knowledge is in the public library. The library is often crowded that they must stand in line for hours before they get the books.

Then too the student must be content with but one meal a day. The process of feeding the mind on an empty stomach is not exactly pleasant occupation.

Disease is one of the worst menaces among the students. Lack of medical aid is in a large measure responsible for this situation.

Thus the need of the foreign student is very much in evidence. Miss Wiggins appealed to the girls at Susquehanna as Americans to help their fellow students in foreign lands. What is everyone willing to deny himself for the sake of his brothers and sisters across the sea?

COLLEGE

George Vought remained at Susquehanna over the week-end.

Jacob Kroon, the college editor, attended the funeral of his pastor.

Ray Long visited his home in Liverpool over Saturday and Sunday.

Harley Barnes and "Joe" Fopeano made their usual weekly trip to their homes in Middleburg.

Miles McLain visited in Middleburg over the week-end.

William G. Kniesey returned to his home in Newport after the game on Saturday evening.

Arthur Easterbrook visited in Harrisburg on Saturday.

Arthur Wagner spent the week-end at his home in Snyderstown.

"Ken" Cassel and "Reggie" Stroup journeyed to their homes in Harrisburg, where they remained over Saturday and Sunday.

George Hepper visited his home in Dalmatin over the week-end.

SEIBERT HALL

Betty Kauffman was the guest of Helen Goyne at the latter's home in Ashland.

Anna Brosius visited her home in Dalmatin over the week-end.

Helen Ylonski spent the week-end in Mt. Carmel.

Mabel Goss spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Lewistown.

Ethel Smith absented herself from the campus over the week-end.

Katharine Klinebaur visited friends in Middleburg.

Mary Farling visited her home in Jersey Shore over the week-end.

Geraldine Bond spent Saturday and Sunday in her home in Nundaia.

Miss Betty Hauser was visited by her mother over the week-end.

Gertrude McKee left for Altoona on Friday and returned Sunday.

Mabel Kessler was visited by friends over the week.

ALUMNI

Rev. Chas. M. Tietel, Sem. '07, has resigned his parish at Woodlawn, Pa., and will begin his labors again in the Trinity Lutheran Church at Newport News, Va. This parish has recently been served by Rev. Philip W. Pearson, '02.

J. C. Coons, '24, is teaching three math classes and Vocational Guidance in Carick high school, near Pittsburgh. There are twenty-seven teachers on the faculty of this school and a student enrollment of 673.

Rev. Andrew J. Beahm, '80, is pastor of one of the Lutheran Churches in Pittsburgh.

J. P. Carpenter, '91, is a very successful lawyer in the city of Sunbury. S. B. Burkhardt, '92, one of the live wires in the organization of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association is a furniture salesman in Bellevue.

Danowsky, '15, is principal of the Northumberland high school. He has three Susquehanna alumni on his teaching staff, Mrs. Bess Petterhoff-Keller, Miss Olive Yelting and Frank Long.

Rev. Myron E. Cole, '21 and '24, reports that he is very happy with the progress of his work in his congregation at Sewickley, Pa.

I. N. Catherman, '91, is a traveling salesman. He resides in Selingsgrove and has been secretary of the Trinity Lutheran Sabbath school for a number of years.

Rev. Clyde W. Shaeffer was elected secretary at the last Eastern conference held at Easton. He is also Lutheran student pastor. There are 93 Lutheran students enrolled in his church.

Rev. Clair James '24, is having a very successful pastorate in Reedsville. He has published the eighth number of his Reedsville Lutheran. Two Susquehanna seminarians were visitors in his church in the last month and assisted in the services. They were Bruce Shaeffer, '26, his former room mate, and Lynne Ramey, '26, a former member of the Reedsville Church.

Rev. C. P. MacLaughlin has resigned his charge at the First Evan, Lutheran Church in Pittsburgh. He has been pastor there for six years. He has accepted a call to the Church of the Redeemer in Atlanta, Ga.

It is about time for some prodigious thinker to raise a grand hue and cry about the injustice of examinations.

VARSITY "S" CLUB CONTINUES DRIVE

With financial obligations, assumed by the Varsity "S" Club in order that the work on the New Field Entrance might not be delayed, falling due this week, the members of the Club are making a concerted effort to secure the prompt payment of campaign pledges.

By far the majority of pledges have been paid, some few not being due till February 1st, however, too many students have failed to fulfill their pledge made at the time of the One Day Drive. Should Susquehanna students fail to come through in this emergency the Varsity "S" Club will be obliged to face a rather unpleasant situation.

Surely the Entrance is a thing of beauty and every student can feel justly proud of their share in this undertaking. You are a Susquehannian, if you have failed to pay your subscription you owe it yourself and your Alma Mater to make the necessary arrangements to meet your obligation. No other individual can assume this obligation for you. Your word was your bond. Do not fail the "S" Club at this critical moment.

Payment can be made to the Campaign treasurer, Roger Blough, or at the Gymnasium office.

fouls to shoot, while Susquehanna was shooting hot two. Despite the score the game continually brought the crowd to its feet with the intensity of the playing. In this game, Kniesey, who is playing his first year at Susquehanna, came into his own and rang up seven well deserved field goals.

It is impossible to name any particular luminaries of the trip, as every man made his best effort. Brown started all three games at a forward position, and he fulfilled his task well, leaving but little to be desired. Kurtz and Bolig, veteran forwards, did well when called upon. Duden, at center, was handicapped with a sore foot. Blecher is fast developing into a stellar guard. He is tall and rangy, reminding one of Bannon, a former S. U. luminary.

REGULATIONS AND CONSTITUTION GOVERNING ATHLETICS AT S. U.

Article IX Football

Section 1. The Football jersey shall be maroon, with sleeves striped, alternating orange and maroon, the stripes being two (2) inches wide. This jersey shall not be worn off the football field except by holders of the football S. The stocking shall be solid maroon.

Section 2. The football S shall be awarded each year by the Captain, Manager and Coach of the sport in consultation with the Director of Athletics, to those men who have played fifty (50) per cent of the full quarters of collegiate football during the season.

Section 3. Numerals may be awarded to not more than six (6) men in recognition of conscientious work during the season either on the Varsity or scrub teams.

Section 4. The committee on awards may, if they deem necessary or advisable, award one additional Varsity football letter to that member of the varsity or scrub squad, who in their estimation, is most deserving of such recognition.

Article X Basketball

Section 1. The Basketball uniform shall consist of an orange, V neck sleeveless jersey with two maroon, one inch stripes separated by 7 inches; plain maroon basketball trousers and orange stockings with two one inch maroon stripes. The jersey shall be appropriately numbered on the back in maroon.

Section 2. The Basketball S shall be awarded each year by the Captain, Manager and Coach of the sport in consultation with the Director of Athletics, to those men who have played fifty (50) per cent of the full halves of collegiate basketball during the season.

Section 3. Numerals may be awarded to not more than three (3) men who are judged to be the most deserving on the first and second teams.

Article XI Baseball

Section 1. The Baseball uniform shall consist of a plain gray collarless shirt, with a maroon disc and an orange S superimposed thereon, to be placed upon the left side; plain gray knee pants and maroon stockings.

Section 2. The baseball S shall be awarded by the Captain, Manager and Coach of the sport in consultation with the Director of Athletics, to those men who have played fifty (50) per cent of the full innings of collegiate baseball during the season, or to the pitcher who has pitched twenty-five (25) per cent of the full innings.

Section 3. Numerals may be awarded to not more than five (5) men who are adjudged to be the most deserving on the first and second teams.

Article XII Track

Section 1. The Track uniform shall consist of a white sleeveless jersey, with a five (5) inch maroon S thereon, and white running pants, with orange and maroon half-inch stripes down the sides.

Section 2. The Track S shall be awarded by the Captain, Manager and Coach of the sport, in consultation with the Director of Athletics to those men who shall have scored at least five points in an intercollegiate meet or who shall have made an official college record during the season.

Section 3. Numerals may be awarded to any man scoring at least three points in an intercollegiate meet.

Article XIII Tennis

Section 1. The Tennis S shall be awarded by the Captain, Manager and Coach of the sport in consultation with the Director of Athletics, to those men who have defeated an intercollegiate opponent in singles or who was a member of the team defeating their opponents in doubles. That individual who shall win the University championship shall be awarded a tennis letter.

Article XIV Wearing of Emblems

No persons shall be entitled to wear an emblem, uniform or parts of uniforms mentioned above, except on the field or in a meet, until that person shall have been authorized to do so by the committee having charge of same.

Article XV Amendments

This constitution may be amended by a majority vote of a quorum of the Active Members present, after one week's notice of such proposed amendment. The president of the Association may and on petition of five members of the Association shall call a meeting of the Association for the purpose of considering such amendment. Adopted May 15th, 1922.

The Athletic Cabinet Purpose

This group is selected from representative men in the University, elected by appointment and partly by election, and is organized (a) for conference upon important college athletic affairs, (b) for taking the initiative in important college innovations, and (c) for bringing into harmonious co-operation, the various college athletic organizations. It shall in no way influence policies or administer athletic finances, and shall act in advisory rather than executive capacity.

Membership

Its members shall consist of nine men, including the chairman ex-officio and the treasurer of the Athletic Association, and the Captains of the Football, Basketball, Baseball, Track and Tennis teams respectively. The remaining members shall be elected by ballot of the retiring cabinet.

Meetings

Meetings shall be arranged by conference between the president and chairman.

Officers

Officers shall consist of a President and Secretary, elected at the first meeting of the year. These two, with the chairman ex-officio shall constitute the executive committee.

Appendix

Principles of Amateur Sport as defined by the National Collegiate Athletic Association of which the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association is sub-division and of which Association Susquehanna is a charter member, are violated by the following practices:

(a) —Proselyting:

(1) The offering of inducements to players to enter colleges or universities because of their athletic abilities, and supporting or maintaining players while students on account of their athletic abilities, either by athletic organizations, individual alumni, or otherwise, directly or indirectly.

(2) The singling out of prominent athletic students of preparatory schools and endeavoring to influence them to enter a particular college or university.

(b) —The playing of those ineligible as amateurs. An amateur athlete is defined as one who participates in competitive physical sports only for the pleasure, and the physical, mental, moral and social benefits directly derived therefrom.

(c) —The playing of those who are not bona fide students in good and regular standing.

(d) —Improper and unsportsmanlike conduct of any sort whatsoever, either on the part of contestants, the coaches, their assistants or the student body.

NOTE—Each institution which is a member of this association agrees to enact and enforce such measures as may be necessary to prevent violations of the principles of amateur sport as defined above.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

ECLIPSE

Saturday morning of last week, we the people of this earth were given a very unusual opportunity. The wise men of science tell us that this will not occur again for one hundred years or more. For that reason, it was fitting that every person who could, should witness the eclipse of the sun by the moon. But in spite of these things, a number of our folks did not see it. The reason was not that they were in any way incapacitated, but rather that they were lazy. It was so nice and warm in bed, and the necessity of an eight o'clock class was not there to urge, so they did not bother getting up. In all probability, if they had already been awake there would have been sufficient curiosity to stir them from their lethargy. There was no penalty for neglecting this opportunity, so it was allowed to slip past.

The central thought is this—how many eclipses are there going on around us in the ordinary routine of life? It would seem on close inspection that the world is full of opportunities of a less spectacular but just as vital nature. We bump our heads on them and fall over them. Some of them even reach out and grab at us, but we are too stupid to see or care. The result is not evident. We do not see what is to be gained by going after them. For that reason then, we allow to go thru our fingers the things which we know to be of great value ultimately. There is something of value in this for each of us. If we find its personal application to ourselves.

Another thought is to be had by considering the eclipse from another angle. The sun is the luminary of the day. It is also the more nearly stationary of the two. The moon is the luminary of the night, but it is only reflecting the glory of the sun at its best. Yet the sun was obscured by the moon. The stimulating force of the whole earth was obscured by a body secondary to it. Is it not peculiar that in this so carefully planned universe, an order of second things first should prevail even for a short time? When this actually happens to the sun, how much is it possible that we mortal beings should not be able at all times to put the first things of life in their proper order? Considering the conflict between the spirit of commercialism and that of Christianity, this condition appears to exist. The effect naturally follows. As the moon cast a shadow over the earth, just so does the wrong order of things in life spread a mantle of gloom over our being. It may be said that such condition did not last long. But let us remember that our span of life is to eternity as the time of total eclipse is to all time.

EXCHANGE

Those students taking Sociology at Williamette University, located at Salem, Oregon, are using the town of Salem as a laboratory. They are armed with pencils and notebooks, firing questions and jotting down their observations. When they have finished these observations there will be nothing concerning the city of Salem that they will not know. The housing situation, the labor situation, whether or not there are too many churches in the city, what type of people first settled there, and many other interesting facts will be recorded. . . . One theory that the students are determined to prove or disprove is whether or not the Catholics are "endeavoring to dominate public school life." This survey will take six months. After it is completed a definite, constructive community program is to be mapped out on the basis of the findings revealed by the investigations.

S. U. Dropped Game To Temple Quintet

PIERCE STRUGGLE WITH THIRTY-THREE MINUTES OF WONDERFUL PLAYING AND SEVEN MINUTES OF RAGGED BASKETBALL CAUSED LOSS BY SCORE OF 33-36

In a fierce forty minute struggle which was filled with thirty-three minutes of wonderful playing on the part of Susquehanna's tossers and seven minutes of ragged basketball which caused both students and fans to become agonized in every sense of the words, the S. U. team gave a heartrending struggle to the Temple five by the score of 33-36.

Entering into the final seven minutes of play with a marginal lead of ten points and everything going nicely, Susquehanna's guards were ejected from the game via the personal foul route. With their departure the team became completely demoralized, having no guiding hand to keep them in check and disastrous results followed. Previously Temple had been permitted no shots near the baskets, but the Susquehanna substitute guards showed a complete lack of reserve which permitted the Temple floor-men to get loose and gain about as many points during the last seven minutes of the game as they had registered in the first thirty-three minutes. Altho Temple showed much class and polish the Susquehanna five was superior as long as the regular quintet was assembled against the visitors.

The game opened with Temple caging two successive foul shots. Duden brought forth first blood for Susquehanna by registering a field goal. From then until the close of the first half the playing was fast and furious, and the lead changed hands many times, but Coach Follmer's men were out to win and at half time led by a 15-12.

Forestry School to Play Here Saturday

SUSQUEHANNA BASKETEERS TO MEET STATE FORESTRY SCHOOL OF MT. ALTO IN WHAT PROMISES TO BE A VERY SPIRITED FRAY SATURDAY EVENING

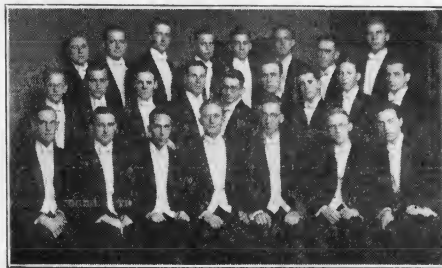

On Saturday evening of this week another spirited fray will be offered to local basket ball fans when the State Forestry School of Mt. Alto invades Susquehanna's campus.

In former years the game between these two institutions brought out much spirited action on the part of both teams. A two year lapse of meetings has not lessened the desire of the Mt. Alto boys to take the Orange and Maroon basketeers into camp. In the last game, which was played three years ago, the S. U. five overwhelmed the visitors under a 52-20 avalanche. But the game this year is certain to be a close one, if comparative scores are to be reckoned with. Schuykill triumphed over Susquehanna, but was held to a very low score at Reading by the Foresters. With this knowledge at hand, Susquehanna is hard at work preparing for a contest which may prove even more exciting than the recent game with Temple.

The showing of the Susquehanna five during the past week has proved to be very gratifying to the student body and followers of the team. The offensive power of the team has improved to such an extent that the fans need no longer worry as to their scoring ability. With Kniseley continuing his flashy goal shooting, and Kurtz jumping back into the stride which won him his letter last year, S. U. can boast of a pair of forwards that are hard to excel in minor collegiate ranks. Not only has the offense speeded up, but the defense has developed to the pitch where an opponent who

Men's Glee Club Prepared to Make Its Initial Debut for the Season of 1925. First Concert to be Given at Middleburg on Thursday Evening. Following Week the Club Will Make Eastern Trip, Appearing at Bloomsburg, Wilkes-Barre, Nesquehoning and Minersville

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club, after many nights of diligent rehearsals is finally prepared to make its initial debut for the season of 1925. The young men have practiced diligently all Fall in order that this program might be the best ever. The members realize that the hardest part of the work is completed and all that remains to do is to "put it across."

The first program will be given at Middleburg on February 5, and will be held in the Court House. This concert is sponsored by one of the leading citizens of the town as guarantor and who will give the proceeds to the High School Alumni Association for the maintenance of a public library. This is only the second concert ever given in Middleburg by the Glee Club, but everyone is confident that a crowded house will be on hand to witness this concert.

The following week the Club will go on its Eastern trip and will appear at four places. The schedule for this trip is: Feb. 9, Bloomsburg; Feb. 10, Wilkes-Barre; Feb. 11, Nesquehoning; Feb. 12, Minersville. The Club has appeared at all of these places in former years, where it has received much praise and is highly appreciated.

The concert at Bloomsburg is given in the State Normal School building and is largely patronized by the fair coeds of that school. The concert at Wilkes-Barre is given under the auspices of the Lutheran Church. The Nesquehoning concert is financed by "Ted" Ebberts, the local lad and fellow glee clubber. In this rich and prosperous coal mining town the club is entertained only by Ted's friends and relatives who see that the Club does not lack for anything in the line of comfort. The concert at Minersville is given in Rev. Fassold's church and is always well attended.

The Club is directed by Prof. Sheldon, who thru greater efforts has been largely responsible for the splendid record Susquehanna's Glee Club has made.

The personnel of the Club is as follows:

Pianist, Sanderson
First Tenors: Baird, Kroen, Law, Olson, Roberts.
Second Tenors: Carlson, Constable, Hepler, Landis, Stover, Williams.
First Basses: Enders, Faust, Fopano, Keeler, Morning, Wagner.
Second Basses: Ebberts, Erel, Hen-lus, Sands, Sharretts, Sigler.

1925 Baseball Card Has Been Completed

SCHEDULE INCLUDES THIRTEEN GAMES, SIX OF WHICH WILL BE PLAYED AT SELINGROVE. FIRST GAME APRIL 15 WITH FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL

After much persistent effort Manager Granley has completed one of the finest baseball schedules that Susquehanna has had the privilege of participating in during the last few years. The teams to be played are of a very high calibre, and some excellent games may be expected by Susquehanna baseball fans.

In many respects the schedule for this spring resembles that of the 1924 card. The total number of games played will be thirteen, including six home games. The completed schedule does not include Albright and Bucknell, with whom the S. U. boys had two games each last year, but these schools have been replaced by Franklin and Marshall, Haverford, and Swarthmore.

The season will open on April 15, Wednesday, when Franklin and Marshall will invade Susquehanna territory. The May Day game on Saturday, May 2 will be played with Juniata. The annual Commencement Week game, which formerly has been played with Bucknell, will be played with Lebanon Valley on Tuesday, June 9.

In the six home games Susquehanna will meet Franklin and Marshall, Bloomsburg, Juniata, Ursinus, Schuykill and Lebanon Valley. The schedule follows:

April 15 (Wed.) Franklin and Marshall at Selingrove.
April 18 (Sat.) Bloomsburg at Selingrove.
April 24 (Fri.) Juniata at Huntingdon.
April 25 (Sat.) Penn State at State College.
May 2 (Sat.) May Day, Juniata at Selingrove.
May 8 (Fri.) Ursinus at Selingrove.

Basketball League To Reopen Series

NO GAMES ON ACCOUNT OF EXAMINATION PERIOD, BUT NOW ACTIVITIES TO BE RESUMED AGAIN WHEN THEOLOGS WILL MEET SOPHS ON WEDNESDAY

The student body is awaiting with interest the resumption of the class basketball activities which are always certain to bring forth a grand display of spirit on the part of both players and spectators.

No games have been played since the pre-examination period, and the contestants are eagerly awaiting the call to action once more. The game on Wednesday evening will bring together the Theologs and Sophs, and both teams are already predicting victory. The Sophs are handicapped by the loss of Brown and Kniseley to the varsity squad, but in Miller they have an able leader. The future persons are one of the league's strongest contenders even tho they do not occupy the top rung in the race ladder. In Lester and Ramer they boast of two fine shots who are dangerous at all times. Groninger also has the knack of coming thru when most needed. The squad is rounded out with Hanks, Kepler and Beahn, all of whom are experienced floor-men.

The Senior and Freshman squads continue to set a terrific pace in the league with the Juniors just one short step behind. The championship will be decided within the next couple weeks, when the leaders are certain to meet.

The girls' league is ready to start a series to determine the eventual winner of the handsome trophy. The Freshman five, under the leadership of Mary Weimer, is certain to prove troublesome, as is the squad of the Sophs under the guidance of Helen Veingst. The Junior-Senior team continues at the post of being favored by many to repeat their former performances in winning the laurels.

Every day brings its food.

Debating To Be Resumed Again

WITH THE BEGINNING OF THE SECOND SEMESTER THE DEBATING CLUB WILL HOLD ITS MEETINGS REGULARLY EVERY THURSDAY EVENING AT 6:30

On account of the examination period the meeting of debating club has recently been postponed, but with the beginning of this semester the work will again be taken up.

The club will hold its regular meeting on Thursday evening at 6:30, at which time the question for debate will be, Resolved: That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. The Affirmative speakers will be George Martin and Murray Grissinger, the Negative speakers, Guy Lubold and Lester Lutz.

Many persons have wondered why this same question is being used continuously in the Susquehanna debate work. This is the question which is in use in intercollegiate debating, and it is Susquehanna's purpose to become entirely familiar with all its phases so that when the varsity debating team is chosen the team will have acquired an accurate amount of knowledge upon the question.

Everyone come out to the meetings of the debating club and help select a winning team. The team will not be chosen. If there are some who are interested in this work who have not had the privilege of debating, will they please hand their names to either David Davis or Harland Fague immediately. Don't wait. Get in on these debates, at least come and give the debaters some encouragement so that they may be sufficiently prepared to represent Susquehanna on the rostrum.

Ladies' Auxiliary Sponsored Concert

MUSIC FURNISHED BY MEN'S GLEE CLUB OF THE RAILROAD Y. M. C. A. OF SUNBURY AND S. U. ORCHESTRA. FINE ENTERTAINMENT ENJOYED BY ALL

A fine concert was given in the College Church on Tuesday evening. The program was elevating and educational. The music was furnished by the Men's Glee Club of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of Sunbury, and the Orchestra of S. U.

The Glee Club was composed of eighteen singers, and rendered a very good program. Variety was added by several readings, which were enjoyed by all.

Altho the concert was not very well attended by the student body, those students attending were able to forget their examinations for a while and returned to their lessons feeling that the time was well spent.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is and has been doing some very fine work for the school. The object of the organization is to secure things for the college, not taken care of by the trustees and board of directors. In the past three years of their existence, up until June 1, they have raised $1,800, and have contributed many useful things to the school.

They have assumed a debt of $1,165 in order to furnish the new dining hall with chairs, tables and a buffet. The sum of $25 was cleared on the last concert. This is very much appreciated, but the work must continue in order to raise the money to pay off the debt.

The plan is to hold some entertainment every month for the college students and others. These entertainments will be given for the same price as a good movie, so that everyone can afford to attend.

A HANDBOOK

Susquehanna University is very much in need of a handbook. Most colleges issue this small publication under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. These two organizations are solely responsible for the editing of the book.

At some institutions this little book goes by the name of Freshman Bible. The reason for this may indicate to us what is contained within. There are many, many things which a Freshman just entering the classic halls of learning should be taught from the beginning. All of these things are usually found in the little handbook. To begin with the Freshman Rules could be published this way, both for the girls and for the fellows. The faculty regulations regarding the various phases of school activity could be brought to the eye of the student under a more effective guise than by merely posting such regulations on the bulletin board. In short, there are many things which could go into the book that would help each Freshman, and in turn help to make a better Susquehanna.

It is true, some of you may say that we already have three publications on the campus: The Susquehanna, The Lantern and the Sophomore Catechism, yes we do have and we are proud of them. But which of these gives the information which could be contained in a college handbook? The Lantern, the college annual, comes nearest to the handbook in this respect, but even The Lantern is only a book portraying the beauty of college life by means of pictures, many of them, both of individuals and of organizations. It is not a book of information. A handbook is just what the name implies, and we at Susquehanna need such a publication very badly. It is a hand(y)book, one which will help us to establish ourselves in the first year of college life and in strengthening our ideals then it will ever make of us persons who will revere and respect the sacred traditions of dear old Susquehanna in the days that are to come.

PAY UP YOUR ATHLETIC ENTRANCE SUBSCRIPTION

Our seventy-five subscriptions received in unpaid on the Athletic Field Entrance Drive. Altho this number is daily growing smaller the need of prompt payment continues to be very urgent in order that the officers of the Varsity "S" Club may be able to properly meet the obligations of the Club awarded in the erection of the Ent. drive.

Approximately 385 subscriptions were secured at the time of the One Day Drive. The payment of their pledges by three hundred and more of the subscribers has enabled the Club to properly finance the undertaking thus far. The special united effort by members of the Club planned for last week was partially successful, but due to mid-year examinations, payment on subscriptions failed to reach the expectations of the members of the Club. Aside from securing quite a few payments, numerous subscribers planned very definitely to make full and complete payment upon returning from their brief vacation between semesters.

In view of the above condition the "S" Club members will continue their efforts during the next week or two in order that a final and complete report of the Drive can be made at the time of the monthly meeting of the Club. Individual members of the Club are aiding the officers in this special effort, in order that final payment of the note held against the Club can be made as soon as possible. During the past week a slight reduction on the note was made as a result of monies paid in. This obligation, however, continues to cause the Club no little concern. The "S" Club desires to embarrass no individual. It has placed its confidence in all Susquehannians who aided in making the Drive a success. It urges upon all those who have not paid their subscriptions to do so at the earliest possible moment. The first mile in the race has long since been finished—the second and hardest mile of the race must be finished if the Race is to be won.

DR. WOODRUFF ADDRESSED KIWANIS CLUB OF SUNBURY

Dr. John I. Woodruff, a member of the faculty of Susquehanna University, addressed the Kiwanis Club of Sunbury at their meeting in the Idlewhistle Tea Room last week. Dr. Woodruff took as his subject "Builders and What They Build."

He spoke in part stating that since the dawn of history men have been building along all lines and in all directions but some have confined their work and efforts to erection of great temples, the completion of great pieces of sculpture or literary masterpieces; they have lost sight of building along spiritual lines.

But the men who have really accomplished the most and made the world fine, big, and great are those who have followed in the footsteps of the lowly Nazarene, those who have built spiritually.

DINNER PARTY HELD IN HONOR OF MISS CATHARINE FOPEANO

On Friday, January 30, a very delightful farewell party was given at the "Barnes's" home in Middleburg in honor of Miss Catharine Fopeano, who expects to enter Johns Hopkins hospital on February 10.

As the 3:08 train arrived a merry group of girls put aside all memories of the past exam week to enjoy the last party with "Kitty." The party was first entertained at Hassinger's. After several numbers on the violin by Miss LaQuay, and a reading by Anna Norwat, the group journeyed to "Barnes's," where an elaborate dinner was served. Saint Valentine had aided in transforming the rooms, which were beautifully decorated in red and white. Hearts of various sizes, together with many flowers added to the scheme. Prim little ladies dressed in red and white served as place cards and tiny baskets of nuts as favors. After the dinner the merry group toasted marshmallows over small red candles fastened to red hearts.

The group spent the evening playing cards, the party breaking up in time to get the train to Selingrove. Those present were Misses Vera LaQuay, Verda Long, Kathryn Tlev, Catharine Fopeano, Anna Norwat, Margaret Schmeiderund, Mary Reigler, Eleanor Birk, Helen Vofnest, Debey Morris, Catherine Bender, Margaret Snyder, Katherine Kleinbauer, and Messrs. "Joe" Fopeano and Harley Barnes. Altho "Kitty" will leave the Susquehanna campus, her friends will surely remember her and wish her the greatest of success in her future work.

At Brown University a Junior Kiwanis Club is being organized. The organization will include men on the campus interested in boosting the name of Brown. This is to be accomplished by a number of rallies and meetings addressed by prominent business men of the city who will speak on matters of college interest.

Sense and Nonsense

The Old and the New

The first semester of the school year is over. The good and the bad that has been done is history and the old story of success and failure can never be rewritten. The work of our hands shall stand always. The hours of golden opportunity, some utilized and some scorned, will never again offer us their chance for advancement. Gone are the well spent evenings and gone too are the misspent nights. The old semester has passed into oblivion and with it has taken a good part of our lives. It is well to pause and in a glance of retrospection pick out the strong points and flaws of our living in this semester. If only we could see with the naked eyes of truth the full meaning of our actions. If only we could understand the influence on our lives of the friends we have made and of the acts we have committed. If we could just weigh the growth and decay of our minds, bodies and souls. If we could do this and then have the courage to go forward, profiting by our mistakes, it would mean a step toward true education.

But regardless of the past, there is another semester ahead. New and unspoiled. Possessing a world of the same golden hours, the same days and nights, and the same chance for growth and decay. If only we could all be men and women, true to our better selves. Not vacillating, wavering, weak, fearful, pleasure-seeking humans, whose only that is to get by and enjoy the kitting. Men and women, keen enough to see the right paths, strong enough to launch our ships on these paths, and brave enough to keep sailing, come what may. This semester we will have a plan to carry out. We will choose between the struggle and, the cowardly refuge, pleasure. We will build for tomorrow or we will live only for today and trust to luck to make tomorrow easy enough for our weak selves to exist in. In a word, we will be men and women or we will be travelers on the road to nowhere.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is working for the benefit of the students of Susquehanna, and at the same time is furnishing instructive entertainment. The least everyone on the campus can do, as students of S. U., is to give the Auxiliary their hearty cooperation and attend these entertainments. The organization is planning for other improvements about the school in the near future.

PHI MU DELTA FRATERNITY HOST AT ENJOYABLE PARTY

The first party staged by Mu Alpha Chapter of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity was held on Saturday evening, January 31, 1925, at the Chapter Home on Walnut street. Musical inspiration was produced by Pelton's Gang. The patronesses were Mrs. Geo. E. Fisher and Mrs. H. A. Allison, who were assisted by Dr. Kern. A jolly good time was enjoyed by all.

Dr. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, made an announcement at the opening of the school year which has caused much discussion on the Dartmouth campus. The announcement states that no man at Dartmouth will be eligible for a fraternity bid unless he is registered as a Sophomore in his second year at the Hanover institution.

Love is the only game that was never postponed on account of darkness.

ALUMNI

M. P. Moller, Jr., who has been confined to his bed on account of typhoid fever since last November, is reported to be about again. "Ted" expects to spend a month in the South to recuperate from his recent illness.

Harold W. Follmer, '15, county superintendent of schools, has been appointed by Dr. Becht, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, as one of three men to inspect the Central State Normal School at Lock Haven and report to the State Department its efficiency and any recommendations for its improvement.

Rev. Walter E. Brown, '15 and '18, pastor of the Pine Street Lutheran Church in Danville, reports a prosperous condition in the affairs of his church. Rev. Brown has submitted a copy of his church paper entitled the "Church Visitor," which is a very fine publication. In the last issue of his paper which is the first issue for the year there is a compendium of fine articles. Rev. Brown is sole editor of his church paper.

REV. AND MRS. WILSON P. ARD WILL RESIDE IN CALIFORNIA

Entertained Over Week-End by Dr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Aikens, Preparatory to Departure Tuesday

After several years of marked success as pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Bellefonte, the Rev. Wilson P. Ard, has relinquished his ministerial work in Centre county.

The Rev. Mr. Ard, Mrs. Ard and their infant son Robert departed Tuesday for California, where they intend to make their future home. They will reside for the present with Mrs. Ard's mother in Los Angeles.

The Ards were week-end guests here at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Aikens, on West Walnut street. Dr. Aikens was interested in the Rev. Mr. Ard from those childhood days, when the present president of Susquehanna University was the Lutheran pastor in Pine Grove Mills and the Rev. Mr. Ard was a boy of the parish.

It was largely thru the influence of Dr. Aikens that he came to Susquehanna University and eventually was ordained a Lutheran minister. The Rev. Mr. Ard was called to the Bellefonte charge immediately upon his ordination. He served as a Y. M. C. A. secretary during the great war.

His efforts in Bellefonte resulted in increased membership and interest in his church. His general popularity and ability was testified to further by his selection as the first president of the Kiwanis Club in Bellefonte, and his general identification with the Centre County Hospital and other worthy charitable causes thruout the community.

Winning the West

Irrigation by electrically driven pumps has made hundreds of thousands of acres of desert land in the Intermountain West blossom like the rose.

For a few cents a month per acre, electricity—the giant worker—brings the life-giving water from distant lakes and rivers to rainless valleys, producing rich harvests of fruits and vegetables, cereals and forage.

What electricity is doing for the farmer is only a counterpart of what it is doing for industry. Transportation, City and Country life or any of the professions. It is a tool ready for your use and which, wisely used, will make the impossible of today an accomplished fact tomorrow.

How electricity does these things is important to the student in a technical school—but what electricity can do is important to every college man or woman, no matter what their life's work may be.

S. U. DROPPED GAME TO TEMPLE QUINTET

margin.

At the start of the second half, Temple returned to the floor determined to annex another victory, and she fought fiercely to take the lead. But they reckoned without the fighting Selinsgrove collegians, who slowly but steadily increased their margin of victory until only seven minutes of playing time remained and the scoreboard read Susquehanna 21, Temple 21.

But just at this time the Susquehanna team lost the services of her defense men and the result came like a flash from the clear sky.

The S. U. men lost all of their keen sense of judgment, their passing became wild, they became lost on the floor, and their downfall was inevitable. Altho Temple should be given much credit for taking advantage of S. U.'s misfortune, the real cause of the defeat was with the local team itself. The student body and followers of the team shouted encouragement to the boys in the dying moments of the game, but to no avail.

Altho the Temple defeat was uncalculated for and unmerited, local fans are proud to know that at last Susquehanna's basketball team has come into its real form and is capable of handing a reverse to any of her collegiate opponents. Her display of speed and stamina in the last game served to take one's memory back just a year when the Susquehanna five staged such a wonderful uphill fight in winning from Gettysburg by a 35-34 score in a sensational battle.

The fight which has been instilled into the Susquehanna passers will easily carry them to many victories before the close of the season, and any opponent in the future who wins from S. U. is going to realize that she has met a formidable foe.

In the Temple game, Kurtz and Kniskely, stellar forwards, lived up to expectations and came thru with a total of nine field goals. Duden, at center, displayed fine floor work, along with his fine shooting. The guards' defensive work was well done, and Blecher managed to cage his usual field goal.

The fouling which recalls unpleasant memories of the past week will be eradicated by the coaches during the present week.

Lineup:

gets loose near the basket can indeed consider himself fortunate. The husky Temple floor-men were held at bay until the waning minutes of the game when the S. U. substitute defense men lost control of the situation with disastrous results.

The Susquehanna five this week will play minus the services of Duden and Blecher, who are not returning to school this semester. Altho both men were Freshmen, their loss will be felt to the team, since Duden was developing as a center and Blecher had the earmarks of a coming guard. Their places will be capably filled however, with such men as Bolig, Brown, Seigle, Blough, Haney, Shine, Shuntile and "Don" Young to select from.

Another refreshing bit of news is that which states that "Kike" Young, a member of the 1924 squad, will be back for the second semester of the present year. Lee Trichels, star diminutive forward, may return with Young.

Coach Follmer is working hard to eradicate the fouling which was directly the cause of the setback last week.

Of the 618 universities, colleges and professional schools in the United States, New York has 50; Pennsylvania, 48, and Ohio, 40; while the largest State in the Union, Texas, has only 20.

S. U. Overwhelmed State Forest Team

IN A WELL PLAYED GAME ON SATURDAY EVENING THE STATE FORESTRY PASSERS BOWED TO DEFEAT BEFORE THE SUSQUEHANNA TOSSERS, 46-19

In a well played game on Saturday evening the State Forestry passers invaded the S. U. campus and fell a victim to the speed and shooting ability of the Susquehanna tossers by the score of 46-19.

Previous to the game the visitors were heralded as having a speedy quintet and were expected to present a real front to Coach Follmer's proteges. But with the opening whistle, Orange and Maroon took the initiative and displayed an attack which held the Foresters in complete subjection and enabled the Susquehanna boys to pile up a commanding lead.

Coach Follmer began the game using the Notre Dame system of starting one team while holding another in reserve. But in this instance the "shock troops" or second five displayed such a dazzling game that there proved to be no need for the varsity five, which was on hand ready to enter the fray at the first sign of a falter on the part of the contestants. It was not until the final five minutes of play that the varsity was given a workout and even then they were sent in merely for a workout and not because there was any need for them. The second five covered themselves with glory, and showed students and followers alike that Susquehanna boasts of more real basketball material this year than for the past couple

RED HOT CONTEST FORTHCOMING WHEN SCHUYKILL COLLEGE, OF READING, INVADES SUSQUEHANNA CAMPUS TO ENGAGE S. U. PASSERS

Another red hot contest is likely to be forthcoming on Friday of this week when Schuykill College, of Reading, comes to the Susquehanna campus to engage the S. U. passers, the second basketball game between these two rivals for this season.

In the first game played at Reading several weeks ago, the home team was victorious over the Susquehanna boys, 29-20. But since that time both quintets have improved so rapidly that the coming game promises to be the fastest and most bitterly fought ever played between these two institutions. The Schuykill five has been defeating all opponents with astounding regularity, and in the last time out it overcame the swift aggregation of Juniata College. It boasts of an excellent aggregation which is built around the stellar Loose brothers, Ray and Earl. In the game last year, followers of the Susquehanna team were alarmed at the accurate long range shooting ability of these men, and it was not until the final minutes of play that the Orange and Maroon basket-players jumped into the lead in order to secure a 37-22 triumph.

Students and fans of Susquehanna's basketball history are more than pleased with the development of the Varsity squad under Coach Follmer. In the past few weeks the Varsity men have been undergoing a process of development until now they rank as one of the fastest small college teams in the East. Very few schools can boast of the reserve material which is plentiful at Susquehanna. With two full Varsity teams, each of which is capable of holding its own against collegiate rivals, the outlook for a successful campaign is indeed rosy, and the final half of the schedule should be filled with a list of conquests.

THE SOPS DEFEATED SOPHS IN CLASS BASKETBALL GAME

The passers increased their chances of finishing well up in the race by taking an easy victory from the fast fading Sophomores.

Early in the fray the Sophs showed such signs of improvement that a Theolog victory was questioned. But before a short lapse of time, the Sophs weakened before the power of their experienced opponents and the result became inevitable. When "Red" Daubenspeck was eliminated on account of personal fouls, the Sophs were without a pivot man, and the place was filled by Adams, who had little chance Reserves Captured Laurels from N. H. S.

IN PRELIMINARY GAME STRONG RESERVE TEAM MET FORMIDABLE OPPONENT IN NORTHUMBERLAND HIGH, ALTHO THE S. U. BOYS TRIUMPHED 25-17

In a preliminary to the Varsity game on Saturday evening, the strong Reserve team met a formidable foe in Coach Bowser's Northumberland high school team. Altho this is Bowser's first year as pilot of the "Norry" passers, he brought to his Alma Mater a team of fighting trojans who were never willing to concede the Reserves an unearned point.

For several minutes the game was close and the lead was uncertain, but shortly thereafter, the Reserves got properly working and drew away to a fair lead, which was constantly threatened by the "Norry" youths, the game ending 25-17.

Coach Follmer used two complete teams against the invaders, and each more than upheld the burden which was theirs. The first five, composed of the dependable "Larry" Dodd, Kemmerer, Vorlage and Cameron, worked with much speed and precision, while the second five was not far inferior. "Ted" Eberts led the latter quintet, and had as colleagues "Red" Streamer, Hepper, Clark and Seigle. Every man displayed a fine brand of ball, but the shots of Dodd, Kemmerer and Vorlage were from difficult angles and proved very timely.

Co-Eds to Begin Basketball Race

FIRST GAME OF SERIES WILL BE PLAYED THIS EVENING WHEN THE UPPER-CLASS GIRLS WILL MEET THE SOPHS, BOTH TEAMS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

The week toward which most all of Susquehanna's co-eds have been looking for quite a while has at last arrived, and the girls are anxious to prove that their respective classes are superior in the floor game.

The race this year promises to be more spirited than ever before, and none of the three entries is conceded the trophy nor even the leading chance to capture it.

The Freshman team promises to produce a fine record under the leadership of Mary Weiner, Somerset lass, who already is recognized as a worthy performer.

The Soph six will be under the guidance of Helen Yeisig and is certain to make its presence felt in the league race.

The Upperclass girls will be directed on the court by Margaret Morning, who was a member of the championship Soph team of last season.

The opening game this evening will bring together the Sophs and the Upperclass girls, and both teams are preparing for and predicting victory. The winner of this game must be reckoned with in the trophy chase.

Glee Club Gave Initial Concert

THE PEOPLE OF MIDDLEBURG HAD THE PRIVILEGE OF HEARING FIRST CONCERT WHICH THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB RENDERED THIS SEASON

The first Glee Club concert of the season, which was given in the Court House at Middleburg on last Thursday night, was received with much enthusiasm by a large audience. People from all parts of the county came to hear the club sing at the county seat.

The members of the club traveled from Selinsgrove to Middleburg by bus, starting at 6:30 from the campus. Prof. Sheldon and Prof. Lindebaugh accompanied the club on its first trip to see that everything was properly conducted. These Profs do not travel with the club on its extended tours, however, but only on local trips. On the way to and from Middleburg, the chief amusement was the singing of old familiar songs. In both trips the compound song was much in evidence.

Upon arriving everything was found to be in readiness. This was due to the special efforts of Mr. Popano; the local lad and member of the club. Much routine and powdering was then

VERY SNAPPY DEBATE HEARD BY THOSE PRESENT AT MEETING OF DEBATING CLUB THURSDAY EVENING. NEXT MEETING THIS THURSDAY EVENING

Thursday evening the Debating Club held a very interesting meeting. Due to the conflicts of so many organizations meeting at the same time not as large a number were in attendance as usual, but those who were absent missed one of the snappiest debates of the season.

The question: Resolved: That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court; was upheld on the Affirmative side by Murray Grisinger and David Davis, on the Negative side by Lester Lutz and Guy Labold. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the Negative. Dr. Kern and William Nichols each gave some very helpful remarks and criticisms.

The same question will be debated this Thursday evening with Earl Thomas and Samuel Allison, the Affirmative side.

EUROPEAN SUMMER TOUR OFFERED TO STUDENTS

One of the most interesting tours to Europe this coming summer has been arranged by the Students Cooperative Society, of Fifth Avenue and Forty-sixth street, New York City. An opportunity is offered a limited number of students to obtain the ocean trip, free of expense, by acting as representative.

Any student desiring to take advantage of the opportunity may secure information regarding conditions by corresponding with the editor of the College Magazine, 565 Fifth Avenue, New York, or by writing to the Students Cooperative Society.

Miss Mary Markley Addressed Students

REPRESENTATIVE OF BOARD OF EDUCATION OF UNITED LUTHERAN CHURCH IN AMERICA GAVE INSPIRING MESSAGE AT THURSDAY CHAPEL SERVICE

The students assembled in Chapel on Thursday morning had the privilege of hearing Miss Mary Markley, a representative of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America.

In behalf of the Board of Education, Miss Markley extended best regards to the students of Susquehanna University. Then she took as a text Psalm 1:1, Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. College students are no exception to those who sit or loiter in the seat of the scornful. It is found in reference to their manners and conventions, in reference to the superiority which they try to show over those who really know much more than they. The story is told of a man who was looking at a great painting. After observing the picture very closely he turned to the artist who was with him and said that he didn't like that picture, whereupon the artist said that he wasn't judging the picture, he was judging himself.

Most students let the past do their thinking. Let everyone do his own

MISS MARY E. MARKLEY, LUTHERAN STUDENT SECRETARY, GAVE INTERESTING TALK TO YOUNG WOMEN UPON SUBJECT, "THE REVOLT OF YOUTH"

Miss Mary E. Markley, Lutheran Student Secretary, gave a very interesting talk to the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening in Selbert Hall parlors. Miss Markley, being a woman of original ideas, gave the young women some new ideas to think about. Her discussion dealt with "The Revolt of Youth." She discussed it in two phases: First as to mediocrity, and second as revolt to extravagance.

College students should be the ones to start the revolt because they are initiated by others. As an illustration of Mediocrity—the usual college girl is satisfied as soon as she has done her work. Just so she is even with her friends or classmates. She should not stop with that, but should not be satisfied until she has done her best. Miss Markley suggested the "budget system" for the college girl to use. By using this system she is able to tell just how much she spends for unnecessary things.

Miss Markley's last appeal to the girls was that they should give whole time instead of part time to religious work.

They that touch pitch will be defiled. The very pink of perfection. This peck of troubles.

Mrs. Focht, Wife of Late Dr. Focht, Died

DEAR FRIEND OF SUSQUEHANNA PASSED AWAY EARLY SATURDAY MORNING AT HOME OF HER SON. FUNERAL SERVICES WERE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Mr. Elizabeth Born-Focht passed away on Saturday, Feb. 7 in Elysburg, Pa., while on a visit with her son, Dr. John Focht.

She was born in Selinsgrove April 14, 1853. Her father, Dr. Peter Born, being pastor of Zion Lutheran Church (1851-1859).

Dr. Born was connected with Missionary Institute and Susquehanna University as principal of the collegiate department, first professor of theology and superintendent from 1859 to 1899.

The Born family occupied the building now known as Selinsgrove Hall from 1859 to 1878, when they moved into the new home built by Dr. Born and occupied by him until his death in 1899. In this house Elizabeth Born and Dr. John B. Focht were married in 1878. They lived in Selinsgrove Hall from 1878 to 1882. Dr. Focht was a student in Missionary Institute from 1866 to 1871, vice principal of the Collegiate Department 1878-1881, principal 1881-1882. From 1899 to 1905 and from 1917 to 1924 Dr. Focht was professor of homiletics and 1904-1905 president of Susquehanna University.

Mrs. Focht took the classical course of the Missionary Institute and for several years was instructor in music.

Mrs. Focht had intimate relationships with very many persons thru her direct activities and thru the wide

World Fellowship Club Reorganized

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING HELD ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON. NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT, WILLIAM SCHWIRIAN, OUTLINED POLICIES OF ORGANIZATION

Sunday afternoon saw the reorganization of what was once a very live wire institution upon the campus of Susquehanna University. The World Fellowship Club held its first formal meeting of this year in Selbert Hall parlors.

The meeting was opened by William Schwirian, president of the Club, who advised that, in as much as the then present officers were the officers of last year, new officers be elected. Those present then re-nominated and elected the following officers to serve for the remainder of this college year: President, William Schwirian; vice president, Anna Norwatt; secretary and treasurer, Ralph Gramley; corresponding secretary, Barbara DeRemer.

The newly elected president, Mr. Schwirian, outlined the policies of the Club as they have been in previous years. A program committee was also appointed composed of Barbara DeRemer, Laura Arnold and Ralph Gramley.

The organization will meet regularly every Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Selbert Hall parlors. Very vital topics will be discussed, and with the interest, which has been manifested in former years, present this year the World Fellowship Club will mean much to Susquehanna's campus. Everyone is welcome to come and listen or take part in these inspiring meetings.

DEBT

How we all love to go coasting, ride a mile down hill and walk a mile up. We have all done it, most of us still do it. But isn't it foolishness when we stop to think about it? Certainly it is exhilarating as we glide along over the frozen snow, our whole bodies tingling with excitement and the spirit of adventure. But what about the long hard climb up the hill which just so short a time before we came down so easily? By the time we get to the top we are working and puffing, and some of us are content without coming entirely to the top.

Just so with debt. How easy it is to spend everything we have and go sailing along in gorgeous fashion, taking in everything that comes our way! But we must remember that some time we will reach the bottom of the hill just as we did as we were gliding along on the sled. Then what? We are in debt. Then it is a long slow job of working to the top of the hill again, and we never really get to the top until we have paid off our entire debt.

Yes, when we stop to think about it, we wonder if it is really worth the effort, this idea of throwing away everything we have so lavishly only too soon to reach the bottom from whence we will have to toil perseveringly in order to reach the top again.

We are at the beginning of the second semester. Some of us have not paid our bills of last semester, let alone any payment upon this semester's bill. What are we going to do? Why not pay our bills and not find ourselves at the bottom of the hill of debt? We can do this by thinking a little more of the foolishness of unthrifty spending, and by being more content to remain out of debt than to enjoy the luxurious pleasures which may come to us for a time, but only too soon will these same pleasures carry us to the bottom, then our only outlook being a long hard climb back to the place where we can face any debt with a square countenance.

Think these things over. Where do we stand? Are we speedily sliding down the hill or are we one of the toilers who is gradually working himself nearer the top? Why not remain at the top always?

a great number of relatives, mother and mother.

Her mother, Mrs. Sarah Hill-Born was the sister of Rev. Dr. Reuben Hill, superintendent for Lord at Mt. Airy Theological Seminary. Her three sons were married to Lutheran ministers, viz J. R. Dunn, D. L. L. D., C. J. Berghart, and J. Evans.

Mrs. Focht is survived by five children, viz. Wilfred, of Doylestown, Pa.; Mildred, of New York City; Catherine (Mrs. Burrell), of Selingrove; Elizabeth, of Williamsport, and John, of Elysburg. Mrs. Frank P. Manhart, of Selingrove, is a sister, and Reuben Born, M. D., of Mountsville, is a brother.

The services were held at the Born-Focht homestead and were in charge of Drs. T. C. Houtz and Jacob Diehl. Students of the School of Theology acted as pall bearers. Interment was made in the family lot in Union cemetery.

thinking. In order to do this he needs the apparatus or the brain, the raw material or the facts, and the perseverance or will to make something out of the raw material. A college can at least teach good manners, good English and honest thinking.

Another instance where the college student sits in the seat of the scornful is on account of his personal indifference. There is a call, a great call, not only for Christian service, but also for money to help those who are serving. College students have given, thru the Lutheran Church, $12,000. There are 2,000,000 scattered Lutherans in Russia with only 81 pastors. In Leninrad 4 pastors have taken 28 young men and are instructing them in theology. These people are solely dependent on American Christians. A person should give his life to some constructive Christian service. He should go into the hard, not the easy places of life and obtain the experience of having Christ for his daily Saviour.

GLEE CLUB GAVE

performed, which is as a general rule very necessary to the giving of a good concert.

Taking into consideration that this was the initial performance of the year, the concert was given without any flaws. Many of the people who heard the concert congratulated the members on their good performance, which was very encouraging. On Monday at 3:30 o'clock the club left on its annual tour of Eastern cities. A detailed account of this trip will appear in the next week's issue of The Susquehanna. Mr. Law, the business manager, has charge of the traveling arrangements, while Mr. Ertel will have charge of the program and will direct the concerts in the absence of Prof. Sheldon.

Attention is called to the fact that members of the club shall hand in a report of their own absences, as the business manager is not required to hand in the excuses for absences while on trips. There was a misunderstanding last year in regard to this. Many of the individual members were expecting the business manager to hand in excuses for them, which resulted in not being credited with the proper amount of excused absences. To the misfortune of many, on account of this, credits were lost on account of having unexcused absences. Future trouble can be avoided by handing in excuses for all legal absences immediately upon return to the campus.

The presiding officer will notify the speaker at the end of eleven and four minutes respectively. Sense and Nonsense

Personality Invictus

The keynote to success is often personality. It is hard to define this intangible something that is such a strong part of us. It is with us always and every day contributes to the sum total of profit or loss. The best part of our knowledge about personality is that we are the masters of it and what we say it shall be, it must be. Below are set down a few hints on personality. Check up, and change a few features of your personality if necessary. This list is neither original nor complete, but it may set you thinking.

Have I a nicely modulated, low pitched voice?

Do I talk much and what does it amount to?

Do I talk family in public?

Do I criticize much and can I stand criticism?

Do I dress loudly and frivolously for my age, or wear much jewelry?

Do I ever stare boredly at strangers?

Do I chew gum in public?

Do I ape the French, English or any other nationalities?

Am I decent to those serving me?

Do I ever get angry before strangers?

Do I tell my family troubles or illnesses to my friends?

Am I truthful or do I exaggerate?

Am I poised or does every little happening in life work me all up?

If possessed of strong emotions do I afflict other people with my feelings?

Do I know my character perfectly?

Can I change any traits for the better and have I made an attempt to do this?

Out of the night that covers me, Black as the pit from pole to pole, I thank whatever Gods may be For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance I have not winced nor cried aloud. Under the bloodinings of chance My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears Looms but the horror of the shade, And yet the menace of the years Finds, and shall find me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate, How charged with punishment the scroll, I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul.

—William Earnest Henley.

of the game. Blough at center then started his activities for the evening and rolled in several field goals from all angles. The first half ended with Susquehanna assuming a 25-9 margin. The second half brought forth a better exhibition of basketball on the part of the visitors but their efforts were in vain since the fierce attack of the Orange and Maroon five was not to be stopped. In this half Brown and Blough exchanged positions, and each continued his fine exhibition of goal shooting and floor work. Before they left the fray Blough and Brown had garnered eleven goals between them, the former securing seven and the latter four. Shue and Shuntell were very much in evidence on both the offense and the defense, and managed to secure a duo of field tosses each. Slegle's defensive work was a feature. "Gene" also went down the floor on one occasion and got loose to register a two pointer.

With the entrance of the varsity five in the final five minutes of play scoring continued to mount from a total of 36 to the final tally of 46, where it stood when the sound of the timer's gun ended the one-sided conflict. Of the five newcomers; Kniesley, Kurtz, Thomas and Haney each registered a field goal, and Kurtz also tossed in each of his two free throws. Blecher was the only man who failed to count a field goal, but his playing was on a par with that of his mates.

The outlook for future victories is exceedingly bright, and future opponents of Susquehanna must look forward to a busy forty minutes of playing in every contest.

BOND AND KEY HELD HOUSEWARMING PARTY

The members of Bond and Key and their friends enjoyed one of the most attractive and significant parties that was ever held by the Bond and Key Club. The party was the first held in the new home and for this reason the 6th of February will stand forth as a date well worth remembering to all those who were present at the party.

The first center of interest to all the friends of the Bond and Key boys and to their alumni and honorary members was of course the beauty of their freshly renovated home. The evening of pleasant entertainment began with a banquet to many of the honorary and alumni members. This was followed by a short and snappy program of speeches, where preachers, professors, and other variously engaged alumni, vied with each other in an exchange of humor and pleasantry and reminiscences. Dr. Aikens, Dr. Woodruff, Dr. Surface, Mr. Horton, Prof. Koch and Prof. Linebaugh were among the faculty members who participated in the very excellent program. Each and all were overjoyed at the splendid piece of progress made by the active members in remodeling their old home. Compared to its former simplicity it now stands forth as an ideally well equipped fraternity home.

The housewarming party was held in honor of the pledgees of the Club. The house was simply and attractively decorated with ferns and palms. The large logs of apple wood resting on the andirons in the fireplace extended a silent greeting to all who entered.

In the midst of the evening's entertainment dainty and delicious refreshments were served. When the day began to die and look forward to its rebirth, the party was complete and all returned home happily.

EPSILON SIGMA FRATERNITY HELD DELIGHTFUL BANQUET

The Epsilon Sigma fraternity gave a banquet in honor of the new members of the fraternity on Friday evening at their home on West Walnut street.

After partaking of the sumptuous feast, which had been prepared, Edgar Hanks acted as toastmaster and responses were made by the Rev. Russell Auman, of Thompsonstown; Wilson Kepper, Harold Sank, Winifred Fuge, Drs. Charles A. Fisher, William A. Sadtler and T. W. Kretschman, and President Ralph Gramley.

PHI BETA RHO HELD BANQUET FOR PLEDGEES

The pledgees of the Phi Beta Rho fraternity were honored at the annual pledge banquet, at the new home of the fraternity on 400 W. Pine street, Friday evening, February 6.

The pledgees and members of the fraternity surrounded the banquet table with much true fellowship, and justice was done to the luxurious repast, the preparation of which showed the ability of the chef, Mr. Ralph Joe.

The dining hall was skillfully decorated with the school colors, and the fraternity flower was displayed on the banquet table.

Mr. G. Oliver Sands acted as toastmaster for the occasion, several of the members of the fraternity responded with appropriate and timely toasts. The evening ended with the pledgees expressing their appreciation of a very enjoyable time.

REV. M. K. W. HEICHER, PH. D., NOTED SUSQUEHANNA ALUMNUS, ACCEPTED CALL TO NEW FIELD

San Francisco Theological Seminary, having recently received a gift for the endowment of a Chair of Missions, after making a persistent search for an appropriate man to occupy the chair, extended a call to Rev. M. K. Heicher, Ph. D., of Corvallis, Oregon. Dr. Heicher accepted the call and began his new work with the opening of the second semester of the Seminary.

Dr. Heicher was graduated from Susquehanna University with the degree B. S. in 1902. In 1905 the same institution conferred upon him the degree M. S. He holds an M. A. and a Ph. D. from New York University and a B. D. from Drew Theological Seminary.

From 1902 to 1906 he taught elementary science and mathematics in Susquehanna, Collegiate Institute in Towanda, Pa., and North Plainfield high school, North Plainfield, N. J. From 1906 to 1911 he served as a missionary under the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions. During this period he was stationed at Nagasaki, Japan, where he taught, preached and served as treasurer of the West Japan Mission.

He has traveled in Japan, Korea, North China, Siberia, Russia, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium and England. Returning to America in 1911 he spent three years in Drew Theological Seminary, at the same time doing graduate work in New York University. In the Seminary he won a $500 prize for the best examination in Hebrew and Old Testament.

From 1914 to 1917 he had pastoral charge of John Hall Memorial Chapel of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City. Eight months of this period were spent in Y. M. C. A. service in France.

In 1917 he was called to the First Presbyterian Church of Cedar Falls, Iowa, where he remained for six years, and from which he went to the First Presbyterian Church of Corvallis in 1923.

Susquehanna University is very proud of her honored son, and wishes him much success and happiness in his new field of endeavor.

The Susquehanna wishes to thank Dr. M. M. Allbeck, of Zelenople, Pa., for his kind services in writing the story of the class of '94. It is hoped that many more alumni will respond with similar stories of their respective classes.

THE CLASS OF 1894

"Should old acquaintance be forgot? NEVER! And yet in these busy times we are in danger of letting the class of 1894 numbered twenty-three, and it is a safe guess that now after thirty-one years (almost) there is but little, if any, correspondence between the members of a justly famous class. This mention may be productive of the renewal of memories of those old days when there was always something doing by the last class to get diplomas from old Missionary Institute. We lived thru the days of transition—stormy days sometimes, but days of progress. Gustavus Adolphus Hall was begun the year we graduated; and it may be that the miniature university plant which sprang up on the campus one night just before the Board of Directors was to meet on the day following, had something to do with the realization of the greater Susquehanna of today. At any rate every loyal member of the Class, and I trust there are none other, rejoices in the wonderful development of Alma Mater.

As a bit of Alumni News, take a look at the roster, alphabetically.

Allbeck, Montraville M. D. D., Zelenople, Pa., the proud father of a son in the ministry (Willard D. 1919) and of a grandson headed in that direction; and of a daughter graduated from high school with two years' college credits (Wittenberg, Geneva). Sixteen years a Home Missionary, nine years a member of synodical Home Mission Board.

Burkhart, Miss Mary, deceased, the only break in the class. Miss Burkhart was for a number of years teacher in the Tressler Orphans' Home at Loysville. She made her alma mater one of her beneficiaries by her will.

Crist, Rollin E., became a Presbyterian dominie and lives in Wilmington, O., according to the year book of that denomination.

Crouser, William E. D. D., has spent the years of his ministerial career on the Pacific Coast. Address: 28 S. Lincoln Ave., San Jose, Calif. Crouser has made a stir on the coast by his eloquence and wonderful energy. The church papers have given many a complimentary notice of his labors.

Fisher, Foster C. We had rather expected he would parallel his brother, Dr. Geo. E., in an educational career when he took to the profession of teaching for a few years after graduation; but Foster turned to the "grind" of business and has been turning out a good grist ever since as the manager of a milling industry at New Ulm, Minn.

Frontz, Chalmers E., D. D. Address him No. 9 Lodge street, Albany, N. Y. He has been consistently successful in the work of the ministry, and has the distinction of having served the congregation that gave the U. L. C. its first president.

Guss, Will L. D. D. After a successful work in Duquesne, Pa., he took Greeley's advice and went West. Lives now at 2051 N. 20th street, Omaha, Neb. Both he and Frontz took additional work at Wittenberg, and their theology at Hamma Divinity School. It was Wittenberg that "doctored" them.

Harre, Samuel B., Esq., Altoona, Pa., gives his clients good advice, and when they fail to heed it he ably defends them in the courts of Blair county. Sam served as District Attorney.

Kaiser, Clement C., Maytown, Pa. Clem writes that since there are enough preachers listed in our class we shall put him down as a farmer. Prosperity has smiled upon his career in material things as well as in the way of a good wife, a son and three daughters, the children being in school from third grade up into the State Normal. Clem is one of the few who is not a preacher, but it is safe to say he and his are doing their duty in the church as laymen.

Lahr, William B., Cleveland, Ohio. "Billy" is said to be selling insurance and perhaps real estate. The ministerial calling lost him from its ranks, tho he did a successful work while in that labor.

Matter, Frank J., Lykens, Pa. From the very successful work he did at McKeesport, Pa., one may be assured that he is giving a good account of himself in his present parish. He has a good charge.

Michael, Harry C., D. D. Located in Johnstown, Pa. Harry is putting "ye old time pep" into his work and getting results. As a member of the Board of Directors he is now helping to build a greater S. U. in reality.

Miller, Charles A., Selingrove, Pa., is listed a farmer. Perhaps with wheat at $2.00 the rest of us ought to envy him even tho we do not read about him in the papers. Maybe some of these days he will be endowing a professorship with the money preachers can't get in the ministry; and that is real service, too.

Rearick, William M., D. D., has for about twenty years been pastor at Millinburg, Pa., building up and developing a strong congregation. In the meantime as a member of the Board of Directors he has been helping S. U. to grow, serving also as secretary, then president of his synod. Both daughter and son took their courses in S. U.

Re-day, William I., D. D., Ph. D., is located at Clay, N. Y., a quiet burgh where a man suffering from the strain of the many duties of a large parish thru a long pastorate may well recuperate. The father of a son in the ministry, two teaching in high schools, and the fourth in college, "Dad" remarks that "boys have stepped up many paks since you and I were at school." Aye, verily! 1894-1925!

Ritter, George O., Confluence, Pa. As a member of this wonderful class he could do no otherwise than his part in the world's greatest work, the gospel ministry; and with a daughter of old M. I. as a wife his success is doubly assured.

Smith, C. Edgar, (Christian Endeavor) has but recently located at Essington, Pa., having served a parish at Collingswood, N. J., for some years successfully. C. E. isn't a great advertiser himself and maintains no press agent so one doesn't read much about him, but he is doing his work well just the same.

Smith, Robert C., Esq. We called him "Bob" in other days (for we all had our nicknames). Where is Bob, anyway? Letters addressed to what was supposed to be his address return unclaimed.

Streater, Charles R. is out in the land of the setting sun, Boulder, Col., a sky-pilot his fellow classmates may be proud of.

Taggart, Thomas R., like Rollin Crist, landed in the ministry of the Presbyterian Church. Tom's address is given at Pittman, N. J.

Ulrich, L. Domer, has for years been the hustling and successful pastor of a church in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Selingrove may well be proud of him as one of her sons.

Yoder, John O., 772 May St., Akron, Ohio. "Dad" is the author of "The Journeys of Jesus," and is making good in the parish also. The writer met him last summer after long years and found him still the same genial.

COACH GROSSMAN ISSUED FIRST CALL FOR TRACK

The first of a series of meetings for all track candidates was held Monday at 1 o'clock in the Science Hall.

Coach Grossman talked on the possibilities for this coming season. He said that with the promising material available there ought to be one of the best seasons that S. U. has ever had.
In order to make this a banner season work must be begun now for Susquehanna has before her one of the hardest schedules that has ever been arranged for the Little Crusaders.

Every man who is interested in track should report and bring someone with him next Monday at 4 o'clock in the Science Hall.

HUMOR

Coach Follmer—"Did you take a shower?"

Haney—"No, is there one missing?"

Naff—"Do you think a rabbit's foot really brings good luck?"

Sed—"I certainly do, when my wife gets into my pockets, she thinks it's a mouse."

Folkman—"Mind you, when I was lone I used to play on the violin."

Ray Long—"Hub! That's nothing, when I was two I used to play on the linoleum."

Miss Steininger (at Wels' Store)—
"Do you sell dry goods here?"

Clerk—"No, ma'am, this is a grocery store."

Miss Steininger—"I'm sorry, I wanted some dried peaches."

Dick—"What are you going to do this summer?"

College Prospect—"Dad said I was to practice for college."

Dick—"What, do you mean to study?"

College Prospect—"No, to raise the deal."

Well, that's that! and not so bad at that. Fifteen out of twenty-three in the ministry, of whom seven are "D.

with a number of A. M.'s etc., won by hard study and application to duty.
No, I am sure not a mother's son among us asked for his D. D., pulled wires or even hinted that he would like to live it. Indeed it may be there are others of the class who have won honors of which we do not know. Our ignorance and their failure to inform us will be our sufficient excuse.

lanky center man for the parsons. Altho the game was lacking in color, it was well enjoyed by everyone present.
The tactics of some of the inexperienced men on the Sophomore squad caused much mirth.

The playing of the Theologs was similar to that which has characterized their last few games. Their ability to display a strong passing game combined with some timely individual work seemed to be all that is required to bring forth success. Hanks displayed excellent form and was a leading factor in the victory. Ramer showed more of his flashy shooting ability, while Leshner and Groninger counted enough goals between them to garner more than their share in the 29-16 victory. The defensive work of Deahm and Kepner was good.

For the Sophomores, Adams and Miller were the individual stars, altho McLain played his usual bang-up game.

Susquehanna Bowed To Schuylkill Five

S. U. PASSERS FORCED TO DEFEAT AT HANDS OF SPEEDY QUINTET FROM READING. GAME DEVELOPED INTO REAL BATTLE IN SECOND HALF

In a game marked by flashes of fast floorwork, good passing, exhibitions of clever shooting; along with their contrasts, Susquehanna was forced to bow in defeat before the speedy quintet from Schuylkill College.

The game was probably the roughest played on the local floor in the past couple of years, but it was not without interest to the fans who were continually on their feet as the result of some spectacular play on the part of one team or the other. Despite the one-sided 32-19 score, the game developed into a real second half battle, and it was only the stalking tactics of the visiting passers in freezing the ball that saved them from a real scare. Altho the Schuylkill men must be given credit for their accurate long range shooting, it was poor basketball that presented them with the upper hand at the beginning of the fray.

For the first two minutes neither team could score. Then the Reading five started in early to shoot from.

Boys' Class Games Creating Interest

SENIORS ELIMINATED THE JUNIORS IN A 31-23 VICTORY. SOPHOMORES WON FROM FRESHMEN IN HARD FOUGHT GAME BY 25-24 SCORE

The past week brought out two games of basketball, both of which exceeded any games which have been played in the weeks previous. As all the teams are going down to the finish, the race becomes more uncertain, but it has narrowed down to two teams, the mighty Seniors and the lowly Freshmen.

In the game last week the Seniors eliminated the Junior team from the race, when they won a nip and tuck 31-23 battle. The Junior team was without the services of Dodd, Ebberts and Sleight, but they held the Seniors on even terms until the final five minutes of play, when the issue was settled thru the medium of field goals by Martin, Hanner, Bannon and Dunkle. Streamer's goal tossing featured for the losers.

In the second game the undefeated Freshmen five was forced to howl in submission to the fierce attack of the rejuvenated Soph team which had previously been beaten in every encounter. The Soph team was greatly augmented by the return of "Kike" Young and Lee Trichidis, varsity men of 1924. Before the game the Freshmen were heavy favorites to win, but at half time the Sophs held the upper hand of a 16-11 score. Determined to win at all costs, the Frosh threw themselves recklessly into the fray, and the result was the best game of the current league season. When Miller and Daubenspeck were eliminated via the personal foul route the Soph cause seemed lost. But when the final whistle blew, the two teams were deadlocked at 25-25, necessitating an extra period. The guarding was so close that neither team could register a single field toss in the extra period. Pandemonium broke loose among the Freshmen followers when they assumed a temporary lead on a foul goal. These cheers turned to groans a few minutes later when "Kike" Young steadied himself and caged two successive foul trials, winning the game for the Sophomore class by the score of 25-24. This game was the last of the season for the Sophs and they certainly closed in a wonderful manner. Their steadiness from the foul lines

Faculty and Wives Enjoyed Banquet

Promptly at 6:15, Saturday evening, members of the faculty of S. U. were seen wending their way to Hotel Sterner. Quietly they made their way to the parlor on the second floor, and there dined themselves of their wraps. An air of expectation was evident to all.

At 6:30 Dr. and Mrs. Aikens, accompanied by the "arch conspirator," Mrs. William T. Horton, also made their way to the parlor of the hotel, Mrs. Horton supposedly being hostess to "just a few friends" that evening among whom were President and Mrs. Aikens. Judge then the surprise of the latter couple upon being greeted with a "Rah, Rah, Rah, The Aikens," etc.

The members of the faculty tendered a surprise banquet for Dr. and Mrs. Horton on Thursday evening.

Girls Began Class Basketball Series

JUNIOR-SENIOR TEAM TOOK SOPHOMORES INTO CAMP ON TUESDAY EVENING. THURSDAY TIDE WAS TURNED, UPPER CLASS GIRLS LOST TO FROSH

As had been predicted, the games between the girls' teams of the class league brought out faster basketball than has been seen for the past several years. Two games were staged during the week just passed, and each proved to be a thriller.

The initial game on Tuesday evening found the Soph team attempting to haul the Junior-Senior team into camp, and an unusually hard fought game was the result. The first quarter found the Sophs leading 6-5, but at the start of the second quarter several field goals by Beachley and Morning, along with the accurate foul shooting of Larson gave the upperclass team a safe lead, which was unthreatened until the final minutes of play when Salem, Yelngst and Benner, the Soph forwards, unleashed an avalanche of long shots which came within a single point of tying the score. The guards of both teams did nobly, and gave their forwards few attempts to score. "Katie" Beachley garnered six field goals. This game was the best exhibition of girls' basketball witnessed on the local court for many years.

On Thursday evening the Junior-Senior girls met the Freshmen, and were confident of repeating their former victory of the week. But they reckoned without the Frosh, and before they could get their bearings, the first half was over and it found the Frosh girls enjoying a one-sided lead, 17-1. In this half, Mary Weimer, the leader of the first year team, played a stellar role by caging six well earned field goals. Her playing was wonderful to see and her opposing guards were unable to check her.

At the start of the second half, the upperclass girls, realizing the formidable opposition they were up against, set to work and completely outplayed their younger foes 13-6. But the early lead was too great a handicap and the game closed with the Frosh leading 23-14.

This game also brought out some very fine basketball. Mary Weimer led in scoring for the Freshmen with eight field goals, while "Katie" Beachley again led the Upperclass girls in total points scored. The guarding of Anna Norwat in both games was a feature. Captain Morning also speeded up the play when she was shifted to guard from a forward position. Mary Gaugler played well for the Junior-Senior team after she entered the fray. Larson played a fine floor game as did Grace Smith. For the Freshmen Weimer starred, but she was ably supported by her cohorts, Eyer and Steinelner. The guarding of Grossbach Leiby, Fogel and Buyers took a prominent part in the victory.

The game on Thursday promises to

Y. M. C. A. Meeting Very Interesting

RUSSELL KNOEBEL WAS LEADER, SUBJECT DISCUSSED WAS "THE LIFE OF DAVID." SEVERAL SHORT TALKS AND ENTHUSIASTIC DISCUSSION BY MEMBERS

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last Tuesday evening, at which time Russell Knoebel was the leader and conducted a very inspiring meeting.

The subject discussed was "The Life of David." Harry Burd gave a short talk on "David, the Shepherd Boy." David, after being anointed king did not idle away his time, but spent it preparing for a greater life. It was also during this time that David slew Goliath.

Stewart talked on "David, the King." David was for a while a king without a country. Finally he became the ruler of both Judah and Israel. When he came to the throne the people said to him, "Behold, we are of thy bone and of thy flesh." And just as the people said to David at that time everyone on the campus of Susquehanna should be able to say the same thing today.

David Dagle then gave a few remarks.

Short Sketch Given By Y. W. C. A. Girls

FIROVA COTTAGE HAD CHARGE OF MEETING, MILROED PATTERSON WAS THE LEADER. "ROAD TO LIFE, PERFECT," PRESENTED BY A FEW GIRLS

The Firova Cottage had charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting Thursday evening. Mildred Patterson was the leader for the evening.

The girls at the Firova Cottage gave a short sketch, "The Road to Life, Perfect." The different girls represented the lights in the Christian life as the athletic girl, the traveler, the social girl, and the Christian girl. Each girl was trying to find the true knowledge of "Light." Every light was burning bright, but the Christian girl's light was burning brighter. To have a still brighter light they decided to join with the Christian girl and go together, because they found that they could have Christ in the different lights they represented in the Christian life.

Everyone can't be an athlete or a traveler, but everyone can be a Christian if he will only put his faith and trust in Christ. Ethel Smith sang "Follow the Gleam." The meeting closed with praying the Lord's prayer.

Paper to be Edited By Girls March 10

It has been the custom in former years that the girls of Susquehanna University edit one issue of The Susquehanna during the year. Conforming with this custom the staff has decided that the girls will put out the issue dated March 10. For this paper the present editorial staff will have no responsibility whatsoever, but will be willing to aid in any way possible in order that the girls may have a paper which they may well be proud of.

A special meeting of all girls will be called Thursday at 4 o'clock, at which time nominations and election for the staff of this particular issue will take place. Let every girl be at this meeting, and lend her influence in selecting the proper girls for these editorial offices.

Glee Club Gave Four Concerts

SANG AT BLOOMSBURG, WILKES-BARRE, NESQUEHONING AND MINERSVILLE TO LARGE AND APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCES. INVITATION TO RETURN

Susquehanna University Men's Glee Club went on the first tour of the season last week, when they gave concerts at Bloomsburg, Wilkes-Barre, Nesquehoning and Minersville. The trip thru this section takes one thru the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania. To one who has never been to these places before, it affords an education in itself. After leaving Wilkes-Barre, until Shamokin is reached, mining operations are very much in evidence. Mountains, mountains, everywhere, with scarcely any farming country. Hundreds of collieries, culm banks and coal cars are seen.

The club, with Jake Kroen carrying the piano, left the campus on Monday, February 9, on the 3:30 street car; took the Pennsy at Sunbury for East Bloomsburg; was met at the train and taken to Bloomsburg in automobiles. The weather being of the best, an audience of one thousand was on hand in the State Normal School auditorium to hear the concert. Every one in the club felt that a good concert was expected so in order to keep up the reputation of former years, lots of pep was put into it, which resulted in putting the concert over in line shape. Due to some of the special scenery in the audience, especially in the first row, the show was nearly broken up in the latter half of the program; but after the Robin Hood song was given the concert went on as usual.

Tuesday morning the club traveled via trolley to Berwick, where they were invited to give a short concert in the high school building that morning. Ebberts and Olson were among the missing, due to oversleep, but joined the crowd when the club took the train at Berwick for Wilkes-Barre.

Upon arriving at Wilkes-Barre a steady rain had started, which made it rather unpleasant for traveling as well as for singing. The kind hospitality of the Luthereans of this city, however, far exceeded the inclement weather. An audience of about six hundred was entertained in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. The morning papers gave the concert a very good write up in comparison to the write up of the Princeton Glee Club concert, which took place in Wilkes-Barre the same evening.

Traveling over the Pocono Mountains to Mauch Chunk on the Central New Jersey Railroad, following the Lehigh River, wonderful scenery was afforded the members of the club. Nesquehoning, the place of the next concert, was reached by street car from Mauch Chunk. The electric power, having been turned off in Nesquehoning, the high school auditorium was lighted by automobile head lights.

S. U. Debaters Will Meet Bucknell Here

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR BUCKNELL'S AFFIRMATIVE TEAM TO DEBATE SUSQUEHANNA'S NEGATIVE TEAM ON FEBRUARY 27 ON SUPREME COURT QUESTION

Arrangements have been made for an informal debate between Bucknell and Susquehanna, to be held in Selinsgrove on Friday evening, February 27.

The question will be: Resolved: That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. Bucknell's affirmative team will meet Susquehanna's negative team. This is not a regularly scheduled intercollegiate debate, as no outside judges will be secured. The purpose of the discussion is in order that both teams may get some real practice before officially entering the intercollegiate field. Susquehanna is preparing for a hard debating season, as several colleges are already on the list.

Final plans for this first intercollegiate debating contest will be announced later, as at the present time it is not definitely known whether it will take place in the Chapel Hall or in the College Church.

Fourth Number Star Course This Evening

MUSIC RECITAL OF PIANO AND VOICE GIVEN BY KATHARINE METCALF, MEZZO-SOPRANO, AND BRUCE SIMONDS, PIANIST, IN TRINITY CHURCH AT 8:15

This evening at 8:15 o'clock the fourth number of the Susquehanna University Star Course will be given in Trinity Lutheran Church. This number will consist of a musical recital of piano and voice given by Katharine Metcalf, mezzo-soprano, and Bruce Simonds, pianist. Both of these artists are of American birth.

Katharine Metcalf was born of parents who were both excellent musicians. It was not until she was eighteen years old that the famous teacher, Clara Munger, detected her beautiful voice. Upon coming to Boston she took up lessons, and soon developed into a fine mezzo-soprano voice with the dramatic soprano range. She has made her entire career in about five years, having studied with some of the famous coaches in New York and Boston. She possesses a voice of fine quality and good range, rich in coloring and facile in execution.

Bruce Simonds is of New England parentage. He early manifested musical ability, playing Beethoven and Bach in public when eight years old. At the Yale School of Music he studied.

ENGAGEMENT OF PROMINENT S. U. ALUMNUS ANNOUNCED

At a dinner party recently given at the home of Prof. Albert, of Bloomsburg State Normal, the engagement was announced of his daughter, Ruth, to Rev. Dallas C. Baer, of Hughesville.

Miss Albert is a graduate of Bloomsburg Normal and has been a student of music at Susquehanna University. Rev. Baer is pastor of the Lutheran Church at Hughesville, this being his first charge. He was graduated from Susquehanna University and Susquehanna School of Theology.

The many friends of the young couple wish them best wishes for their future happiness.

NEW STAFF ORGANIZATION

For some time The Susquehanna staff has lacked organization for the best interests of the paper and of the college, the news of which it tries to present. This has been true not only of the editorial staff but of the business staff as well.

Why has the staff lacked organization? To some this may seem a grave question. To former editors and business managers this question will not be difficult to answer. To other persons who are interested in Susquehanna and her publications, upon careful reflection they also will easily come to a conclusion. The staff has lacked organization because its different members, from the lowest to the highest position, have not been properly selected. Just because a person is a fraternity brother or a sorority sister of yours is no reason why he or she should be a capable editor or business manager. Perhaps he may not have any ability whatsoever along literary or business lines. Then what does he know about the running of a successful college publication? It is time that the students of Susquehanna wake up, and try to select the proper person for these offices.

But as no one should criticize until he has a better policy to present in place of the old one, it is necessary that some new method of organization be presented. As our staff is organized at the present time can easily be seen by looking at the beginning of this column, but this is insufficient with the growing needs of a better college weekly.

It is proposed that the staff shall be organized in this manner, the head of this column appearing in the following order:

Editor-in-Chief
(One Senior),
Business Manager
(One Senior),
EDITORIAL STAFF
Associate Editor, (—),
Associate Editor, (—),
Local Editor, (—),
Athletic Editor, (—),
Alumni Editor, (—),
Exchange Editor, (—),
Reportorial Staff
Four Sophomores comprise the Reportorial Staff.
Assistants to Reportorial Staff
Any number of Freshmen who aspire to the position of Editor-in-Chief.

BUSINESS STAFF
Assistant Business Manager, (—),
Assistant Business Manager, (—),
Circulation Staff
Four Sophomores to comprise Circulation Staff.
Assistants to Circulation Staff
Any number of Freshmen who aspire to the position of Business Manager.

As you note, there are quite a few changes and it is our task to explain them. Of course the editor-in-chief, as at present, would be a Senior. The local editor, the athletic editor, the alumni editor and the exchange editor would take their offices as the present constitution designates. The two associate editors would be Juniors taking the place of the managing editor, and performing the same duties as he now performs. The reportorial staff would consist of four Sophomores whose work would be outlined by the editor-in-chief. The assistants to the reportorial staff would be any number of Freshmen who may be aspiring to the position of editor-in-chief, and their work would be determined by the then present editor-in-chief.

Noting the business staff you will also find that it is somewhat different. The business manager would be a Senior. The two assistant business managers would be Juniors, with no specific designation as to whether they should be ladies or men. As you now know we have one lady and one man for these respective positions. By the new plan they might both be ladies if the selection so worked that way. The circulation staff would consist of four Sophomores whose duties would consist mainly of helping in the circulation department on the mailing lists. The assistants to the circulation staff would consist of any number of Freshmen who may be aspiring to the office of business manager, and their duties would be determined by the head of that department which would largely consist of assisting in the circulation room.

Now how are these new offices, which have been created, to be filled? We have begun at the top to tell you of their nature and duties. Now we will begin at the bottom to tell of the way of selection. The principle to be adopted is practically the same as that used in selecting a football or basketball manager.

In the fall when the incoming Freshman class makes its appearance on the campus, notices should be posted and a special class meeting should be called by the president of the Susquehanna Publishing Association, telling the Freshmen that any persons aspiring to either the position of editor-in-chief or to that of business manager of The Susquehanna should hand their names in writing to the editor-in-chief or to the business manager, depending upon which office they might wish to work for, not later than October 15. These persons as is seen by the staff alignment above would be the assistants to the reportorial staff and the assistants to the circulation staff respectively.

At the regular election of The Susquehanna staff, from these assistants to the reportorial staff and assistants to the circulation staff would be elected four to the reportorial staff and four to the circulation staff respectively. From the reportorial staff and the circulation staff would be elected two as associate editors and two as assistant business managers respectively. From these associate editors and the assistant business managers would be elected one editor-in-chief and one business manager respectively. Thus we have the complete organization. It might be stated that in no position is it impossible for a lady to hold office. She is just as capable as man, and has as much right to be elected as man if she is better qualified than he.

Perhaps some will say, yes, but what about a person who would be to Susquehanna in his Junior or Senior year, and is known to possess the ability of an editor or of a business manager? All that can be said is that under the new system he will have lost his opportunity, for it will be impossible for anyone to become either of the heads of the weekly unless he has started at the bottom. And isn't this right? By so doing he will know the "ins and outs" of the newspaper game. Even by this method at least three, and if the system works perfectly more than three, will have worked for each of the respective positions and will have been eliminated.

Another advantage of this system would be that it will not be possible for any person "to lie down on the job" if he expects to win out in the end. As it is now, a person scarcely needs to do anything for the paper and when he comes to his Junior or Senior year he can be elected to a position the knowledge of which he knows very little, and the result is a costly experiment. We, the present staff, are no different from anyone else. What we

Birthdays Campus Needs

We are now in the birthday season of two of the greatest of Americans. Their names and lives will be remembered and spoken of wherever the influence of our good country is felt and as long as it is felt. It is well to remember Washington and Lincoln, but it is better to recognize and emulate those characteristics which made these men famous and worth remembering. Select for yourself those talents and traits that most appeal to you, but we believe two words can sum up the most important actuating forces in their lives. They are Activity and a desire to render service.

Great men work. They indulge in real, honest, brow-dampening labor. They may have different forms of activity. Some may work at the head of armies, some may persevere over ethical problems, and others may see thru to the finish some glorious popular movement, but regardless of when or why or how, the fact remains that to be great, men must work. "Work is the salvation of man and it is likewise his glorification."

Also these men had a big, fresh, unconfusable desire for service. Unselfish service. They forgot self in the desire to help others. Their lives exude a thoughtfulness and unparalleled kindness that only the truly great can achieve. They seem to prove exclusively that greatness is measured by the good done for others rather than by the energy expended in self-aggrandizement. There is the moral, the we dislike to moralize, work hard, serve others and you will be great.

Another great American, who led a tremendously active mental and physical life, said something worth writing in our copy books: "There has never yet been a man in our history who led a life of ease, whose name is worth remembering."—Roosevelt.

There are a few things our campus could profit by having. Several are mentioned here and if you have others or wish to find a place to express your views on any subject, send your material to the Sense and Nonsense Editor, care Susquehanna, and proper recognition and space will be given it.

Some needs—
A school hand-book, edited by the S. Club or the Y. M. C. A.
A Student Council that functions.
A definite program for religious, scholastic, social and athletic events, arranged, dated, and placed in the hand-book.

More comprehensive and desirable faculty regulations for fraternal organizations.

Proper regulation of room and hall decorations in the dormitories.

Better co-operation in the present plans for producing winning teams under the existing athletic program.

Many others could be mentioned, but if these are accomplished it will mean something.

experience did we have before we were elected to office? We learn by experience, but the trouble with the present organization is that the experience comes too late.

Think these things out, study the proposed system, if you have any criticism or suggestions please make them known. The election for The Susquehanna staff will take place some time in April. At that time, if it is possible, this new system will be proposed as an amendment to the constitution of The Susquehanna Publishing Association. We hope that it is adopted, and if it is that it will be for the best interests of our beloved alma mater in whose classic halls we have labored, we hope not in vain, in order that Susquehanna might have a weekly paper which would help to develop her physically, mentally and spiritually as one of the growing educational institutions of eastern Pennsylvania.

The Glee Club boys returned from the first concert tour safe and sane, mostly safe.

ALUMNI

Rev. John B. Kniesly, pastor of the "Friendly Church," in DuBois, has sent a copy of his church reporter, which is entitled the "Trinity Messenger."

It is published monthly by the members of the Bible Class in his Sunday school. It is an entirely original publication and speaks well for the supervision of Rev. Kniesly.

Rev. C. E. Nauge, Seminary '20, pastor at Luthersburg, assisted Rev. Kniesly in administering the Holy Communion. He also preached the sermon at the service that day.

Wm. T. Decker, Jr., '21, is president of the Montgomery Supply Co., a sales corporation which handles factory supplies. He is also vice president of the Montgomery Table and Desk Manufacturers.

H. I. Brungart, '00, is a traveling salesman in Columbus, Ohio.

Rev. Ernest Zimmerman is pastor of the Lutheran Church in Wapakoneta, Ohio.

Rev. Mosheim Rhodes, a graduate of Missionary Institute, passed to his rest last December 12. Rev. Rhodes was noted as a pulpit orator of great charm. His congregation at St. Louis, Mo., was noted for its charitable and useful works in the city.

Mrs. Jess Pleasanton Cox, in answer to a request from the Alumni editor as to her vocation, reports that she is happily married and is living in Lewistown.

S. E. Bateman, '85, is a physician in the famous bathing resort in California, Santa Monica.

Rev. W. H. Mottern is a successful pastor in the Lutheran Church in Glendale, Calif.

Rev. M. C. Drumm, '17 and '20, is pastor of the Lutheran Church in Middleburg.

J. M. Bryson, a graduate of Susquehanna, has been supervising principal of the schools at Derry, Pa., for many years.

His assistant is P. Kepner Jarrett, who graduated from Susquehanna in 1917.

Ruben Blanco, Business 1923, is entering the commission business with his father and another partner. He was lately in the employ of a branch of the National City Bank of New York in his home town, Matanzas, Cuba.

Henry and Eloy Blanco, Business 1923, his brothers, are employed in the office of the Hershey Chocolate Company's sugar refinery at Matanzas.

The league season will come to a close this week in what is expected to be the most exciting game yet played. It will find the Frosh meeting the undefeated Seniors who are determined to close their schedule with a clean slate. A victory for the upperclassmen will clinch the handsome trophy, while a Frosh victory will cause a deadlock, which will necessitate a playoff.

However, during the concert the lights were turned on, much to the delight of both the audience and the performers.

Due to the street car strike, the club could only travel to Minersville by electric railway as far as Tamaqua.

Taxi cabs were hired at the latter place to take the club to Minersville.

The concert at Minersville was well received, being given to a crowded auditorium. Due to attractions in the rear of the hall, Landis forgets to play his banjo. After the show Faust gets the Belle of the town.

On the way home most of the boys bought a new kind of neck tie at Pottsville, called "the Cat's Meow." Sands buys a whistle balloon. Sister leaves his traveling bag, containing his other shirt, on the train.

The tour was very successful from the fact that the club has been invited back to all of these places next year. The individual members conducted themselves as gentlemen at all times on this trip. Much time will now be spent in making up class work lost while on the trip; but everyone feels that the trip was worth it.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING VERY INTERESTING

marks on "David, the Psalmist." David was very well fitted to write the Psalms. As one reads through this part of the Bible he finds that David's youth had much to do with his writings. He had a talent for music and invented many musical instruments.

The most interesting part of the program was the discussion of whether David's pen was of greater service to man than his sword. George Groninger defended the sword side, and Roger Blough, the pen. David was educated in three schools; the open fields, the court, and the outlaw camps. Out of the sword grew David's entire life. It caused the establishment of a great kingdom, the fulfillment of prophecy. It was thru the sword and not the pen that the Israelitish nation was the nation that it was.

Taking the other side, the Psalms were the work of David's pen. They were the songs of the Jews. Let a person write a nation's songs and he writes the history of a nation. They unified the Jews. When a person picks out a particular passage of the Scriptures which appeals to him he will select either the Psalms, the Gospels or the Epistles. When one thinks of David, what does he think of? The Psalms are what he thinks of, the good that men do lives after them.

be even better than the past encounters since it means considerable to all teams. The Sophomore-Freshmen games are always hard fought, but this one contains a higher stake than mere lower class supremacy. Should the Frosh win, the victory carries with it the school championship. A Soph victory means a three cornered tie for first place and it is to that end that the second year girls are aiming.

mid-floor, at which game it proved lucky enough to cage two goals. With a five point margin and the game just starting, Schuylkill slowed up the fray by playing with the ball in their own half of the court and Susquehanna was forced to rush them in order to produce action whatever. The result was that the playing was loose, and the exhibition of basketball thruout the first half was mediocre. The S. U.

Fate has donned his death-cloak and breathed

Night into my age of cloudless summer life—

Has snared me in a pit where life ebbs out

With every drop of water from the well, and Every phantom voice that seeks my tomb to Coax me to the world that's barred away.

Eternity of Time, Abyss of Space, why do ye

Drag so slow? Here Death! Fill up Time's

Hourglass with your sand, and take the driest

Grains—so I can glide out aptly on this river

Roaring here beside my weary head, and pulling at My feet with steady clutch. Hope taunt me not!

Die like the phantom germ thou art, that's horn within

A mind that will not die because of more-than-mortal touch.

Ah! Conscience, haunt me not with things I've Left undone. I have loved man to my capacity.

I'm wanting, yes—but tip the scales with all

My onetime future hopes—now on the chub.

The river call. Here! Hope, thou anchor chain,

Unleash me quick, I'll have no more of thee.

Just let me float in yonder steady stream.

Death, guard not yonder door. Ah! Let me in—Unlock those bars of iron. Don't smile at me

And bid me wait another hour; an hour's

Eternal to my sleepless mind. Death! Death!

Produce the key! I say pro—Hark! What's

That noise!—They dig! They dig!—Hope!

Hope I want thee back—ah! Trunk thee much.

God! Wilt Thou beam the cave? I'd like

To live! Not that I fear to die. I've planned

Some few seeds of goodness in my hour;

But God! I'd like to see my mother and kiss

Her 'fore I leave. And God! Before I leave—

Spring is so near. Just let me roam Earth's Garden once again, for there I know are Roses that I've missed.

passers lacked their customary zeal, and their shooting was very poor, a lone field goal by Kniesly being registered along with a foul for a total of three points at half time.

Going into the second half on the short end of a 17-3 score, the Susquehannians came back with such fight that spectators could scarcely realize that it was the same team in action.

Taking their experienced rivals man for man, the S. U. boys completely outfought, outcharged, outplayed and outscored them. The game became so fast that much roughness was in evidence, resulting in several of the players having to call for time. The early lead obtain by Schuylkill was too great to overcome, but that did not prevent the Orange and Maroon five from showing supremacy in the second half.

The comeback was very pleasing to the fans and did much toward restoring their confidence in their favorites. The five man offensive of the locals was much in evidence during the second half, and the only scoring done by the visitors came as a result of their hanging back.

The loss of this game was keenly felt, as a victory was counted upon. But instead of discouragement prevailing, Coach Palmer's squad is settling down to work preparing for the final two games with Lebanon Valley. No game is scheduled for the present week, but the following week will find Susquehanna at Lebanon prepared to give fight, and win from their old rival.

SUSQUEHANNA PREPARING FOR HARD TRACK SEASON

On Monday afternoon a very interesting as well as instructive meeting of the track candidates was held in the Lecture Room of the Science Hall, at which time about thirty candidates were present to receive some very definite training rules from Coach Grossman.

After an interesting discussion concerning these rules the Coach announced that he considered every man on the campus, exclusive of base ball candidates, a prospective track man until he proved his inability.

Altho this statement may appear "far-fetched," it represents the typical Susquehanna spirit and shows how determined Susquehanna is to hold its present track laurels, and to attain new ones.

With several men from last year's championship team and a wealth of new material available, Susquehanna can put on the field a team that will do honor to the institution.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

FOR THE BOOKWORM

Many times throughout the year we hear a question raised as to whether the Glee Club is a profit or a loss to its members. Almost as often as the question is asked, we get a new slant on it, sometimes from those who have traveled with it. Coming from this source it is usually favorable even tho for a variety of reasons. From some not connected with the organization we get a lot of unfavorable comment.

Some of this is based on the fact that the student misses a number of classes which he has to make up. This doubles the work for times following the trips and crowds the student. This results in a lower average detailed understanding of the subject. It may also effect the marks, if they may be taken to mean anything. The contention is that the purpose of college training is to give a person an education from books.

But, as has been mentioned, all of truth and of education is not written in books. We must go to nature and people for the part that is not in the books. Let us recognize that our non-selective policy at S. U. as to admission has the effect of lowering the cultural level of the whole student body. We do not want any one to go thru life in a starched front shirt, but we very often do wish that S. U. could show to the world a refined atmosphere. But since it is absent, one way of getting it is on Glee Club trips, where one is thrust in contact with it. In this way may the students of S. U. be acquainted with the common virtues of life.

Another thing not offered in courses is responsibility. Many of our number have never been in a situation where it was necessary to think for themselves. The club first of all gives each one the responsibility of his part on the program. But beyond this, while on the trip, each is largely responsible for his own moral conduct. There is no way to face yourself to compare with being away from home and ties without the assurance of another person to do the thinking. It is in this position that one learns the true nature of his moral makeup. The club gives each member a fair chance in this direction. It is a good experience for children raised under the shadow of the apron string.

Beside this must be considered the cultural value of travel. Even tho the range of travel is small, it lends its value to the general education of those who take the opportunity. The true value of this is hard to estimate but it is by no means small.

Training along musical lines by the able hand of our conservatory is an opportunity not to be underestimated.

The Glee Club advertises S. U. from an angle that her athletic teams cannot, and to people they do not reach.

led under Stanley Knight, Horation Parker and Harold Bauer. In 1919 he went to Paris, continuing his study of composition with Vincent d'Indy. Further work in piano was done with Matthay, the celebrated London teacher. In London he was awarded the Chappell gold medal for piano playing. He has appeared in America with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Cleveland Orchestra, the New Haven Orchestra, and gave recitals in New York and New England. Mr. Simonds exhibits a ready and self-sufficing technique, and displays a charming tonal quality and musical understanding.

S. U. Will Meet Lebanon Valley

VERY FINE GAME EXPECTED ON FRIDAY EVENING AT ANN-VILLE WHEN THE ORANGE AND MAROON WILL INVADE THE LATTER CAMPUS

With two weeks in which to prepare for the Lebanon Valley tossers, Coach Pollmer's men are awaiting eagerly for the whistle which will send them into action once more against their ancient rivals from Annville.

The game will be played abroad, but that fact does not detract in the least from the determination to win which Susquehanna is confident of doing. In the series of last year, the two teams broke even, but this year each is confident of making a clean swing of the series. The season's record of Lebanon Valley is the more imposing, but the continued improvement in the playing of the Orange and Maroon leads her followers to expect victory in both contests.

The Susquehanna squad was weakened by the loss of Frank Brown, when the latter departed from school recently; but the continued improvement of the other members of the squad offsets the loss to an appreciable extent.

As the season draws to a close the S. U. passers realize that both of the remaining contests must be won in order to even call the season a partial success. A win over Lebanon Valley is greatly to be desired, and will serve to make amends for many of the unwelcome upsets of the present season.

Knissly and Kurtz are working well together, and insure Susquehanna of two fast working forwards in future years since both men are but Sophomores. The only Seniors who will be lost this season are Blough and Thomas. But one Junior is on the squad so the outlook for future years is indeed a rosy one.

Boys' Basket Ball Series in Deadlock

JUNIORS LOST TO THEOLOGES,
27-23. SENIORS LOST TO FRESH-MEN, CAUSING A DEADLOCK IN SERIES. PLAY-OFF FIRST WEEK IN MARCH

The interest in the class games reached a fever heat during the past week when two games were played with all contestants striving to better their position in the league race.

The first game between the Juniors and Theologes was to determine the ultimate winner of third place in the standing. Altho the Juniors were minus the services of several stars, they put up great opposition and only fell under a 27-23 score after they had carried the Parsons into an extra five minute session.

The game on Thursday evening between the Seniors and the Freshmen was indeed a crucial one and the yearling outfit weathered the test. Should the Seniors have won they would have finished the season undefeated, and the cup would have been indisputably their. A victory for the Freshmen would carry them into a tie for first honors, as their only defeat had been administered by Adams' Sophomores five.

The Seniors entered the conflict minus the services of Bannon, their stellar pivot man, who was confined to his home on account of sickness. The game was a thriller from start to finish.

NOTICE

Baseball candidates report on Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 in the Lecture Room of the Science Hall.

The Football meeting will be held as usual, definite arrangements being made for the handling of both groups at the same time.

Mr. J. Warren Clemens New Baseball Coach

Initial Workout Scheduled for Wednesday, March 25. When Coach Clemens Will report

Prospects for a successful season of spring sports received another boost during the past week with the selection of Mr. J. Warren Clemens, of Lebanon, Penna., former Tri-State League player, as coach of Susquehanna's nine during the 1925 season.

With twelve years' experience as a player (usually as captain of his team) in the Tri-State League; with four years' experience as a college coach and ten years' experience as an umpire in league baseball, Mr. Clemens is fully qualified to handle the destinies of the Orange and Maroon nine.

Undergraduates interested in baseball have reason to look forward to the coming season with interest with the knowledge that they will have an opportunity to learn more of the "inside stuff" connected with this popular sport from a man of Mr. Clemens' ability.

The initial workout is scheduled for Wednesday, March 25th, at which time Coach Clemens will report in.

Soph Co-eds to Meet Frosh Co-eds Friday

LAST OF GIRLS' CLASS GAMES TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK. BOTH TEAMS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY,
BUT AS YET THE WINNER CAN NOT BE CHOSEN

The long looked for game between the Freshmen and Soph girls will be played this Friday evening. It promises to be at least as hotly contested as the game between the lower class boys, which was won by the Sophs, 25-24, after a hectic extra five minute struggle.

Should the Freshman girls win they will secure undisputed possession of the beautiful trophy, emblematic of the class championship. But if the Soph girls win, the race will be deadlocked between all three entries and a play-off will be required.

Both teams are claiming a certain victory, but the winner cannot possibly be chosen at this early date, as the teams appear to be very evenly matched. The Freshmen are led by Mary Welmer, star forward, and the Sophs are under the leadership of Mary Saleh, also a clever forward.

Much credit is due Miss Reeder, who has successfully coached both contestants.

Selfishness Topic at Y. M. C. A. Meeting

ROGER BLOUGH WAS THE LEADER OF A VERY ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING. DISCUSSION BY VARIOUS MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL ORGANIZATION

The Y. M. C. A. held its weekly meeting on Tuesday evening in the Chapel with Roger Blough as leader. After the devotional exercises the topic of selfishness was discussed by Ralph Gramley, Lee Boyer, Earl Thomas, William Schwirin and Harland Fague.

"In Genesis 4:9 there is an example of selfishness in regards to Cain and Abel. Cain came and presented a sacrifice to God and then slew Abel. Jealousy and selfishness are at the bottom of all trouble. James and John wanted to sit at the right and left hand of Christ in glory, which was a selfish motive. Jesus said 'give and it shall be given unto you.' It is only thru the love of Christ that selfishness can be overcome. Success in itself is no selfish motive, but if it is for wealth, luxury then it becomes so. To

Re-organization of Science Club

INITIAL MEETING HELD LAST MONDAY EVENING AT WHICH NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED. NEAL WORMLEY TO HEAD CLUB FOR THIS YEAR

The General Science Club held its initial meeting for the present school year in the Science Hall on Monday evening, Feb. 16th. A very interesting program was rendered, which met with the approval of all those present. In the absence of the president, Vice President Wormley officiated, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The election of officers for the ensuing year followed. Neal Wormley, being a well versed student of chemistry, was unanimously elected president; John Lewis, a biological student of no mean ability, was elected vice president; Marlin Grubb was elected secretary and treasurer. These young men being ardent lovers of nature should prove well worthy of their offices.

This being completed, a very interesting and instructive lecture was given by Dr. Geo. E. Fisher on the different phases of the sun, moon and planets. He also gave a detailed explanation on the cause of the recent eclipse of the sun, which he had the pleasure of seeing at Scranton, a position lying in the path of the total eclipse.

The Edison Science Club of Sunbury high school upon their arrival tended to increase the interest of the meeting by displaying photographs of different phases of the eclipse as seen in and about Sunbury, which were taken by the students of that club. Professor Keifer, the mainstay of the Edison Club gave a very interesting lecture on the eclipse as seen in this section, and this was greatly appreciated by all.

Seibert Hall Has New Preceptress

Mrs. A. R. Koch Has Kindly Consented to Act Until Mrs. Kimble's Return to Campus

Due to the continued illness of Mrs. Margaret Kimble, Susquehanna's beloved preceptress, Mrs. A. R. Koch has kindly consented to act in that capacity until Mrs. Kimble's return to the campus. Mrs. Koch is the wife of Prof. Koch, instructor in voice in the Conservatory of Music.

Susquehanna is indeed fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mrs. Koch at this time, and everyone should fully appreciate the kindness with which she has accepted this position. It is hoped that all may cooperate in order to make life at Seibert Hall pleasant and cheerful.

Girls Elected Staff For March 10 Edition

Barbara DeRemer Chosen as Editor-in-Chief For This Particular Issue of The Susquehanna

Friday morning, immediately after Chapel service, the girls of Susquehanna held a meeting for the purpose of electing an editorial staff for the girls' edition of The Susquehanna. At that time the following girls were elected to office: Editor-in-chief, Barbara DeRemer; managing editor, Verda Long; local editor, Helen Veingest; athletic editor, Dorothy Reeder; alumni editor, Catherine Beachley; exchange editor, Eleanor Birk.

This new staff will edit the paper, dated March 10, and the student body is looking forward with eagerness to the issuing of this special edition. Everyone feels confident that the staff elected is one of the best girls' staffs that S. U. has had for some time, and it is prophesied that The Susquehanna will be a very newsy sheet on that particular day.

Congratulations, girls, and best wishes for a successful paper, remembering that the regular staff will be willing to aid in any way possible in the publishing of this issue.

Recital of Artists Enjoyed Very Much

MUSIC LOVERS AFFORDED RARE TREAT IN HEARING KATHARINE METCALF, MEZZO-SOPRANO, AND BRUCE SIMONDS, PIANIST. ENCORED MANY TIMES

The fourth number of the Star Course was given in Trinity Lutheran Church, February 17, 1925, by Miss Katharine Metcalf, mezzo-soprano, and Mr. Bruce Simonds, pianist. Miss Metcalf was at her best and produced tones of extraordinary purity and sweetness, her dramatic numbers being an outstanding feature of the evening.

Mr. Simonds far excels any other pianist Susquehanna has ever had here. He has a fluent technique, a fine sense of phrasing, and his pedaling was unusually clear. It will be of interest to know that Mr. Simonds is a member of Yale University faculty. Both artists were enthusiastically received, and generously added several encores.

Miss Helen Bahn was the able accompanist for Miss Metcalf.

Program:
Caprice on Ballet from "Alceste," Gluck-Saint-Saens, Mr. Simonds.

Men's Glee Club Sang in Sunbury

JOURNEYED TO ADJACENT CITY ON WEDNESDAY EVENING TO GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT. GLEE CLUB PROVING VERY POPULAR WITH SUNBURY PEOPLE

On Thursday evening, the Men's Glee Club journeyed to Sunbury, where they gave their annual concert in the High School auditorium. The concert was held under the auspices of the Senior class, who provided a large and attentive audience for the occasion.

On account of the illness of one of the members of the quartet, a violin solo was substituted for the quartet numbers. Mr. Arnold Michaels, a student of the School of Music, played the solos and was very ardently applauded in each of the numbers that he played.

Many different college Glee Clubs make their appearance in Sunbury, but of them all, Susquehanna's Glee Club proves to be among the more popular with the people of that city. The fact is verified by the statements

Men's Student Council Elected

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION AGAIN ACTIVE WITH THE ELECTION OF A NEW GOVERNING BODY. ROGER BLOUGH PRESIDENT OF NEW COUNCIL

The Men's Student Government Association has again become active on Susquehanna's campus. Last Tuesday morning, after the regular Chapel service, the following men were elected to the council: Seniors, Roger Blough, Ralph Gramley, Marlin Enders and George Bullock; Juniors, William Persing, Orville Landis and Eugene Sleight; Sophomores, Harold Swank and Marlin Fautz; Freshmen, Holzer Henins. From this governing body the following officers were elected: President, Roger Blough; vice president, William Persing; secretary, Orville Landis; treasurer, Harold Swank.

This is the second year for Student Government at Susquehanna. Last year, at the close of the first semester, after much agitation, the self government policy was adopted by the male students of the University. A council was elected and very efficient work was accomplished in the way of cleaning up some of those things which tended to give the college life of the men students a shaded aspect.

At the close of last year, for some unaccountable reason, no new council was elected for the beginning of this year, so that the old ones retained the office in name but not in spirit. Now, for the latter part of this year, S. U. has a new governing body, and it is hoped that this new council may not permit matters of importance to be dropped, but that at the end of each successive term of office it may see to it that a new council is elected for the following semester. Let everyone cooperate with the council in every way possible in order that all things may be administered according to an orderly and gentlemanly way.

Susquehanna Ready For Bucknell Debate

FIRST INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING CONTEST TO BE HELD IN TRINITY CHURCH ON FRIDAY EVENING AT 8:00 O'CLOCK ON SUPREME COURT QUESTION

Susquehanna is getting ready for her first intercollegiate debate. On Friday evening the S. U. debating team will meet Bucknell in Trinity Church at 8:00 o'clock. The Supreme Court question will be the issue at stake. Bucknell upholding the affirmative side, and Susquehanna the negative.

The debate held at the regular meeting of Debating Club last Thursday evening was very enthusiastic, and showed much preparation. The affirmative speakers were Earl Thomas and Lee Boyer; the negative, Edgar Bishop and David Davis. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative.

After the debate the business session of the meeting was held, at which time a preferential ballot was taken to elect members to the varsity debating team. The results of this election

BIBLE CIRCLE HELD WEDNESDAY EVENINGS

A little group of Bible students has been meeting regularly every Wednesday evening in Clio Hall for the purpose of more concentrating study of the Scriptures. This study lasts only one hour, from eight to nine.

During Lent, inasmuch as most of the students are unable to attend the regular Lenten services in the town churches, this meeting will give everyone an opportunity to observe the Lenten Season. Everyone is invited, both girls and boys. Why not come, and worship Christ in spirit and in truth?

DEBATING

We will soon enter into our first intercollegiate debating contest. What the outcome will be, we know not. On Friday evening Bucknell's affirmative team will come down here to meet our negative team on our home floor. Even this will not be strictly a formal debate in every sense of the word, yet it will be an intercollegiate affair, which Bucknell wishes to call a practice debate, a debate just for the purpose of getting both teams better prepared to meet their future opponents.

But even tho only a practice debate, why not win it? Our debating team is just as good as that of Bucknell. We have the men, the material, the facts, all that we need is the experience and that the team is acquiring in their workouts this week.

Again the old story, there is not a Susquehanna student who would not like to see our debaters put up a strenuous argument than Bucknell, and win a round entry on the laurels. But our debaters also win the victory. So Susquehanna will win from this debate on the rostrum only if the team has the support of every student on the campus.

How can we support that team? By going to hear the debates regularly, the most of all by being present on Friday evening and lending our influence in one way or another, either by judicious interest or by frequent applause, giving to the debaters every thing we have. Susquehanna will not win with only the three men on the rostrum, nor Susquehanna will win with the three men on the rostrum and the cooperation of every other true Susquehannian. Let's go, debaters, and show Bucknell that we are up and done.

VARSITY "S" CLUB WILL HOLD STUNT NIGHT SOON

At a recent meeting of a special committee of the Varsity "S" Club it was decided to hold a feature night for the benefit of the club. If the plans of the committee are carried out, there is no reason to doubt that the event will be a huge success. The date was set for March 4th in Alumni Gymnasium. Many interesting and entertaining features are being arranged. Watch for the posters and next week's Susquehanna for further detail.

SUSQUEHANNA SONGSTERS TAKE ICKESBURG BY STORM

Early Saturday afternoon Harry Rice, Orville Landis, William Roberts and Jack Frost, singers, and Harry Williams, pianist, left the campus en route for Ickesburg, where they were to concertize.

After a thrilling ride they arrived at their destination, where they were repaired to the Rice mansion at 19 Rice Boulevard. Here they received a chicken dinner.

Following dinner the musicians repaired to their respective rooms and attired themselves for the concert. Roberts caused some excitement when he found that he had left his tuxedo at school. A box was furnished him, and the "intrepid" quintet ventured forth in search of the P. O. S. of A. hall on the other street, namely Boden Avenue.

As the tuxedo clad vocalists appeared upon the stage, the natives were struck dumb, so dumb that they forgot to applaud. Taking applause for granted, however, the boys gave the following program:

Quartet—"Let me call you sweetheart," "June Night," "Maytime," "Tenor solo—"Lassie O' Mine," Mr. Roberts.

Encore—"From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water."

Quartet—"Would You?" "Siren of a Southern Sea."

Piano solo—"Danse Orientale," Mr. Williams.

Encore—"Dreamy Weather."

Finale—"O My Yes," Entire Company.

Encore—Encore—Encore.

Following the concert the survivors returned to the palatial mansion to sleep. Sleep was scarce, however, and at 8:00 A. M. the boys arose to eat a light breakfast of scraggle, bacon and three eggs apiece, etc. Thence, to Sunday school. Here Roberts once more took the limelight by dropping his penny, which rolled down the aisle at a tremendous rate. A benevolent usher eased William's sinking heart by recovering the refractory fortune, called upon to perform, the oblique Susquehannian sang "Wonderful Power."

In the afternoon the boys returned to the campus reporting a very fine time.

SELFISHNESS TOPIC AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

he successful one must do things from an unselfish point of view. Be true to God and man and success will crown all effort put forth.

It is up to the individual to reduce selfishness. The prayer of Socrates was "O God that I may be beautiful within." It is never a prayer for self but for others. No one can serve two masters. Serve God alone and make self better.

Selfishness is the greatest sin in all the world. Selfishness is dangerous. Christ said unless your generosity shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and the Pharisees ye shall in no wise enter the kingdom of heaven. No one likes a selfish person. Selfishness leads to misery. Do unto others as you would have that they do unto you.

Self denial is the fundamental thing in the Christian life. Christ lived a life of service and sacrifice which is the basis of the Christian life. The Apostle Paul denied himself for the Christian life.

of these people of Sunbury who are in position to judge.

Sunbury and adjacent towns is a territory which must be taken into consideration for the soliciting of new members. Susquehanna is not as popular with the great mass of Northumberland county people as it should be. This, of course, is not saying that it never will be, as people of this district are beginning to recognize Susquehanna more and more each year, as a good classical school.

Sense and Nonsense

Another Birthday End of Birthday

For nearly a score of years our school has been served by one whose remarkable energy and equally remarkable kindness and consideration have become part of the campus traditions. More tasks have come his way and been cheerfully accepted than a casual onlooker would imagine. His tireless capacity to take pains about the smallest and meanest tasks, his infinite and enduring willingness to forward the welfare of both school and students, and his excellent spirit of charity and helpfulness are unexcelled in their simplicity and thoughtfulness.

He has labored long and well. His true worth will only be realized when his place will eventually become vacant and we no longer see the rapid walk and the snowy crown of glory the kindly years have given him, no longer hear the unmistakable voice which leaves one a bit more cheery for the hearing. We would, therefore, in this season of the anniversary of his birth, propose a toast to the continued health, happiness, and joy in living of our good friend and benefactor, Mr. Horton.

It was certainly an accident. No one would designedly bring destruction to beauty, to usefulness, and to tradition. Yet the trunk torn asunder, rent by folly, is a cruel fact we cannot easily forget, even tho we would forgive. The perpetrators of this deed will always have the image of a ruined tree to aid them in remembering one night of college fun that went wrong. Below are a few lines setting forth some idea of what it should mean to plant a tree and to see it grow. Perhaps the realization of how near the tree and poem were destroyed will temper future fun with a bit of common sense.

The Heart of the Tree

What does he plant who plants a tree?
He plants a friend of sun and sky;
He plants the flag of breezes free;
The shaft of beauty, towering high;
He plants a home to heaven ached;
For song and mother croon of bird
In hushed and happy twilight heard—
The trouble of heaven's harmony—
These things he plants who plants a tree.

What does he plant who plants a tree?
He plants in sap and leaf and wood,
In love of home and loyalty,
And farthest that of civic good—
His blessings on the neighborhood
Who in the hollow of His hand
Holds all the growth of all our land—
A nation's growth from sea to sea
Stirs in his heart who plants a tree.
—Henry Cuyler Brunner.

Happy is the man whose recreation supplies his work with pleasure and whose work supplies his recreation with usefulness.

Altho the song is a bit old and sung out, it has become a campus favorite with certain of the males, since they have realized its significance and their ambition for its fulfillment. We refer to "I Love a Little Cottage."

Half the joy of living is being loved and the other half is in loving.

RE-ORGANIZATION

OF SCIENCE CLUB

Mr. Burns gave an account of his experience while viewing the eclipse from the campus of Columbia University in New York City.

Upon the completion of the program it was moved that the club should meet two weeks hence, at which time a purely biological program will be rendered by members of the club. A committee of John Lewis, chairman, Joseph Dubovecky and Wayne Daubenspeck was appointed to arrange the program for this coming Monday night, which will be very instructive as well as interesting. Science students and all who wish to come are most cordially invited to attend these meetings.

finish. At the close of the first half the Freshmen sported a several point lead and looked like sure winners, but in the second half some great uphill work by Martin and Hanner enabled the mighty Seniors to tie the count with a couple of minutes to play. Then Hanner put the Seniors into the lead with a timely field goal, but his efforts went for naught as he was detected taking too many steps. At this juncture Vorlage who had been rushed into the fray, proved himself to be the proper man for the place when he dropped in a couple of field goals, which insured victory for the Frosh. This victory caused the class series to end a deadlock.

The play-off will be run as a feature of the big night which is being planned by the Varsity "S" Club for some time during the first week in March. Both contestants are preparing for the final fray, and are arranging to have a powerful quintet on hand. The Senior team will be hard to down when they are bolstered by the addition of Bannon and Bowser, former varsity luminaries, along with Hartman, who is a dependable center man.

Standing of the teams:

ALUMNI

Rev. C. R. Boistford, '96, has just finished a union Evangelistic campaign in his city, Cumberland, Md. A temporary tabernacle was erected to furnish accommodations for the crowds that responded to the services. Local labor and plants supplied the labor and materials for the erection of the building. Rev. W. H. Bromley, of Kentucky, was the Evangelist.

Rev. Roy J. Meyer, pastor of Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, of Monessen, Pa., reports in his Church paper, "St. Paul's Record," that he presented the diplomas to a graduating class in Teacher's Training. He reports eight semesters for the month of January, seven new members, one baptism.

Rev. W. C. Dunlap, '89, is a minister of the Gospel in Reading.

H. F. Fetterolf, '12 and '23, is the head of the commercial department in Penn. Argl.

Luther O. Good, '21, is a teacher in the High School at East Rancor, Pa.

Chas. W. Drumm, '20, is the head of the Department of Biology in Frackville High.

Elmer F. Brown, '16 and '19, is pastor of the Lutheran Church at Lily. Rev. Brown has had very trying experiences due to the conduct of the K. K. K. in that town.

A. A. Ancker, '20 and '23, is teacher of Science in Scranton, Pa.

G. Blair Harman, '19, is a theological student in the Susquehanna University Seminary, where he and Derr, '24, are very eager in their competition for excellence in the mastery of Fagnan's Hebrew Grammar.

Paul B. Faust, '18, is a teacher in Technical High School at Harrisburg. Jesse F. Rees is a teacher in Harrisburg Tech with Faust.

A. B. Wallize is an instructor in Edison Junior High in Harrisburg. Rev. Elwood Swoope, '21, is attaining very much popularity in his new charge at Camp Hill.

Harry F. Frymire, '19, teaches in the Shamokin Dam High School.

H. E. Erdman, '99, is a pastor in the community of Burkittsville, Md.

Rev. J. C. Fasold, '96, is the minister of the Lutheran Church in Minefield. He was a member of the first regular class to graduate under full regular college standing.

A Little Arithmetic

He came to teach arithmetic. He said it was his mission.

He kissed her once, he kissed her twice, and said:

"That is addition."

And as they smack the smack, with silent satisfaction,

She timidly gave him one back, and said:

"That is subtraction."

So Bob kissed her and she kissed him, without explanation,

And in unison they said, "Now."

"That is multiplication."

Poor Pa, arrived on the scene, and snorted with decision,

He kicked poor Bob four blocks away, and said:

"That is long division."

Robert Baird went calling on his girl last summer one night and was suddenly intercepted by the girl's dog. The barking dog summoned the young lady to the door.

"Why don't you come in, Robert?"

"The dog's barking at me."

"Why look, he's wagging his tail at you."

"I don't know which end to believe."

Olsen (when quite young)—Mother, my Sunday school teacher never takes a bath."

His Mother—"Why Paul? Who told you that?"

Olsen—"She said she never did anything in private that she was ashamed to do in public."

Don Young—"Did you know Mercury is in the hospital?"

Pratt—"No, what happened to him?"

Don Young—"He fell ten degrees, this morning."

Prof. Sheldon—"Why didn't you sing the chorus of the last song?"

Greg Morning—"Because it said 'train' in my book."

Jews and Christian Students Shake.

On the evening of February ninth the students of the Jewish Institute of Religion, a liberal institution for the training of Rabbis, met with the students of the Union Theological Seminary, a liberal institution for the training of Christian ministers, at the latter institution for the purpose of a frank and free discussion of the aims and ideals of their respective vocations. Congregational, Episcopalian, Presbyterian, as well as students of many other denominations were present. Speeches were made by representatives of both institutions and questions concerning the beliefs, practices and future of their respective religions were discussed. It is said that this is the first time in history that two such bodies have thus met together. The meetings arose owing to conversation between the students and were put thru by the students.

Students Oppose Compulsory Chapel.

Many New England colleges are waging a campaign against compulsory chapel. The Yale Daily News in announcing the editorial platform of its new board of editors, contains the following plank:

Religion: "We oppose in fact and principle the compulsory attendance of religious exercises."

Students of Dartmouth, Brown, Williams and Amherst have expressed themselves as opposed to compulsory chapel. The student body of Brown recently voted overwhelmingly against the institution.

The Williams Record is stirring up considerable sentiment at Williams in favor of the abolition of compulsory chapel. The Record states that in the past month it has received 300 communications not only from students but from members of the faculty condemning this exercise. An open Forum is being arranged at which the question will be discussed giving the student body, the Faculty and trustees opportunity to express their feelings.

Practical Experience

Nine members of the staff of the University of Southern California Trojan are to have practical experience in journalism. For a short time they will edit the Fullerton Tribune, the newspaper of a Los Angeles suburb. Not only will the editorial work be taken over but members of the advertising class will write, sell and arrange display advertising, giving the university students complete charge of everything but the actual printing and delivering.

Other papers are to be edited during the next few weeks.

SUSQUEHANNA STUDENTS SOLVING LIMPIN' LIMRICKS

To win one of the Evening Ledger $100 Limrick prizes is the objective set up before a number of Susquehanna students. With the Cross Word puzzle craze abating somewhat on Susquehanna's campus, the return of the Limpin' Limricks, and the opportunity to win a prize of $100 is setting students agog with interest and enthusiasm. To receive a $100 check as a reward for supplying the one line needed to complete the Limrick would indeed prove a real life-saver for more than one of Susquehanna's students.

Every day finds a greater number of students reading the Evening Public Ledger in which the Limpin' Limricks are appearing daily. Daily deliveries of Evening Ledger are made on the campus every evening by the local representative—Lawrence Fisher. Read the Evening Ledger, Philadelphia's leading evening paper. Solve a Limrick and secure a $100 check.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

INDEX TO CULTURE

It is not every week that the students of S. U. are given the opportunity of listening to a program such as that rendered in Trinity Church last Tuesday. Each number on the program was the result of many months or perhaps years of constant grinding hard work on the part of the performer. Each number was a part of the performer because of the personal sacrifice required to accomplish such perfection. Beside that, the soul of a long dead genius was resurrected and made articulate with the performance of each number. The pearly touch of the pianist, and his unusual interpretation are things to be remembered with profit for a life time.

It is little wonder that the civilized and refined element of the audience experienced a deep sense of satisfaction during the performance. Music stirs any soul that can be stirred by any other stimulus, and good music brings the best there is in a person to the surface.

But what a pity that at such a time, the beauty of the occasion was spoiled by the leering sneers and the aping of a number of mental inebriates who happened to struggle in from the ragged edge of civilization, by way of Susquehanna. The music was the creation of one of the few geniuses of the earth. It was reproduced from the mind of one who is admitted to be one of the foremost in his line, one who is the result of generations of culture and refinement. It is at this, the highest expression of the civilized world, that the taunts and jeers of the pitifully ignorant rabble were hurled. As a rule, when a person is physically or mentally defective, he tries to hide the fact from his better equipped associates. But these few insisted on detracting from the performance to parade their dazzling lack of culture before the world. The better thing would have been to sit still and ponder over the missing part of their mentality. Better still would have been a hasty but graceful exit, since the program was beyond their mental scope. It would be well in the future to remember that there are rules of common everyday culture, and to take pains to discover them.

OUR CAMPUS

Since the snow has just about all gone and the robins and blue birds are making their entrance into this part of the country, we might say that spring is not so very far away. During the winter, a considerable amount of garbage which should have been put in the garbage can was thoughtlessly thrown out of the windows to save taking care of it properly. But the snow is no longer here to hide the trash. The result is that some parts of our campus have the appearance of a municipal dumping-ground. To a stranger coming our way, the impression would be that we here at S. U. have no concern for the appearance of our campus. Such, however, is not the case, so it would be a concrete proof of our loyalty if we who throw the junk out of the windows were to get busy and eliminate it from the landscape. This would constitute a service to the institution and would have a hygienic value to ourselves.

Along this same line, let us consider that the grass is due very soon. In some places it is frequently killed by folks walking on it. We can save the grass and add to the appearance of the campus by seeing to it that we ourselves keep off. That, of course, means everyone. Here are two very good ways to exercise the loyalty we have been talking about.

VARSITY "S" CLUB TO HOLD STUNT SIRCUS THURSDAY EVENING 8:15

Alumni Gymnasium Will be the Scene of an Interesting Program. Closing Feature to be the Senior-Frosh Play-off for Class Basketball Trophy

You may be wondering what it's all about. Well, here's the dope: The "S" Club decided they needed money and appointed a committee to think up a way. After a period of inactivity, the committee got busy. The result is the "S" "Stunt Sircus." You've read the posters, now the only thing left is to buy a ticket from any member of the club and spend Thursday evening profitably, speaking of amusement. The program? Oh yes! But that is a dim, dark secret and not for the public eye just yet. In fact, it will not be ready for publication until Thursday evening at eight-fifteen, and take it from someone "on the inside" it will be rich. If you are inclined to be speculative, just go over the list of Varsity "S" men, use your imagination, and then prepare yourself for about seven times as much as you are expecting. Be it sufficient to state that the closing feature of the evening will be the Senior-Frosh play-off for the inter-class basketball trophy.

Seriously, tho, the "S" Club wishes that this, their initial venture, be a success; and without the support of the student body that will be impossible. The Varsity "S" Club is your

Basketball Season Drawing to a Close

VERY UNFORTUNATE SEASON WILL COME TO A CLOSE WEDNESDAY EVENING WHEN LEBANON VALLEY TOSSEWS WILL INVADE SUSQUEHANNA CAMPUS

The curtain will ring down upon the most unfortunate basketball season that a Susquehanna squad has ever passed thru, when the fast Lebanon Valley tossers invade the Alumni Gymnasium on Wednesday evening with the avowed intention of conquering the Orange and Maroon quintet.

The visitors possess a real team that has proven its mettle in many a hard fought game during the present season. Among their victories are twice listed the Schuylkill five, which proved to be too strong for Susquehanna on two different occasions.

The defeat administered last week at Lebanon when Lebanon Valley rolled up a 45-18 score on the S. U. boys, does not really testify as to the comparative strength of the two teams, since in that encounter Coach Foltz. Concluded on Page 4

Freshmen Girls Won Championship

GIRLS' CLASS BASKETBALL SERIES ENDED WHEN FROSH DEFEATED SOPHS BY SCORE OF 36-11, GIVING TO THEM THE MUCH COVETED TROPHY

In a game which was marked solely by the uphill struggle of the Sophomores and the fine teamwork and scoring ability of the Frosh, the first year girls overwhelmed their rivals and took possession of the championship trophy by securing a 36-11 victory.

The game started off auspiciously, and for a while the Sophs commanded a slight lead when Mary Salem caged several field goals. But the Freshmen came back and deadlocked the score at 6 all, at the close of the first quarter. Supreme Court Question Upheld on Affirmative Side by Bucknell, on Negative by Susquehanna. Decision 2-1 in Favor of the Negative Susquehanna won her first intercollegiate debate by the decision of 2-1 when her negative team met Bucknell's affirmative team in Trinity Lutheran Church on Friday evening.

This being Susquehanna's first forensic contest, it was awaited with much expectation. Rev. W. C. Beck, of the First Lutheran Church, was the presiding officer. The Supreme Court question, Resolved: That Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court, was the one under discussion. Bucknell's affirmative team was composed of Alexander Wilson, Wallace Kearney and Francis Lybarger. Susquehanna's negative team was composed of J. Edgar Bishop, Lee Boyer and David Davils. The judges were Dr. Stansfield, pastor of the Methodist Church, of Sunbury; Prof. John B. Boyer, assistant superintendent of schools of Northumberland county, and Prof. Walborn, of Freeburg. Dr. Francis Lybarger, noted lecturer, accompanied the Bucknell boys to the Susquehanna campus and acted as coach of their team.

At eight o'clock Rev. Beck announced the first speaker on the affirmative, and from that time on until the time when the last speaker on the rebuttal was rung off everyone was keyed to a high pitch of excitement. The debate Concluded on Page 2

1924 BASEBALL SQUAD

Altho the past basketball season has proved to be unsuccessful, the outlook for baseball is unusually bright. Each year Susquehanna has been represented by a fast team, and this year's nine promises to be up to the calibre of the fine teams of the past few years.

At a recent meeting held in the gymnasium, a large number of candidates reported, and among them are to be found the names of many former

Glee Club Rendered Delightful Concert

Organization Traveled to Hughesville, Where They Sang to an Eager and Interested Audience

On Friday night, the Glee Club, in company with Prof. Sheldon, traveled to Hughesville, where they rendered the second annual concert to the people of that community. The concert was given in the community hall, which was well filled with an eager and interested audience.

The Club traveled to Hughesville via the P. & R. railroad to Muncy, where they were met by automobiles and taken to the destination, which is five miles away. Despite the bitter cold this ride was enjoyed very much as it takes one over excellent cement roads and thru beautiful country.

At 8 o'clock everybody was set for the concert with the exception of four members, who were unavoidably detained. Ten minutes later all was ready. Prof. Sheldon ordered the club to go forth, but Keeler went fifth because he forgot his full dress collar. Knowing that this concert was sponsored by Rev. Dallas Baer, a former S. U. Glee Club man, everyone put forth his best efforts and gave a very Concluded on Page 2

New Variety of Man Discovered at S. U.

Students of Susquehanna and Scientific World in General Have Made Discovery

The attention of the students of Susquehanna University, and the scientific world in general is called to the variety of Homo sapiens discovered on the campus at Susquehanna. These specimens are true members of the species, but exhibit characters which should place them in a new variety. These specimens have been called Homo sapiens variety cash registeritis, meaning the Cash Register Variety of Human Beings. This name is peculiarly fitting because of the attitude taken toward cash registeritis by other members of Homo sapiens on the campus.

Homo sapiens variety cash registeritis, or Common Day Student, is a migratory animal. It travels from its nest or den to the campus every day except Saturday and Sunday, upon which days it is supposed to be hibernating. In general appearance, cash registeritis differs little from other members of the species, the animal is gentle and affectionate and can easily be tamed. SOPHOMORE CLASS ELECTED STAFF OFFICERS. JOHN SANDERSON, EDITOR; WILLIAM BONNEY, BUSINESS MGR.; LUTHER RHODES, ART EDITOR

Last Tuesday evening the Sophomore class held a meeting at which time the 1927 Lantern staff was elected. John Sanderson was called to be the head of the editorial staff of the annual. William Bonney was the chosen man to manage the business part of the book, and Luther Rhodes was selected as art editor.

Each of these men is well fitted to head his respective department of the publication, as they have special talents and ability along that particular work for which they have been chosen. Mr. Sanderson and Mr. Rhodes are members of The Susquehanna staff at the present time; the former being local editor, and the latter humor correspondent. Mr. Bonney is a leader in his class, having occupied the office of vice president during his Freshman year. Concluded on Page 2

Young Women Heard Of Life In India

MISS BARBARA DEREMER HAD CHARGE OF Y. W. C. A. MEETING, AND TOLD OF THE LIFE OF A COLLEGE GIRL IN THE COUNTRY OF INDIA

Miss Barbara DeRemer had charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting on Tuesday evening. Miss DeRemer took the young women over to India for a short time, which was a very interesting visit.

She told of the life of a college girl in India. The college girl of India is very much like the American college girl. There is a large college for students in the southern part of India. The girls usually rise at about five or five-thirty in the morning, and are taken to the hospital in trucks. They have classes from seven-thirty to twelve-thirty in the morning. A SIMILE

We have many things to learn in this world of ours. One of the chief of these is that we should know when to open and when to shut our mouths. This may seem very crude language, but it is best said to these words.

Many of us have ruined the destiny of our lives just by neglecting to be more strict with the regulation of our mouths. We should be more careful concerning this, for do we wish to further thwart our entire career?

There are two sides to this situation; we should know when to open our mouths, and we should know when to shut our mouths. There are times when we should open our mouths, times when we are expected to express our opinion, and express it truthfully. Then by all means, let's not sit like a corpse, but let's act, and act with our mouths. If there is a person which someone seems not to especially like, it is that one who continually sits about doing nothing and saying nothing when he has been addressed a little, and time again, if we are spoken to let us talk; if we are asked to do something, let us do it.

Then we should know when to shut our mouths, and this is even more important, and more often neglected than the first. Some people are talking continually, but usually those kind never say anything. They are continually "blowing their own horn," as the expression is, and who cares anything for such a person? If we do something worth while it will not be necessary for us to tell others of our achievements. If the act is worth while, the world will find it out without our telling it, and if it is not worthwhile then no one else cares to hear anything about it. Many lives have been ruined only because a person talked too much. He may have had a fine intellect and fine talents, but knowing this, he need not have boasted of his accomplishments. We ought to know when to shut our mouths.

We can express our joys and sorrows, we can have our happy moments and our dull moments; things which the little oyster can not do, all that life means to him is to be eaten or to make pearls. But it would be far better for us if we were able to do things which he knows how to do. He knows when to open his mouth and he knows when to shut it.

What a wise institution is an oyster. There is much which we could learn from this little creature of the seas.

OUR SECOND TEAM

Did you know there existed a second team? Oh yes, you have heard about it when they played the Selingrove high team. You learned that they beat and just walked all over Northumberland high. It must be said right here that the second team is worthy of almost more praise than the first team. The second team comes out every night to play against the first team. They come out and get mauled in every scrimmage. They get no laurels. They get all the knocks. They are the ones who really train the first team, and the team owes its victories to the ability of the second team to bring out its best.

Once in a while one of the second team members is allowed to go with the team as a substitute. Students of Susquehanna, you owe more to the second team than you (with the exception of those who have turned out) will ever know. So the next time you see a member of the second team, don't decide him—for that fact. On the other hand, when you see a member of the second team, pay him a silent tribute. You owe him more than is in your power to give.

If you wish to show your real appreciation, go to every game that is scheduled for them. The lot of a second team man is a hard one. Help him bear his burdens.

—Harry Rice.

S. U. DEBATORS WON FROM BUCKNELL was excellent throat, both sides brought forth some fine additional points and much new material, which had been unknown to the audience. The oratory and logic of both teams is to be commended, and the delivery was very forceful. There was not a person in the audience who could sit there and listen without feeling his hair tingle at some of the statements which were flashed before his mental vision.

The most tense moments were those just previous to the announcement of the judges' decision. But in a few minutes the decision, which was 2-1 in favor of the negative team, thus making Susquehanna the winner, was announced, and then there followed an uproar of applause.

Bucknell has asked to meet Susquehanna again next year, and in all probability a dual debate will then be scheduled. Susquehanna's remaining schedule for this season is a dual debate with Juniata on March 12, and a dual debate with Lebanon Valley on March 29.

PREPARING FOR 1927 LANTHORN

Susquehanna students feel confident that the class of 1927 will have a better annual than that of the present Juniors. With such capable men managing the publishing of this Lanthorn, it is certain to exceed all expectations.

Congratulations, editor, business manager and art editor, for having been entrusted with so great a responsibility, and to the class of 1927, for having such competent men to pilot them thru to the issuing of a successful college yearbook.

tie-up scrappers the members of the variety or unexcited. In spot of these good qualities cash registeritis is not highly regarded by the other members of the class to which it belongs, it is not made aware of class meetings, and elections are held without its votes, but when dues are to be paid, money raised, or subscriptions taken, cash registeritis is always expected to register and does register. It seldom fails to produce the shekels when touched.

It is doubtful as to how long this animal will continue in its present state of partial domestication. In view of the ill treatment to which it is subjected, it would be no wonder if this remarkable coin-producing animal were to retreat to its native haunts, never more to return to the campus. Therefore, all those who wish to see and study this animal are admonished to do so now, before it is forever too late. Watch for further information in next issue.

REGULAR MEETING HELD TUESDAY EVENING WITH ELLSWORTH GROVE AS LEADER. TOPIC OF FRIENDSHIP DISCUSSED BY VARIOUS MEMBERS

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting on Tuesday evening in the Chapel, the devotional exercises were conducted by Ellsworth Grove. The topic of Friendship was then discussed by Paul Olsen, Marlin Enders, Jacob Kroen, John Derr, Guy Labold and Earnest Shuntill.

In the Friendship of Christ and the Rich Young Ruler it is recorded that Jesus loved the young ruler. This young man loved Christ, but he loved his possessions more. He was a half way follower, yet Christ loved him. Christ's friendship sees beyond the poor lives of everyone to their possibilities and loves them for their accomplishments.

The friendship of Jesus Christ is the greatest. He is the Ideal Friend. Other friends one may have and they fail "but He sticketh closer than a brother." He is one in whom a person can confide, one to whom he can go to and one who comes to him in his distress and extends help without asking.

Mary Magdalene was a most grateful friend to her Master after her conversion. She was a ministrant of Christ, and a very faithful adherent. At the cross she was a sincere mourner. The Christian ministry is for the humble. Taking all in all, gratitude is one of the foremost bonds of friendship.

To live with Master it is necessary to have the spirit of the Master. Jesus was over the friend of man. Jesus had pleasure among his fellowmen, teaching the fishermen and all. In work as well as in pleasure Jesus was the friend to men. Everybody can be a friend and help to restore sight to the spiritual blind. To be with the King in his spirit one must live in his spirit.

Jesus also had a false friend in the person of Judas. He was the black sheep of the fold. Jesus loved each disciple and he loved Judas even though he knew that he would betray Him. Judas was Christ's false friend, but a true friend would far rather fail than not make the attempt to save his friend.

they rest until three o'clock. Then the girls have classes and study periods until five o'clock. When they have finished their day's work, they're taken back to the college again for the night.

The girls of America may think that the girls of India do not have many interesting games. They have some that are very familiar, such as tennis, volleyball, basketball, etc.

The girls from the cottage dramatized a song, "Speak to me Lord," and Mildred Patterson sang "Saviour, Breathe an Evening Blessing."

This week-end Martha Ertel and Miss DeLemer attended the Student Volunteer Conference at State College.

GLEE CLUB RENDERED DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

peppy program. Having very much experience in this line of work Rev. Baer is in a position to judge the qualities of a Glee Club and does not hesitate to criticize when necessary. However, no breaks occurring, the concert was put across in great shape, which resulted in the club being very highly complimented by Rev. Baer.

Bidding adieu to the cool people of Hughesville, the club returned home via the Pennsylvania Railroad from Muncy to Sunbury. On the train, barber shop quartets were very much in evidence. Rabbi Kroen translated the account of the concert from the Hebrew New York Sun. Ebberts was almost over-shadowed by a dark cloud.

Enders says "I. I. I."

The people of Hughesville have invited the Club to return next year. It is hoped that the club can reciprocate by accepting the invitation.

PHI BETA RHO FRATERNITY CELEBRATED ANNIVERSARY

Saturday evening the Phi Beta Rho fraternity celebrated the second anniversary of its founding by holding a party at its home in Pine street. The house was decorated in the fraternity colors and conventionalized designs of the fraternity flower and presented a unique and pleasing appearance. As the guests arrived they were presented with bouquets or corsages resembling the fraternity flower. Tasty refreshments were served during the evening.

A feature of the party was the good fellowship and "pep" which was displayed, there being not a dull moment from the beginning to the end. When the time for departure came, it seemed hardly possible that the time had flown so rapidly. Many of the guests commented upon the originality of the favors and decorations, and as the party drew to a close, all too soon, there were many expressions of a happy evening pleasantly spent.

Cassel and Stroup visited Harrisburg over the week-end.

Fopano and Barnes spent several days at their homes in Middleburg.

Barnes spent the week-end at his home in Lewistown.

Frost visited at his home in Lebanon after the game with Lebanon Valley.

Baxter spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Allenwood.

Knitsely spent the week-end at his home in Newport.

Miller was at his home in Millersburg.

Olson visited several days at his home in Renovo.

Ertel spent Saturday at his home in Williamsport after the Glee Club concert.

Baird spent the week-end at Reidsville.

McLain was at Middleburg for several days.

Pittie and Burd were at Middleburg on business.

Sharretts visited in Williamsport.

Horton was absent from the campus Saturday and Sunday.

Triebels, Derr and "Larry" Long spent several days at Baltimore and Annapolis Naval Academy.

Creston Billow and Harold Moltenke attended the Lutheran Students Conference which was held at State College.

SEIBERT HALL

Naomi Ulrich spent the week-end at home in Wilkes-Barre, and her mother, Mrs. Domer Ulrich returned with her on Sunday.

Lucy Herr spent several days in McAllisterville.

Arlene Hoyt was called home Wednesday on account of the illness of her father.

Mary Farling was at her home in Jersey Shore.

Martha Ertel spent a few days at her home in Williamsport.

Margaret Kelser spent the week-end at her home in Shamokin.

Hannah Pitner visited her home in Elysburg.

Prudence Wilson has been visited by her sister this week-end.

Barbara DeRemer was at State College, where she attended the conference of the Lutheran Students' Association.

Helen Goynne spent the week-end in Ashland.

Mary Ella Goughier was at Philadelphia for several days.

over high school and prep stars. Along with the many veterans on the squad, they should help to make the coming season a banner one in the history of Susquehanna baseball.

With "Pat" Clemens, former league star, as the new coach, and "Cracker" Clark as captain, the team is assured of proper guidance, and this means a lot toward its development.

Indoor practice is already in vogue, and the men will be outdoors as soon as the weather permits.

Hanner and Clark, star twirlers, are looking forward to the best season of their fine careers, and this fact alone is a strong guarantee of the team's success. The big task for Coach Clemens will be the developing of capable under studies to succeed the two regular flingers, both of whom graduate this June.

A fine schedule has been arranged for the squad, but the men are confident that they are capable of upholding the baseball prestige that has been established by the Orange and Maroon nines of previous years. The schedule follows:

April 15, Franklin and Marshall, at Selingsgrove.

April 18, Bloomsburg at Selingsgrove.

April 24, Juniata at Huntingdon.

April 25, Penn State at State College.

May 2 (May Day) Juniata at Selingsgrove.

May 8, Ursinus at Selingsgrove.

May 14, Haverford at Haverford.

BASKETBALL SEASON DRAWING TO CLOSE

mer's tossers were minus the services of many regulars due to sickness and injuries. But for the final fray on Wednesday, it is hoped that Susquehanna will present her pluckiest battle, and finish in front of her powerful foe. This task will be a difficult one, but S. U. is confident of the outcome.

The present situation brings up a similar one of several years back, when Susquehanna wound up her season against Bucknell at Lewisburg after having won only one game thruout the entire season. Bucknell had previously defeated the Susquehanna passers on the S. U. floor, so as a result, few rooters accompanied the Orange and Maroon passers to Lewisburg. In the fray that night, Susquehanna provided an upset for the college world, when she handed Bucknell the first defeat which she had received on her home court for five years. The score was Susquehanna 41, Bucknell 28. With such history, the present quintet feels capable of repeating the accomplishment of her famous predecessors, and Lebanon Valley will be given some real opposition.

This game will close the collegiate basketball careers of Blough, center, and Thomas, guard. These men have worked with Susquehanna squads for the past several years. The new material has improved rapidly thruout the season, and will show to advantage on Wednesday evening. Among the new men, Shue and Young are making rapid strides to the fore.
Sleight is also showing real exhibitions of basketball, particularly in defensive work.

The Reserves will meet formidable opposition in the preliminary game, when Selinsgrove high school will once more invade the Susquehanna gym. The high school passers already had a one point victory over the Reserves, and will be out to uphold their prestige as the leading high school quintet in this section of the State.

commanding lead.

To say that the rival leaders were the individual stars would unjust to the fine work of their teammates, but it can be said without falacy that Mary Welmer and Mary Siden, respective captains of the Freshman and Sophomore teams were the high scorers on the offense of their teams.
Steininger and Eyer displayed a fine brand of ball, and also figured largely in the scoring, while Benner and Yolmest were much in evidence, altho their scoring powers were not prominent. Too much credit can not be given to Leiby, Grossbeck, Fogel and Beyers, the Freshmen guards, who rendered it almost impossible for their opponents to score. Morris, Frick and Geating gave a good exhibition of guarding but the Frosh forwards were not to be stopped.

The Sophs should be commended for they never stopped fighting for a minute, even when they saw that they were hopelessly defeated.

The Freshmen girls have displayed a flashy, yet consistent article of ball thruout the series, and are deserving of all the laurels which have been heaped upon them.

The upperclass girls finish the series in second place, a notch higher than any previous Junior-Senior team has ever finished. Under the leadership of "Marg" Morning, they vanquished the Sophs, and in the second half of the game with the Frosh they more than doubled the score of their opponents, who returned victorious, however, thru obtaining an unsurmountable first half lead.

SUSQUEHANNA WINS FINAL FRAY, DEFEATING LEBANON VALLEY 39-23

Captain Earl Thomas and Roger Blough Sped to New Glories in Their Concluding Appearances in Orange and Maroon Quintet

Coach Follmer's proteges closed the court season here by beating Lebanon Valley in one of the fastest games played in the Alumni Gym this season. The final score was 39-23. The home team lined up with Knisely and Kurtz forwards; Blough center, Young and Thomas, guards. The visitors heavy artillery were arranged with Capt. Me-tuxen and Richards guards, Wheeler center and Gilbert and Musser forwards.

The outstanding features of the game were the spectacular basket shooting of Knisely and Blough, each bagging eight and five two pointers respectively. Knisely started the wheel rolling by making two baskets from the start before Lebanon Valley knew that S. U. was out to reverse the score of last week. Roger Blough came through with the third basket from a difficult angle.

Capt. Thomas, handicapped with a bad ankle, played a stellar game at the guard position. He was ably assisted by Kurtz, who succeeded in making three baskets of the different side variety. Don Young, playing varsity ball his freshman year, allowed his man only one basket in this period and was on the ball continually when it came in his territory.

Gilbert was the outstanding player for Lebanon Valley, making seven of their points the first period. The whistle ended the first half with the score standing 18-14 in Susquehanna's favor.

The second half started with S. U. lining up as in the beginning, excepting Young, who was substituted by Jean Sleigle. Jean per usual was at ways on the alert for the ball, both in the air and on the floor. Blough and Knisely continued to make baskets at will assisted by the fast passing of Thomas, Kurtz and Sleigle. During the entire game the finest points of basketball technique were displayed.

Thomas and Blough being seniors played their last game for their alma mater and ended their basketball career at S. U. in bang-up fashion. It is needless to say that Susquehanna owes much of her athletic success to these two varsity men.

The preliminary game between the junior varsity and Selinsgrove High School was a fitting bracer for the varsity contest although the final score was not on the winning side of the ledger for Susquehanna. The first half ended by the close score 15-14 in S. U.'s favor. The game was a fast one, and the playing of Kemmerer and Vorlage stood out prominently. The second half the home team was unable to continue their good playing on account of the foul rule and not having sufficient substitutes the game was continued for a while with four players. Then the high school coach loaned two of his men to the junior varsity in order to finish the contest. The final score favored the high school, and they are to be complimented on their neat working five. The floor work of Whitmer, Cameron and Adams was good and the material is promising for next year's varsity.

Indoor Track Meet Held On March 19

SUSQUEHANNA CO-EDS WILL PLAY NO SMALL PART IN HON-ORS OF THE EVENING. ONLY COLLEGE EVENT OF ITS KIND IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA

As the time for the annual Indoor Meet approaches, interest is waxing keen in the various events and Susquehanna's Co-Eds will play no small part in the honors of the evening.

To the girls of the class of 1927 went most of the honors last year, records in the Standing Broad Jump, All Up Club and 280 Relay Race having been established by them. To retain these honors and possibly establish records in the Running High and Rope Jump is the objective of the 1927 girls, this year. Miss Gaugier, holder of the Indoor Running High Jump Record will make a strong bid to equal and possibly improve her record and also secure points for the Junior Class in the meet. The keenest competition will in all probability arise from the members of the present Freshman Class, who are working out daily and promise some surprises on the night of the 19th.

In addition to the performances of the Co-eds, the 1925 Indoor Meet will undoubtedly bring forth the keenest competition ever witnessed in this annual indoor event. The Sophomore boys, under the direction of Manager Harry Burd, are putting forth every effort to duplicate their feat of last year and hope to place another championship team on the field.

The strength of the Seniors will also bear watching as they will have as their mainstay at least three record

Friday, February 27th, a conference of the Lutheran Students' Association of the North Atlantic District was called at State College. The purpose of this organization is to foster church loyalty among Lutheran students. Barbara De Remer, Martha Ertel, Harold Moldenke and Creston Billow were the representatives from Susquehanna. Delegates from many colleges and universities in the North Atlantic District were there. Among the colleges represented were Smith College, New York State College, Columbia University, the University of Pennsylvania, Lafayette, Temple, Gettysburg, Penn State and others.

Friday evening was spent largely in banqueting and getting acquainted. Dr. Hansen, President of Gettysburg College, gave a short address, stating the

At the chapel service Wednesday morning Dr. Johnson, a former Chautauqua lecturer, gave a short, humorous address which was greatly appreciated by the student body. He said when we do things for the mere pleasure of doing them and because we like to do them, it is play; but when we do anything because we have to or because we get paid for it, it is work. Fortunately is the man whose life-work lies along the channel that he can derive both work and play from his vocation.

There are big things and little things that come along for all of us, but we should be careful that we do

March and Two Step.

My dear Mumsey

Well, here I am writing 2 you again the second time this semester. It's so awfully cold here this morning that the girl's writing books turned cold tablets and as the fellows were sneezing all around the place we gave them some to take. And speaking of the eggs we had for breakfast—the chickens must have been in cold storage for yrs. & yrs.

"So much for the weather" as Uncle Ezrie would say; now for some "dirt." I don't mean terra firma (this is Spanish), nor ground (no, we didn't have coffee for breakfast), but gossip like the maybors and you carry on over the back fence

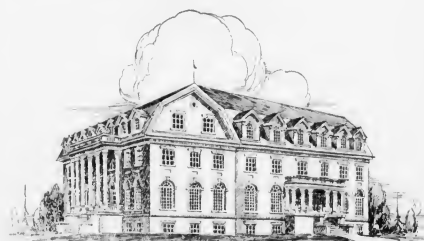

Oh yes—well a couple of the girls around here have the gripe. You'll probably think this is some sort of handshake or other but I've finally discovered that it must be something like my good straw suitcase the one you had when you went on your honeymoon, and that some of the kids must have taken it from someone else.

Oh Mumsey, I've the grandest surprise for you—you'd never guess what

SEIBERT HALL NEARING COMPLETION; CO-EDS WILL SOON OCCUPY NEW WING

Number of Girls Increased Almost Twice in Last Three Years, Making it Necessary for Additional Dormitory Requirements

NEW SEIBERT HALL

The Co-ed is an active, wide-awake and enthusiastic element at Susquehanna. Each year she is coming more and more to the front of all College activities. She is rapidly increasing in numbers. This year there are one hundred and sixty-two young women enrolled in the various departments of the College. This is a decided increase over the past years.

Girls, as well as fellows, require a place in which to dwell, study, have "dates," gossip and cultivate friendship. The time came when the four walls did not embrace enough space for this steadily growing group and could no longer harbor all the fair young damsels who found themselves, for one reason or another, at S. U. Thus it became necessary for "The Powers that be" to enlarge their borders in order to fifty care for the increasing immigrants.

All during this school year a number of the girls have been housed in cozy and attractive cottages on College Avenue. In these cottages a homelike atmosphere prevailed. The kitchen stove could be used at any time, provided the last person who used it did not neglect to add the necessary fuel. Even though these Cottagers were more or less cut off from their sisters at the "dorm" they were not so isolated as one might think. There were ample opportunities for forming friendships, and "friendliness" was the keynote throughout the year. Despite the extra privileges which these girls have enjoyed most of the Co-eds will be delighted when the summons comes to move their possessions to the new wing of Seibert Hall.

It is unanimously agreed that the appearance of the girls' dormitory has been much improved and the housing

Ladies' Auxiliary Made Improvements

SEIBERT HALL PARLORS AND NEW DINING HALL ASSUME HOMELIKE APPEARANCE DUE TO THE UNTIRING EFFORTS OF ACTIVE MEMBERS

Once again the parlors of Seibert Hall have taken on that inviting and home-like appearance prized so highly by the girls who know Susquehanna as their second home. No longer do they wear their show-soles thin by walking on hard floors, thus causing their overloaded pocketbooks to be lightened of a portion of their burden. Nor do they sit down feeling as they once did, that they had struck solid ground. Instead, they rest on flowery beds of ease. It is feared that it will become necessary to add cushioned chairs and padded desks to the class rooms, in order to satisfy the luxury-loving souls of the fair co-eds. Cheerful draperies cover the once cold bare windows. They may now pursue the interests of life without fear of the penetrating Eye of the Public.

As they wend their way chow-ward, the fresh appearance of the dining room stimulates the appetite to such an extent, that even the beef and potatoes assume the delightful aromas of fowl and venison. After they season this nourishment with a little imagination, they can almost find themselves seated in the beautifully appointed halls of the Ritz.

It is to the Ladies' Auxiliary of Susquehanna University they owe their many comforts. They sincerely assure the ladies that they appreciate and enjoy these improvements. Why not give them a rousing vote of cheer: "Rah! Ladies' Auxiliary."

Last Number Star Course March 16

TOM SKEYHILL WILL LECTURE ON THE RENAISSANCE OF EUROPEAN CIVILIZATION IN TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH ON MONDAY EVENING

The last number of the Star Course will be given Monday evening, March 16, in Trinity Lutheran Church. It promises to be a lecture of great worth, as Tom Skeyhill is able to speak out of his wealth of deep personal experience, as well as a wide and varied knowledge of European affairs. His lecture, The Renaissance of European Civilization, is the product of years of observation and study of existing conditions in the old world. He has spent much time in Russia studying Bolshevism first hand, talking with leaders of the present regime and of the old school as well, and has had many thrilling experiences.

A hearse with bodies of seven Stanford students left the campus during the holidays for Los Angeles. However the bodies were very much alive, and the journey was anticipated with anything but solemnity. The owner, a law student, said he "picked up the thing at a bargain, and hoped to sell it in Los Angeles." His passengers paid $3 apiece. All live in Los Angeles, where they spent the holidays. "It's a cheap way to travel," said one of their number, "very much cheaper than our next ride in a hearse will be."

ALUMNI GYMNASIUM SCENE OF UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT
WHEN "WASH-BOARD" TEAM WAS VICTORIOUS IN TUSSELE WITH "TUBS"

On Thursday evening, last, at promptly 8:16, a mighty shout from thousands of throats made the walls of old Alumni Gym ring as the multitudinous throng greeted the appearance of the "Tubs" and "Washboards," the pride of S. U.'s Steam Laundry. (Thus began the program). The former aggregation was led by Capt. Carle Papers, while the Washboards were ably piloted by Capt. Miss Fortune. The rivalry had been intense and at the first whistle the battle commenced and raged in such fury that the gun for the half found the girls prostrate—fatigued. However, the beginning of the second round found them again on their toes, rarin' to go. This frame revealed much erratic shooting and pretty floor work. But the Tubs, because of their weight and size, were found wanting in the trial. It was remarkable, tho, how the Tubs did cover the floor, but the aerial attack of the Washboards spilled them. Final tally: Washboards, 46; Tubs, 49. The victory gave to the Washboards the beautiful "Suds Loving Cup," a gift of Mr. Naptha Lux, of the Ivory Toilet Co., which was presented to Capt. Miss Fortune by Referee Howdy Doo.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Do you know that:

Any person who needs us is our neighbor.

Owing to science our vision has been widened so that distances have been shortened and communication is daily held with practically the entire world.

Because of this knowledge we no longer have an excuse not to answer calls for help as they come to us from across the seas.

Since 1920 the United Lutheran Church in America has sent $6,500,000 to alleviate the distress of our European neighbors.

Ninety-two cents out of every dollar goes directly for the purpose needed.

There are more than six hundred orphanages, hospitals and like institutions on the pay roll of the National Lutheran Council.

The X. L. C. is educating pastors and teachers for religions and social work in several countries of Europe.

The X. L. C. is functioning actively in sixteen different countries in Europe.

There are only eighty-one Lutheran pastors in Russia to 2,000,000 Lutheran people.

College men and women—the students of Europe—are the foundation upon which European Protestantism must be rebuilt.

The students of Europe are calling for financial aid from the students of U. S. A.

The students from all parts of U. S. A. have responded royally.

The students of S. U. may have a definite part in showing their Spirit of World Brotherhood.

Come to Chapel Wednesday morning and learn more so that you can help intelligently.

If you cannot come send your contribution large or small to Miss Verda Long, Agent of the Y. W. C. A., Mr. George Granley, president of the Y. W. C. A.

Is this a Fair Square Booster?

EVIDENCES OF SPRING

Saturday morning the geraniums signaled by Harry Rice appeared at the Phi Mu Delta house, which carried a broom to rid the front porch of the last remnants of winter. They made a fine job of it. Now they are enjoying the fruits of their labor, contentedly enjoying the balmy breezes of the first.

The first social event of importance of spring was a porch party held at Selingsrove Hall, facing the public highway. Don Young was host to a number of his friends. He entertained them by playing the latest hits on his Victor Talking Machines. Those present were William Watkins, Jesse Horton, Gene and Fred Seigle, Patsy Paul Ginnie Willis Pratt and Donald Young, as the time for supper approached and no lunch was served the guests departed hurriedly in quest of food elsewhere.

Gridiron Plans Call for Continued Work by Loyal Collegians

STUDENTS REMINDED OF THEIR BOOSTER PLEDGES AND SHOWN ADVANTAGES WHICH WILL COME FROM URGING PROSPECTS TO ENROLL HERE

Are you still the Susquehanna Booster that you pledged yourself to be last fall at the Boosters Meeting?

Susquehanna is advancing in every branch and to give the college the showing and chance that she should have it is necessary and is our goal to materially increase Susquehanna's enrollment next fall.

Surely every student on the campus knows someone in their home town, who is preparing to leave High School for college and would be greatly interested to learn of Susquehanna. Your influence upon prospective students will make you a true booster of the college you love. Every branch of our Alma Mater is strengthened by each new student, building and moulding it to the highest perfection.

Throughout the winter months the men, who protected our gridiron last fall, have been attending faithfully the lectures given by Coach Winkard in an effort to become better educated in the sport during the idle winter months. The last of this course of lectures will be given Wednesday, March 11th. Each man is urged to attend.

At the present time definite plans are being worked out for the first spring football training Susquehanna has ever had. If you do not know what this preliminary training does for the player be sure and notice his rapid development this fall and you will see its proof.

MUNA ILLU COTTAGE ENTERTAINED AT PARTY

On Friday evening, March 6th, the girls of Munia Illu entertained, in remembrance of the happy days spent there during the past few months. Near about 8:15 P. M., various figures were seen winding their way from dorms and frat houses to the scene of festivity. Upon their arrival they were greeted by the hostesses of the evening and were ushered into the attractively decorated quarters of the fair coeds.

The evening was spent in playing "the games of our youth," thus laying aside the robes of dignity and learning, and becoming care-free and gay. At the close of the evening's entertainment refreshments were served and enjoyed by those present. There was plenty to eat despite the fact that some starving mortals in their quest for sustenance walked away with the ice cream. The hostesses wish to take this opportunity to offer their sincere thanks for the display of gallantry on the part of the marauders in that they did not see fit to utilize that which could not have been replaced—namely, the chocolate sauce.

The evening was an enjoyable one, made more so by the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Alkins and Prof. and Mrs. Koch.

AT CHAPEL SERVICE

not come so close to the big things that we fall to see them. Then Dr. Johnson very humorously told us about some of the conditions that prevailed when he went to the little "country school house." These made a striking comparison in relation to the conditions of the present day. But the big thing that Dr. Johnson impressed upon us was, that with these more favorable conditions it is our duty, and we ought, to make better men and better women than our fathers and mothers or we shall be failures. Progress is necessary, and the law of everything in this world is to progress or deteriorate. We are living in a most splendid day, an age of wonderful opportunities. Let us all try hard so that we do not fail to make use of these advantages.

Dr. Johnson said that all his speeches are arranged like a freight—he can put the caboose on at any place, but we were disappointed because we felt that he put the caboose on too soon.

AUNTY DOTE

Dear Aunty Dote:

I am suffering from a malady hitherto unknown to me. The symptoms developed suddenly, and are of an acute form. In spite of the fact that Spring has arrived I am suffering from what seems to be Frost bites. As a result this seems to have affected my intellectual powers to such an extent that I am able to accomplish little besides dreaming and playing "I Love You Truly." Please, Aunty Dote diagnose my case and offer a remedy which will alleviate or aggravate the symptoms.

A blond in despair.

My Dear Blond in Despair:

Your case is indeed a serious one. Time frequently aggravates said symptoms. A good remedy is Tulip Salve purchased at Samuels Drug Store. Yours (till you're killed or cured, Aunty Dote.

Dear Aunty Dote:

I am a Freshman. The ways here are so new to me. We go to chapel every day. When we go I hear such queer noises. Some man taps his pencil on the desk and shakes his finger at me and says, "girls, girls." Sometimes I cannot hear him because the buzz in my ears is too great. What shall I do. Am I to blame it on auditory hallucination or the fluttering of the angels wings? Buzzingly yours, I M. Green.

Dear Una:

Don't become alarmed. It is no error on your part. The man who shakes his finger at you is undoubtedly cross-eyed so that he visualizes "vice-werk," or his auditory organs on the right side of his anatomy are in need of repair. I admit that this is a deplorable situation, and would suggest that you exchange seats with the opposite sex. The migrating must be done in groups of three.

Yours in sympathy, Aunty Dote.

Dear Aunty Dote:

I am that type of individual who is made up of a hypersensitive nervous constitution. My sensibilities are taxed to the utmost. During the hours that I must spend in the scientific laboratories our Prof. sanctions the carrying of toads, lizards, salamanders, fish and other snakes in his pockets. Bugs and insects, also other animals he carries in his hat. Should I adopt the proverb, "Go thou and do likewise?" With keys and charts, Will I. B. Bingsy.

A SUGGESTION TO THE CO-EDS

It is rumored that a certain fellow on the campus made sixteen beds on the 8th day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five. Here's your chance girls. He will be quite proficient about that line in the future.

A motion is in order that some one appear with plane, hammer and saw to construct a bridge over the canal between the Conservatory and Case's Dormitory. It will be greatly appreciated not only by the inmates of the said place, but also by the girls practicing.

S

SPRING STYLES

Spring is fast advancing upon us and as it approaches we notice the new spring styles of the stronger sex. The cat's meow ties are extremely new as are the red, green and blue headbands. As for facial adornment, if what we saw Thursday night was an advance spring style we would say that the social butterfly will be seen with an abundance of cosmetics upon his physiognomy. From the grace displayed in the wearing of middles we prophecy that Paul Jones Togs will be very much in vogue among the smart set.

The college man's spring wardrobe will not be complete without a Roman striped suit of "undergarments." A pair of wooden shoes with silvers laces would indeed provide enough noise to satisfy the craving soul of the young collegian. Rainbow colored overalls will be seen in the best sporting circles.

Since the weather man has raised the mercury my young shiek has discarded the famous lumber jacket and has replaced it with cross word puzzle designs of lighter materials. The Elite will favour organic, tulle and voile.

If you would be up-to-the-minute in details—which really make the man—your cigarettes must blend with your tie and socks and everything else must "sweat at each other." Taken all in all the stylish young gentleman this season will be a serious revival of the flapper.

EXCHANGE

Men are learning to can fruit and vegetables at Ohio State University. The materials are brought in from the University farms and canned in a small factory on the campus. Eat all you can, and what you can't you can, eh, what?

Four departments at Lafayette have incorporated cross-word puzzles into the teaching methods. They now are used in a course in French, and in Spanish. The first member of the staff to make use of the new craze was Professor John R. Crawford, who introduced a puzzle composed entirely of architectural terms. H. B. Cook will try using the cross-word puzzle as a method of examination in his biology class.—Schuylkill News.

holders of last year's meet—Barnes, winner and record holder of the Shot Put; Salem, who set up a new record in the 880, and Lahold, holder of Susquehanna's indoor record in the mile together with the outdoor records in the mile and two mile.

E. Siegle, captain of Susquehanna's Track Team should prove an ace for the Juniors. In last year's meet he hung up a new record in the 210 yd. dash, also placing second in the Standing Broad Jump. He, together with Elberts, will also give the Juniors two strong competitors in the High Jump.

The present Freshman class may prove the dark horse. In the dashes and relay they have a wealth of material. Stroup, former Harrisburg Tech sprinter; Morning, member of Hanover High's Relay team last year; Shue, Keammerer, Fuge and F. Siegle, all of whom have been showing up well in the indoor trials, give to the yearling team a group of fast men who will have to be reckoned with. In the shot put, Morton shows promise of garnering in several points for his team, while in the middle distances and mile run the yearling team will most likely depend on Young and Shuntill, former high school stars in these events. Nor does the list of Freshmen track candidates stop with those already mentioned. Garman, former Sunbury star in the 880, will surely make it interesting in this event, as he also holds the record in this event in the D. M. S. League Track Conference. Cameron, Crouse and Doebler are also working out, the latter pointing his efforts towards retaining his honors as record holder in Chinning the Bar, which he won last year. G. Hooper in the High Jump, Pratt in the sprints, Sheeler in the runs and shot put, and Williams in the longer distances will also aid materially in strengthening their team.

Interest in the Annual Indoor Meet has steadily increased from year to year, special significance being attached to the annual event in view of it being the only college event of its kind staged in Central Pennsylvania. This is due to the fact that no other college has the indoor facilities for track enjoyed by Susquehanna.

A CO-ED WRITES HOME

It is so I'll tell you—listen sharply—I'm wearing a fraternity pin! No, I'm not beggared as yet nor have I started settin' up or, as they call it here having parlor dates (we don't eat them but light refreshments are served anyway). I'll tell you how I got it Mumsey, but don't tell another solitary person about it 'cause I found it down in the business department the other A. M. when I went down to do sum typin' before breakfast. One of the frat. boys must have lost it down there the night before.

Oh Mumsey, they have the funniest lamps—I tried to blow them out the first couple nights but I just couldn't outer them so I left them burn. Then the next day some man came growling around in the hall about wasting 2 much currents or raisins or something like that.

How's everything going at home these days? Do they still pull the street lights in at 9 o'clock? You see I don't know much about what they do here 'cause we darsen't go down town when it's dark. I guess they think we'll get lost in this big town! I just up & told the girls that I'd been to Spring Mills once & surely if I didn't get lost there I wouldn't here, but I didn't seem to do no good—we have to stay in anyway.

Well it's most time to clothes, for dinner is most ready—beef and potatoes again! gosh, when I get home I'll be ashamed to look a cow in the face & I suppose all the potatoes in our patch will blink their eyes at me 'till the salt water runs down their faces.

Well "avoidupois" mother (this means "quoddy" in French). Will see you in June & by then I hope I'll have learned more of the ropes around here.

As ever your flapperish daughter, Ima Freshie.

The next feature presented for the approval of the assembled mass a fictitious mixup between "Kid" Gimble, champion boxer of the packing department of E. Z. Shoe Co., and "How" Long, descended from a Long line of pugilistic experts. The fight was hot and frequent strong "blows" were felt. Result—a draw. Referee, Keller, the "Fight" Parson. Immediately thereafter Rastus Razor and Sure Mike settled their gambling debts by pushing a little leather at each other's nose. The encounter was short, fast, sweet and bloody. The fast foot work of Sure Mike was superb, while the technique and the smashing accuracy of Rastus Razor were excellent. Another tie, like a railroad tie; i. e., settled on the spot and not to be removed for a long time. Referee—Humpty Dumpty; spectators—Charles Chaplin (in person) and sister, Miss Chaplin.

Klick silenced the angry mob with the announcement that Anything, Good Morning and Howdy Doo, the world's most renowned tumblers, had descended to tumble in for a few moments and tumble for the benefit of the starving "S" men. They tumbled on everything from their toes up and during the act, Dr. Aikens, shaken by sorrow that such talent should be wasted almost tumbled into their midst. No casualties. One accident—two broken legs—on the table.

Following the next and final announcement the Cornfed Musketiers from Center County, Pete and Re-Pete who had tangled in everything from fly paper to barbed wire, settled their grudge by a hair-raising, blood-curdling wrestling bout. And how these brothers did scrap! O! My! But it was another tie, this time tie the mats together.

That, dear friends and enemies, concluded the "S" Stunt Circus.

It must be said for the orchestra that without the soft, sweet, thrilling, throbbing strains of inspiring harmony the participants would have been lost and the audience disappointed.

And now if anyone feels that he or she did not receive full remuneration for time and expense, will they kindly step up to either booth and receive their money back, for the management will gladly refund it. I thank you.

A Freshman's Fantasy

Probably we never stopped to think of it, but isn't it true that we live in air-castles? We set them up on airy pinnacles somewhere in the future and tilt from turret to turret with the dancing feet of a fairy. Sometimes they come tumbling down in a heap, and we gaze dejectedly on the ruins of our hopes. But soon we set them up again and dream gayly on, for what is tragedy to youth?

What pessimist scornfully ridicules our "dreams come true" when he said, "Anticipation is greater than realization?" There is no satisfaction for the artist until the glory of his art has culminated his vision. The beauty of the poem is certainly more gratifying to the poet than the inspiration. Columbus anticipated India, but the realization was that glorious land—America. Edison visualized a marvelous work. Christ foresaw the realization of a Christian faith, but his disciples could only anticipate the results.

All our lives we have lived in the future. In high school days we cherished a vision. Probably it was an ambition, just a phantom perhaps, but still we frantically grasped at them for fear of their evasion. But the dream of dreams was that of a college education. This was an alluring prospect. The mystery of its life, the prospect of new friendships, the splendor of its athletics, and most of all, the satisfaction of a hungry mind. What a wealth of interesting things to be delved into!

After commencement, which seemed the most vital event in the world to us, we sadly looked back upon old friendships, but then our eyes were turned toward a bigger, higher goal.

A green, frightened Freshman! At this period of our life we realize the correct extent of our own importance. It is a staggering blow to us. The pride in our chests is somewhat muffled as we bow subdued and meek before an ogre, the Sophomore. It becomes necessary to reconstruct our air-castles at this time. But a beautiful new window of experience has been added and now the remodeling may go on at leisure for the next four years.

When the touch of friendships, the beauty of understanding, and myriads of new things have contributed to the building, let us take a few moments to gaze upon our air-castles. It is a beautiful structure, is it not?

The realization has become far, far more satisfying than the anticipation. So dream on fair dreamer, abide in the future, for too soon we perish in the past.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE

purpose of the conference.

Saturday morning, Dr. Hansen addressed us on the subject, "Our Duties and our Opportunities as Lutheran Students." Dr. Hansen, although not witty, has a dry sort of humor which is a most effective aid in holding the attention of his hearers. No one could fail to get something of inspiration and guidance from his talk.

Saturday afternoon all of the delegates were taken to the gymnasium where a wrestling match between Penn State and Syracuse was being held. This was a new sort of sport for many of us, and was therefore of great interest. Following the game we had a delicious dinner served by the ladies of the church, at which the conference was being held.

After a short social hour we were addressed by Dr. Morehead, head of the National Lutheran Council, who for the past five years has been abroad studying social and religious conditions. Although his address was in a large measure made up of statistics, they were so new and unbelievable, that it was thoroughly interesting.

The sermon, Sunday morning was delivered by Dr. Sherer, pastor of Holy Trinity Church, New York City. Dr. Sherer chose as his text, "A sower went forth to sow," and it was developed in a most masterful and persuasive manner. Following communion we had a final discussion and summary of the work covered, after which this most successful convention closed with a sincere and heartfelt prayer for guidance during the coming year.

Track Card for 1925 Announced

TWO NEW SCHOOLS ADDED, THAT OF FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL AND SCHUYLKILL. THE LATTER THE ONLY ONE MET AT SELINGROVE

Manager Grubb has announced the 1925 track schedule, which makes a much more complete card than that of any former years. In addition to the meets held last year, there will be one with Franklin and Marshall and one with Schuylkill. The latter will be the only intercollegiate meet held at Selingrove, although there will be various other meets and relays held on the campus which will take place between the different classes.

The schedule opens this week with the Annual Indoor Track Meet, which will be held on Wednesday evening. This is the only event of its kind staged in the central part of Pennsylvania.

The track team will leave the campus for the first time this season when it goes to Philadelphia to attend the Penn Relays Carnival. Those colleges to be met on foreign ground are Franklin and Marshall, Drexel Institute, and Juniata. The track squad will also attend the Pennsylvania Conference Meet at Harrisburg. The season will come to a close at Commencement time, when Schuylkill will invade the Susquehanna campus. The complete schedule follows:

- Indoor Track Meet, Selingrove, March 18.
- Class Relays, Selingrove, April 29.
- Penn Relays, Philadelphia, April 24 and 25.
- Class Meet, Selingrove, April 29 and 30.
- Franklin and Marshall, Lancaster, May 2, (pending).
- Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, May 9.
- Central Pennsylvania Conference Meet, Harrisburg, May 16.
- Juniata, Huntingdon, May 23.
- Schuylkill, Selingrove, June 6.

S. U. Spring Sports Getting Under Way

WITH CLOSE OF BASKETBALL SEASON ALL EYES NOW TURNED TO BASEBALL AND TRACK, BOTH SPORTS HAVING REGULAR WORKOUTS IN GYM

With the close of the basketball season, all eyes are now turned toward the baseball and track schedules. The track men have been working out for several weeks, and the past week found them doing some outside work under the watchful eye of Coach Grossman. Much is expected of the track men, who last year won the Class B championship of Central Pennsylvania. The big problem lies in finding a high hurdler capable of filling the vacancy created by the graduation of Captain Klinedinst.

Baseball practice has been confined thus far to indoor workouts, but the large number of candidates are eagerly awaiting the day when outdoor workouts will commence. With Coach Clemens' arrival within the next few days, the squad will be in the pink of condition, ready to begin the polishing up in preparation for its opening game with Franklin and Marshall on April 15. The coming season looms up as a most successful one for the Orange and Maroon.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA MET

Conference of County Superintendents of Eastern Pennsylvania met in Sunbury on Thursday and Friday, Dr. J. I. Woodruff, of Susquehanna University, was one of the speakers at the evening session on Thursday.

Indoor Track Meet Wednesday Evening

As an Added Feature, Hugo Bezdek, Famous Penn State Mentor, Will Speak in Alumni Gymnasium

On Wednesday evening, the annual Susquehanna University track meet will be held in Alumni Gymnasium. For several years past this event has vied with basketball for premier honors of the indoor season. As soon as the fall sports are concluded, and cold weather sets the athletes at their indoor work, interest becomes manifest in this meet. Class rivalry begins to become more pronounced, and as the time draws near for the day of the meet the enthusiasm reaches a fever heat and the respective classes are all claiming first honors for their favorite track men.

Always, the Frosh enter the meet as dark horses, as it is their first test in collegiate competition. And never have they failed to fulfill expectations, when it comes to finishing high in the scoring. In every meet but one, the Frosh have finished on top, and that was two years ago, when the class of '25, as Sophs came out in front.

The interest in the meet this year probably surpasses that of all other years, since all four classes are regarded as strong contenders, and concluded on Page 2

Y. M. C. A. Rooms to be Rehabilitated

STUDENT COUNCIL SPONSORING A MOVEMENT BY WHICH OLD ROOMS WILL BE RESTORED TO THEIR FORMER CONDITION. "Y" ORGANIZATION ASSISTING

By action of the Student Council, a new movement has been put on foot for the rehabilitation of the old Y. M. C. A. rooms.

To those on the campus who do not know the whereabouts of these rooms, they are on the first floor of Selingrove Hall, south end, to the left as one enters the door. In former years they have been reserved for students to study or to do whatever they wished. But the regulations governing the use of them became so entirely neglected, and due to the crowded dormitory space they have lately been used for a part of the men's dormitory.

Now again, because of the Student Council, the old Y. M. rooms will soon be renovated. The University has taken upon itself the task of supplying the necessary money in order to refinish and re-furnish the rooms. The Y. M. C. A. has promised to do all in its power to assist in any way possible in the making of these rooms suitable to live in.

These rooms will be used more especially for visiting teams, and for any one else, not only of other colleges, but also of Susquehanna, who wishes a quiet place in which to spend a few hours. The Student Council will help to enforce the proper regulations in regard to these rooms after they are ready for occupancy, and by so doing, it is hoped that they may not be a black eye to the campus, as they have been in former years, but that they may be one of the bright places of Susquehanna that a fellow may well be proud of showing to those who are visiting on the campus.

REV. WILLIAM FREAS TALKED TO THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS

Last Tuesday afternoon the students in the School of Theology and any others interested had the rare privilege of hearing Rev. William Freas, of New York City, executive secretary of the Inner Mission Board of the United Lutheran Church in America, speak on "Inner Missions."

Rev. Freas is very closely associated with the work of Inner Missions, and his talk was very inspiring to those young men who are contemplating work of this kind.

Susquehanna Taking Steps Which Lead To Standardization

BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE UNIVERSITY TOOK ACTION PERTAINING TO RECOGNITION AND STANDARDIZATION BY ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGES

Of more than ordinary interest to Susquehanna's many friends will be the announcement of action taken by the Board of Directors of the University pertaining to recognition and standardization, by the Association of Colleges and Secondary schools of the Middle Atlantic States and Maryland.

At the mid-year meeting of the Board of Directors, held on February second, very definite and positive action was taken, instructing the Executive Committee to take this matter up immediately with the proper authorities of the College Association and determine just what is needed at Susquehanna in order that she may gain the desired recognition. This information having been secured the Executive Committee was further instructed to proceed at once in taking the steps necessary to meet the requirements of the Association.

Possibly no announcement in recent years carries with it more significance to Susquehanna's alumni and students than that of the action taken by the Board of Directors. At the time of the initial survey made by the College Association four years ago, certain conditions were noted and desirable changes suggested. Since that time, marked progress has been made, especially as regards scholastic requirements for admission to Susquehanna; credits required for graduation; class attendance, etc., all of which have a very definite and direct bearing on Susquehanna's general status, scholastically.

Likewise many changes have been made in Susquehanna's material equipment. Additional land has been purchased, enlarging the campus; Harsinger Hall has been completed; a new Athletic Field constructed with work now being completed on the enlargement of Seibert Hall, thereby providing additional dormitory facilities, together with a new Dining Hall and Auditorium.

Susquehanna's Board of Directors realize that the greatest immediate need of the University is that she secure the recognition of which she deserves, and must have, in order that her work as an institution of learning may not be impaired, and the best interests of the alumni and students served by their Alma Mater.

It was the realization of this fact that prompted them to instruct the Executive Committee to give this matter their prompt attention.

Susquehanna's record of service and achievement, in the past, is indeed a glorious one. With the additional recognition and prestige she will enjoy.

S. U. Glee Club to Broadcast by Radio

Men's Musical Organization of University to Sing to Radio Audience of WCAE from Pittsburgh

When the officers of the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association lunched together at Kaufman and Baer's last Monday noon, the active secretary, Rev. Chas. E. Held, who is making a church speed up on the hills of North Side, announced that he had made preliminary arrangements for having the Glee Club from Susquehanna sing to the radio audience of WCAE the evening of the concert in Pittsburgh. In that event the S. U. Glee Club will sing to more people than ever listened to them before.

The Association officers discussed the problem of meeting their obligation to the University in the form of a scholarship before commencement time. A definite scheme for the collection of pledges was presented and the whole will be taken care of before June. It may be possible to publish the pledges and contributions of the members of the association soon.

The Association also has in prospect two high school seniors of ability and character who may become the Association's proteges at Susquehanna. This matter will be attended to at the April meeting.

S. U. Delegates at I. N. A. Conference

THE SUSQUEHANNA REPRESENTED AT CONFERENCE OF COLLEGE NEWSPAPERS AT FRANKLIN & MARSHALL BY HARLAND FAGUE AND ELLSWORTH GROVE

At a district conference of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States held at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, on March 6 and 7, Susquehanna was represented, along with four other colleges; Albright, Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, and Gettysburg. Dickinson, also a member of the conference, did not have any representative. The delegates from S. U., representing The Susquehanna, were Harland D. Fague, editor, and A. Ellsworth Grove, business manager.

The conference opened with a banquet at the Hotel Brunswick on Friday evening, at which the Student Weekly of Franklin and Marshall was the host. Henry W. Latk, news editor of the Student Weekly, acted as toastmaster. John C. Truxal, editor of the Student Weekly welcomed the other members of the I. N. A. to the Franklin and Marshall campus. Dr. Victor W. Dippell, professor of languages at F. and M. spoke on "News is News." Dean Howard R. Omwake gave some very fine suggestions on "Journalism and the College." Mr. Oliver J. Keller, better known as Colonel Keller, editor of the Lancaster New Era, and formerly editor of the Williams College Weekly, Williams-town, Mass., spoke on "Journalism."

Saturday morning the conference session convened in Diognothian Hall. Reports on the progress of the different college papers were given. Dr. Paul Landis, faculty advisor to the Student Weekly of Franklin and Marshall, addressed the conference on the "Relationship of the Faculty Advisor to the Paper." Harland D. Fague, editor of The Susquehanna, discussed "The Function and Place of Editorials." "Financing the Paper" was discussed by Newton D. Miller, business manager of the Albright Bulletin. Some very good methods of conducting tryouts in regard to internal staff organization were given by George W. Arnold, editor of the Gettysburgian.

Clarence A. Hurst, advertising manager of the Bucknellian, talked on "The Interchange of Advertising Data." After these interesting discussions, everyone entered into the meeting with the purpose of trying to

Susquehanna Won And Lost Debates

IN DUAL DEBATE WITH JUNIATA, S. U.'S NEGATIVE TEAM WON, 2-1, AT HUNTINGDON. AND THE AFFIRMATIVE LOST, 3-0, AT SELINGROVE

Susquehanna won and lost in the dual debate held with Juniata College on Friday evening, March 13, bringing home the laurels by a 2-1 decision at Juniata, and by losing with a 3-0 score at Selingrove.

The negative team of Susquehanna's debating squad, composed of J. Edgar Bishop, '25, Lee Boyer, '26, and David F. Davis, '25, journeyed to Huntingdon, where it met Juniata's affirmative team, composed of Stanley Stroup, '25, Telford Blough, '27, Paul Hummel, '25, and Samuel King, '28, (alternate). The judges at Huntingdon were Prof. Cox, supt. of schools, Lewistown; Prof. Moulton, headmaster of Birmingham Seminary, Birmingham, and Mr. T. J. Gates, debate coach, State College. It was at Huntingdon that the S. U. team was victorious.

The home contest was held in Trinity Lutheran Church, where Juniata's negative team, composed of Kenneth Bechtel, '25, Jesse Helster, '27, Newton Taylor, '26, and Raymond Morris, '28, (alternate), defeated Susquehanna's affirmative team, made up of Earl Thomas, '25, William Nichols, '25, and Morgan H. Gwyn, '25. The presiding officer for the debate at Selingrove was Rev. W. C. Beck, of the First Lutheran Church, and the judges were Prof. Carl L. Millward, supt. of schools, Milton; Rev. W. H. Clippman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Millifield, and Prof. George L. Swank, supt. of schools, of Northumberland county, Sunbury.

The question for debate, which is familiar to everyone, was Resolved: hat Congress should have the power, by a two-thirds vote, to declare effective a Federal law which has been

Helen Bullock 1925 May Queen

QUEEN OF MAY TO BE CROWNED FIRST SATURDAY IN MAY. MAY 2. PLANS RAPIDLY BEING COMPLETED FOR GALA CELEBRATION ON THIS HAPPY OCCASION

May Day is fast approaching, the time for the crowning of the Queen of May. At a recent election held immediately following the Chapel services, Miss Helen Bullock was elected to this festive honor for the 1925 May Day Fete. The student body feels confident that it has selected one who is very capable of filling the position which this honor bestows upon her.

Plans are rapidly being completed for the celebration of one of the most successful May Day holidays that Susquehanna students have ever witnessed. The day of this happy occasion will be the first Saturday in May, May 2, and beside the crowning of the May Queen, appropriately celebrated with various other activities, the Susquehanna baseball team will meet Juniata here in what promises to be a very fine game.

Alumni and friends of the institution should return to the campus and participate in the gala events of the day, thus renewing old friendships and associations which will help to make a bigger and better Susquehanna.

BASKETBALL RESUME

Susquehanna's basketball season has come to a close. The warriors of the Orange and Maroon came thru victorious in their final fray, which was played with Lebanon Valley at Selingrove.

But most of us will say that it was a very unsuccessful season, that we are thru with S. U. basketball forever because of the previous scores which were run up against our team. All about us we find knockers; some knocking the athletic policy pursued, some knocking the coach, and some knocking the team itself which represented our beloved alma mater on the floor.

Before making any rash statements we should stop to consider all the elements which entered into the situation. Yes, we will admit that it was an unsuccessful season, but it was unsuccessful because it was unfortunate. Susquehanna indeed was unfortunate during her basketball season. Why was she? These are the reasons: The season began with twelve men on each squad, both varsity and reserve. In the beginning one man was dropped on account of not training. This was shortly followed by the loss of a second man on account of sickness. At the end of the first semester the third and fourth men returned to their homes. In the first week of the second semester the fifth man left the campus. This left seven men on the varsity squad, and in the latter part of the season one of these seven men sprained his ankle. These facts clearly show that Susquehanna was playing thru the entire season under very unfortunate conditions.

Now, if some of us wish to continue to censure the athletic policy, the coach, or the team, we are at perfectly liberty to do so, but when it is plainly evident that these are not the causes of the low scoring thruout the season, and when we fully realize that the unfortunate situation was one which could not be remedied, why should we go around knocking? Remember that there is always a cause for every effect, and try to investigate that cause before coming to some hasty conclusion. Let us not be knockers, but boosters for Susquehanna.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THE ATHLETIC FIELD ENTRANCE?

Through the splendid cooperation of a small group of the Varsity "S" Club members marked progress has been made during the past few weeks in the "follow up work" in connection with the Athletic Field Entrance Drive.

On the second of February ninety-three subscriptions remained unpaid. Due to the aid given by the above mentioned group of students and the splendid response on the part of students and friends who had not made payment on their subscriptions, this number has been reduced to thirty-nine.

Susquehanna's record in this undertaking is indeed an enviable one. To retain it she must push to a successful finish the task undertaken. The burden of the successful conclusion rests upon thirty-nine individuals. Susquehanna's prestige must be and we feel sure will be upheld in this matter. No individual, who in any way claims to be a "Susquehannian," will permit "failure" to be identified or associated with the fair name of his Alma Mater.

Quietly, systematically and with every degree of fairness to subscribers, will the work of making final collections be carried on. Prompted by a desire and willingness to work for and serve their college, this small group of workers has volunteered to continue their efforts. The prompt cooperation of but thirty-nine individuals will bring to a complete and successful culmination one of the greatest undertakings ever launched by Susquehanna men and women.

CRITICIZING PREACHERS

No man has harder people to serve than the minister of the Gospel. His critics are many, and the criticisms varied. The preacher has a great time. If his hair is gray, he is old. If he is a young man, he hasn't had experience. If he has ten children he has too many; if he has none, he isn't a good example. If his wife sings in the choir, she is presuming; if she doesn't she isn't interested in her husband's work. If a preacher reads from notes he is a bore; if he speaks extemporaneously, he isn't deep enough. If he stays at home in his study he doesn't mix enough with the people; if he is seen around the streets he ought to be home getting up a good sermon. If he calls on some poor family, he is playing to the grand stand; if he calls at the home of the wealthy, he is an aristocrat. Whatever he does, someone could have told him to do better.

pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. It was handled very well by both the affirmative and the negative speakers. Very good arguments were advanced on both sides, and fine logic was presented to the audience by the means of excellent oratory.

With this debate, Susquehanna's negative team has come thru without a defeat on its schedule, and it expects to finish the season in this glorious manner. The affirmative team has profited by experience, and it, as well as the negative, will be out to win on March 26, when Susquehanna meets Lebanon Valley, both at Selingrove and at Annville. Don't forget the date, March 26, get back of those teams, and let's win a double victory.

tain men who are regarded as sure point gatherers.

A big feature of the meet is the class mile relay race, which always brings the spectators to their feet. Each year the record has been lowered, and the present year promises no exception.

The eventual winner of the meet each year has invariably been decided in the events which took place between the co-eds. The sum total of the points amassed by the male members of the respective classes is always so close that the co-ed events determine the winner.

As an added feature of the evening, the local managements has procured Huko Bezdek, famous Penn State mentor, as a speaker. Bezdek is a well known speaker, besides being a famed coach and athletic director. His experiences in the athletic world have been very wide and diversified, and he will have many important things to interest Susquehanna students and followers. This will be Mr. Bezdek's first appearance on the S. U. campus, and his coming is eagerly looked forward to by everyone.

Sense and Nonsense

Saturday Night

A Saturday night is a rare treat for a lover of enjoyment who is not too destitute of perception to appreciate the miraculous adventures one is likely to meet up on such an evening. From the baked beans, the kind that only a sympathetic hand with plenty of brown sugar and home grown bacon can concoct, to the last sigh as one eases into the finest bed in the world—at least at the time—the evening is a big night.

First you must chat with a friend at great length trying to decide whether the movies will be included in the schedule of activities, while all the time both of you know it will be, then to blossom forth in your "society brand" regalia, which has a tendency to holster up your Saturday night pride, even if it doesn't materially improve your appearance, that's the beginning. Comfortably settled with one knee propped against the seat ahead, it is time to indulge in the hope your "unknown but likely to appear" seat comrade will munch her gum with more gentleness and less gusto. The first few minutes after the lights are dimmed you concentrate on the picture, but never neglect to watch for signs of friendliness—rather intimate friendliness we would suggest—between the good and better halves of the couples parked near. Decide for yourself which will provide the most thrills, couple or movie, and fix your attention accordingly.

On the advent of the comedy it is best, particularly if addicted to vociferous vocal appreciation, to close your ears to prevent being annoyed by your own vehement audible expression, the other folks may look out for their own comfort. Still laughter is conducive to good digestion and should be indulged in with diligence.

It is well to top off your large evening with a visit to any of our Quick and Cleunly's where the size of your order will necessarily be in harmony with the revery of father's personally autographed glow chaser. Then home and to bed, knowing the evening was spent in vain, and knowing, too, you have realized your ambition of a big Saturday night.

College life certainly does broaden the person who comes in contact with it. But if the broadening is not accompanied by an assimilation of the stuff we need to broaden, our lives will become like a river trying to cover too wide a channel. Unslightly rocks are likely to appear above the water, the river may lose its beauty and also its usefulness may be destroyed. The too broad river may even be dried up by the grueling grind, furnished by the sun of everlasting struggle. Take care, then, when you broaden to deepen as well.

Another nice feature about falling in love is the friends you discover—the ones you discover were before you.

EPSILON SIGMA ENTERTAINED AT ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

On Saturday evening, March 14, the home of Epsilon Sigma fraternity provided a scene of entertainment and much merry-making, when it celebrated its annual St. Patrick's party. From the time the guests arrived until the last strains of music died out there was a continuous round of fun and enjoyment.

The fraternity home was most artistically decorated in green, intermingled with white, which blended very beautifully. An attractive lighting effect was produced by the suspending streamers of colored crepe which surmounted the chandeliers.

Each couple upon entering the home were most cordially greeted by members of the fraternity and presented with beautiful leather bound programs for the occasion. In the midst of the festivities each one received a delightful and refreshing repast.

It is needless to say for all those present consented that it was an overwhelming success and the biggest event ever given by the fraternity. The time flew too rapidly and as usual before any one realized it the hour of departure had arrived, and as the Orchestra rendered that beautiful but not always welcome selection, "Home, Sweet Home," the couples prepared to depart feeling that the evening had been very enjoyably spent.

DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES IN CHARGE OF MARLIN ENDERS. TOPIC FOR DISCUSSION WAS PREPARATION AND POWER FOR SOUL-WINNING

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening in Clio Hall. The devotional exercises were in charge of Marlin Enders, after which the topic of "Preparation and Power for Soul-Winning" was discussed by Enders, Foutz, Rode and Burd.

"Preparation is essential to the success of any task. To win others for Christ is the greatest task or mission for the follower of Jesus Christ, and it should receive the best possible preparation. All soul-winning must have some supernatural element which is the Holy Spirit without which soul-winning ends in failure.

There must be a preparation of desire which is the fundamental preparation for soul-winning. Prayer must be very real to the soul winner. Bible reading is a good preparation for power for in it we find the motive for seeking souls. The more one realizes what the Master has done for him and what He is doing for him every day, the more eager he will be to bring others to Him that they may share the same blessings.

A report of the Lutheran Students Convention at State College was read by Harold Moldenke.

"Susquehanna University, one of the largest Lutheran Colleges in the North Atlantic region, it was found, had not contributed to the Lutheran Students Association nor had a single subscription been entered for "The Big Inkwell," which is the official organ of the Association. Will we as loyal Lutherans stand for such a disgrace? It is up to us to subscribe for the paper and put Susquehanna University on the level with the other Lutheran Colleges in the association.

Committee Explains S. U. Scholarships

SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE RECENTLY DISCUSSED MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE PERTAINING TO THE AWARDING OF COMPETITIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

At a recent meeting of the Scholarship Committee matters of importance pertaining to the Competitive Scholarships awarded annually by Susquehanna, were discussed.

Each year the Committee is confronted with cases of young men, who although deserving of consideration, have failed to file their applications with the committee in time to receive consideration. This condition arises even though the committee has each year endeavored to place in the hands of every young man who might be interested and deserving of consideration, information concerning the Competitive Scholarships.

Scholarship literature is annually sent to the Principal of every first class High School in Pennsylvania additional material also being mailed to alumni and friends of the University interested in young men.

The basis of the awarding of the Competitive Scholarships is that governing the selection of candidates for the Rhodes Scholarships to Oxford University, England.

1—Qualities of manhood, force of character and leadership.

2—Literary and scholastic ability and attainments.

3—Physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports and in other ways.

The ideal scholar should excel in all three of the qualities indicated, but in the absence of such an ideal combination, the committee will prefer a man who shows distinction of character and personality, or of intellect, over one who shows a lower degree of excellence in both. Participation and interest in open-air and athletic pursuits form an essential qualification, but exceptional athletic distinction is not to be treated as of equal importance with the other requirements.

The committee is eager that the opportunities embodied in the Competitive Scholarships be presented to every young man who has under consideration the securing of collegiate training and who has the desired qualifications. The preliminary work of distributing this information is being completed and copies of the Scholarship announcements, etc., will be mailed to all the first class High Schools of the State.

In addition to the distribution of material as indicated above, the committee will be pleased to have students and alumni use the Coupon below in order that information may be sent to all those young men who may be interested.

Cut out and return to Dr. H. A. Allison, Chairman Committee on Admissions, Susquehanna University, Selingrove, Penna.

I believe the following young men would be interested in receiving information concerning the Susquehanna Competitive Scholarships to be awarded for 1925:

Glee Club Returned From Up-River Tour

SANG AT WILLIAMSPORT AND JERSEY SHORE ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY EVENINGS TO LARGE AND APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCES

The Susquehanna University Men's Glee Club completed another tour of the season when concerts were given at Williamsport and Jersey Shore on Thursday and Friday respectively.

The Club left the campus on Thursday at noon in company with Prof. and Mrs. Sheldon. At Sunbury the troupe experienced an unusual thrill when an attempt was made to board the "Buffalo Flyer," while going at a speed of twenty miles an hour. After inventory was taken it was found, however, that all had been successful in getting on the train.

Arriving at Williamsport the Club was met by Mr. Ertel, who is a member of the Glee Club, and who sponsored the concert in that city. Reservations were made for the entire club to stay in the Park Hotel until Friday afternoon. On Thursday afternoon the Club members whiled away the time in various ways. Baird and Enders visited the various churches, while the remainder of the gang spent the afternoon in swimming at the Y. M. and also visiting the movies and ten cent stores. Kroen paid three cents for a paper and took two of them.

The Williamsport concert was given in the high school auditorium to an audience of about one thousand. Everything went over in great shape, even if the quartet did offer a unique feature by way of a protracted pause. It is not known whether this was due to their losing moral support when Prof. Sheldon beat it for the basement, or whether it was due to the cat found in the piano by Fopeano.

The members feeling that the concert was a success spent the remainder of the night hunting for a hot dog stand. The next morning Eberts ordered breakfast served in bed by mistake. After luncheon a concert impromptu was given in the hall room while waiting for the train.

Jersey Shore, the old home town for two of the Glee Clubbers, was reached by 3:30 p. m. on Friday. A concert was given to the high school in the afternoon. That night an audience of about six hundred greeted the Club in the city theatre. At the concert many a warbler's heart went pitty-pat due of course to special attractions in the audience. Ask Sands and Law about this.

After the concert a very enjoyable party was held for the Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. McCollough, very prominent members of Rev. Huntington's church.

The Club left Jersey Shore on Saturday morning at 7 a. m., very tired, but rather happy from the fact that another service had been rendered for Susquehanna University.

SHADES OF NURMI

After many years of Ernest search a real sprinter has been uncovered on the local campus. This new demon for speed was uncovered last Saturday evening by a well known "track" critic, (a conductor).

It happened thusly: A youth who is certainly a Wins(t)ome athlete, was in front of the Phi Mu Delta house at seven o'clock when the trolley left Selingrove. Showing his heels to the speedy rabbits that tried to show him his pace, this prodigal managed to catch the trolley 'ere it got halfway to the trolley station; a truly remarkable piece of running.

Lucky is the maid who is so fortunate as to secure such a fellow. Never will the wolf get near his door, since this flashy sprinter can move too rapidly from place to place. Susquehanna's gain is found by medium of a prompt trolley service. Had this never happened, this athlete may never have become known, and the many races which are now as good as won might have been hopelessly lost.

'98 (looking over the improved conditions)—"What does it cost here now, boys?"

'25 (yawning)—"Twenty dollars a quart."

ALUMNI

L. W. Bingham was the unfortunate victim of a mysterious fire that occurred in his church at Quincy, Ill. A great deal of loss was sustained, but it is hoped that the contractor's insurance will cover the losses. Some very precious equipment was destroyed, among which were the battered beams in the auditorium. These were delicately carved but are now totally destroyed. The membership of the church will be hampered for a while on account of the destruction of the Sunday school rooms. The supposed cause of the fire was from the flues. The fire was discovered by near neighbors to the church and was reported to the pastor and others who soon appeared on the scene and fought valiantly with the firemen for the preservation of as much of the church as was possible.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

MENTAL CANCER

The following is an extract from the Designer Magazine:

The young are nearly always somewhat bolshevistic, because they have not yet had their chance; the old nearly always are bolshevistic because they have had their chance and not taken full advantage of it.

The most sensible people are those between the ages of 30 and 45.

I speak of men only; women rarely have any real sense. From the cradle to the grave they are fed on nonsense, and few entirely get rid of it. Men campaigning among women are much like candidates campaigning among voters with their hand-shaking, smiles, bows and compliments. Women should never believe a man unless they have other evidence than his gallantry, his compliments or his word of honor.

In his intercourse with other men, a man's word is frequently as good as his bond; it never is with women.
Here, from youth up, he is taught to hide his wolf fangs with sharp teeth.

Just what is responsible for such an outburst is a question worthy of serious thought. The trouble may have been in a disordered stomach or liver.
It may be that life has actually been cruel as sometimes happens. Perhaps the writer married a snarling, nagging woman; or he may be putting into words the picture of a soul warped by a life of unwholesome thoughts and self contempt brought about by parasitic living. Such a condition did not come from making use of the beauty in the world. It certainly did not come from trying to love everyone for the good to be found in him, or from a life of self-sacrifice.

It is fitting that each examine himself closely to discover any noxious thoughts such as those in the above extract. If there are any, it would be well to weed out the roots before they bind the soul to corruption and its reward.

PISA'S RECKONING

Quite a few years ago, an energetic architect from sunny Italy undertook a job that in its day really was a marvel of engineering. He made such a beautiful start, but when almost finished, found that the expression of his greatest ability was about six inches out of plumb. That was in the year 1154. Since that time, the world has stood lost in wonder, not so much at the tower as at its giddy pitch thru the air. Pisa's leaning Miracle has stood just sixteen feet out of plumb for five hundred years. It was a poor job, but it stood the gaff. At least the architect "got away with it" for 771 years. But murder will out! The time for reckoning is slowly but surely coming. The tower is sinking so that in a short time it will have to be set on a solid foundation, or be allowed to stretch its 188 feet of stately grace in fragments over the land. After all this lapse of time, we who are living have a chance to see that the only way to do anything is to do it well. There is no such thing as "getting away with it."

We here are building our foundation on which must set the superstructure of life. If the foundation is not solid the material it supports cannot be.
The world may for a time honor as for being set at a jaunty angle, but sooner or later the ground work must be done right or the structure of life left to topple over in a great chaotic ruin. Play the game from the ground up. Remember the advice Polonius gave his son in regards to giving himself a square deal.

the term, yet we wonder, even tho the "killing" is more subtly done and the

Baseball Men Hard at Work

COACH CLEMENS TO ARRIVE TOMORROW. SQUAD HAVING DAILY WORKOUTS IN PREPARATION FOR OPENING GAME WITH F. AND M. APRIL 15

With Coach Clemens due to arrive Wednesday of the present week, the baseball squad is working out daily in order to shape themselves for the opening encounter with Franklin and Marshall on April 15.

With the arrival of the warm weather, members of the squad were permitted to forego the necessity of working indoors in favor of the outdoor practice sessions.

Up until the present there has been little organization in the workouts, but upon Coach Clemens' arrival, regular daily sessions will be ironed out, and much work will be required of the candidates if they are to form as strong a nine as Susquehanna nines of other years. The present campaign promises to see Susquehanna represented by another powerful team, which will be capable of holding its own with any of its collegiate rivals.

Much depends on the hurling of Captain Clark and Hanner, veteran twirlers, both of whom are preparing to make this the best year which they have enjoyed. Both men are Seniors, and each has proven his worth as a real moudart artist. Other veterans are Bolig, Kurtz, Thomas, Gelnett and Miller. With these men as a nucleus, it will be an easy task to build up a team.

The greatest problem confronting the coach is the first base situation. For the past couple seasons, Bill Bowser has played sensational ball, but he may not be eligible this year. With Bowser available the problem would be solved and a banner year assured.

Everyone is anxiously awaiting the ball, which will start the baseball season going, and spirit among the students is high.

The track candidates are also working out daily under the watchful eye of Coach Grossman. The track should be in splendid condition for the sprinters, as a large staff of workers has been hard at work getting it into shape.

Freshmen Captured Indoor Track Meet

CLASS OF '28, THE HIGH SCORER IN ANNUAL EVENT. FEATURE OF EVENING WAS TALK BY HUGO BEZDEK, FAMOUS PENN STATE MENTOR

The annual indoor track meet held during the past week was a complete success as each class entered was successful in compiling a total number of points well over the twenty margin. As had been predicted by many folks, the meet was captured by the Freshmen who gave much promise of contributing real varsity material in the next few years. Altho the work of several men was quite disappointing, it was sufficient to show their natural ability, and lent encouragement to the hopes that are based around these same men. One individual, who really led the Freshman class to victory, was Mary Welmer, Somerset lass, who also played a prominent part in the success of Freshmen basketball activities. She, alone, captured twenty-three points for her class, and that was more than the margin needed for victory. Geraldine Bond, another Fresh co-ed, also did well and figured in the scoring. "Grog" Morning set a new record in chinning the bar.

The Junior class team provided real upsets in the meet. The class relay team did noble work in bringing forth easy victory over the strong Freshman quintet. The team, composed of Es-

William and Mary College Offers an Educational Tour in Europe by Providing a Course at University of Toulouse, France

A remarkable and attractive offer is being made to the men students of American colleges by the historic college of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Virginia, in the form of an educational tour in Europe during the coming summer. By combining travel in Europe with study of subjects having essentially a European aspect, the William and Mary Summer School in Europe provides a unique educational opportunity to American undergraduates.

The 1925 session will be held in conjunction with the University of Toulouse, one of the leading universities in France at the summer resort town of Bagneres-de-Bigorre in the Pyrenees Mountains. Courses in French, Spanish, government, history, economics.

Dr. Johnston Spoke At Chapel Services

HUMORIST AND PHILOSOPHER OF CHAUTAUGA FAME DELIVERED SHORT ADDRESS TO THE STUDENT BODY AT CHAPEL ON LAST WEDNESDAY MORNING

Dr. Andrew Johnston, a humorist and philosopher of Chautauqua fame, who is on the Susquehanna campus in the interest of endowment insurance, delivered a short address to the student body at chapel on Wednesday morning, March 18th.

This is the second instance that he spoke at Susquehanna within a very short time; at this time continuing what he had to say before. He said the reason for coming to Susquehanna was to give in a general way, a better idea of life.

Among other things he stated that even if some people did think that the world is going to the dogs, every generation is getting better. It is up to everyone to perpetuate the advance of civilization. A person can do this by refusing to tread the road which leads to yesterday. He must be even better than his parents.

Dr. Johnston told of his trip to the Fiji Islands, where he saw the marks of Cannibalism. He stated that one should not feel sorry for the Cannibal, but for himself. A Cannibal knows no better, because he has never been taught, whereas another person makes mistakes, but has been taught. Survivors turn from cannibalism because a principle has been laid down to them by teachers and they followed it. Jesus Christ in the same way laid down a principle and the world followed.

The speaker also spoke concerning success in life and stated that if one wants to succeed he must fill his head with accurate information. A man dare not be a "Jack of all trades," and "master of none;" he must learn one thing and learn that one thing well.

In concluding he spoke on "Loyalty" and stated that the flag represents God's expression in human government, and that the United States is so far superior to other countries that there is no comparison.

Dr. Johnston's talk was pitched in that great middle range of thought where most folks reside. His philosophy is thoughtful enough to command attention, sound enough to defy criticism, entertaining enough to make folks listen and laugh. It embodies the belief that a serious thought need not be enshrouded in gloom, and that a laugh is not necessarily an indication of lightness.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION HELD A VERY INSPIRATIONAL MEETING, LEAD BY WILLIAM SCHWIRIAN; AFTER WHICH OFFICERS WERE ELECTED FOR ENSUING YEAR

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting on Tuesday evening in Clio Hall. William Schwirian had charge of the devotional exercises. The subject, "Why College Students Lose Interest in Religion," was discussed by Mr. Schwirian.

"A student of one of the large State universities in an article on the subject gave his views as he had found them at that particular school. Many of the college students were active in Sunday school and young people's societies, while at their homes, but soon after they entered college it was evident that they lost all interest in the church and its activities. They, however, conceded that Christianity was good, that the church was a good institution, that one ought to worship God and lead a Christian moral life, but they constantly excused themselves from an active interest because, as they said, they were too busy. Saturday night dances gave them an excuse to sleep on Sunday morning. Is the home church to blame? Are student pastors to blame?"

"Of those who lost their religion while in college it was found that their former interest was mere conformity to the behavior of Christians with whom they lived. There was no vital faith or deep experience of conviction and conversion.

"The college is the testing ground of the students' faith and training. Give the student a home where he is taught to read the Bible and to pray and then when he is sent to college with such a preparation, give him the whole armor of God; then the gates of hell shall not prevail against him."

How far should a student take part in university festivities? was discussed by Wayne Danbensen. The festivities of a college are fraternity and society parties, banquets and celebrations. The larger universities have their festivities on a larger scale. At S. U. parties are held at the close of the week so as not to interfere with scholastic work.

What was the attitude of Jesus toward Asceticism? by Lee Boyer. Asceticism appeared about the sixth century. The ascetics led a solitary life and abstained from eating, they performed vows of silence, subjected the body, and self, inflicted pain. Their idea was that the earth was wicked and that they were doing right by living as they did. Christ associated with the rich and poor, ignorant and wise, righteous and sinners.

General Distribution of Competitive Scholarship Literature Not Quite Completed. Altho Many Inquiries Already Received

Altho the general distribution of Competitive Scholarship literature has not been completed, inquiries are already being received and coupons clipped from last week's issue of the Susquehanna, containing the names of likely candidates, have been received by the committee.

Pending the completion of the work of distribution of literature, the committee urges the prompt return of the coupon appearing in this issue of The Susquehanna with the names of young men who might be interested placed thereon.

Susquehanna, thru her Scholarship committee, seeks and needs the cooperation of her students and alumni in this matter. Prompt response will greatly facilitate the work of the committee.

TOM SKEYHILL, NOTED LECTURER, SPOKE IN TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH ON THE SUBJECT, "THE TROJAN WAY," WHICH WAS VERY WELL RECEIVED

The last number of the Star Course, a lecture, was given on Monday night, March 16th, in Trinity Lutheran Church. Before proceeding to give a few thoughts on the lecture it might be well to render here something of the life of the speaker, Mr. Tom Skeyhill. Born in 1896 in far off Australia, this man has led a life filled with adventure, with travel and the manifold experiences of a man twice his age. His travels have carried him from Australia to Asia, to Europe and to North America. He has experienced the horrors of three wars, namely: The Russo-Polish, the Turco-Grecian, and the late European war. He has known the "living death," being blinded in the European war for three years. During those three years he lived in another world, a world free from all the trials and tribulations of a visible earth—a world of thought. Hundreds upon hundreds of the things to which he had blighted himself from a school boy, thru college, came back into his world of thought, naked and bare of all shame and falsities. This, as Mr. Skeyhill says, is the turning point of his life.

In 1918 he was cured of his blindness by an American specialist in the United States. Then, as he says, he began to unlearn the fallacies and the so-called truths of the previous ten years; such as the glories of war, the realistic ideas of religion, rabid nationalism and patriotism.

He is well on the way to unlearn dogmas and consequently is devoting the rest of his years here on earth to the production of his life work, which is the writing of a thirty to forty volume edition of "Great Men Really Great." Such as Michael Angelo, Buddha, Socrates, Luther, etc. He is writing a volume on Michael Angelo this year.

After a splendid introduction by Dr. Folmer, Mr. Skeyhill gave himself over to the rendition of his subject, "The Trojan Way." His introduction developed points of deep thought and interest—"That the older governments of autocracy, etc., were made by men of the old order who are now expounding in a very pessimistic manner the downfall of Western civilization since the war, while the younger men and leaders are talking in the optimistic way of youth of a Renaissance." Another thought which sank deeply into the hearts of Mr. Skeyhill's hearers was this:—"The youth of today will be the leaders of tomorrow, their thoughts today will in-

S. U. to Debate Lebanon Valley

DUAL CONTEST TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY EVENING. WHEN SUSQUEHANNA'S AFFIRMATIVE DEBATES IN TRINITY CHURCH, AND NEGATIVE AT ANNVILLE

On Thursday evening Susquehanna's debating squad will again be active after a rest of two weeks. The opponents in the dual debate will be the strong Lebanon Valley teams.

The question, which is well known to everyone, is Resolved: That Congress should have the power, by a two-thirds vote, to declare effective a Federal law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. The Susquehanna affirmative will meet the Lebanon Valley negative in Trinity Lutheran Church, Selinsgrove, at 8 o'clock. The Susquehanna negative will invade the Lebanon Valley campus, where it will meet the Lebanon Valley affirmative.

From all appearances, this will be one of the most interesting contests on Susquehanna's forensic schedule. Both teams of the S. U. squad are working earnestly, and the prediction is that Susquehanna will be able to raise the Orange and Maroon both here and at Annville on Thursday evening.

Plans are rapidly being rushed to completion for all the details connected with the meet. The judges have been appointed, and everything is in readiness for this final debate. This is the last debate on the 1925 schedule, and the management does not think that there will be any additional contests scheduled this spring.

A debating rally will soon be held, at which time officers will be elected and plans for the ensuing year will be discussed. It is hoped that now, after relations have been established with other schools on the debating floor, they shall continue to exist for the coming years so that Susquehanna may be represented in many more intercollegiate debates.

Again, don't forget the debate with Lebanon Valley on Thursday evening. Back those teams, and help them to come thru victorious.

ELMA JOHNSON AND ETHEL TAYLOR LEAD YOUNG WOMEN IN THE DISCUSSION OF "MAKING A LIVING OR EARNING A LIVING," FOLLOWED BY ELECTION

Elma Johnson and Ethel Taylor were the leaders for the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening. The topic for discussion was "Making a Living or Earning a Living."

Elma Johnson discussed "Making a Living." So often a person is asked what he is going to do, especially near the end of the school year. Some of the questions heard asked quite frequently are: "What are you going to do next year? Do you have a position?" When one is asked these questions he seems more or less startled. In preparing for his life work one must have some definite goal in mind. The girls who are Freshmen and Sophomores should begin to think just what they would like to do when they are first college, and then work for that goal.

The topic was further discussed by Ethel Taylor, "Earning a Living." When a person thinks of earning a living he should not think only of the financial gain. The same is true of a stenographer who works for a corporation or firm, she does not do it just because she can be independent, she does her best in order that the corporation or firm may be able to do its best for the social welfare of the country. The teacher must not forget

INTERNAL STAFF ORGANIZATION

A few weeks ago, in the February 17th issue of The Susquehanna, in this column was found an editorial on New Staff Organization. As you notice, this present editorial which you are reading is named Internal Staff Organization. These two names, New Staff Organization and Internal Staff Organization, are almost similar, and in fact, the thought conveyed is practically the same.

For a long time those students of the university who have had anything to do with the publishing of The Susquehanna have found that the internal staff organization is lacking. We often wonder where the organization really is. One thing is certain, that under the present system there is too much work expected of a small minority, yes a small minority of students, and even a smaller minority of the staff.

If everyone on the staff would wake up and realize that he is there to co-operate with every other staff member in trying to publish the weekly, even then there would not be enough persons available to do the necessary work.

As Susquehanna University has come to a time in her life when she desires a paper of which she can be proud, it is necessary that that paper be given a larger opportunity of being a worthwhile sheet. And how can that larger opportunity be given? Only by having a more thorough organization among the different staff members. Only by having as the heads of the paper, the editor and business manager, persons who have had experience, persons who have worked from the ground up, those people who know Susquehanna ideals and traditions, and who, having had three years of experience, not only in Susquehanna life, but also in the publishing of The Susquehanna, will be willing to work during their last year in college for one of the best Susquehannas that has ever been published.

Now turn to the February 17th issue, and there you will find the plan in detail. It is not necessary here to fully outline all of its definite parts. Suffice it to say the proposed plan works from the ground up. It begins with the Freshmen. Each year from the lower to the higher class will be elected all persons to the various positions. In the time the editor and the business manager are elected they will have had the advantage of three years experience in college newspaper work. In other words, it will be a process of elimination, the most fit persons reaching the top.

This new plan will be in the form of an amendment to the constitution of The Susquehanna Publishing Association, proposed at a meeting of the association held on April 16th for its acceptance or rejection. If it is then accepted, it will be voted upon for adoption two weeks later, April 30th, which is the day for the regular election of The Susquehanna staff. If the amendment is adopted, it will not fully take effect for four years, because as the plan is designed, it will begin with the Freshmen and it would be four years before anyone of next year's Freshman class would become an editor or business manager in his Senior year.

Let us all be present at the meetings on both April 16th and April 30th, and accept and adopt this amendment, or if unfavorable to it, at least state our objections. You want a better Susquehanna than you have been reading in the past, then give us the way of making a better one, and that way will be to vote for the amendment.

BOND AND KEY CLUB HELD ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARTY

On Friday evening, March 20, 1925, Bond and Key Club held its annual St. Patrick's Day party.

The new home, since its completion, presented such a pleasing appearance inside that several palms by the fire place and in the sun parlor provided ample decoration. The program of the orchestra was pleasing throughout, and it was with only a satisfying yet reluctant feeling that the guests heard the last selections played.

Light refreshments were served during an intermission in the program, and old St. Patrick was apparent in the dainty bits of green minis.

Nothing during the entire evening presented itself in any way detract from the profound pleasure that prevailed. When hours were fleeting, Father Time called the pleasure to a temporary stop.

ward pleasure? This question was discussed by Roger Blomch, Christ loved pleasure, it was not offensive to Him. There are several examples that lead people to believe that He loved pleasure. The presence of Jesus at the marriage in Cana in Galilee. At the home of Mary and Martha. His eating with the Publicans and Sinners. Any man who has found pleasure in his work has found indeed a great pleasure. It is a lasting pleasure. He has the solution to life's problems. The pleasure that everyone possesses is the pleasure that he gives away. Christ was not opposed to clean enjoyment and used these times as an opportunity to do good.

The annual election of officers was held and the following were elected: President, Lee Boyer; vice president, Wayne Danbenepck; secretary, Clarence Eichen; treasurer, Harold Moldenke; monitor, Theodore Cameron. These officers will be installed at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, March 24.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN EUROPE FOR MEN

English literature, art, etc., are being offered both in the French and English languages. A staff of five American college professors will supplement the faculty of the University of Toulouse. Credit granted for work successfully completed will count towards American college degrees. In this way an undergraduate may secure an always coveted trip abroad at minimum cost and without loss of time in absence from college.

The enrollment at present is so open only to men. The cost of the trip of 80 days ranges from $450 to $680, depending on the amount of travel in Europe which the student elects to take. Tours have been arranged in France, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium and England. This cost includes all necessary expenses, including passport charges. An experienced travel assistant will accompany the groups while traveling.

The William and Mary Summer School is a pioneer institution in the recent movement in international education. Last year, a large group of college men under this plan studied at the University of Nancy, traveled in France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, and Great Britain. Most of the travel was done in motor cars. Dr. C. C. Flehtner, a graduate of the University of Lyons in France is director of the school.

terbrook, Weaver, Ebberths and Popeano, proved to be too speedy for its rivals.

"Gene" Sleight was the high individual scorer for the Junior team, but he was hard pressed by "Joe" Popeano, his classmate. The winning of Popeano was the revelation of the meet. He had been considered a distance man, but in this meet he smashed the college 70 yard record, which had stood for several years. He also came in a close second in the 210 yard dash and was the anchor men of the winning relay team. He is certain to be heard from in the coming track campaign. Ebberths won the first indoor pole vaulting, over his old rival, Steffen.

The Senior class, although represented by few entries, made its presence felt. The old reliables, Lahold, Salem, Barnes and Steffen, garnered over twenty points in the meet. In the running events, Lahold and Salem easily outdistanced some of the Freshman track stars, who, however, show much promise of developing into real cinder path artists.

The Soph class proved to be somewhat of a disappointment in the meet. Illness and injuries kept several of their mainstays on the sidelines, which resulted in their relay team not being able to participate. Koch, varsity flash, was outrun in both of his favorite races, but came thru nobly in the rope climb and easily smashed another college record.

Many of the long standing college indoor records were put aside in this meet, and the success attained by the various athletes shows well for the success of Susquehanna's class B champions in track.

Prior to the meet, the school moving pictures were exhibited, showing the student body and patrons all of the various activities of Susquehanna college life.

Immediately following the movie exhibit, a talk was given by Hugo Bezdek, famous Penn State mentor. Mr. Bezdek's talk was upon the important place which athletics should occupy in college life. He dwelt upon the experiences with amateur and professional sports, and brought to light many astounding differences. He showed the error of those who claim that college football is no longer a pleasure. He brought to light the fact that sports develop character in a man, mold his will power, and develop the finest that is in a human being. They enable a man to gain the attributes of loyalty, sacrifice and service to his alma mater and to himself. Sports also teach a man to be not satisfied with doing just what is within his reach, but they inspire him on to gain that object which is just a little beyond him, and is in reality a step forward in the game of life.

fluence their actions tomorrow." It is to the youth of the world that Mr. Skehill appealed when he delivered his verifying, heart rendering, true word picture of his personal experience in the World War, in order to create such a horror and repugnance for war, that peace will be lasting on earth forever.

that she teaches and trains the pupils who will be the future citizens, and not that she is just teaching so she will receive a salary and be independent.

At the meeting the election of officers for the coming year was held: President, Barbara DeRemer, vice president, Helen Veingst; secretary, Naomi Fogle; treasurer, Martha Ertel; U. R. Arlene Hoyt. The new officers will be installed in a few weeks.

Rev. John B. Knieley, '13-'16, is well known to us as the Alumni Secretary. He is also the Director of the Summer Assembly. In his pastorate at DuBois he has been very successful. His wife, formerly Miss Mae Graybill, Conservatory, '13, is a splendid help to him in his parish work.

Rev. Clair James, Sem. '24, pastor of the Reedsville Lutheran Church, is having special Lenten services every Wednesday night until Holy Week. During that week he will have special services every night.

Miss Sarah P. Gortner, '01, is a teacher of Biology in Jamestown high school in New York State.

Laura M. Knopfield, '12, is very busily engaged teaching piano by private lessons in Vandergrift. She also plays the organ in her community. In the summer of '24 she studied piano with Mr. Arthur Friedheim, in New York City.

Rev. Fred R. Greninger, '18, is a very successful minister of the Lutheran Church in Altoona.

Rev. B. A. Peters, '16, is a co-worker of Rev. Greninger's in the same city. Rev. Peters has been very successful since his migration to that city.

Joseph C. McLain, '24, has been recently appointed Registrar of Harwick Seminary in New York State. He will have charge of all matters pertaining to the care of the school property. He will also purchase supplies for the kitchen and dining hall and will be in full control of the boarding department. Joe will also have charge of the book room. Joe is taking charge of these duties in connection with his regular work as head of the History Department. His wife, formerly Miss Mahel Mumma, also '24, is having similar success with her musical work in the same institution.

Rev. H. C. Michaels, '96-'99, has been a very successful minister for a number of years in the steel city, Johnstown. His charge is a very important one and he is making much progress in his work.

Charlotte Fisher, '20, is teaching in the High School at West Newton.

Claude Mitchell, '11, is superintendent of the schools in the same city.

Edith M. Litley, '24, is teaching English and Dramatics in South Williamsport High.

HEH! HEH!

Once upon an evening dreary, as I sat beside my Deary
On an old and time worn sofa built for two or three or four,
I sat there gently napping, Oh, so very gently napping
Tho my flapper girl was flapping as she never flapped before.
In attracting my attention she even beat upon the floor
But in disgraceful slumber, I never ceased to snore
And my sweetheart softly swore.

But she put her arms around me as if she would surround me
With an atmosphere of charm ne'er experienced before.
And tho she tried to kiss me, I'm positive she missed me
For my eyes came far and misty as I rose and paced the floor
For there her little sister seemed to stand right in the door
And I was vexed more sorely than I've ever been before.
The little Imp she made me sore.

Tho really just a shadow, in my dream it made me madder
Even tho at little sisters I so seldomly get sore
But this one didn't like me and I felt her dark eyes strike me
And baleful gleaming daggers seemed to pierce me to the core.
Each a baleful mental dagger that really was a bore
As she looked me o'er and o'er.

In my dream that I'm recounting she began to work accounting
And there she parked as chaperone for three whole hours or four
And it really was quite chafing and with thoughts of our escaping
I suggested with manner taking another room we might explore.
But lo! the voice of mother calling as we rose and slammed the door Girls. It's twelve o'clock or more.

Sisters eyes were quite derisive as I spoke in tones devious
"She gives me such a healthy pain, it hurts me to the core."
And leaving her accounting and a flight of stairs soon mounting
To mother began recounting, what I said and how I swore.
And mother soon decided I should not come there any more.
And she said, "Young man, the door."

I dreamt on, sleeping soundly, tho my date was swearing roundly.
And now and then a glistening tear would splash upon the floor
She cried, "Oh, please Dear, waken, I feel myself forsaken."
Though if I'm not mistaken, You are asleep no more.
How can I make you answer, must I push you to the floor?"
To which I whispered softly, just before she shoved me o'er,
"Try to kiss me just once more."

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

LENT

For many years, this season of the year has been set aside by the Church, and observed as the season of Lent. It was during this season that the New Testament was made what it is by the suffering and finally the death of Jesus. By the things He passed thru during the period of Lent, Jesus accomplished His mission as the Christ and became the Saviour of the human race. We can hardly appreciate just what that means unless we stop and think of what our end would have been, had He failed. The thinkers of the Church made no mistake in setting aside this short span of time during which people might subjugate the things of the world to those of the spirit. To say that we appreciate Easter in the same measure as we observe Lent is not going too far.

It is up to the Christians of the world to foster this idea so that it does not become lost to the world. We of S. U. ought to set the example as Christians, to set an institution to which the Church lends its support. We of the student body are Christian except for a few exceptions—who after all do not figure largely in forming or maintaining the prevailing spirit. As Lutherans, we should be ready to set an example. As an educated community, we are in a position to analyze the gain or loss to be experienced from the observance of this period.

There are a number of ways in which this could be done. We could omit the frat parties. The number of movies could be reduced or better allowed to go for a short time. Any number of ways for observance might be offered but the problem is personal and not to be treated generally. The personal benefit to be derived and the example would more than compensate the small sacrifice. Life after all is training most of which is along the same line or making for the same general end.

"All-American Long Distance Brain Squad."

Who are America's greatest intellectual giants? Dr. William Mathus Lewis, president of George Washington University, Washington, D. C., has picked a "Brain Squad," composed of the ten men who, in his opinion, should comprise the "All-American Long Distance Intellectual Team." Upon that team a prominent place was given to Dr. Russell H. Conwell, president of Temple University.

The men, according to Dr. Lewis, should go down in history with the football, baseball, and other athletic teams.

Associated with Dr. Conwell on the team are Dr. Charles W. Elliott, 90; Chauncey M. Depew, 90; John D. Rockefeller, 86; Oliver Wendell Holmes, 82; Robert Lincoln, 81; Dr. David J. Barrett, 80; Elihu Root, 80; Francis E. Warren, 80, and Harvey W. Wiley, 80.

In a recent address upon the subject to the students of his university, Dr. Lewis said:

"Why Not an Intellectual Squad?" "Walter Camp gives us the all-American football team, Dr. Chas. W. Elliott the ten greatest teachers of history, and so on. In this day, when the influence of youth is so much stressed it is well to turn the accomplishments of age and I am therefore adding to the long list of all-American teams the 'long distance team.'"

"The ten men now living whom I have selected have had the most intellectual power and influence over the social and business life of America. Each of them had reached manhood when Abraham Lincoln was President."

BASEBALL OUTLOOK EXCEEDINGLY BRIGHT FOR ORANGE AND MAROON

Coach Clemens Arrived on Wednesday, Whereupon Candidates Began Daily Workouts Looking Forward to Opening Game With F. and M.

With the warm, pleasant weather of the past few days, the baseball squad has been permitted to cease their indoor workouts in favor of the more beneficial outdoor sessions. Immediately after the arrival of Coach Clemens on Wednesday, a big boom in baseball spirit became obvious on the campus.

The regular playing field was not in shape for practice the past week, as a squad of men was constantly at work putting the infield into shape. Their work is now complete, and Susquehanna boasts of one of the finest playing fields in this part of the State. The grass infield is second to none since it has been put into playing condition.

A large squad of candidates has been working out daily under the watchful eye of the coaching staff, and from the large number of new men, it will not be a difficult task to fill the vacancies.

Men Working On Athletic Field

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COACH CLEMENS WORK HAS BEEN PROGRESSING VERY RAPIDLY ON THE FIELD IN PREPARATION FOR THE SPRING SPORTS

All indications point to the fact that Susquehanna will have an exceptional season in spring sports.

For over a week work has been going on in getting the field in shape for both baseball and track. Under the supervision of Coach Clemens and the direction of Manager Granley the ball diamond is looking better than it ever did. Susquehanna can be proud of her athletic field and every one seems to be taking a keen interest in putting the field in shape. The Freshman boys are doing their work with a willingness and vigor, which makes things go.

Work on the field is just the beginning of what is to follow. On Wednesday the call was given for all baseball men and the call was answered by a very fine squad of recruits. Several good players were lost with the graduating class last year, but with the new material everyone feels sure that Coach Clemens will develop a team which will even surpass last year's team.

Professor Grossman, the track coach, has been training his men for several weeks and the track team is—

S. U. Preparing For Coming Track Meets

CINDER PATH ARTISTS HARD AT WORK LOOKING FORWARD TO ONE OF MOST DIFFICULT SCHEDULES EVER CONFRONTED BY SUSQUEHANNA TRACK MEN

For the past several weeks the track men have been busy preparing themselves to meet the hardest track schedule that has ever confronted a team of cinder path artists of Susquehanna. Under the eye of Coach Grossman, the candidates have worked faithfully, and have steadily improved. The veterans are being hard pressed to retain their berths by the new men.

Prospects for a good relay team to represent S. U. at the Penn Relays are brilliant, as several veterans of last year are back, along with several Freshman dependables.

which were created by graduation last June. The big task seems to be in the developing of a first baseman capable of playing the position as it has been played for the past couple of years.

The remaining veterans, Captain Clark, Hanner, Bolig, Kirtz, Gelnett, Miller and Thomas, are all in splendid condition awaiting the call which will officially open the collegiate season on April 15. Of the new men, Rice, —

Installation Of Y.M.C.A. Officers

RALPH GRAMLEY, RETIRING PRESIDENT, OPENED MEETING. LEE BOYER, NEW PRESIDENT, OUTLINED POLICIES OF ORGANIZATION FOR COMING YEAR

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. Ralph Granley, the retiring president, opened the meeting.

After the singing of several hymns, Mr. Granley gave a few remarks in which he commended those who had in any way helped to make the local organization a success during his term of office.

He then conducted the installation of the new president, Lee Boyer, followed by the vice president, Wayne Daubenspeck; the secretary, Clarence Elchman; the treasurer, Harold Moldenke, and the monitor, Theodore Cameron. Mr. Boyer then outlined the policies of the Y. M. C. A. for the ensuing year. In the Y. M. C. A. one can listen, sing, speak and pray. A lively organization is needed. The membership should be increased. The membership cards issued will aid the different individuals if it is ever their —

MARION POUNDER AND FLORENCE TROMETER LEADERS IN DISCUSSION OF "OUR HYMNAL AND WHAT IT MEANS TO US" ANNA GEATING GAVE READING

Marion Ponder and Florence Trometer were the leaders of the Y. W. C. A. meeting on Tuesday evening. "Our Hymnal and What It Means to Us," was the topic of discussion.

The hymnal originated in the Temple. The priests chanted lines, and later on the people joined him. So on down thru the different religions, as Buddhism, etc., to Christianity. The first hymn of the Christian Church was the Doxology.

Various men were inspired after they were converted to write poetry, which was set to music, and now these pieces are sung in the Christian Churches.

H. F. Lyte, born at Edriam, was a student at Trinity College, Dublin. There he took the English poem prize, and later he studied theology. In 1818, he had a spiritual change at which time he wrote "Abide With Me." The characters of this song are sadness, tenderness and beauty.

Rev. N. H. Gomes wrote five Japanese hymn books. Now there are 350 hymnals in the Japanese language.

George Matheson wrote "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go," after his sweetheart had rejected him as he was going blind.

GENERAL DISTRIBUTION ANNOUNCING SUSQUEHANNA COMPETITIVE SCHOLARSHIPS FOR 1925 TO OVER FOUR HUNDRED FIRST CLASS HIGH SCHOOLS

The general distribution of literature announcing the Susquehanna Competitive Scholarships for 1925 has been completed. Mailing of lists were prepared and in addition to individuals who have been suggested and recommended by students and friends of Susquehanna, announcements, together with other literature, have been mailed to over four hundred high schools throughout the State calling the attention of principals of schools to the opportunities Susquehanna is offering young men who desire to secure collegiate training.

At the time of going to press the committee has received a number of communications from persons interested in worthy young men. The committee feels confident that there are other young men who would be pleased to be informed concerning this opportunity. Least such young men be missed, as has happened at times in former years, the committee urges the prompt return of the Scholarship Coupon appearing in this issue of The Susquehanna. This will enable the committee to give the matter careful and prompt attention.

GALA EVENT OF CROWNING QUEEN OF MAY WILL BE HELD ON MAY 2

From Present Appearances Everything Points to a Snow Festival Instead of a Spring Jubilee. Elaborate Plans Being Completed for Occasion

It looks as if May Day will be a snow festival instead of a spring jubilee, but even so one can make the best of the situation by flooding the tennis courts. Instead of fairy dancers the young champions will have a chance to display their skill on the ice. If everyone is resourceful they may once more unpeck their skis, and over all, the queen may preside, garbed in ermine and velvet.

Lebanon Valley Debate Postponed

LEBANON VALLEY'S AFFIRMATIVE TEAM DISORGANIZED, WHICH CAUSED INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT OF DUAL CONTEST SCHEDULED TO HAVE BEEN MARCH 26

The dual debate with Lebanon Valley, which was to be held Thursday evening, March 26, was postponed indefinitely.

The first word of cancellation was received from Annville on Tuesday, but the two managements did not come to any definite conclusion until Wednesday. As all arrangements had been made by Susquehanna for holding the debate, and everything was in readiness for S. U.'s last for-nsic contest for this year, the word came like a cloud in a clear sky. Lebanon Valley's affirmative team has become disorganized in some way or other, altho definite details are not known, as the letter in which these were contained seems to have been lost in the mails, and no further word has been received.

It is possible that this debate may be re-scheduled for some time after Easter, altho at present, future arrangements are not known.

Mr. Webster Spoke For Eastern Cause

TOLD OF A THREE FOLD PLAN OF THE TURKS TO EXTERMINATE THE CHRISTIANS OF ARMENIA. ALSO PLEADED FOR SUPPORT OF STUDENTS IN THE CAUSE

Last Tuesday morning, after Chapel services, Mr. Webster, representing the Near East Relief, told the student body of his experiences in the stricken area, of the work the Association is doing, and a short account as to the cause which made it necessary to continue the Near East Relief.

His story in brief is as follows:— In 1924 the Turks made a three-fold plan, by which they hoped to exterminate the entire Armenian population. The first plan was the means by which the young men were to be destroyed. The Turks would enter a small town or city and place notices upon public buildings, calling all the men between the ages of 18 and 45 to assemble in the market place. The next morning they would be given a chance to earn a living by working on the public roads outside of the city. The consequences were that while at work a band of Turkish cavalry would soon draw upon them and deliberately commit murder.

The second plan was the means by which the young women and mothers were to be taken captive. The Turks would enter a village and carry away all women between the ages of 16 and 45. These women were taken into the Turkish harems and there became — like an adventuring sorceress. Behind a mask of sunshine she conceals a terrifying nature; one day she fairly radiates joy and beauty and it's good to be alive, but the next day she flies into a horrible rage and blows and screams until the very timbers of the forest tremble in fear. Soon after the outburst she is sorry that she has revealed her true character, then she weeps until the world, as well as everyone's spirit is drenched. But cheer up, Spring will soon conquer this turbulent spirit and she will be a beautiful creature.

Elaborate plans are fast being completed for the celebration of Susquehanna's fifth annual May Day. The committee will endeavor to arrange an interview with the weather man, who has always been kind in former years. It is hoped that he will smile upon the Susquehanna campus on May 2, 1925.

Fellowship Club Supporting Student

WORLD FELLOWSHIP CLUB ENJOYED MEETING IN WHICH INDIA WAS STUDIED. ORGANIZATION SUPPORTING AFRICAN PROTEGE IN LIBERIA

The World Fellowship Club held a very interesting meeting on Sunday afternoon in Seibert Hall parlor. India was the country studied.

Miss Essex Botsford gave a very educational talk on the Geography of India. She told of many of the natural peculiarities of the country, of its vast expanse of territory and of its large population.

The Customs of India were discussed by Miss Christie Zimmerman, who spoke concerning the dress, the home-life and the education of the people. A striking fact is the enthusiasm for some kind of religion which seems to dominate the life of the Indian people, they do everything by religion.

The World Fellowship Club has taken it upon itself to annually support a protegee, a student in the Muhlenberg Mission, Liberia, Africa. The secretary of the organization read a letter acknowledging the receipt of the sum which is annually contributed for this worthy cause, and a certificate of scholarship which has assigned to the club protegee number 19 was shown to those who were present. The annual —

MADE JOURNEY TO DOWN-RIVER TOWN, WHERE THEY GAVE GOOD CONCERT IN HIGH SCHOOL UNDER AUSPICES OF LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDER

The Men's Glee Club left the campus on last Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. and journeyed to the down-river borough of Herndon, Penna., where they were scheduled to "concertize."

Being met at the station by Mr. Robert Hepper, a member of the club, they were shown to various homes, where they were treated to sumptuous dinners and graciously entertained, prior to the concert, by the good people of the town. Due to over-eating, many of the members had much difficulty in climbing the incline of the other street, where the —

VACATION AND EASTER

Only three more days until we begin our Easter recess! Everyone is all excitement looking forward with eagerness to that homeward trip. Home, the very word seems to instill into the hearts of each one of us fond memories, pleasant moments, incidents which we hope we shall never forget.

But what is this vacation going to mean to us? Will it be a week of idleness or will it be one of work supplemented with good clean recreation? Even tho it is a vacation, that does not necessarily mean that we are to do nothing. A vacation has been defined as a change of environment, a change of occupation, these will give us rest.

Our vacation will end with Easter, that great day on which we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord and Saviour. What will this day bring to us? We hope that it will bring us closer to the Source of Life, and such it should, if we worship as we ought on that glad day.

Yes, we desire to return to our homes, but let us not return empty-handed. Let us make those homes happier because of our returning. Let us not waste away the week in loafing and in laziness, but let us work, and in doing this work, we will be the happier.

Let us observe Easter as all true Christians should, in a spirit of reverence and gladness. Then upon our return to the campus, we should try to work harder than ever before, finishing the last lap of this school year not as a laggard, but as a winner ever looking forward to greater things to be achieved.

SPORTSMANSHIP IN THE STANDS

The test of sportsmanship in school and college athletics applies not only to the men on the teams, but also to the spectators in the stands. It is easy to overlook a breach of ethics on the part of an athlete keyed to a high pitch of excitement in the heat of a contest, but what plea beyond that of ignorance may be made for the spectator who commits unsportsmanlike acts in the stands, and ignorance excuses no one.

The following may be noted as some of the things that are not done in the best amateur athletic circles: First, addressing uncomplimentary remarks to the officials. Usually these remarks, which are seldom heard by the officials in question, are intended as warnings by the perpetrator. The school or college which harbors these persons acquires a reputation for cheap sportsmanship, not only among the officials, but also in the minds of other spectators. Second, criticizing the players of either team. As a rule these criticisms are made by students who do not know enough about the game which is being played to make a place on the team, yet they feel free to criticize the men who have won by hard work their positions on the team.

Usually these criticisms are leveled against the players on the visiting team and are intended to be derisive. A cheap burlesque show invites and expects badinage; on the part of the audience, but a high class play house protects its patrons by ejecting any one who would loudly voice his disapproval of the actors. Again let it be stated that players are not subjected to abuse at the hands of the students in the best schools and colleges.

Third, whining over a defeat or boasting over a victory. It is too much to expect all of the members of a student body to be able to take defeat gracefully, but some schools and colleges pride themselves on the quality of their sportsmanship when subjected to the severest of all trials; and these institutions place the stamp of disapproval on public "alibis" on the part of individuals and never try to explain away a defeat. To play the game for the love of the game, to be magnanimous in victory, big-souled and uncomplaining in defeat, that is the part of good sportsmanship, a quality that is to be found in a great many of our schools and colleges today and is lacking in others. Let us have improved sportsmanship not only on the fields, but also in the stands, for therein lies the essence of all that is big and worthwhile in America.

(Reprinted from an editorial in The Athletic Journal, a magazine devoted to the best interests of athletics in the schools and colleges of America.)

BASEBALL OUTLOOK EXCEEDINGLY BRIGHT

Kniskely, Baird, Weaver, Dunkle and many others are showing up well, and should make all rivals step for positions before the start of the season.

Couch Clemens spent the past few days in explaining the fundamentals of hitting and bunting to the candidates, and this week he is dwelling both on offensive and defensive work. The coach has already won the confidence of his men, and they are with him to the last man.

It is unfortunate that the Easter vacation interferes with the regular practice sessions, and it makes Susquehanna's task doubly difficult since the first game with F. and M. will be played only two days after the return of the team members from their respective homes. That means that much work will have to be done during the present week. If the team is to be whipped into shape.

contribution of this sum for so high and noble a purpose is an act which should be commended. It is a cause worthy of even greater service, for in doing this a person is doing something for his Lord and Master.

Sense and Nonsense

The Offer of the College Men and Mountains

William De Witt Hyde was a college man and after he had gained maturity and a proper appreciation of what his Alma Mater had done for him, he wrote the following gem of acknowledgement. There is so much truth and worth-while-ness in these lines that they should be so great a part of the pre-college training that every young man and woman would look upon a college education as a necessity. These words should also be part of the college student's inspiration, making him realize what lies in store for him every day and giving him a standard with which he may judge his present, past and future achievements in college.

"To be at home in all lands and ages; to count Nature a familiar acquaintance, and Art an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other man's work and the criticism of your own; to carry the keys of the world's library in your pocket and feel its resources behind you in whatever task you undertake; to make hosts of friends among men of your own age, who are to be the leaders in all walks of life; to lose yourself in generous enthusiasm and cooperate with others for common ends; to learn manners from students who are gentlemen and form character under professors who are Christians—this is the offer of the College for the best four years of your life.

Some mountains are rugged, rocky, irregular, shapeless masses of unsightliness. Others are verdant, prettily sloped and pleasant to look upon. Both have their uses and both would be unhappy and wasteful to attempt to be the kind of mountains they are not.

Men are much like mountains. Some are straight from the shoulder, uncompromising and rugged in appearance, speech and thinking. Others are smooth, mild, conciliatory and diplomatic in their speech and appearance. If the Creator was satisfied to let mountains differ in appearance and usefulness, perhaps He is willing to have a difference in men also. Judging from this, we, without being critical or faultfinding, should accept our endowments with graciousness, live up to our possibilities with implicit faithfulness, and exercise the one endowment that the mountains do not have, the power of growth. Then our lives will be perfect plans, and our race will produce the greatest need of the age—men to match God's mountains.

He that is ashamed to be seen in a mean condition would be proud in a splendid one.

A SPORTSMAN

1. Plays the game for the sake of the game.
2. Plays for his team and not for himself.
3. Is respectful to officials. Accepts adverse decisions graciously. Expects officials to enforce rules.
4. Is a good winner and a good loser—I. e., is modest in victory and generous in defeat.
5. When a spectator cheers good play on both sides, but never interferes with officials or players.

STICKING

Did you fall in the race?
Did you fall in the sport?
Where the hot dust choked and burned?
Did you breast the tape amid the flying dirt
That the leaders spiked had spurned?
Did you do your best—
Oh, I know you lost, I know that your time was bad,
But the game is not in the winning, lad.
The best of it since the beginning, lad,
Is taking your licking and grinning, lad,
If you give them the best you had.

Did your tackle fall short?
Did the runner flash by
With the score that won the game?
Did it break your heart when you missed the try?
Did you choke with hurt and shame?
If you did your best—
Oh, I know the score; I followed you all the way through,
And that is why I am saying, lad,
That the best of the fight is the staying, lad,
And the best of all games is the playing, lad,
If you give them the best in you.

SEMINARY

Dagle, '25, returned home on Friday to assist his parents in moving their goods into a new dwelling in the town of Millburg.

Welkel, '25, supplied in the Bellefonte charge this Sabbath.

Bingaman, '25, preached in the Thompsonstown charge, which has been made vacant by the recent resignation of its former pastor, Russel F. Auman.

Kaufmann, '25, supplied in the St. John's Lutheran Church in Northumberland.

Knoebel, '27, visited parents and friends in his home at Elysburg.

Wislser, '26, was visited by his wife and a friend from Williamsburg.

Groninger, '25, supplied in his regular charge in Killinger.

Cole, '25, filled his regular pulpit in Kinnerville.

Kepner, '27, returned from his week-end visit in Sunbury.

Derr, '27, supplied in the First Lutheran Church in Selingrove for Rev. Walter Beck. He was assisted in the services by Louis Leisher, '27.

On Wednesday night, William Sadler, '27, will have charge of the mid-week services in the First Lutheran Church.

Blair Harman, '27, will fill the pulpit of Rev. Beck next Sabbath.

Hanks, '26, was surprised on awakening on Saturday morning and finding the front yard of his Dalmatia summer home covered with snow flakes. Upon first sight he mistook the flakes for cherry blossoms.

Law, '26, preached in his regular charge in Avis, near his home. He spent the remainder of his time in his own city, Jersey Shore.

Schwartz, '26, traced his round of the hills of the Penn's Creek valley on Sunday and preached to his flock in Kratzville.

Dr. William Sadler, professor of Greek Exegesis and Sociology, assisted in installation exercises in the Lutheran Church at Rebersburg.

DEBATE POSTPONED

Susquehanna has had a very successful debating season, and even though the number of teams met has been very limited, the interest shown in the debates has been keen and intense, and this speaks well for future debating at Susquehanna. At a later date, a debating rally will be held to which all those who are in any way interested in Susquehanna debating are invited. At that time officers will be elected for the coming year, and as they enter upon the duties of their respective offices it is hoped that they may be able to make next year much more complete as to the number of schools to be debated than the present year, thus making Susquehanna a leader in intercollegiate debating.

ALUMNI

CLASS OF 1924 IN THEOLOGY
In Memory of Our Beloved Instructor,
Dr. David B. Floyd

We, the members of the class of 1924, have presented an enlarged picture of Dr. David Bittle Floyd.

We have presented this picture as a memorial of the honor, respect and love which we had for our beloved instructor, and friend. This picture, presented to the Seminary, can be seen in the class room. Let us remember the loyal services he did, not only for Susquehanna and the Seminary, but as a true servant in the services of Christ and His Kingdom.

Frank Ehrenfeld, '22, has been acting as faculty manager for the basketball team of Phillipsburg High School. "Pete" is enjoying a fine reputation in the three years he has been at Phillipsburg. The High School team is having a very successful season.

Albert G. Gawinske, '08, is engaged in the real estate and insurance business near Phillipsburg.

Geo. F. Dunkelberger, '08, is the Dean of Waynesburg College. He has also been Professor of Education since 1921.

Nora M. Goff, '22, is a teacher in Arnold High School at New Kingston, Pa.

Harold Y. Fisher, '20, is working in the capacity of a chemist in Harrisburg.

Rev. Jas. M. Uber, '06, '10, is a Home Missionary in Ashtabula, O. He is the secretary of his local Ministerial Association as well as of the Erie Conference of the Pittsburgh Synod. He was also elected president of the Sunday School Association of Ashtabula county. Rev. Huber had formerly been pastor of the Lutheran Church at Wilmerding, Pa. During his college days Rev. Huber had been business manager of the Susquehanna and he prides himself very much in the success of the publication since those days.

Dr. Charles T. Miles, of Milton, sailed for the Federal Malay States, where he will resume his practice as a dentist. He is a graduate of the Pitt Dental School. He received his degree as Bachelor of Science at Susquehanna. He also took some collegiate work in the University of Maine.

Rev. Sussaman, who lately resigned as pastor of St. John's Lutheran, in Northumberland, reports that he is attaining splendid results in his leadership of his new church in Williamsport. During his stay at Northumberland, which was over eight years, the church doubled in membership from 522 to 1134. He has begun a series of revival services in his new church, St. Matthew's Lutheran, and has had the church filled to capacity on each occasion. When he retired from the charge at Northumberland he and his wife were tendered a farewell and were presented with many tokens of regard and respect by the members of his congregation, among which were a floor lamp, a leather rocker, a mantle clock, and a purse of gold to his wife and one of bills to himself. He received in like manner a gracious reception by the members of the church in Williamsport.

John A. Richter, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church in Allentown, celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of his church on March 1, 1925.

Prof. and Mrs. J. C. McLain, '24, are the proud parents of a baby girl, Anna Elizabeth, born on March 26.

M. P. Moller, Jr., '21, better known as Ted, and his wife were visitors on the campus over Saturday and Sunday.

The eleventh anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Sanford N. Carpenter, at Trinity Lutheran Church, Johnstown, was observed on November 9, 1924. The day was given over to a quiet observation of the duties and obligations incident to past successes and what was styled "The Forward Look." At the annual meeting of the congregation in January the congregation increased the salary of the pastor $600 per year. Trinity has recently purchased a splendid parsonage. A beautiful corner lot 120x253 feet, was purchased some years ago for extension and rebuilding.

W. H. Derr, '03, is a minister of the Gospel in the "City of Palms," Pasadena, Calif.

D. J. Snyder is also a minister of the Gospel in the State of California. He resides in the popular bathing resort, Long Beach.

VARSITY "S" CLUB TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday evening at seven o'clock the Varsity "S" Club will hold its monthly meeting in the college dining hall. Many important matters will be discussed, so all "S" men are requested to be present.

A special feature of the evening will be the serving of a well prepared luncheon by the Susquehanna girls who have been successful in winning an "S".

BOND AND KEY HELD OPEN HOUSE FOR GIRLS OF S. U.

Friday evening, March 27, will long be remembered with many pleasant memories by the girls of Susquehanna as the time of that eventful occasion when Bond and Key Club held open house. Mrs. Koch very ably chaperoned the young ladies, there being a large number present.

As the guests entered the door of the beautiful club house, each was presented with a souvenir, a card of welcome upon which were found these words:

We welcome you tonight.
As the flowers welcome Spring.
Let each heart beat young with life,
Let each sorrow take its wing.

After having seen the entire house, greatly admiring the open fire place and the sun parlor as special features of attraction, the group of young people, guests and hosts, assembled in an informal circle and played games.

This was followed by a program in which Arthur Esterbrook, Edwin Constable, William Roberts, Prof. Linebaugh and Jacob Kroen participated. Dainty refreshments were served, during which time some of the club musicians furnished music.

Everyone seemed to enjoy this pleasant evening spent together, and as the hour of parting drew nigh, the girls expressed the wish that Bond and Key might hold many more such events.

KAPPA DELTA PHI HOST AT A PARTY FOR HONORARY MEMBERS

On Thursday evening, March 26 the girls of Kappa Delta Phi sorority entertained their honorary members in the Seibert Hall parlors.

The main feature of the evening was a very delightful program consisting of the following:

Violin solo, by Margaret Schmir-mund; readings: "I Ain't Gonna Cry No More," "A Small Boy's Essay on Geo. Washington," by Anna Geating; piano solo, by Margaret Snyder; living model moulded by Misses Ylenkst and Norwat, Happy Hooligan—Naomi Fogle, Mrs. Gab—Marion Pounder, S. U. collegian—Essex Botsford, S. U. Freshman—Florence Trometter, Gold Dust Twins—Delsey Morris and Catherine Benner.

Dainty refreshments were then served, after which the guests participated in several games, thus adding much to the pleasure of the evening. The party ended with the pleasant anticipation of many more such enjoyable occasions.

desire to take advantage of Y. M. C. A. privileges in a city, but not only this, it will aid the Susquehanna organization financially. Everyone in the association should assume the responsibility of doing his part. When a person takes part in the meeting he not only benefits himself materially, but he also gives an hour to his Lord. Every man on the campus owes something, why not come out and support this Christian movement.

Ellsworth Grove spoke concerning the three best things as stated by Henry Van Dyke: Work, love and life. Christ was always working. One should put across a life of real genuine service. As to the second, love, it is in God's commandments. Love God, and thy neighbor as thyself. Length of life does not necessarily mean that a man has been either wicked or righteous. Sometimes the righteous perish, and the wicked are permitted to live for a long time. Everyone should live his life with a forward face, with a whole and happy heart, and then his journey of life will be one of joy.

laves for the remainder of their lives.
The third plan was the means by which those remaining might be deported or destroyed. With all the young men and women murdered or taken captive, there remained only the young children and old people.
The Turks conceived the idea of deporting those remaining; knowing that the other nations would not stand for cold blooded slaughter of little children and old people. They therefore ordered all the people to form into companies and set out on foot for the nearest sea port, which was over three hundred miles distant. In one company 18,000 started and only 150 of them ever reached the destination.

Today the Near East Relief is caring for over 60,000 children, most of them having no parents or living relative. This has been made possible by the generous gifts from the Christians of America to those martyrs of the Christian faith, the Armenians. These people gave up their homes, their loved ones, and their lives because they remained true to the faith.

Mr. Webster told these facts in order that students of Susquehanna University, the prospective leaders of tomorrow, might use their influence in securing aid for and furthering the principles of the Near East Relief.

school house is situated and where the concert was held. At seven-thirty, however, it was found that all had made the grade and were panting for the fray.

Everything proceeded smoothly until Joe Law, a heavyweight, stepped on the edge of the platform, which caused the other end to come up and hit him in the face. The riot that followed was only quelled when spikes were procured and the stage anchored to the floor.

The auditorium was crowded with an audience which was in a happy mood, and which seemed to appreciate the program to a very great degree. The benefits of the concert went to the local P. O. S. of A., which accounted largely for the good sale of tickets.
Several old grads from nearby towns were present. The writer being acquainted with most Susquehannians as far back as 1917, happened to know many of these who expressed their appreciation of the concert.

Bidding adieu to this city the Club boarded the midnight flyer for home.
It was found that the basketball team and fans of the Williamsport High School were also on the train. This gave an opportunity for concert number two, which was immediately given under the direction of Mr. Landis, the banjo artist of the club.

Arriving at Selingsgrove, tired and sleepy, the gang was glad that a concert had been given in Herndon, because everyone felt that it had been a great success.

that they are for old folks and the

BASEBALL SEASON OPENED WITH FINE EXHIBITIONS BY SUSQUEHANNA NINE

Orange and Maroon Lost to Franklin and Marshall 4-1, and Won from Bloomsburg 14-1. Score of First Game Does Not Tell Entire Story

An even break in the first two games of baseball which were staged on the local field does not tell the entire story of the work done by Susquehanna's speedy ball tossers in the initial week of the season.

Altho the first game was lost to Franklin and Marshall on Wednesday afternoon, it was a heart rending ten inning affair which should have ended in a well earned Susquehanna victory. In this contest Captain Max Clark pitched a wonderful game, and was deserving of a 1-0 victory, but the fates intervened and permitted F. and M. to forge ahead. An error in the fifth inning enabled the visitors to tally one run. An inning later Susquehanna tied the score on successive doubles by Hanmer and Kurtz. No further scoring was done during the regular nine innings of the game, altho on two occasions Susquehanna filled the bases.

In the opening half of the tenth inning, two errors permitted F. and M. to tally three runs. Susquehanna was undaunted, however, and entered

S. U. Nine to Meet Juniata and State

FIRST TRIP OF THE YEAR WILL TAKE THE SUSQUEHANNA BOYS TO HUNTINGDON AND STATE COLLEGE ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY OF THIS WEEK

After an auspicious start in the baseball season, the Susquehanna nine will make her first trip of the year, when she journeys to Huntingdon and to State College to meet Juniata and Penn State on Friday and Saturday, respectively, of this week.

This trip is an annual feature of the early season, and always brings forth some fine exhibitions of the national pastime. In the past two years an even break has resulted in the two games played, Susquehanna winning from Juniata in two hotly contested games and losing two bitterly fought contests to the Nittany Lions. Two years ago Susquehanna outplayed her famed rivals and outbit the team 9 to 5, yet was unfortunate as to suffer a 2-1 defeat.

Little is known of the strength of the coming opponents other than that they have played one another to a fourteen inning standstill earlier in the

Schoch Relay Trophy Won by Class of '27

Second Year Men Won What Has Been Called Most Interesting Class Relay Race of Past Several Years

The most interesting class relay race of the past several years was won by the Sophomore class on Thursday afternoon. The winning of this race gives to the second year men the Schoch Relay Trophy.

At the outset of the race, the Junior class assumed the lead, and held it until the third lap, when the Freshmen, due to the fine running of Morning, assumed the lead. The final lap found Swank, anchor man for the Sophs, going at record speed and assuming the lead of a step just before reaching the tape.

The winning team was composed of Koch, Vought, Bird and Swank. The Frosh team consisted of Garman, Kemmerer, Morning and Stroup. The Junior team was composed of Fopeano, Ebberts, Stuempfle and Sleigle.

Rev. J. D. Curran Spoke to Students

MISSIONARY FROM LIBERIA, AFRICA, EXTENDED GREETINGS TO STUDENT BODY AND SHOWED VIEW OF THEIR TAKING ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITIES

Friday morning, those students who were assembled in chapel services had the privilege of hearing Rev. J. D. Curran, of Liberia, Africa, who extended greetings to the student body and told those present of the need of taking advantage of opportunities.

In everyone's life there comes a moment to decide. It seems that persons are more a people of choice than they imagine. There is a certain tendency to choose those things which are not always best. A person must learn to distinguish and to choose those things which are for his good and not for his destruction. The making of certain decisions has either been the making or the unmaking of a person.

Gypsy Smith has said, "Do not let yourselves become tombs for buried opportunities." There is an opportunity for service where the need is the greatest, and there is no other place where God is more in need of men than in winning the world for Christ, in the foreign mission field.

Rev. Curran threw out the challenge to come over to Africa and help. More young men and more young women are needed. It is an opportunity unparalleled anywhere in the world. The Mohammedans are gradually gaining a foothold in Africa. The challenge to the young men and young women of today is whether the crescent, which the emblem of Mohammedanism, or the cross shall float higher in Africa. It is a challenge to accept or reject. Are the adherents of Mohammedanism or those of Christianity more faithful? Will it be the crescent or the cross which will be dominant in future African life?

SUSQUEHANNA ALUMNUS UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Last Tuesday, April 14, the Rev. Dallas C. Baer, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Hughesville, and Miss Ruth Albert, daughter of Prof. Albert, of Bloomsburg State Normal, were united in marriage.

The bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg Normal, and has also been a student in the Susquehanna Conservatory of Music.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Susquehanna University, and also of the Susquehanna School of Theology.

The Susquehanna joins with the many friends of the young couple in extending to them congratulations and best wishes for their happiness.

Debating Rally Thursday Evening

SPECIAL PEP MEETING WILL BE HELD AT WHICH ELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR DEBATING CLUB WILL TAKE PLACE, AND PLANS DISCUSSED FOR FUTURE

On Thursday evening, a debating rally will be held in the Chapel Hall at 6:30 to which everyone is invited. One of the reasons for this meeting is the election of officers for the debating club for 1925-26, and also to make arrangements for the greatest year in Susquehanna debating.

This school year will soon be completed. The Susquehanna debating squad has made a noble beginning. It has raised the Orange and Maroon at various times, and carried off the laurels. But next year the debating club hopes to sponsor a debating squad of at least two varsity teams, which will be able to do even greater things. Debating at S. U. has been revived, and it is not going to die.

The Susquehanna debating teams have the willing services of Dr. Woodruff, head of the English Department, and of Rev. Beck, who has been coaching debate this last year, they also have the complete backing of the faculty. Susquehanna has the material. Therefore the year 1925-26 will be a banner year in S. U. forensic contests.

Ladies' Auxiliary Held Benefit Movie

"ENCHANTED COTTAGE" SHOWN AT STANLEY THEATRE. PART OF PROCEEDS BEING FOR AUXILIARY, WHICH IS DOING MUCH FOR SUSQUEHANNA

Friday evening those who happened to live on College Avenue saw that there must be something unusual happening down town, for at about seven o'clock the students all seemed to be going in that direction. The Ladies' Auxiliary was showing a benefit picture, "The Enchanted Cottage," at the Stanley Theatre, and the organization was to have a certain percentage of the proceeds.

These faithful women have done much to aid the institution. They have accomplished many things in the way of making Seibert Hall more attractive. New furniture has been purchased and curtains have been made which add greatly to the homelike appearance of the girls' habitation, besides many other things which can only be brought out by the delicate touch of a woman's hand.

The new dining hall, which is the pride of the entire student body, has been furnished with new tables and chairs by the Auxiliary. The members of this organization have labored unceasingly in order that S. U. might have a more beautiful dining hall. In this they have succeeded, but they still have a great work to do. They still need the support of the student body. Whenever the Auxiliary is holding some kind of entertainment or social affair, let the students back to the limit. Give to it the best and then in due time the best will be returned.

The eyes have one language everywhere.—Herbert.

The Susquehanna Publishing Association of Susquehanna University has adopted a new constitution which will greatly aid the efficiency of the internal staff organization.

For some years, the staff, both editorial and business, has been laboring under difficulties because of the lack of organization. This defect needed remedying, and accordingly the old constitution was revised along the line of policies followed by the other members of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States.

On April 2, the present constitution was first presented, at which time it was accepted and placed on the table for two weeks. On April 16, the present constitution was adopted by a unanimous vote of the Association to take effect immediately, whereupon a nominating committee was appointed, composed of Harland Fague as chairman, Ellsworth Grove and Barbara DeRemer.

The revised constitution as adopted follows:

Susquehanna to Have Handbook

STUDENTS' HANDBOOK TO BE ISSUED TO ALL STUDENTS AT OPENING OF SCHOOL IN 1925. NEW PUBLICATION TO BE UNDER AUSPICES OF Y. M. AND Y. W.

Susquehanna University will have a Students' Handbook, which will be issued to all students at the opening of the school year in 1925. This statement comes as the sun in a dark sky signifying better things for Susquehanna in the future.

After due consideration, the faculty, upon suggestion from the Student Council, decided that Susquehanna should regularly issue a Students' Handbook, this book to be published under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

At recent meetings of these two organizations, they have each elected three members to the staff, the staff in turn having chosen its own officers, which are as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Harland Fague; business manager, William Persing; editorial assistants, Catherine Beachley, Eleanor Birk, Martha Larson and Roger Hough.

Work has already been begun on the Glee Club to Sing by Radio While on Tour

Musical Organization Will Broadcast From Station WCAE, Kauffman and Baer's Store, Pittsburgh

The Men's Glee Club of the University has left the campus for several days on its western tour. This evening the organization is featuring in Johnstown, a city of wide Susquehanna fame.

Tomorrow evening everyone should listen in on his radio to hear the S. U. songsters. They will be in Pittsburgh, and beginning at 6 and lasting until 6:30, they will broadcast from WCAE, Kauffman and Baer's Store. This is the first time that the Susquehanna organization has ever had this distinction. Let everyone be a loyal Susquehannian, if he can get near a radio, listen in and be a part of the vast number of people to whom the Glee Club will sing.

JUST ANOTHER STORY

In the office of a college president that I know there hangs a diploma, framed, emblazoned with all of the Latin inscriptions, but with the name gone. From what little Latin I know, I found that it was issued by this little college in the year 1892. The thing that is unusual about it is the fact that the name has been cut out. I asked the president about the story connected with it and he told me something like this: "Thirty years ago Jack Milton, of course that is really not his name, finished here. He was one of the most popular men that we have ever had, a good athlete, excellent speaker, much in favor with the girls of his day, and a fair student. He had every honor that the students could give him."

"After he had finished things went well with him. Today he is president of the biggest bank in Texas and his income is written in five figures. They have even tried to get him to run for governor. Here is where the diploma comes in. Four years ago I found it in my mail with a short letter. I will show it to you."

He dug into his files and pulled out a letter written on highly embossed stationery. I made a copy that reads like this: "Dear Mr. President: I am sending you under separate cover the diploma that was issued me in 1892. I would like to have my name erased from the list of graduates and this diploma destroyed for I cribbed my way through college. It has made me miserable for years, especially since there is no one who knows. I hope that you will be able to forgive the injustice that I have done to the college, that I really love. And there was a name that when mentioned in financial circles makes men look up quickly. I felt sorry for the man who could not forget. To him the honor system had not been a passing thing."

BASEBALL SEASON OPENED WITH FINE EXHIBITION

The first year with this determination and succeeded in beating the base ball team. The side was retired but the bases ended with F. and M. on the long end of a 41 score.

The feature of this battle was the timely hitting by Hanner, who collected three blows, and the superb pitching of Captain Clark, who was rebuffed of a well earned victory by loose fielding on the part of his mates.

On Saturday afternoon a large squad of ball tossers from Bloomsburg Normal invaded the Susquehanna campus determined to annex a victory. Last year the Normalites were victorious, but they were confident of repeating that game this season. But the peppy Susquehanna squad, under the guidance of Coach Clemens, was not to be beaten.

After Hanner had retired the visitors in the first inning, his mates succeeded in sewing up the game before the inning was over. Four hits, including a home run and triple, brought over four tallies. Another was added in the second, followed by one more in the third. After two scoreless innings, another run was registered in the sixth. The lone tally of the Normalites came in the seventh inning, when three errors were made in rapid succession. This apparently fired the locals, for they came back in the eighth inning and counted seven times, completing a 14-1 score.

There were several bright spots in the apparent rout. The fine hurling of Hanner, veteran southpaw, who held his opponents to three hits, was a feature, as was the wonderful display of hitting power on the part of his teammates. Bolig, Thomas, Rice and Weaver led in the attack of the locals. The outfield, composed of Gelnett, Kurtz and Kinsley, worked in perfect harmony, and pulled down all chances regardless of how difficult they might be.

A big feature of the game was the exhibition of the finer points of the game, as shown by Coach Clemens' charges. The results of careful coaching were very apparent.

publication, looking forward to the issuing of a book which will mean much to the institution which it represents not only as an advertisement, but also as an aid to a greater Susquehanna spirit. The publication of this book will be the realization of a dream of many of the faculty, alumni and students of the university, and it is a stepping stone toward a bigger and better Susquehanna.

season Juniata also holds a victory over the powerful West Virginia nine, and Penn State has subdued the strong Gettysburg team.

The strength of the Susquehanna outfit has been shown in its two opening games when Coach Clemens' charges covered themselves with glory both at bat and in the field. All opponents are assured a busy afternoon when they combat with the Orange and Maroon.

The recruit members of the squad are showing excellent form and are doing their bit in moulding another formidable nine to uphold the standards of S. U. The old reliable hurlers, Captain Clark and Hanner, are upholding their prestige as being two of the finest twirlers in collegiate circles. Baird, recruit catcher, is an excellent receiver, and is filling the great gap in a fine manner.

He who reforms himself has done more toward reforming the public than a crowd of noisy talkers.

Makes Autos Go 49 Miles On Gallon of Gasoline

An amazing new device has been perfected by James A. May, of 7025 Locath Bldg., Sioux Falls, So. Dak., that cuts down gas consumption, removes all carbon, prevents spark plug trouble and overheating. Many cars have made over 49 miles on a gallon. Any one can install it in five minutes. Mr. May wants agents and is offering to send one free to one auto owner in each locality. Write him today.

NOTICE

A limited number of college students will be given employment during the coming summer by the publishers of Good House-keeping and Cosmopolitan Magazines. The plan embraces the payment of a stipulated weekly salary plus tuition bonuses and travelling expenses. Over the mountain by a mile

Year after year, plucky explorers try to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest peak, 29,141 feet high.

With a G-E supercharger feeding air at sea-level pressure to the engine, an airplane pilot can go far higher. Lieut. Macready has reached 34,509 feet over Dayton, Ohio. He would have soared over Mount Everest with more than a mile to spare!

The tasks attempted for centuries in almost every form of human endeavor have been conquered with the aid of electricity, with more than a mile to spare.

The impossible today will be accomplished by men and women now in college. The scientist and engineer are doing their share. It remains for men and women entering upon their life's work to profit by the new opportunities that are constantly appearing in every profession and vocation in the land.

S. U. Nine Lost to Juniata and State

TRIP RESULTED DISASTROUSLY FOR ORANGE AND MAROON, AS BOTH GAMES WERE CHALK-UPS ON WRONG SIDE OF LEDGER, 10-2 JUNIATA AND 14-3 STATE

The annual trip of the Susquehanna baseball nine to Juniata and Penn State last week-end resulted disastrously for the local squad, as both games were chalk-ups on the wrong side of the ledger.

The first game of the trip was played at Juniata on Friday afternoon. For this game, Hanner, reliable south-paw hurler, was selected to oppose the home team. He did his work excellently, but ragged support on the part of his mates led to his downfall. S. U. jumped into a two run lead in the opening half of the second inning, only to lose it when her opponents chased over three tallies. The contest continued close until the seventh inning, when several errors permitted Juniata to take the lead.

Orange and Maroon Will Meet Juniata

AFTER THE DISASTROUS TRIP OF THE PAST WEEK, THE S. U. BOYS ARE WORKING EARNESTLY, ANTICIPATING REAL STRUGGLE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

After the disastrous trip of the past week-end, the Susquehanna baseball tossers are getting down to earnest work, under the direction of Coach Clemens, in preparation for their May Day contest this Saturday when the fast nine of Juniata College will invade the S. U. campus.

In the game at Huntingdon, Juniata was victorious, and she will come here bent on repeating that victory, but the Susquehanna representatives are confident of the outcome, and will let no stones be thrown to come out on top. A real struggle is anticipated, and it is in preparation for this that the coaches are busy themselves toward increasing the offensive power and eradicating the weaknesses which appeared in the defense.

Both Hanner and Clark are in excellent form, and each feels that he can turn in a victory. In the event that Captain Clark draws the pitching assignment, Hanner will cavort at the initial sack, where he is fast becoming a very efficient performer.

Susquehanna Third In Penn Relays

RELAY TEAM, CONSISTING OF SLEIGLE, KOCH, FOPEANO AND SWANK, NOSED OUT BY GENEVA AND JUNIATA. GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY FOURTH

In the annual Penn Relay Carnival held at Philadelphia on Saturday, the Susquehanna squad was nosed out after a sensational race against such opponents as Geneva, Juniata, and George Washington University.

At the outset Captain Sleigle assumed the lead and held it until near the close of the first lap. In the second lap Juniata forged ahead and remained there, altho in the third lap Fopeano momentarily closed the gap, only to lose out again. The final lap saw Swank making a desperate effort to overtake the leaders, but all in vain. Geneva finished first; Juniata, second; Susquehanna, third; and George Washington, fourth.

Altho the S. U. boys were nosed out in this race, they displayed the best form of the year and finished in the creditable time of 3 min. 34 sec. The winner's time was 3 min. 31 sec. The Susquehanna team consisted of Sleigle, Koch, Fopeano and Swank.

League Organized and First Games Played When Theologs Opposed Seniors, and Freshmen the Juniors

The regular interclass baseball league has been organized, and commenced operations last evening, when the Theologs and Seniors opposed each other, as did also the Freshmen and Juniors. In the remaining games fast competition is assured as all the teams are preparing for a hard campaign.

Athletic Facilities at S. U. Improving

SUSQUEHANNA TO BE HOST TO COLLEGES COMPETING IN M. A. S. C. A. TENNIS MATCHES. D. M. S. TRACK AND FIELD MEET TO BE ON S. U. FIELD

Tennis enthusiasts at Susquehanna will be interested to learn that Susquehanna has been selected as the place for the playing of the District Preliminary Tennis Matches of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament.

Six colleges are included in this district—Gettysburg, Bucknell, Franklin & Marshall, Lebanon Valley, Albright and Susquehanna.

With the playing of these matches on Susquehanna's campus on May 16, tennis at Susquehanna should receive a decided impetus. The best collegiate tennis stars to be found in Central Pennsylvania, will be seen in action thereby giving to local tennis players an unprecedented opportunity to witness some splendid court matches.

Coincident with the announcement that Susquehanna has been invited to act as host to the colleges competing in the District M. A. S. C. A. Tennis matches is that made from the Athletic Association office that Susquehanna's new Athletic Field has again been selected by the officials of the D. M. S. High School League, as the place for holding their Second Annual Track and Field Meet.

Rev. W. H. Harmes Addressed Students

THOSE PRESENT AT CHAPEL SERVICES WEDNESDAY MORNING HAD PRIVILEGE OF HEARING ONE FROM SASKATOON UNIVERSITY, SASKATCHEWAN, CAN.

Wednesday morning after Chapel services, the Rev. H. W. Harmes, of Saskatoon University, Saskatchewan, Canada, told of his work in that country.

Rev. Harmes stated that he came from the Great Northwest. Canada is on top of the United States, and everyone knows what is on top of the body. In the future this country will be the bread-basket of the world, for even tho it has only lately been developed, it already raises an immense quantity of wheat. The physical structure of the land is different from what is seen here. No matter how far one looks, it is level, there will be no trees, no hills, no mountains, everywhere is in wheat.

A great work is being done in this newly opened country in the way of missions. Educational opportunities have been introduced in the form of preparatory and theological schools. Everyone should see this growing country, this developing country. In the last thirty years the whole school system has been developed.

There is a need for one live young man who likes to go out into a country where he has a little more elbow room, a little more freedom, to become a teacher in the preparatory and theological departments of this university in the Great Northwest.

L. N. A. Will Hold Annual Convention

MEMBERS OF INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION TO MEET AT URSINUS COLLEGE ON MAY 8 AND 9. THE SUSQUEHANNA TO SEND DELEGATES

The annual convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association will be held at Ursinus College on May 8th and 9th.

The president of the Association has conducted a strenuous campaign with the various member papers, and the result is that sectional conferences have been held at Swarthmore, Muhlenberg, and Franklin and Marshall. The latter conference was attended by delegates representing The Susquehanna, and a great benefit was derived from this meeting.

Now everyone is looking forward to the annual convention, which is going to be the best ever conducted by the Association. Mr. Howard T. Herber, editor of the Ursinus Weekly, will not let any stones be thrown to make it such. An elaborate banquet is planned for the delegates on Friday evening, May 8th. A tentative list of the speakers for that event includes Dr. George L. Omwake, president of Ursinus College; Fullerton Waldo, Philadelphia Public Ledger, and Hon. J. Hampton Moore, ex-mayor of Philadelphia.

Saturday morning the business session will be conducted. The executive secretary of the Association, James Melvin Lee, is active in the newspaper game, and he will be present to offer his suggestions and give some valuable aid. The Susquehanna will be represented at this annual convention by delegates from the new staff, which will take office to publish its first issue on May 5th.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH OF JERSEY SHORE RE-DEDICATED

St. John's Lutheran Church, of Jersey Shore, held re-dedicatory services on Sunday, April 26, 1925.

The pastor of this church, the Rev. Park W. Huntington, B. D., is an alumnus of S. U. This is Rev. Huntington's first charge and he is gaining many friends among his increasing congregation.

At the Sunday morning service, the Rev. Charles T. Aikens, D. D., president of Susquehanna University, preached the sermon, "The Temple of God." The Rev. John Warner, D. D., president of Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania, preached the re-dedicatory sermon, "The Church's True Glory" on Sunday evening.

This spring St. John's will have the honor and distinction of entertaining the meeting of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania, May 19-22, 1925.

1925 Commencement Speakers Announced

Christie Zimmerman, valedictorian; Hazel Herrold Salutatorian; Others Samuel Allison and Marlin Grubb

President Aikens recently announced the Commencement speakers for the class of 1925. They will be Samuel Allison, Marlin Grubb, Hazel Herrold and Christie Zimmerman.

Miss Zimmerman has won the honor of being the valedictorian, and Miss Herrold will be the salutatorian.

Senior Farewell Party Saturday

AN INVITATION IS GIVEN TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1925 AND THEIR FRIENDS, AND TO ALL STUDENTS AND ALUMNI OF S. U. TO ATTEND EVENT

The Junior Class of Susquehanna University wishes to extend an invitation to all members of the Class of 1925 and their friends, and to all students and alumni of S. U., to attend the Senior Farewell Party to be given in the Alumni Gymnasium, Saturday, May second at eight o'clock.

Arrangements have been completed for one of the most enjoyable social events ever staged upon Susquehanna's campus. The subscription is small, and a large attendance is already assured. Following, as it does, the crowning of the May Queen, and the contest with Juniata by her Crusaders in the afternoon, it will be a fitting climax to a day of joy and will remain a lasting monument to her class—the class of nineteen twenty-five—in the hearts of all her subjects.

In the past all of Susquehanna's social events have been given by the smaller groups, either the Fraternities or the Sororities. Only those who are members of these organizations are welcome at these events and those of that large group of students who do not belong to either a Sorority or a Fraternity miss almost entirely the social side of their College life. As a result of these conditions, much of

SANG AT ALTOONA, JOHNSTOWN AND PITTSBURGH, ALSO BROADCASTED FROM ALTOONA AND PITTSBURGH. AT LEAST MILLION HEARD RADIO CONCERTS

The Men's Glee Club of Susquehanna University completed the last tour of the season when concerts were given at Altoona, Johnstown and Pittsburgh respectively, April 20, 21 and 22, 1925.

Monday, 12:40 p. m. the Club left Sunbury on the Pittsburgh-Easton Express. While on the train the usual entertainment was furnished the passengers; this time for the benefit of Indiana Normal School co-eds. Business Manager Law joined the club at Jersey Shore. Arriving at Altoona on scheduled time, the club was met by Rev. Fred Groulender, a Susquehannian, who had charge of the arrangements in that city. The concert was given in the Senior High School Auditorium, after which a short program was broadcasted from the radio station in Gable's Dept. Store.

Tuesday morning, 7:51 a. m., everybody at the station on time, including Roberts, who slept in the station all night because he was afraid he would miss the train the next morning. Arriving at Johnstown the club was met by Rev. Carpenter and Rev. Michaels, who made arrangements for the club in that city. Keeler and Constable, the local lads were in heights of glory on account of being near home. Glover and Baird were entertained by old acquaintances. The afternoon was spent

COMMITTEE WORKING HARD UPON ELABORATE PLANS FOR ANNUAL CELEBRATION, WHICH WILL BE HELD ON SATURDAY, MAY 2 AT 1:30 O'CLOCK

Once more as May draws near, a dull, somber old world is felt, which assumes quite a different air. For Spring has come, bringing with it the gay, fragrant, colorful blossoms, the promise of all Springs.

Best of all, with these radiant tokens of a new season dancing round about, come many pleasant memories of former gala days. In rapid succession they have marched by until now, "May Day," the gayest of them all, confronts the Susquehanna campus once more.

Elaborate plans have been made by the committee to make the day surpass even the highest expectations. Even Mother Nature smiles benignly, doing her utmost to aid to the

DEBATING RALLY HELD AT WHICH TIME LEE BOYER WAS CHOSEN TO PILOT DEBATING CLUB FOR 1925-26, ALFRED RISING ELECTED MANAGER

The Debating Club held a meeting on Thursday evening, April 23, in the Chapel Hall, at which time the election for the year 1925-26 took place. The following men were elected to office: Lee Boyer, president; Wayne Daubenspeck, vice president; Lee Vorhage, secretary; Alfred Rising, manager; and Louis Rode and Harold Swank, assistant managers. Several members of the varsity team responded with short speeches, and the kind words of Dr. Woodruff added much to the meeting.

Some of the valuable suggestions that were offered by the speakers were: that the college librarian have any material pertaining to the question at issue in such shape that the debaters are able to easily secure it, and that this material ought not to be loaned to anyone else except the debaters; that good material be purchased, so that the different members of the teams could use the reference books at an advantage whenever needed, not having to send to the State

Orchestra To Give Home Concert May 7

MUSICAL ORGANIZATION PREPARING FOR A SCHEDULE OF CONCERTS, FIRST APPEARANCE AT MIDDLEBURG MAY 1, WILL ALSO PARTICIPATE ON MAY DAY

The Susquehanna University Orchestra will give its home concert on Thursday, May the seventh at 8:15 o'clock, in the new Music Hall. Admission will be fifty cents, with reserved seats secureable for ten cents extra. These tickets can be secured from any member of the Orchestra or the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Orchestra has always played for May Day and many other occasions, for which it has never received any remuneration whatever. It is always glad to support the school activities and do anything that it can, but in return it expects the student body to support it in its home concert.

The first appearance of the Orchestra will be at Middleburg on May first. After the home concert on May seventh it will give several more concerts in nearby towns, one of which will be in Beaver Springs on May ninth.

FAREWELL!

With this issue of The Susquehanna, the present staff lays down its pen to be taken up by the incoming staff. Our work is done, we can not say completed, for it is not, we hope that it will never be fully completed, for if this were possible then there would be nothing to strive for. We have tried to do our best, both the editorial and the business staffs have cooperated for a better college weekly. Perhaps we have not always done what was right, but remember that the student body is on the outside looking in, and that the staff is on the inside looking out. The exploits of a person may be a policy to a very great extent.

We realize that we have been weak, we realize that we have been human, and that being human we were subject to all the whims and fancies which a human being is subject to. Therefore, at times we may have been controlled by emotions and feelings, some foolish notions which last only for a few moments.

Many criticisms have been received, for which we are truly thankful, and for which we mean in all sincerity, for it was all for the making of a better paper. But these have been constructive criticisms for which we have been grateful. On the other hand, there have also been many destructive criticisms, or in other words fault-finding, or just plain crabbing. For these we have not been thankful, and we wish that those who do the crabbing would get out of their old rut, put their shoulder to the wheel of progress and push. Several remarks have been heard in regard to what certain persons would do if they were on the staff, uttered not favorably, but in an unfavorable spirit. To these, we can only say that we are sorry too that they do not have this opportunity so that they might see things in a different light, and apologize for some of their previous unnecessary utterances, but for the good of the paper we are glad that they do not have this opportunity. Remember that there is nothing more constructive than a kind word or an encouraging word. One or two fault-finders in the entire organization will soon or later break down the very foundation upon which this group is so proud. If you can't criticize constructively then please do not criticize at all.

As to the achievements that have been accomplished by the staff this year we do not judge of our own work. We hope that we have not been a dead organization on the Susquehanna campus, we hope that we have been able to influence a little of the thought and opinion of the student body into a new path of endeavor leading to a bigger Susquehanna.

We are glad for two things: first, that Susquehanna is going to have a handbook, and second, that the constitution of the Publishing Association has been revised in order to bring the staff organization of the college weekly up to the standards of the other papers which are members of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association.

To the new staff, we bid you welcome, as we lay down our pens, may you take them up, determining to publish a better Susquehanna than has ever before been read. There are many things which we have not succeeded in doing, for this reason we are sorry that our work is done, but we hope that you will be able to do what has been unfinished by us. Remember that you are not working for one individual person or group of persons, but do remember that you are working for the good of Susquehanna University, your beloved alma mater. With this thought ever foremost in your mind, the things which you will be able to accomplish for S. U. will in the end also be of benefit to the individual person or group of persons, and you will be serving a greater cause by thinking of Susquehanna first. So we say farewell, we have learned to like the work so well that The Susquehanna has almost become a part of us. As we depart, the new staff will enter, and to this new staff of 1925-26 we wish you an abundance of success, we hope your labors will not be in vain, but as each succeeding staff comes and goes, may the retiring one leave behind it something upon which the incoming one may build, ever carrying the standards of Susquehanna on to grander and nobler heights of achievement.

festivity of the scene. As flowers bloom and golden sunbeams flit playfully amid the fresh green leaves of the trees, everyone feels justified in promising great pleasure to those who are interested in S. U.'s May Day exercises to be given on the campus, Saturday, May 2nd, at 1:30 o'clock.

The program will be given under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Reed, of Prof. Sheldon are working hard to add to the general success, and many of the children of Selingrove will take part in the exercises. Candy and lemonade will be sold during the afternoon by members of the Y. W. C. A. and ice cream and cake by the Ladies' Auxiliary of S. U. The following program will be rendered:

Procession.
Cereemonies attendant to the Crowning of the Queen.

The Prime Minister's Address to the Queen's Subjects.

Coronation of Queen Helen.

Music, "National Overture," arr. by Schloepkrall, University Orchestra.

The Queen's Proclamation.

Song—"The Little Elf," by Children of Second Grade.

Old Fashioned Dance—Minnet.

Scotch Dance.

Japanese Motion Song.

Dutch Dance.

Music, the Moose Band of Selingrove.

Irish Dance.

Operetta—Scene from "The Pirates of Penzance."

Polish Dance.

Winding of May Pole.

Music by the Band.

Horton's famous ice cream on sale by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Immediately after the close of the program, a baseball game will take place between S. U. and her old rival, Juniata.

SENIOR FAREWELL

The school spirit has been perverted into the small group spirit and students do not always work together with the unity that they should. The class of twenty-six feels that Susquehanna really needs a few social events in which everyone may take part and it is with the idea of service to her Alma Mater uppermost in their minds and as a means of promoting greater social harmony among the student body that the Junior class first decided to hold the Fair-well Party.

An interesting program has been arranged and the Walter's Quartet and the Ramblers will be there to serenade the May Queen. The gymnasium will be decorated lavishly and arrangements will be made for the enjoyment of everyone. It is predicted that the hour of midnight will arrive all too soon for everyone present.

Sense and Nonsense

Springtime

The cleanest, purest, most hopeful season of the year is awakening on our campus. The essence of art, the summation of Nature's attempt at the creation of beauty and the greatest single phenomenon of all time—the rebirth of life—is being enacted in our midst. The spirit of regeneration lives. It has changed the drab lifeless floor of our little world into a velvety being of greenness. It has covered dead branches with fresh, unmistakable signs of Spring and yonder has transformed the black and unsightly apple tree into what seems a burst of spring joy, whose blossoms can fairly be loved because of their beauty and what they anticipate.

God must rejoice in the Springtime. The newness, freshness, and grandeur of our reborn world can be nothing more than His ideal of material beauty in concrete form. Pity the dull listless uncomprehending man who sees in Nature and Nature's artifice nothing, nor notices or comments on changes except as they affect his personal comfort. If God created beauty it must, in some manner, be an expression of Him and closely akin to Him and the nearer we peer aesthetically stunted beings can come to Nature and appreciate it, the nearer we are to understanding in a small way the Creator of Nature.

There are lessons unnumbered in the similarity of the springtime in nature and the springtime in our lives. Compare your life to that of a tree and think and learn. Learn to send forth buds of hope and love, learn to give life to blossoms of beautiful fruit-bearing thots and learn to bear the wholesome perfect fruit of ripened deeds, worthy successors of beautiful thots.

COMPLETED TOUR

in sightseeing and visiting the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool. The concert was held in Rev. Carpenter's Church, which was well filled.

Wednesday, April 22, 7:45 a. m. The Club left for the smoky city of Pittsburgh. Rev. Chas. Held conducted the members from the Union Station to the North Side, a distance of seven blocks, more or less. Arriving at Carnegie Hall, instructions were given by Mr. Gawinski, an alumnus of Susquehanna, after which the club was turned loose on the city. After luncheon the Ball Park and Gayety Theatre attracted the most attention. Sigler and Kroen go to the game, Henius calls on his friend, the vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

At 6 o'clock a program was broadcast from Station WCAE, the Pittsburgh Press and Kaufman & Baer's Dept. Store. The regular concert was given to a fair sized audience in Carnegie Hall, which is located on the north side of the city. Many old grads were present to whom 'er up and to add pep to the program. Only fourteen of the members remained in Pittsburgh that night, the remaining ten left for parts unknown.

It must be said that this trip was the most successful of the entire season; not only from the standpoint of the members themselves, but from a standpoint of advertising the University. It is estimated that at least a million people heard each radio concert broadcast on this trip. It is hoped that this can be repeated next year.

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE

HOME CONCERT MAY 7

The Orchestra has prepared a very interesting program and deserves to be supported by everyone. In addition to the Orchestral and instrumental numbers, a group of numbers by Professor Koch will be offered. They will add greatly to an already interesting program and a large attendance is anticipated.

Those who heard the concert last year were more than pleased with the splendid program that was offered. The Orchestra promises to surpass last year's program by a large margin and makes a strong bid for the support of the student body.

ALUMNI

Rev. A. E. Cooper, '90-'96, is a minister of the Gospel in the community of Landisville.

Rev. Lloyd W. Walter is pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in the city of Dixon, Ill.

Mrs. Charles Lambert, '01, is the wife of Rev. Charles Lambert, of Elysburg.

Elizabeth Haus Livingston, '02, is the wife of Rev. G. A. Livingston, of Dillsburg, near Harrisburg. She is also a local instructor in piano lessons.

Clark Kuster, '21, is teaching in the Grisdley Junior High School in Erie.

C. V. Erdly, '20, a teacher in the Phillipsburg High School and principal of the Phillipsburg Schools, has recently been elected to be supervising principal of the Hollidaysburg public schools. Professor Erdly was chosen from a field of twelve applicants, representing the States of Ohio, Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

He has been a teacher and principal in the Phillipsburg Schools since 1920, and is regarded as a high class educator. Coming to Phillipsburg as a young man he soon arose to the position of principal, which he has held with great credit to himself for three years.

Upon his initiation to the Phillipsburg High School the enrollment in the public schools was 950. At the present time it is 1100. He has been elected to the Hollidaysburg schools under a three year contract.

The Rev. H. E. Harman, Sem. '01, of Pittsburgh, has recently been significantly honored in having been made a member of the Phi Alpha Theta National Honorary Historical Fraternity by the Beta Chapter, University of Pittsburgh. The initiatory ceremony and banquet were given at the Hotel Shenley, Pittsburgh, on Saturday afternoon and evening, March 14. The Rev. Mr. Harman is continuing his post graduate studies in the History Department of the University of Pittsburgh, and it is as a mark of recognition of his work in historical study and research that this honor has been conferred.

Christian Organization Enjoyed Enthusiastic Meeting Even Though Number in Attendance Was Small

The local Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting on last Tuesday evening. On account of the very warm weather there were few in attendance, but even tho the number present was small, a very interesting discussion took place.

Earland Fague was the leader, having charge of the devotions and the various discussions. Miles McLain and Paul Witmer each gave short talks. After these the meeting was conducted in an informal way, with almost all the members taking part.

library at Harrisburg for the necessary data.

There is no reason why the best athlete should not be the best debater. There is just as much opportunity in debating as on the field. A person has to feel that he can give the other fellow a blow.

This year the debating organization is losing men who have been seasoned in the art of debate, but as they go out, it is hoped that from the present Sophomore class there can be built two or three strong teams. Susquehanna will be able to put up a good, strong team, but everyone must help to put it across.

A person has to know the art of debate in order to argue. Some persons will argue, but when asked to join the Debating Club or to come out for the debating teams they say, "let the other fellow do it, don't put me on a debate." But they are losing someone in life by not learning how to debate. They should get into the game in order to know how it feels. They will be able to feel the tingling of the blood for their alma mater on the roster just as well as on the field of battle in any athletic contest. One is a traitor to his school if he fails to work. It is the part of the clock that isn't working that fails to move the wheels that keep the time.

It is the spirit that counts among the students, and it is this that gives the pep to the team. Why should not Susquehanna have a cheer leader next year at he debates the same as other colleges? The spirit was there, everyone was interested in that debating team. Next year S. U. will be challenged again. If the debating club does not move, everyone should blame it on himself, for he did not have enough spirit to push it ahead. To see the debating team come out victorious means just as much as an athletic victory in the eyes of the alumni. They are watching Susquehanna's debaters, and are looking for greater things from their alma mater in the future. May they not be disappointed.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

AT S. U. IMPROVING

Susquehanna's improved athletic facilities are not only supplying greater opportunities for her own students, but they have undoubtedly contributed greatly during the past two years in advancing the work in athletics as conducted in the High School in this section of the State.

During the 1922-24 season it will be recalled that the sectional High School Basketball Championship was decided in the Alumni Gymnasium at which time Williamsport and Harrisburg played before over seven hundred spectators.

Last spring the First Annual D. M. S. High School League Track and Field Meet was staged on Susquehanna's field. During the recent Easter Regatta (on April 11th) the First Snyder County High School Track and Field Meet was held at Susquehanna. This will in all probability be an annual event and Susquehanna welcomes the opportunity to serve the High Schools thruout the State as well as her own students.

ARTICLE VII.

Committees

Section 1. The Press Committee—The President upon taking office shall appoint each year a committee as large as he deems advisable to be known as the Press Committee whose duties it shall be: (1st) to correspond with the leading dailies in the important cities, (2nd) to send frequent letters to the church papers, (3rd) to contribute items of interest to the various county and town journals. The expense incurred for stationery and postage for all such correspondence should be borne by the University, and the Association hereby recommends action taken by the University authorities.

Sec. 2. The Selective Committee—This committee shall consist of the Editor-in-Chief as chairman, the Business Manager, the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Publications, and one representative from each fraternity, one from each sorority, one from the non-fraternity group, and one from the non-sorority group, each representative to be chosen by and from their respective groups, except the Editor-in-Chief, the Business Manager, and the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Publications who are members ex officio. It shall be the duty of this committee to select the Editor-in-Chief from the Managing Editor and the News Editor, and the Business Manager from the Circulation Manager and the Advertising Manager. The annual meeting of this committee shall take place on the last Thursday in April.

Sec. 3. The Nominating Committee—This committee shall consist of the Managing Editor, the News Editor, and the Editor-in-Chief as chairman. It shall be the duty of this committee to nominate two or more persons for each office of the Association, except those filled by the competitive system, and post the same one week prior to the annual meeting. The Association, at the time of election, shall have the privilege of nominating additional candidates for each office. The nominating committee and the Association function under one exception, neither body has anything to do with those positions filled by the competitive system of elimination.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

THE LAST LAP

Just about this time of the year, an observer going about the campus will notice midnight oil being consumed, where it was never consumed before.
Going into the laboratory, he will think that there is some strange fascination in that place. The crowded condition there is the cause of his thinking so.
There is really nothing strange about it. The same condition occurs every year and folks don't notice so much.
It is only the knights of the eleventh hour making a spasmodic effort to get done the work of the semester in the last few weeks. Looking over the campus, the same observer will see a group of people who apparently have no more to do than chase tennis balls for their respective day-stairs. There are two kinds of people in that group.
First there are those who did not do the work to be done, and I really don't intend to be worried with that and other minorities. To them, the vital issue of life is having a good time and catching the kind of a person they want to college to catch. The rest don't need much attention, they are able to take care of themselves. To them the rest is easy. The work supposed to be done in time past is done.

Revenge is sweet, but regret is maddening. Just as the foolish virgins wished for a service station so they would not have to go all the way back home for oil, so do we wish for some agency of sorrow that we might not be drowned in the flood of last minute scrambling. At any rate, when it is all over we shall have learned the fruits of inconstancy. Our infidelity to duty will have taught us several things that we could have learned in no other way. It is all right this time, but don't let it happen again.

S. U. NINE LOST TO JUNIATA AND STATE to roll up a total of 10 runs, while the Susquehanna boys were held to their lone tally of 2 runs.

The following day saw Susquehanna opposing the Nittany Lions of Penn State, with Captain Clark primed for mound duty. In the first inning two sensational stops by State infielders robbed S. U. of two hits. In the latter half of the inning State should have been retired without a tally being registered, but poor headwork caused the bases to be loaded with only one out.
With breaks in their favor, State then began a real bombardment, and scored eight times before being retired. Atter the initial inning Clark settled down and had the State batsmen at his mercy, and the Susquehanna nine then shaped up just as formidable as their famed opponents. But the damage was done and, try as they might, Susquehanna could not overtake the big lead.

Harrison, the State hurler, received excellent support, and was saved by his mates on several occasions when his wildness got him into trouble. He did not allow a hit until two men were retired in the eighth inning. At this juncture Bolig scored the first hit, and his lead was followed in rapid succession by Rice and Thomas. A walk to Weaver forced over the first Susquehanna run. Hits in the ninth by Bolig and Grinett combined with two State errors, accounted for two additional runs and ran up the local's total to three.

SUSQUEHANNA NINE DEFEATED FAST JUNIATA TEAM IN TENTH INNING

Gelnett's Timely Hit in Tenth Inning Brings Weaver Home Scoring Winning Run. Captain Clark Pitched a Stellar Game

Coach Clemens' nine trims Juniata rivals, reversing the score at Huntington, the previous week. The victory was fitting climax to S. U.'s May Day celebration. The game was close throughout going to ten innings, the final score being 4-3.

The features of the game were the stellar pitching of Captain Clark, and the timely hitting off Weaver, our own Babe Ruth. Clark allowed the visitors few and well scattered hits. Weaver collected three hits from the Juniata moundman in five trips to the plate. Thomas, Hanner, Gelnett and Clark each had one hit, which all helped to make our score on the right side of the ledger.

Each team garnered one run in the first inning, being made by Thomas and Fisher of their respective teams. S. U. scored again in the second inning and holding their opponents scoreless until the seventh inning when H. Snyder scored for the visitors. In the next frame Welmer and Peiffer hit the apple for singles, making possible Juniata's next run, which made the score three all, after Weller's sacrifice. Big league ball was in vogue till the tenth inning, when Weaver starts off with a triple. Kutz took a free trip to first and then Gelnett's timely single, a hot drive between third and short, scoring the winning run and sending Juniata rivals to the showers.

The spectacular features of the game were the good catches of Bolig, Thomas and Rice and their quick and consistent delivery to the first sack, which was ably covered by Southpaw Hanner.

The smooth working machine which

Farewell Party Huge Success

JUNIORS GAVE A FINE PARTY IN HONOR OF THE CLASS OF 1925. MOST BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS EVER SEEN IN THE ALUMNI GYMNASIUM. GOOD PROGRAM

The Junior Party given in the Alumni Gymnasium, Saturday, May 2 at 8 o'clock, being the first of its kind, proved to be a decided success. Those who were unable to attend the social events of either the fraternities or sororities during the year were given a chance to enjoy this much talked of party.

At 8 o'clock the long procession started at Seibert Hall and wound its way across the campus to the Alumni Gymnasium. As each couple entered the gymnasium, a leather card case was presented to each lady. A neatly arranged program was printed within this card case. The small letter "S" was stamped on the outside of this card case with the numeral "25" directly below. As the couples gazed upon the decorations, a whisper was passed from each, how marvelous they were. Some exclaimed, "The best I have ever seen in this gymnasium." Everyone fitted themselves to the surroundings and settled themselves for an evening of pleasure and fun.

A very interesting program was given, consisting of a reading by Miss Anna Grating and a tenor solo by Mr. Jacob Kroen, which was highly appreciated by all. The eyes of all, upon entering the gym, were attracted and then held to the center piece, which most people spoke of as an inverted wedding cake. It was a pink and light blue, a wonderful creation, constructed of five wire hoops, ranging from six feet to one foot, with a two and a half

Frosh Rules Off; Hold Celebration

STUDENT COUNCIL LIFTED ALL RULES BUT ONE REQUIRING FRESHMEN TO WORK ON ATHLETIC FIELD. FROSH BURN DINKS IN CELEBRATION

Roger Blough, president of the Student Council, announced in the dining hall on Friday evening, that after 12 o'clock that night practically all of the Freshman rules would be lifted. He explained that the only one remaining is that one requiring underclassmen to assist in the work on the athletic field.

Needless to say, the announcement was greeted with hearty applause and the Frosh immediately began to think of proper means to celebrate. Of course many plans were considered, but the Frosh decided that even the removal of rules could hardly be considered a just cause for burning down a building or even stealing Prexy's car. Instead they got out the musical (?) instruments and at twelve they formed a joyous procession and wended their way towards that town which is unfortunate in that it is located on the suburbs of Susquehanna University.

The shopkeepers, seeing so large a crowd and hearing so much noise, halted in the process of taking in the sidewalks and threw open wide the doors for the students' dimes. Many of them lost out, however, for the boys are still spending nickels these days.

After eating "hot dogs" at a nickel each and pie at "two times" that amount, the boys serenaded the natives and received the usual shower of alarm clocks and brick-bats. A fire was started and each Freshman, as he danced past threw his dink—the symbol of veridancy—into the flames.

Many of the more serious minded of them sat up late trying to figure out where the catch came in. It is generally agreed that the remaining rule constitutes the catch. This is the first year in many, however, that the rules have been taffed off before Commencement, so even at that the Frosh are rather fortunate.

HEAVY RAIN POSTPONED JUNIATA TENNIS MEET

Due to the heavy rain and wet courts, on Saturday morning, May 2nd, the date set for the intercollegiate tennis match between Juniata and Susquehanna, the match was indefinitely called off. This proved to be a great disappointment for the local team, since elimination tournaments were held during the past weeks to choose a suitable team for this occasion. In all probability the game will be scheduled at some future date.

New Susquehanna Staff Elected

ORVILLE LANDIS ELECTED AS EDITOR IN CHIEF. SAM FROST ELECTED AS BUSINESS MANAGER. NEW STAFF TAKES OVER DUTIES IMMEDIATELY

Thursday, April 30, the first election under the new constitution of the Susquehanna Publishing Association was held after chapel for the purpose of selecting the staff for the ensuing year. The election was a keenly interesting one, as there were so many aspirants to each office. With the chosen staff, The Susquehanna has great prospects for having a successful year.

The results of the election were as follows: Orville Landis, editor-in-chief; Sam Frost, business manager; Harold Swank, managing editor; Miles McLain, news editor; Hayes Gordon, athletic editor.

The assistants on the reportorial staff were elected from the Freshman class. They were: Mary Farling, B. Atwood Weaver, Patsy Gimme, and Gregory Morning.

Assistants on the business staff were also from the Frosh. Willis Pratt, Wilfred Fuge, Fred Sleigle and Quentin Parsons are the representatives.

Sophs Ahead In Interclass Meet

DAUBENSPECK, KOCH, SALEM, STEFFEN AND SLEIGLE TAKE FIRST PLACES IN VARIOUS EVENTS. SECOND HALF WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK

The first half of the annual outdoor interclass track meet, which was run off last Wednesday, ended in a big lead for the Sophomores. Competition is unusually keen this year and the result is that very low time prevails in the track events.

For those following Susquehanna's track prospects, Capt. Sleigle's showing in the high hurdles is very encouraging, for it was generally supposed the team would be exceptionally weak in that event, but his time of 17.9 seconds, proves otherwise.

Others showing brilliant form and winning first places are Koch, Salem, Steffen and Daubenspeck.

The remaining events will be run off this week and the final results purchased in the next issue.

MAY DAY FETE VERY SUCCESSFUL; HELEN BULLOCK THE QUEEN OF MAY

Most Elaborate May Day Program Ever Held on Susquehanna's Campus. Large Throng Witness Coronation and Subsequent Exercises

The annual May Day Fete at Susquehanna University was celebrated on Saturday, May 2, 1925. The day dawned rather threateningly, but despite the fear that showers might dampen the spirits of the participants, final preparations were concluded and at 1:30 in the afternoon the cortege gathered in front of Seibert Hall to get in line for the procession which crossed the campus and halted near the queen's throne.

First came the Moose Lodge Band, which was led by Lester Lutz as drum major. Following the band the procession was as follows: Flower Chain, Prime Minister, Queen Helen, Lady-in-Waiting, Pages, Court Jesters, and subjects.

Harland Fague, as Prime Minister, delivered a very fine proclamation.

Orchestra Rendered Middleburg Concert

GAVE PROGRAM FOR LARGE AND APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE. THE VOCAL NUMBERS BY PROFESSOR KOCH ENJOYED GREATLY. HOME CONCERT THURSDAY

ORCHESTRA

The Susquehanna Orchestra gave its first concert at Middleburg Friday night, May 1st, in the court house auditorium. The orchestra traveled from Susquehanna to Middleburg in cars. Altho the weather was unfavorable the people of the town were anxious to hear the concert and a large number were present.

Under the skillful leadership of Miss LaQuay, each selection was played successfully and was well received by an appreciative audience. They enjoyed especially the vocal numbers by Professor Koch.

The orchestra will give its home concert on Thursday night of this week in the new Chapel Hall. Tickets are only fifty cents, and the orchestra expects the support of the student body. Do you, as students, really appreciate a College Orchestra? If you do, come out and support them. They have a very fine program and you will enjoy it.

Y. M. C. A. HELD VERY INSPIRING MEETING

Ralph Gramley, Jacob Kroen and Roger Blough Discussed the Subject of Total Abstinence

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting in 'Chio Hall on Tuesday evening. The devotional service was in charge of Mr. Oscar Feenan, a student in the Seminary. Total abstinence was the subject which was discussed by Gramley, Kroen and Blough.

"Does total abstinence harm the body?" All time spent in things detrimental to the body both physically and mentally is harmful and can only be classed as waste. Tobacco and

S. U. TRACK TEAM WILL MEET DREXEL

The varsity track squad journeys to Philadelphia next Saturday to meet Drexel Institute in a dual meet. The opponents were defeated by a slight margin on the home track last spring. The meet should be an interesting one, being the first track event of the season in which S. U.'s whole team will be able to show its ability on the cinders and on the field.

which was followed by the coronation of Queen Helen, who looked lovelier than ever in her royal robe of white and purple. Music was furnished by the University Orchestra after the presentations to the queen by her subjects.

After the queen's proclamation, the revelers set to work to entertain the new ruler with songs and dancing, which was made more colorful by the Scottish Highland Fling, the Old Fashioned Minuet, the Dutch and Irish dances, and the Japanese dance; all of which were given in the quaint dress and costumes of the respective countries.

The students of the Music Conservatory gave a scene in the operetta from "The Pirates of Penzance." Jacob Kroen took the part of the Pirate, and surely no real pirate ever looked more fierce nor could act more real than did he. Certainly there never was a pirate with so fine a voice. Margaret Morning took the part of the heroine, and did justice to her part, especially with her beautiful voice.

After the Polish dance, the dance around the May Pole concluded the festivities of the queen's entertainment. This dance was very beautiful as the girls danced around the May Pole, slowly winding and re-winding the gay ribbons.

May Day was held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and was financially beneficial. The cake and ice cream, candy and lemonade booths on the campus were well patronized and in spite of the overhanging clouds, May Day was a decided success.

Interclass Baseball Began Last Week

JUNIORS LOST TO FRESHMEN GAME BETWEEN JUNIORS AND THEOLOGS CALLED BECAUSE OF DARKNESS. THE STANDS OFFER MANY SUGGESTIONS

On last Monday evening, April 27th, the Juniors and Frosh opened the interclass baseball schedule. The batteries were Young and Dubivecky for the Juniors, and Haney and Rurick for the Frosh. Haney was at all times the master of the Juniors and but for errors on the part of his teammates, would have shut the Juniors out without a run. Young also pitched a good game, but was given very poor support in the field. The final score was 9 to 4, favor of the Frosh.

Wednesday evening the Juniors tied up again, this time with the Seminary. Batteries were Kroen and Dubivecky for the Juniors, Cole and Derr for the Seminary. In a very loosely played game the Juniors won by the score of 9 to 7.

Altho neither games showed any of the teams up to big league form, the spectators all got a big kick out of the game, and the teams were all grateful for the many timely tips that were called to them at different times.

GLEE CLUB WILL GIVE CONCERT IN CHAPEL HALL

The annual home concert of the Men's Glee Club of Susquehanna University will be given in the new Chapel Hall on Thursday night, May 14th at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets are now on sale by members of the club. Admission price, 50c; reserved seats, 10c extra. Order your reserved seat ticket early as only a limited supply will be available.

NEW STAFF

With this issue of The Susquehanna, a new staff takes up the work of publishing this paper, where the old staff had to leave off. The retiring staff has done its work well and surely deserves the gratitude and appreciation of the student body for its splendid effort to give to Susquehanna a better paper. It has done its best and according to the conviction of many, it has produced the best paper that Susquehanna has ever had.

Why then the anxiety for such unjust criticism? That which is so evidently a part of the campus life, the fact that criticism appeared in the paper, had the contrary to express criticisms in a more straightforward manner and it certainly robbed the article of much of its effectiveness. The staff welcomes criticism at all times, but let it be given in a constructive spirit and with the sincere desire to help rather than hinder. If anyone has any criticism to make or any suggestions to offer, let him please give the staff his cooperation now. Do not wait until our work is done and then find fault because that will not secure the least amount of good, and conditions will not be improved a particle.

Fellow students, alumni and friends send in your articles and editorials and the staff will be glad to use them. If it can. We are just as anxious to make The Susquehanna a truly representative paper as you are to have it so, and we ask your cooperation.

We are grateful to the student body for the confidence that they placed in us by entrusting their newspaper to our management. We shall strive to be worthy of that confidence and we shall endeavor to publish a weekly that will be perfectly democratic and completely representative of every phase of Susquehanna's campus life.

Y. M. C. A. HELD VERY INSPIRING MEETING

drink certainly harm the body in every way. To get all out of life we can not indulge in these harmful habits, in other words life is too valuable to throw it away by the use of such things which are unnecessary. No person can do his or her work well under the influence of these stimulants. It is harmful to education and religion and without these life does not mean anything. Take religion away from S. P. and there is nothing left.

The Roman civilization, which was mighty and powerful crashed to the earth never to regain its former power, because its people went to too many feasts, banquets, luxuries, triumphs and catering to the rich and their common life was ruined. They were conquered by those who lived the plain life, namely the Huns or the Germans, from the North.

Every person is responsible for his body which is the "Temple of God," even St. Paul exhorts us "to present our bodies a living sacrifice wholly and acceptable unto God." We are created in the image of God and to Him our bodies belong and they are ours only in trust. If the body is not kept in the manner which He wants them to be we cannot inherit the kingdom of God.

Sense and Nonsense

May Day
Boosting S. U.

No more fitting way to celebrate the advent of Springtime on our campus can be had than the May Day way. This day the material gives place to the aesthetic and all the Spirits of Dance, Song, Play, and Laughter are permitted to indulge themselves and us practical mortals in one grand welcome to the most beautiful season of the year. Whatever the thought behind the day may be, we can be reasonably sure that in this day, if in no other, selfishness is made to play a very minor role and that its purpose is to allow us to dwell for a short time amid the unseen things of real value. We should not forget to be very grateful to those who have fostered the May Day idea and carried it thru so successfully, for not only have they given us pleasure unlimited, but they have brot us in close association with a higher world and even tho we linger there but a moment we cannot fail to be influenced in some manner by the contact.

One of the biggest factors in the progress of men is their ability to get together, to cooperate, to sit in assembly and plan for the common good. Where the motive back of the cooperation is good and beneficial, the results are bound to have an uplifting influence. Just such a cooperation as this should exist between the University and Selingrove, and we believe one does exist. One of the best evidences of this mutual life is now being forwarded by a representative group of townsmen. They have begun the construction of signs at either end of Selingrove on the main highway, telling the world and its travelers they are about to enter or leave Selingrove, a flourishing town and the home of Susquehanna University. This will reflect credit both to the town and the University and for their initiative and public spiritedness we call for a rising vote of thanks to the very wide awake and thoughtful men of Selingrove.

The Farewell Party for the Seniors given by the Junior Class was a decided success from every standpoint. It was one of the good times that have a way of happening only once in a long while and every member of the party will have a hard time to forget it, and an equally difficult task waiting for the next. The class as a whole can well be commended and the only result of the Party that may have been overlooked for is its likelihood of causing some of the Seniors to refuse to leave school.

It matters not how dark the day or how the wind dth blow Horton's famous brand of home-frozen ice cream seems never to be left in the cold. It is one of the many things Mr. Horton is directly responsible for and must contain part cream and part personality.

Of course it is hard to say but we wonder whether the "neither touch, taste, nor handle" pledge could have been found useful on Saturday evening.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Athletic Association will be held immediately following the morning chapel service Thursday, May 7th. At this time four non-graduate representatives on the Board will be elected.

At the same time two Assistant Basketball Managers will be elected and action also taken on the proposed amendment to the Constitution, said amendment providing for the election of Sub-Assistants in Track. Coupon No. 27 will be the ballot.

COLLEGE

Hanks '24, was visited by "His Girl" over the week-end.

Daubenspeck and Boyer attended the Y. M. C. A. conference at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster.

Don Rhodes met the train from Lewistown Saturday afternoon?

Mr. Gramley was absent from the campus Friday evening. Business.

Harrisburg missed Cassel and Stroup over the week-end.

Barnes '25, attended the orchestra's concert at Middleburg on Friday evening.

Enders was visited by his mother and sister over the week-end.

Moldenke was visited by his parents on May Day.

Harry Pitman, ex-'27, was on the campus over the week-end.

Duden, ex-'28, attended the May Day exercises.

Mr. Wilson, of Carnegie Tech, was the guest of Landis over the week-end.

SEIBERT HALL

Dear Jeanette:

This has certainly been anything but a dull weekend. I am sorry that you could not be here, for you would have enjoyed being among the many visitors who helped break the monotony in Seibert Hall. A number of your old school mates were here for May Day.

Jeanette, you remember Betty Kauffman from Davidsville, and Stella Risser from Manheim. Lucy Hanks was here from Dalmatia, where she is teaching this year, and Dot Rothermel from Herndon. Mary Beck and Mildred Winston were very much disappointed when I told them that you couldn't come. I was glad to see Lilian Auman, altho she was only here for a few hours.

May Day was a big success in spite of the threatening weather, which didn't succeed in keeping away many strangers who were among our other visitors. You remember of having met Helen Goynne and Katherine Kell last fall. They entertained Suzanne Heinze, Alice Seibert, Mary Hunzinger and Margaret Wallauer from Ashland. That town was certainly well represented for Elsie Wetzel also had two guests from there, Edith Hornherzer and Mary Rechner.

On Saturday I met several girls from Jersey Shore, some of whom you probably know. They were Marie Eckert, Elizabeth Waters and Sara Kilt, Ellen Bonney, Bill's sister, and Katherine Morning came for the party which the Juniors gave on Saturday evening. It certainly was a wonderful party. Do you know Stella Shadle from Kilgerstown? She and Inez Burns from Sunbury, spent the week-end with Anna Latsha. A Mrs. Clyde Cook from Duncannon, and Mrs. Fee-man, from Turbotville, were also here.

You remember "De," do you not? She entertained Eleanor Sholder from Williamsport. Esther Bond and Hazel Hoyt were here from Nesqueh.

I was present at a very elaborate feed in room 21. The old rendezvous, you know. Besides the old bunch, Edith Littley and Laura Hoover, who are both teaching in Williamsport, were there. Also Olga Lease from Friedens. We had some feed. I believe I have told you the names of practically all of our visitors as you asked me to do.

I am still expecting you to come to S. U. for a week-end and even tho it isn't May Day, I will promise you a good time.

With love,
Peg.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Tuesday at 6:30 in the Chapel. This meeting was of special importance, as the new officers were installed. After the scripture lesson, the installation of officers took place. Miss Barbara De Remer is the new president, assisted by Helen Yeungst, vice president; Naomi Fogle, secretary, and Martha Ertel, treasurer. The Y. W. C. A. wishes the new officers the best of success in their work.

Heard at the Recital

My next selection will be a ditty entitled "The Commercial Trust of Indiana," formerly "The Banks of the Wabash." After this we will conclude with "The Stolen Rope," more familiarly known as "The Lost Chord."

SEMINARY

Derr '27, was visited by a number of friends from his home on Sunday. Among the number was his brother, James, as well as his uncle, and his bosom boy friend, "Peck" Young.

Cole '25, received a visit from his friend and classmate, Miss Stella Risser, '23. Miss Risser spent May Day and the Sabbath with John.

Kepner '27, was seen upon the campus during the May Day exercises, but since then he has been a minus quantity. By the way we wish to remark that he was seen in company with his wife, Mrs. Lottie Brosius-Kepner, '24.

Dagle '25, supplied in the Bellefonte Lutheran Church on Sunday. No doubt a few climbs about the hills in that city will better equip Dave for his work upon the African Continent.

Law '26, disappeared from Gustavus Adolphus on Thursday. No doubt he went on another fishing trip. We expect some good yarns next week.

After classes on Friday we saw Ed Johns go sullying down the street with a grip. Somebody said he was going to the city of Philadelphia. Now Mr. Johns is a member of the class of '27, and we don't suspect any serious developments, but we ordinarily don't expect a man to go so far for church services.

Beahn '27, another inhabitant of the third floor, was absent from our May Day exercises. The lure of the Aaronsburg district must be enticing!

It's funny how one fellow gets home sick when his roommate goes home to see his girl. That's the reason why Knoebel '27, decided to spend the week-end in Elyshurg rather than pass it alone.

Kaufman '25, supplied in the Thompsonstown charge on Sunday. He was also visited by his brother and sister on Saturday.

HUMOR

The school is in need of a dentist to work on the new pipe organ. It's a Moller.

A volume on "How to Open a Susquehanna in Class," has been started and will be respectfully dedicated to Miss Grace Stohler.

Stover: "I'd call the fellow that hid behind a girl's skirt a coward!"
Gordon: "I wouldn't. I'd call him a magician."

Clark: "Do you sing in the the Glee Club?"
Olson: "Yes."
Clark: "What?"
Olson: "Whatever the rest sing."

Song of the Stude

I can stand having hash every day in the week, but when on Sunday they put raisins in and call it mince pie, I draw the line.

And he has lived to see it Back in 1885, Thomas A. Edison succeeded in transmitting electricity at 220 volts for one mile — an achievement and a promise.

The promise was fulfilled a few months ago, when electricity at 220,000 volts was transmitted two hundred and forty miles to supply Los Angeles with light and power.

Now five billion dollars are invested in electric power plants. A stupendous figure that testifies to the alertness of thousands of college-trained men who have been leaders in the production and use of electric power.

The electrical era has only dawned. Each year some new machine or discovery makes it possible to apply electricity in unexpected ways. The graduate of today will find electricity directly or indirectly a means for even greater accomplishments, no matter what his calling in life may be.

In 1881 Edison shipped to the Paris Exposition his "Jumbo" dynamo—eighth wonder of the world. It could light 1000 lamps. Now there are GE generators large enough to supply current for over a million lamps, each with four times the candle-power of the lamp of 1881. The General Electric Company produces other electrical apparatus which makes it possible to transmit power over great distances. It has put electricity in seven-league boots. In its laboratories, scientists are now experimenting with voltages ten times as great as the highest now in use.

If you are interested in learning more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

MODERN MARATHON

The presence on the campus of a modern low gear marathon was revealed here recently by official investigation of a rumor. The rumor is that a certain member of the Glee Club started to walk or hike from Pittsburgh to S. U. He took the highway traversed by bums, gunmen and the like with the result that he had to walk about 150 miles of the distance. When asked why he did not take a train rather than walk so far, he replied that he wanted to walk. Further investigation, however, tends to show that he had given his money to his traveling partner (Carlson) as a precaution against weakening on the journey. But Carlson weakened. He took a train and the money too, which left our hero out in the cold. Not literally! This appears to be a more plausible explanation for continuing so protracted a journey afoot.

Nevertheless, the purpose here is not to extend the razzberry to the ex-empire booming basso, but rather to show that it is necessity rather than hereditary, predestination or foreordination that makes men truly great. What a stroke of fate to take an ordinary lump of human clay, and by the force of necessity raise it to the pinnacle of achievement worthy of the attention of our writers of modern epic poetry!

TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY

SCHUYLKILL AND MORAVIAN

Susquehanna racquet squad travels to Reading to play Schuylkill College this coming Friday, and on Saturday they meet Moravian away.

The elimination contests have been completed altho the exact makeup of the team is not known at present.

Harold Stong, has been chosen acting coach and from past performances on the courts will ably fill the position.

Sungel Allison, a veteran of three years at the game on our campus, has been elected playing manager for the coming season.

Great things are expected of our squad this year as some very promising material has shown up. Among them are Long, Blough, Streamer, Ebberth and Salem. Reed, a Freshman this year, is also showing good form at the net game.

FAREWELL PARTY

HUGE SUCCESS

inch blue and pink fringe of crepe paper. Each hoop being fastened about eight inches above the one below it. The whole centerpiece being about ten feet high. About the fringe were strung garlands of pink flowers. Twisted blue and pink streamers radiated to the balcony, forming almost a solid ceiling. Flower decorated branches were fastened to the balcony, on which was scattered pink crepe moss.

The walls downstairs were covered with streamers producing a latticed effect. The orchestra was not forgotten as far as decorations were concerned. They had an arched background of evergreens, and were separated from the party revelers by a low fence. A booth effect was used for the punch, which was enjoyed by all. This elaborate decorating was planned by Mr. Jack Frost, and it might be said, that the Junior Class can be proud to have one of his ability who is willing and ready to give his untiring efforts to such an occasion. He was assisted, however, by a faithful committee, which consisted of Misses Hoyt, Larson, Birk, Gaugler, and Riegler, and Messrs. Popeano, Landis, Spiegelmeyer, Persing and Faust.

As the time of parting drew near the spirit of farewell was shown towards the class of '25. These four years are near the end and soon the members of the class of '25 will each one be taking a different path, for the crossroads are near. Some might meet again and some faces may never be seen. However, Seniors be brave and meet your task with courage, for you are embarking upon the wide sea of life. With this we say a big farewell!—"Farewell."

SUSQUEHANNA NINE WINS AGAIN; TRIMS URSINUS TO TUNE OF 7-1

Captain Clark Pitched S. U. to Second Victory Within a Week. Hitting of Kurtz a Feature of the Game; Whole Team Gave Good Support

The local diamond was the scene of another win last Friday, when the Ursinus nine was set back to the score of 7-1.

Captain Clark, on the mound for the second time within a week, allowed only five scattered hits. The support given him was a feature and the three game trip this coming week-end should mean as many victories if the same brand of ball is played.

Kurtz and Baird had little trouble in finding Dehm, the visiting moundsman, as they collected three and two hits respectively, one of Kurtz's being a three-bagger. Bolig, Hanner and Weaver each came thru with one hit. Gelnett made a spectacular catch in the eighth inning.

Thomas and Hanner opened the fray in fine fashion, each scoring one run in the first inning. Thomas again scored in the eighth episode and held down the hot corner without an error. Hanner collected a single from Dehm and covered first base with the same form as against Juniata. Weaver and Kurtz made some fine catches in the outfield and had no trouble getting under the Ursinus flies.

The guests were held scoreless till the eighth session, when Dehm scored their lone tally. Ursinus played a rather loose brand of ball thruout.

The box score is as follows:

Susquehanna		R	H	O	A	E

Glee Club Will Give Home Concert

MUCH ANTICIPATED CONCERT TO BE GIVEN IN SEIBERT CHAPEL HALL THURSDAY, MAY 14. END OF A SUCCESSFUL SEASON. CLUB OFFERS FINE PROGRAM

The Susquehanna University Men's Glee Club will give the final and annual home concert of the season next Thursday evening, May 14th, 1925, in Seibert Chapel Hall, at 8:15 o'clock. As announced in last week's issue of The Susquehanna, tickets are on sale by all members of the club. The price for admission is 50c, and 10c extra for a reserved seat. The reserved seat card is in the hands of Business Manager Joseph E. Law, but any one desiring reserved seats can make arrangements for the same thru any member of the club. As only a limited number of reserved seats are available, it is important that arrangements for reserved seats be made in good time.

This concert closes one of the most successful Glee Club seasons in the history of the club. Not as many concerts were booked as in former years, but the concerts given this year were in larger cities than heretofore. Very excellent comments were received wherever the Glee Club appeared, and at places where the club has been for two or more successive years, it was said that this year's program was even better than ever before.

The success of this premier musical organization is largely due to the persistent efforts of the hard-working members in cooperation with Prof. E. Concluded on Page 3

Judson House Will Sing Here June 8th

POPULAR AMERICAN TENOR WHO WILL GIVE A JOINT PROGRAM OF ORGAN AND VOICE; SANG IN RECITAL, CONCERT, ORATORIO, OPERA; ORCHESTRA SOLOIST

Judson House, the popular American tenor, who sings here Monday, June 8 in Seibert Chapel Hall, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and is an American tenor in every sense of the word, having received his entire artistic education in this country.

JUDSON HOUSE

F. E. Miller, the famous head specialist, is credited with having "discovered" House's voice. When the tenor was a boy singing in the choir of St. Mark's Church, Brooklyn, he went to the specialist for a slight disorder in his nose. The doctor looked down his throat and told him that he had "just about a million dollars in that throat of yours."

Mr. Miller had such confidence in the eighteen-year-old boy's ability to become a star in the singing world that he financed his first lessons with Adelaide Geschmidt, the well known New York teacher, to whom he gives entire credit for his success, having studied with no other teacher.

At twenty, the tenor appeared as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra, under Walter Damrosch, with such success that his future was assured. From that time on he has forged steadily ahead filling important engagements all over the country. He recently received the honorary degree of Master of Music from Valparaiso University.

COACH GROSSMAN'S TRACK SQUAD DEFEATED DREXEL LAST SATURDAY

Track Captain Sleight Won Four First Places; Lubold and Salem Capture Distance Runs and Koch First in Low Hurdles. Horton takes Discus

On Saturday, May 9 Susquehanna University defeated Drexel Institute, at the Strawbridge and Clothier field in Philadelphia, for the second consecutive year. Last year at Selinsgrove the Engineers were defeated by a score of 66 to 60, and on Saturday, after a thrilling meet, the Drexel colors were again lowered, this time by a score of 68 to 58.

To make the Susquehanna under artists' victory more remarkable, was the distance they had to travel by auto on the day of the meet, and the daylight saving time in Philadelphia, which made it necessary to start at two-thirty standard time. The score does not clearly indicate the Crusaders' superiority over their rivals, because when victory seemed certain.

Coach Grossman did not enter his best in the closing events, rather giving his new men the benefit of the experience.

Out of a possible fourteen first places Susquehanna captured ten, four of them being garnered by her brilliant Captain Sleight, who incidentally broke the school records in the high hurdles, clearing the timbers in seventeen seconds flat, and the broad jump by leaping twenty feet three inches. His other firsts were in the hundred and two-hundred yard dashes.

For Drexel, the individual star was Shippard, Germantown star last year, who nosed out Swank in the half mile, clipping it off in two minutes eight and one-tenth seconds, and also annexing the four-hundred yard dash. The bitterest pill of all for the host to swallow was the defeat of her Captain Antes in all his starts. First it was Lubold, also setting a record of 4.58 in the mile, who defeated him, and later Salem lowered his colors by far outdistancing him in the two mile.

Steffen, by vaulting ten feet 3 inches, raised the school record by one inch, and Daubenspeck came into his own by hurling the javelin into a first place. Koch as usual set a fast pace in the low hurdles, winning easily, while Popeano placed both in the two-hundred and the four-hundred yard dashes. Of the new men, Horton stood out most prominently. The big boy captured first in the discus and also came thru in the shot put by winning second place. Other new men on the squad who deserve mention are Fuge, who placed second in the high hurdles, and F. Sleight, who placed third in the low.

Susquehanna can be proud of her first track triumph of the season. The strength of her team indicates that she will make a creditable showing with any school in her class and the squad as a whole should receive the heartiest support of the student body.

This next week-end the team will compete for honors in the Central Pennsylvania Track Conference at Harrisburg. It will be remembered that in this meet last year our team won a beautiful trophy and it is expected that our team will retain it if the trophy is won by any school for three consecutive years. It becomes the permanent possession of that school. We can win it and we shall.

Tennis Tournament Here Next Saturday

M. A. S. C. A. A. WILL PRELIMINARY MATCHES ON S. U. COURTS SIX CENTRAL PENNA. COLLEGES TO COMPETE; SUSQUEHANNA'S TEAM IS ENTERED

Local courts are to be the scene of much action this week-end, as the Middle Atlantic States Tennis Tournament is to be held here. The preliminary contests of the M. A. S. C. A. A. will take place at Susquehanna next Saturday, May 16. Once more our athletic facilities are chosen as an ideal location to hold a league meet. The tennis squads of Bucknell, Lebanon Valley, Albright, Franklin and Marshall and Gettysburg as well as our own shall be seen in action. This is the first time such a contest will take place on the home courts and should be of great interest to tennis fans thruout Pennsylvania.

From the showing made last week against Juniata our team stands a good chance of coming out with flying colors altho much larger schools are competing. The matches are scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

Doctor Surface Gave Talk On Evolution

SAID THAT THE TRUE THEORY OF EVOLUTION CAN NOT CONFLICT WITH CHRISTIANITY BECAUSE IT RUNS PARALLEL WITH IT; JOINT Y. M. AND Y. W. MEETING

Dr. H. A. Surface gave a very interesting talk at a joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on the topic of Darwinism and its relation to Christianity. He said in part:

We are living in a world of change. All our experiences, all of our lives has to do with these changes. Underlying all of our studies whatever they may be, we are confronted with three sets of problems.

1. How can we cause desirable changes to take place?
2. How can we prevent undesirable changes from taking place?
3. How can we best meet the unavoidable changes?

Many of the changes that go on about us are of a cyclic nature; that is, they keep on repeating themselves, for example, eggs hatch, individuals

Orchestra Concert Greatly Enjoyed

ANNUAL HOME CONCERT OF ORCHESTRA THE BEST GIVEN HERE FOR YEARS. FLOWERS GIVEN MISS LAQUAY. TO PLAY FOR ALUMNI PAGEANT

Susquehanna University Orchestra gave its annual home concert in the new Seibert Music Hall last Thursday evening at 8:15. The Orchestra was under the artistic directorship of M. Vera LaQuay, assisted by Prof. A. R. Koch, tenor, and Mr. Nevius, flutist, from the Danville Symphony Orchestra. The special features of the program were the tenor solos by Prof. Koch, with orchestral accompaniment, the violin solos by Miss Schlemmer and Mr. Bickel, and the bell solos by Miss Krebs. As usual Prof. Koch's beautiful voice was very pleasing and greatly appreciated. During the concert two beautiful baskets of roses and carnations were presented to Miss LaQuay, one of the baskets was from the members of the orchestra in appreciation of the time and effort she has spent as their director, and

I. N. A. CONFERENCE

Another successful Conference of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association has been held, this time at Ursinus, and many new Editors and new Business Managers have received a lot of valuable advice and help from men who are greatly experienced in the newspaper game. Among those who received much valuable aid were the Editor and Business Manager of The Susquehanna, who attended the Conference over the week-end. Ursinus is a wonderful host and the stay was very enjoyable as well as being helpful.

Many suggestions were given, some of which we shall try to carry out. An unusually fine group of speakers were there who gave much helpful information, and many accounts of interesting personal experiences.

After a sumptuous banquet Dr. George F. Omwake, president of Ursinus College, gave an address of welcome, in which he did more than welcome the delegates feel welcome, for he offered several helpful hints on Journalism. Dr. Jas. McVlin Lee, head of the Department of Journalism, off New York University, then gave a very interesting and entertaining talk on various ways to make a College paper interesting not only to the students, but to them and to the Alumni as well. George W. Douglass, chief Editorial writer of the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, then spoke on the question, "Does the Editor have a call?" He stated that it is the duty and the privilege of an editor to greatly influence the readers of his paper if first that Editor has the correct information and the proper outlook himself. The concluding address was made by J. Hampton Moore, former Mayor of Philadelphia who spoke of the College Man in Government. As he says it is not absolutely necessary to have a College Education, but it is mighty convenient. A business session on Saturday morning concluded the conference.

FORDS

An epidemic of Fords has again struck Susquehanna's campus, and the old reliables are getting new playmates. Good Fords and bad Fords, new Fords and old Fords, incidentally the latter outnumber the others, in fact all kinds of Fords may be seen scurrying about the campus and the town like scared kittens. What matters it to the College youth that the car costs but thirty or forty dollars? Who cares if they can't be taken out of Selinsgrove for fear of not being able to get them back again? It is considered "Collegiate" to own an old Ford, and so the boys get them. Anywhere that is Collegiate must always be taken up without question, and as a result of this kind of philosophy, the College youth is likely to take up most anything, and he does.

Of course the boys have their troubles and there are as many varieties of trouble as there are Fords. For a few examples, Art has great trouble in keeping his spark plugs polished and Harley needs must hide the sterling wheel that he may know where the Ford is at all times. Ted has to keep his on a grade in order to get it started and Gus has to stay upon the campus, for half of the time he can't find his license. Even the Athletic Association has caught the fever and has purchased a chariot that would make even "Arby" swear.

And so they come and go. Those here now won't last long, but others will take their place as long as it is Collegiate to own an old Ford. We get an epidemic of them every Spring and they are getting to be as sure a sign of that season as violets and apple blossoms.

DR. SURFACE SAYS

TALK ON EVOLUTION

develop to maturity, reproduce themselves, and die. But the following year we see a repetition of the same life histories, and so on, generation after generation. In other words, life forms or life stages repeat themselves, generation after generation, in the same sense as seasonal conditions of weather repeat themselves.

While much of the happenings in the universe are of a cyclic nature, there may nevertheless be, for the world as a whole, a certain continuity of change that has been called evolution. It is not necessary to prove that all changes are cyclic, nor that all changes are altogether evolutionary. It is quite reasonable and consistent to recognize that both kinds of changes do actually take place.

As we turn over the pages of science we find many evidences of evolution. (a) Fossil evidences of evolution. If it would be possible for man to cut a large slice down into the interior of the earth he would find different layers or strata of rock, in these different layers of rock he would find the fossils of bygone days, left there by creatures that roamed over the face of the earth millions of years ago, taking the lowest level of rock which contains no fossils, and going up, he would go from the period of invertebrates up in the scale of life to the age of fishes and thence up to the amphibians, reptiles, birds, mammals and finally to the greatest and last "the age of man."

(b) Evidence of evolution from structures of organisms. Taking for example an oak tree, we may travel far and wide and see oak trees in all parts of the world, but still even to the most casual observer they would still be oaks. Thus we take it for granted that they are all related to one another in the same sense that we speak of our cousins and second cousins being related. That is to say, we believe that they are descended from common ancestors.

(c) Evidence from development. In the study of the development of an individual we find that he passes through a series of more or less distinct stages, and the farther back we go toward the one called stage, the more and more are these stages like the corresponding stages of other species of organisms.

(d) Vestigial structures. Among plants and animals we find certain organs that are quite useless, for example (the vermiform appendix in man), but which are persistent thruout the group.

(e) Geographic evidences. As we travel to different parts of the world we find that the plants and animals differ from one another to some extent, take an island for example, it has flowers on it that differ greatly from those on the mainland, yet it can be seen that they have certain resemblances and it would seem as tho they had adapted themselves to the climate and the surroundings.

Thus far we have discussed the mere proof of evolution, but now let us turn our attention to the theories explaining how evolution takes place.

(a) The Lamarckian Theory. The French zoologist, Lamarck, came to the conclusion that "All that has been acquired, begun or changed in the structure of an individual in the course of its life is preserved in reproduction and transmitted to the new individuals which spring from that which has experienced the change."

(b) The Selection Theory. The selection theory, or the theory of natural selection is associated with the name of Charles Darwin. The theory maintains that "Animal and plant species evolve thru the selective actions of the environment, which kills off those individuals in each generation that are least adapted to the conditions of life"—a process resulting in the "Survival of the fittest."

After reading and thinking over the various theories of evolution we find no just cause to convince us of the fact that there is a conflict between the theories of evolution and the teachings of the Bible, but rather that they run in parallel lines, and in light of the fact that parallel lines do not meet there can be no conflict. Therefore, let us look upon them as going hand in hand, knowing that each has for its purpose the betterment of the race of man.

Sense and Nonsense

The largest factor in promoting growth is to have a definite reasonable objective to achieve. For our University to have several goals to attain to, several improvements to work for in a definite time would mean a stimulation that could accomplish great things.

The summer of 1927 should find on our campus a number of much needed things. We will mention a few and you may supply the remainder. A Library building, fully equipped and having a regular librarian in attendance, would prove a most decided boost. This building could also provide space for several other departments that are at present time poorly provided for or are rapidly outgrowing their present quarters. The Gym, excellent as it is, must soon be enlarged in order to accommodate the increased student body and to take care of the additional attendance at games. The Conservatory needs attention and if the growth in that department continues, must have it.

We do not infer that no progress has been made at the present time, for Susquehanna has grown more in the last five years than in ten or fifteen previous to that, but we would like to see a bigger and better Susquehanna emerging from the present school.

We further believe the best improvement that can be made is to increase the student body. On that depends all and if we once can boast of five hundred resident students, the other difficulties will vanish and a bigger and finer Susquehanna materially and scholastically improved will breathe the spirit of a new day.

INTERCLASS BASEBALL

The Sophomore baseball team defeated the Theologians in the class tilt Thursday evening in the best twilight game of the season. This was the second scheduled game for the Sophs, but was their initial performance, the former game having been forfeited by Seniors. Both teams played excellent ball, there being fewer errors than in any class game of the year.

Swank, the notable Sophomore southpaw, greatly surprised the preachers by his unique delivery and allowed his opponents but three hits during the fray. The Sophomores held the Theologians to a 5 to 0 score, until the fifth inning when they managed to garner 2 runs. The result of this game places the Sophomores tie with the Freshmen for first place in the race for class trophy.

The other game of Thursday evening was the Junior and Senior battle. The Junior battery was Young and Dubbeyke while Dunkel and Barnes performed for the Seniors. In the third inning the game was called on account of darkness with the Juniors on the long end of an 8 to 5 victory. The hitting of Mitchell and Wagner featured the game, each getting a triple, and Mitchell also got a homer. The surveying class must have been out, as they were having an awful time deciding just where first base really did belong.

Tennis Team Lost

Two and Tied One

BROKE EVEN WITH JUNIATA AND LOST TO SCUYLKILL COLLEGE AND MORAVIAN BY SAME SCORE,
5-1, WITH STREAMER WINNING
IN SINGLES

The tennis team broke even with Juniata in their dual contest last Wednesday, each team winning two singles and one double match. The weather was ideal for football but did not seem to affect the S. U. racquet men, as they seemed to show better form than has been shown by any home team for several past seasons.

Lawrence Long and Streamer played fast tennis, both winning their matches in straight sets. Streamer is to be congratulated on his victory as he was paired with Funk a six-foot visitor.

Stong and Blough also played excellent tennis being up against exceptionally strong opponents. Stong's match going three sets and tallied up 8-6, 2-6, 8-6, which tells the games were nip and tuck through out.

Long and Streamer paired in doubles showed he same form as in the singles and easily won their matches in straight sets 6-1, 6-4.

Blough and Stong lost their match in a hotly contested far going to three sets and in ending up stood 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Daley and Hurlock showed best tennis for Juniata, each playing a veteran racquet game thruout. The final scores were as follows:

L. Long of S. U. defeated S. Daley
6-14, 9-7.

J. Ellis of Juniata defeated R.
Blough 6-3, 6-3.

Streamer of S. U. defeated Funk
6-1, 6-3.

Hurlock of Juniata defeated H.
Stong 8-6, 2-6, 8-6.

Ellis and Funk of Juniata defeated
Blough and Stong of S. U. 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Long and Streamer of S. U. defeated
Daley and Hurlock of Juniata 6-1, 6-4.

On Friday the racqueteers invaded Scuykill with the expectation of a victory, but were defeated to the tune of 5-1. Streamer played his usual game and in three sets cleverly defeated his opponent. All the matches were interesting, altho the Susquehanna players were hardly in top form.
Results of match:

Singles—Albright of Schuylkill defeated Long 6-3, 6-3; E. Loose of Schuylkill, defeated Blough 6-1, 6-4;
Mossor of Schuylkill, defeated Stong
6-3, 6-3; Streamer of S. U. defeated
Zehner 8-6, 4-6, 8-6.

Doubles—Albright and R. Loose of Schuylkill defeated Streamer and Long 6-4, 6-2; Mossor and E. Loose of 6-1, 6-1.

At Moravian, where tennis is a specialty the team fared little better than at Schuylkill, losing 5-1. Streamer, of S. U., again demonstrated his ability and after losing the first set defeated his opponent without much effort. The result of the second doubles was in doubt for some time, the first set running for twenty-four games, but the Moravians finally came out the victors.

Results—Singles:

Hoffman defeated Long 6-1, 6-1;
Michaels defeated Blough 4-6, 6-4, 6-1;
Spaul defeated Stong 6-3, 6-3; Streamer of S. U. defeated Zeake 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Doubles—Hoffman and Michaels defeated Long and Streamer 6-1, 6-0; Spaul and Zeake defeated Blough and
Stong 13-11, 6-4.

HAVERFORD AND P. M. C. DEFEATED BY S. U. NINE ON SOUTHERN TRIP

Entire Squad Played Big League Ball in Every Game. Capt. Clark Pitched Two Straight. Hanner Sets Cadets Back 13-8

The S. U. nine traveled to the suburbs of the City of Brotherly Love last weekend and returned with two victories out of three contests. Haverford and P. M. C. were set back in A-1 fashion while Swarthmore bunched hits in one inning and luckily won by 7-3 score. This has been the first time for several seasons that a trip on which schools of such high caliber were met and defeated, which gives credit once more to the smooth working combination Coach Clemens has put together. Both Swarthmore and P. M. C. have strong teams with good records so far this season. The Military College lost its first game to the local nine.

Capt. Clark, after hurling the Haverford game, pitched against Swarthmore the following day. Hanner, using the old southpaw to perfection, found P. M. C. to be his meat and they were repudiated to be the best team of the three.

Haverford

The nine seemed to have little trouble finding the Haverford moundsman and nicked him for 13 hits; Rice, Hanner, Weaver, Geinett, Kurtz and Baird each getting two apiece. Weaver made a beautiful catch on a dead run near the close of the game. The lucky seventh inning started the scoring spree for us, as the first four runs were garnered in this frame. The next innings netted one run apiece and made the grand total six to five in our favor. Capt. Clark allowed only three free trips to first, while eight were handed out by the Haverford moundsman.

Swarthmore

This game was hard-fought thruout and Capt. Clark is to be given credit for the able way the opponents were held down, considering the fact he pitched a hard game for the day previous. Weaver scored first for S. U. in the second inning and Swarthmore was

SORORITY WAS HOST TO FRIENDS AT A VERY ENJOYABLE SPRING PARTY IN THE RECENTLY COMPLETED SOCIAL ROOMS IN THE SEIBERT HALL BASEMENT

An informal party was given by Kappa Delta Phi sorority on Wednesday evening, May 13. This was the first to take place in S. U.'s new social hall and was a truly appropriate initiation.

The hall was made very attractive with K. D. P. banners, pennants and cushions. Very delightful music was rendered by Messrs. Reichenbach and Messner.

After a very novel entertainment the party ended, and it is hoped that this social hall will be the scene of many more such pleasurable events.

Christie Zimmerman Is 1925 Valedictorian

WAS ALSO HONOR STUDENT IN HER CLASS IN SELINGROVE HIGH SCHOOL. FOUR OF THE HONOR STUDENTS TO SPEAK AT COMMENCEMENT

Miss Christie Zimmerman, of Selingrove, Pa., won the valedictory honors in the Class of 1925, according to the announcement by Dr. Aikens, for the Commencement Exercises to be held June 10th.

Miss Zimmerman also was the honor student in the Class of 1921 in the Selingrove High School and won the State Scholarship in Snyder county in a competitive examination.

Others to take honors qualified in this order: Miss Hazel Herrold and Mrs. Florence Glace Ronberger, both of Port Trevorton; Marlin E. Grubb, Liverpool; A. Ellsworth Grove, Jr., Millmont; and Samuel E. Allison, Luther Salem and Miss Sara Brungart, all of Selingrove.

It is of interest to note that most of these honor students are from Snyder county and that four of them are from Selingrove itself. Does this mean that one can study more efficiently at home than in a dormitory?

PHI MUL DELTA MINSTRELS TONIGHT

Phi Mu Delta fraternity will present their minstrel show tonight in the new Chapel Hall. The proceeds will be used for the stage equipment of the hall. Many tickets have been sold and a full house is anticipated.

The admission is 50c and it starts at 8:15 sharp.

Junior Recital a Real Musical Treat

MISSSES MARGARET KEISER AND MARGARET MORNING, MEMBERS OF THE JUNIOR CLASS OF THE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, GAVE THEIR RECITAL

The Junior Class of the Conservatory of Music gave a very interesting Recital Monday, May 11th, 1925, to a large and appreciative audience.

The members of the class are Miss Margaret Keiser, of Shamokin, and Miss Margaret Morning, of Hanover.

The program was as follows: Songs—a. Sapphic Ode, Brahms; b. Vergeblische Ständchen (The Vain Suit), Brahms, Miss Keiser.

Violin—a. Souvenir, Drdia; b. Serenade, d'Ambrosia, Mr. Michaels.

Songs—a. Die Lotosthule, Schumann; b. Liebetreu, Brahms; Miss Morning.

Piano—a. Rigodon, MacDowell; b. Cantique d'Amour, Liszt, Miss Keiser. "Cello—Song to the Evening Star (Tannhauser), Wagner, Miss Brungart.

Songs—a. "As Thro' the Street" (La Boheme), Puccini; b. A Slouch Maiden's Dream, Llewellyn, Miss Morning.

Violin—Hymn to the Sun, Rimsky-Korsakow; Mr. Bickel.

Songs—a. Nocturne, P. C. Curran; b. One Fine Day (Madam Butterfly), Puccini; Miss Keiser.

String Ensemble—"If I Were King," Adams; Misses Bloom, Bloom, Gearing, Gilbert, Kessler, Lytle, Larson and Mr. Elchanan.

Two pianos—Concerto in A minor (st movement, Hummel); Miss Keiser, 1st piano; Miss Heelinger, 2d piano.

Bucknell Defeated S. U.'s Net Men

Only Two Colleges Represented in Preliminaries of the M. A. S. C. A. 5-1 in Bucknell's Favor

Bucknell and Susquehanna were the only two colleges represented in the preliminaries of the M. A. S. C. A. A. held on the local campus Saturday, May 16. Bucknell's team proved superior to the home players, and the three Bucknellians entered will compete at the finals to be held at Swarthmore, May 23.

Following the preliminaries a regular college match was held, and again Bucknell led. The last match between Streamer of S. U. and Zartman of Bucknell, proved the struggle of the afternoon. The first set going thirty games with Zartman finally coming thru. Bucknell's man was unable to complete the match and forfeited to Streamer, giving Bucknell a 5 to 1 victory.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB GAVE ANNUAL HOME CONCERT LAST THURSDAY

Culminated a Most Successful Season During Which the Club Sang in Many of the Large Cities of Pennsylvania. Interesting Program

On Thursday evening, May 12, 1925, the Men's Glee Club of Susquehanna University gave its home and final concert of the season in the new Seibert Chapel Hall. The program rendered was of exceptional quality. The voices blended unusually well and credit should be given to their director, Prof. E. E. Sheldon, for his untiring efforts and wise choice of program.

The program consisted of two parts, with ten minutes intermission between halves. The concert was opened with a beautiful anthem, "Creation's Hymn," which was given in a very pleasing manner. A suitable encore was then given, after which a Quartet, consisting of Henlius, Foppiano, Lands and Roberts, sang two numbers.

Each Fraternity as well as the Non-Fraternity Group to be represented. Council will hold office for one year.

Feeling the need of a more complete and satisfactory constitution for governing the Student Association of Susquehanna the present council has revised the old plan of government and added many new features. The principal changes have to do with the manner of electing representatives, placing the responsibility of Freshman Rules, and clarifying the duties of the Council. The new constitution has been approved by the faculty, adopted by the Student Government Association, and will go into effect immediately.

Constitution

Art. 1. Name. The name of this organization shall be The Student Government Association of Susquehanna University.

Art. 2. Purpose. The purpose of this organization shall be:

1. To effect a closer union of the students.

2. To promote a cultural and Christian atmosphere about the campus.

3. To promote a mutual and beneficial understanding between Faculty and students.

4. To foster and perpetuate college traditions.

5. To regulate in a just and orderly manner all student activities.

6. To promote the general welfare of S. U.

Art. 3. Membership. The membership of this association shall consist of all male undergraduate students of the college department of the University.

Art. 4. Sec. 1. The executive governing body of the Student Government Association shall be known as the Student Council.

Sec. 2. The Student Council shall consist of two members from each fraternity group and as many members from the non-fraternity upperclassmen as will give that group a proportional representation with the fraternity groups.

DRAMATIC CLUB PROGRAM WILL BE OFFERED THURSDAY

The Dramatic Club, under the capable direction of Professor Keener, will present a program consisting of a series of sketches and readings, in the Seibert Chapel Hall, on Thursday night of this week. Admission is but twenty-five cents. You're going to enjoy yourself more for that twenty-five cents than you ever did for a similar amount before.

This was followed by two choruses songs, "Requiem" and "Glory University gave its home and final concert of the season in the new Seibert Chapel Hall. The program rendered was of exceptional quality. About four hundred people were present to hear this concert and it might be said that when the Hall is filled the acoustics are unusually good. This makes it very easy for a voice to carry to all parts of the auditorium.

Susquehanna Second In Harrisburg Meet

FAILED TO RETAIN TROPHY WON LAST YEAR. FAST JUNIATA SQUAD TOOK FIRST HONORS IN CLASS B EVENTS. BUCKNELL WON IN CLASS A

In its greatest meet since the organization of the Central Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Track Conference, Susquehanna was forced to bow to the powerful Juniata team, but was able to take second place in the Class B events. Drexel, whom our track team defeated recently in a dual meet, again failed to excel the Orange and Maroon "Tracksters" and ranked third in the number of points scored. Juniata displayed wonderful strength and with an exceedingly well balanced team succeeded in running up a total of 74 points, while Susquehanna collected 42½ out of a possible 154.

While Euston, of Juniata, was the high scorer in Class B, Susquehanna boasts of a hero in the person of Salem, who, after losing his shoe in the third lap of the two mile run, continued to run with a bleeding foot and outdistanced his opponents and broke the tape at least thirty-five yards ahead of his nearest pursuer. In spite of the great handicap of running without a shoe, Salem set a new record for that event in Conference records.

Sleigh, Susquehanna's speedy captain, was unable to take his usual number of "firsts," but he took second or third place in nearly every event.

Seibert Hall Girls Entertained at Tea

Mrs. Aikens, Mrs. Brungart and Mrs. Horton Prove Themselves to be Very Charming Hostesses

The girls of Seibert Hall were delightfully entertained at a tea given at the home of Mrs. Chas. T. Aikens from 3 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The hostesses were Mrs. Aikens, Mrs. Brungart and Mrs. Horton. After a short program, which consisted of a solo by Margaret Morning and readings by Martha Eriel, Essex Botsford and Verda Loug, delicious refreshments were served, after which the girls returned to the "dorm," each one wondering where the hours had gone.

Reserves Trounce Bloom Normal 9-6

PITCHING OF "FIFTEEN INNING BARNES" AND THE HITTING OF YOUNG WERE FEATURES OF THE GAME. JUNIOR VARSITY PLAYED GOOD BALL

The Junior Varsity, after losing to Selingrove town team and tying Northumberland High came thru with a 9-6 victory over Bloomshurg Normal last Saturday. The Scrubs played good ball and had no trouble collecting one or two runs every inning. The win is a fitting sequel to the showing the Varsity made on its Philly trip, proving our teams can play just as good ball on strange diamonds as at home.

Fifteen Inning Barnes was on the mound for the J. V.'s and allowed only five scattered hits. He wouldn't have left them find the sphere at all, but the normal school co-eds seemed to have a little psychological affect on all our players. In fact quite a few of the boys stayed up for the Junior Prom that night and according to reports a good time was had by all.

Coach Wingard Began Spring Football Work

Inaugurated Spring Training at Susquehanna. Twenty-Five Aspirants Reported. Practice Mon. and Tues.

Last Tuesday about twenty-five gridiron aspirants reported for spring practice under Coach Wingard. Among the candidates were all the old varsity men, except those engaged in track or baseball and quite a few of the men on the scrubs last fall.

Running down under forward passes and light signal practice was the routine of the workout. The varsity men felt at home once more with the pigskin in hand, for the national sport has a charm all its own immediately upon hearing the quarterback snap out a few signals.

Practice is to be held Monday and Tuesday for the next two weeks and from the spirit with which the boys are taking hold, next fall should bring forth some surprises on the gridiron.

We must have our duties! It was full for even the class, as a Ford minus a wheel, seemed to be unable to make the last lap of the journey.

Everyone, no matter what his station in life may be, has certain things that are expected of him and certain duties that he should fulfill to the best of his ability. Especially is this true of every individual at a University like Susquehanna, where young men and women come from far and near with the expressed purpose of acquiring an education that will make them more fitted to fill a position of leadership in the community in which they will take up their life's work.

The duty of the faculty is to present the material for study in such a manner that the average student can, with proper application, learn something and keep it for future use.

The duty of the student is to make an honest effort to do the work assigned. He owes it to himself and to his parents, who may be sacrificing to put him thru school. Our organizations and our Clubs all have their functions also and every one must co-operate to make Susquehanna the place for which it is really intended—a place of true learning.

And thus we feel that the Susquehanna Staff has certain duties that it owes to the student body. The Susquehanna is a student publication and therefore should be devoted to and written for the students and the Alumni. If conditions exist upon our campus that should be remedied, it is the duty of the staff to call our attention to them. If they see that certain students are doing things that are harmful, not only to themselves but also to the school, they should make us realize the facts and if possible suggest methods to follow in the betterment of conditions. And since The Susquehanna is read also by the faculty it should be the duty of the staff to present the students' points of view as they regard their instructors. Even the members of the faculty should welcome a little constructive criticism now and then. It is known that most of the members of our own faculty are glad to receive suggestions from the student body that will make possible better co-operation between teacher and pupil. If you have anything constructive to offer, let us have it. We are all working for a better Susquehanna and if your article will cause us to think and to work just a little harder it does not matter who it hits, for if it is true it should not offend anyone. If it is not true someone will discover it and prove it to be false. The Susquehanna offers its columns for any discussions that will directly or indirectly benefit our College. It is the wish of the staff that this offer be taken advantage of.

COLLEGE PRANKS

Just as the year is drawing to a close, the students on the campus are feeling the pull of "Fare You Well." This feeling was manifested by a assembly the Theodores during their last week in school. Since this august and hallowed body on our campus must be held down to the serious things of life during their college year, it is only fitting that during their last few days with us they should lay aside the dignity and assume the role of the average college boy.

The members of the sunrise class, absent to hold their session in the Theolog Building were perplexed as to whether said session would be held in its regular class room or not, as you would think the building had been turned into a Ford agency, and that study Sunday school conditions and make a report at the Convention in Switzerland. Following the okyo Convention he again circled the globe in the interest of the Sunday school. This time he went by way of Japan, Korea, China, Malay States, Ceylon, India, Egypt, Palestine and Europe. While in Ceylon he was able to stimulate greatly the work of the Sunday school and as a result the Ceylon Sunday School Union was organized. Dr. Landes rendered effective service in all the other countries which were visited.

Before becoming a Sunday school secretary, Dr. Landes had a fine business training, which gave him a most practical experience. His addresses are rich with both information and inspiration and he is constantly sought for his marked ability on the platform. He has written numerous articles on the various phases of Sunday school work. In 1922 Susquehanna University, Pennsylvania, conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Christian Education.

EXCHANGE

Recently we heard an impressive talk concerning the preservation of wild flowers. Heretofore we in this country have enjoyed so many gifts of nature in abundance that we have lost the habit of conservation. Now that our wild flowers are in danger of extinction and our domestic plants are threatened by the beetle and the caterpillar, we have begun to act on the defensive.

At this season of the year we are captivated by the beauty of our campus. However, it is easier to mar a pretty scene than to preserve it. It rests upon each student to take a personal pride in the college grounds and buildings. Our Administrators are trying to give us a home-like place in which to live thru the four years of college life. Our duty is to keep it in good condition.

—The Muhlenberg Weekly.

Penna. Military College

Southpaw Hanner was on the mound for Susquehanna and proved to the Cadets that the brass buttoned uniforms don't mean a thing. Thomas, Hanner, Kurtz, Knisely each had two hits in this game. Holig, Rice and Baird connected for singles. Coach "G-men's" warriors drew first blood in the fray, scoring seven runs in the third inning, and two more in the following frame.

Kurtz lined out a home-run in the third, scoring Holig, Hanner and Weaver. In the next episode Knisely repeated with another homer, bringing our total to 9 runs, with P. M. C. 0. In the sixth frame Elliot of the home team knocked a four-bagger, scoring their first three runs. Again in the ninth frame S. P. scored 3 runs, making our total 13, to 8 for the Cadets.

The box score shows only three errors by the visiting team, which proves the consistent hall played by our nine. The remaining games on our schedule should all mean victories from the brand of ball being played now.

DR. LANDES NOW GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE WORLD'S SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Dr. Landes, who is scheduled to deliver the address to this year's graduating class at their Commencement Christian education, and church and exercises, has been very active in Sunday school work for years, and speaks from a rich store of experience.

W. G. Landes, C. E. D. was called to become general secretary of the World's Sunday School Association by the unanimous choice of the executive committee of the organization. He succeeded the late Frank L. Brown, L.L.D., who died on March 23, 1922. Dr. Landes was general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association for eighteen years and has had extensive experience in organized Sunday school work while the leader of the State Association, which has the largest constituency in America. During those years there has been an intimate relationship with the work of the World's Sunday School Association. Four world's conventions were attended by him: Rome—1907, Washington—1910, Zurich—1913, and Tokyo—1920. In connection with the Zurich Convention Dr. Landes was one of a party of 29 which visited the Orient to

Dear Jeanette:

This has been a very quiet, yet eventful week-end for the residents of Seibert Hall. It started with a big feed in room 30 on Friday. Gladys Bantly from Johnstown, was there. She expects to spend several days at the old school. The usual bunch were there, and the evening ended rather abruptly in what may be termed a catastrophe, even tho "Brains" did enter into it.

Arlene Hoyt returned from her home, where she had been since Thursday. Lillian Layton and Ethel Peters spent the week-end in Allentown. It seemed just like the old times to have Sara Hassinger in the dorm again. Naomi Ulrich was visited by Miss Linebaugh. Dee is also with us again after being home for ten days on account of illness. Lillian Bigelow, Joe Groesbeck, and Bert Croyle returned from Philipsburg by machine. Margaret White's aunt, Miss Black, and Bert's father came with them.

Well Jeanette, Dot Reeder has the measles, but hopes to be out very soon. Even having such a thing isn't so bad tho when you have pie as a steady diet.

Love,
Pg.

DR. HERTEL SPOKE IN CHAPEL

Rev. W. H. Hertel, D. D., chairman of the library committee, at Peoria, Ill., addressed the students at Chapel last Thursday morning. Occupying the position he does he comes into contact with the students of Bradley College, and thus called the attention of those present to the correct use of a library.

He said inasmuch that the real good we can derive from a book comes when we can "sift it out," and take what is good.

He also made an appeal for more closer observation in nature, and saying regardless of what we may read about Evolution we can see traces of God's wonder and plan at every angle.

In closing the Bible was upheld as the only book and that we should be made more thoroughly familiar with it.

Just about the time we think we know all about life, it gets up ahead of us some morning, puts on hobnail boots and walks all over us—twice on the same spots.

There is a great difference between the sexes: The man thinks before he acts and the woman does the thing first and then thinks about it afterwards.

Don't miss the Minstrel.

SEMINARY

RECEPTION TENDERED TO SENIORS AND MIDDLELS

It was Thursday night and the seniors were spending their last night on the campus of old S. U. In company with the middlels, were invited to spend the evening with their loved and esteemed teacher and friend, Dr. Jacob Diehl.

It was 10:15 when both classes filed into the Lutheran parsonage. After a short time of exchanged greetings, Dr. Diehl invited us to a table laden with good things to eat. There were ham and cheese sandwiches, pickles, coffee, ice cream and cakes. While each was enjoying this sumptuous repast, thrilling stories and interesting tales were rapidly exchanged. Thus the night passed quickly.

Everyone agreed that it was one of the most enjoyable nights ever spent by the students in the Theological department, while on or about the campus. Everyone returned with a happy heart, and a fond remembrance of Dr. Diehl's kind and liberal hospitality.

SUSQUEHANNA SECOND IN HARRISBURG MEET

In which he was entered. Altho he was not given credit for second place in the 100 yard dash, he really came in second and ahead of Robinson, of Drexel, who because of a mistake on the part of one of the judges of the finish, was credited with that place, while Siegle was forced to accept but the two points instead of three that he earned.

Bucknell University won first place in the Class A events with 47 points, while Gettysburg came second. The summary of the Class B events follows:

440-yard run—Won by Trout, Juniata; second, Swank, Susquehanna; third, Gregg, Drexel; fourth, Leiter, Juniata. Time, 54:30 sec. (New record).

100-yard dash—Won by Easton, Juniata; second, Robinson, Drexel; third, Siegle, Susquehanna; fourth, Cooper, Drexel. Time, 10:25 sec.

High jump—Won by Wilbraham, Drexel; second, Corson, Drexel; third, Snider, Juniata; fourth, Groff, Juniata. Height, 5 ft. 4 in.

Shot put—Won by Wolfe, Drexel; second, Grove, Juniata; third, Daubenspeck, Susquehanna; fourth, Giles, Juniata. Distance, 34 ft. 7 in.

One-mile race—Won by Patrick, Juniata; second, Robinson, Susquehanna; third, Salem, Susquehanna; fourth, Baugher, Juniata. Time, 4 min. 45:10 sec.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Pentz, Juniata; second, Groff, Juniata; third, Siegle, Susquehanna; fourth, Corson, Drexel. Time, 16:50 sec.

Two-mile run—Won by Salem, Susquehanna; second, Snider, Juniata; third, Luhold, Susquehanna; fourth, Antes, Drexel. Time, 10 min. 45:45 sec. (New record).

Discus throw—Won by Grove, Juniata; second, Horton, Susquehanna; third, Wolf, Drexel; fourth, Daly, Juniata. Distance, 109 ft. 10 in. (new record).

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Pentz, Juniata; second, Koch, Susquehanna; third, Groff, Juniata; fourth, Siegle, Susquehanna. Time, 26:25 sec. (new record).

580-yard run—Won by Leiter, Juniata; second, Shepherd, Drexel; third, Swank, Susquehanna; fourth, Weist, Juniata. Time, 2 min. 9:45 sec. (new record).

Broad jump—Won by Easton, Juniata; second, Grieg, Drexel; third, Proctor, Drexel; fourth, Siegle, Susquehanna. Distance, 20 ft. 6 in. (new record).

220-yard dash—Won by Easton, Juniata; second, Trout, Juniata; third, Robinson, Drexel; fourth, Cooper, Drexel. Time, 22:45 sec. (new record).

Pole vault—Won by Steffen, Susquehanna; second, Proctor, Drexel; third, Ebberts, Susquehanna. Height, 10 ft. 5 1/2 in.

Javelin—Won by Giles, Juniata; second, Daubenspeck, Susquehanna; third, Trout, Juniata; fourth, Foster, Drexel.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT HAS NEW CONSTITUTION

Sec. 3. At least one member of each group shall be scholastically a Junior or Senior, while the second and any subsequent representatives may be members of the Sophomore, Junior or Senior classes.

Sec. 4. A non-fraternity candidate in the event of his joining a fraternity, shall cease to be a member of the Student Council.

Sec. 5. In case of a vacancy occurring in the Student Council this vacancy shall be filled in the same manner as an original election and from that group which lacks proper representation.

Sec. 6. A member of the Student Council shall hold office for one year and is eligible for re-election.

Art. 5. Election of Council. Sec. 1. Election of the Student Council shall be held annually on the second Thursday of May following the Chapel service.

Sec. 2. A faculty approved list of the nominees shall be posted at least one week before the annual spring election.

Sec. 3. The nominations of each group shall be made in a meeting of the Student Council by existing members of that body, these nominations having been agreed upon previously by the groups they represent.

Sec. 4. The entire list of nominees shall be submitted to the Faculty for approval. In case of the illegibility of any names submitted, additional nominations shall be made until a sufficient number are approved.

Sec. 5. Each fraternity group shall nominate four candidates for the Council, of which at least two shall have Junior or Senior standing.

Sec. 6. The non-fraternity group shall nominate double the number of candidates to be elected from that group. The number of Junior or Senior nominees shall be at least double the number to be elected from these classes.

Art. 6. Officers. Sec. 1. The officers of the Student Council shall be a President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer, who shall also be officers of the Student Government Association.

Sec. 2. To set an example of Christian manhood and proper conduct at all times and to use wisely, justly, and leniently all the powers given it.

Sec. 8. In no case shall the rulings of the Council contradict, supersede, alter, or take the place of existing faculty rulings.

Art. 7. Powers of Council. Sec. 1. The duties and powers of the Council shall be to act in an executive, legislative, and judicial capacity for the Association. However, any action of the Council may be repealed by a three-fourths vote of the Association.

Sec. 2. The duties of the Council shall be:

1. To represent the Student Body in its relation with the Faculty.

2. To initiate constructive legislation affecting individuals and organizations of the University.

3. To maintain orderly conduct among the students and properly reprimand any individual guilty of conduct unbecoming a gentleman and a student of S. U.

4. To recommend any student found guilty of serious misdemeanor to the Faculty for proper penalty or suspension.

5. To draw up and enforce or cause to be enforced any rules they deem advisable in governing the conduct of Freshmen on the campus. These rules being subject to Faculty endorsement.

6. To properly supervise all inter-class contests.

Art. 8. Meetings. Sec. 1. In addition to the regular meetings for election, special meetings of the Association may be called by the President or upon the written request of fifteen members of the Association.

Sec. 2. The Student Council shall have regular time of meetings and may have special meetings subject to the President's call.

Sec. 3. A majority of the Association shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 4. A quorum of the Council shall consist of three-fifths of its members.

Art. 9. Procedure. Sec. 1. If a student has overstepped the bounds of decency or been negligent, or in any way been deemed guilty of conduct unbecoming a student, he shall be reported by those having knowledge of the same to the Council, which shall then consider the same.

Sec. 2. Such accusers shall present character and testimony to the Council, but shall be sworn only to the Council.

Sec. 3. The accused shall be notified of the same and summoned to appear before the Council, with witnesses and defense if he so desire.

Sec. 4. A majority of the Council shall be necessary to convict on any charge, and to determine the penalty.

Art. 10. Amendments. Amendments to the Constitution shall be proposed by a majority of the Council and ratified by two-thirds vote of the Association in meeting.

Sec. 2. The newly elected Council shall be called together as soon as possible after election by the retiring President or his substitute for organization and election of officers.

Sec. 3. The President of the Council shall be elected from the Senior members and the other officers from either the Junior or Senior members.

Sec. 4. The duties of the officers shall be those ordinarily ascribed to these by Parliamentary Rules governing organized bodies.

Sec. 5. The retiring Council shall continue in office until the close of the scholastic year and the Council-elect shall assume full powers and obligations at the beginning of the next scholastic year.

The Ladies Choral Club of Susquehanna University will give their home concert on Thursday night, May 29th in the new Chapel Hall. The Club has grown. It has appeared in several cities already and has "gone over big" in prepared an unusually interesting program every case. The student body is looking forward to this concert and they will not be disappointed. The girls have a better program than ever before and have reached the position where they are real rivals of the men's Glee Club in popularity.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR

ALUMNI DAY

The following letter has been sent out to nearly a thousand Susquehanna men and women, scattered all over the United States announcing a very interesting Alumni Day program. Alumni please use the card to notify the Alumni secretary of any change in address. June 9th, 1925!

A great education pageant entitled "The March of the Classics," will be the feature of the evening program at 7 o'clock instead of the usual Poem and Oration. There will be four great groups with numerous sub groups, setting forth the course and the elements of education. Sixty characters!

General manager of the pageant, Prof. Harold Pollmer; director of the pageant, Mrs. Edgar Wingard; director of music of the pageant, Prof. E. Edwin Sheldon; director of orchestra, Miss Vera La Quay.

There will be more than an hour of high class entertainment "without money and without price" except your fellowship and good will.

The author of the pageant is an Alumnus of Susquehanna.

We want you! Won't you come?

The annual business meeting of the Alumni Association with the election of new officers will take place at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, June 9th. Many matters of importance will be discussed.

Yours for the Greater Susquehanna,

Sanford N. Carpenter, '98, pres.

John B. Knisley, '13, secretary.

May 6th, 1925.

P. S.—1 Kindly send us card reporting name, address, year of graduation, etc. We are preparing an Alumni Directory.

2. The Life Membership Fee for those graduating in College, School of Theology, or Music Department is $5. If you are not a member, send check to the secretary and receive your certificate.

3. Those having graduated from the School of Business, Oratory, or Academy will be issued Lithographed Certificates of associate membership upon the payment of $1 to the secretary.

4. Classes whose year ends with (0) or (5) should hold reunions this year.

THE VALUE OF TIME DISCUSSED AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting in Clio Hall on Tuesday evening. Wayne Daubenspeck was the leader and the theme "Time," was discussed by Burd, who spoke on the "Value of Time," Fague on the "Brevity of Time," and Davis on "Improving our Time."

There is a period when every individual knows no time, as in infancy. Life's responsibilities start when time is recognized by the individual. Christ said while here among men "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work."

Again James says in his Epistle: "Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a time and then is vanished away."

The question is often asked, "how do you spend your time?"

Idleness is the devil's workshop. Idleness causes handiwork. It is a sin.

No matter what your vocation is, the doing good is the improving of time.

A gallant customer stepped in to a Selingsgrove drug store and asked for a nickel's worth of asafidity.

Clerk: "Wrap it?"

"Yes." "Charge it?" "Yes." "Name?"

"Honeyfinkle."

Clerk: "Here take it. I wouldn't write asafidity and Honeyfinkle for five cents."

STONEY McLINN HAS NOTHING BUT PRAISE FOR SUSQUEHANNA

Famous Sports Writer of the Evening Public Ledger Again Lauds Our Amateur Policy. Uses Lubold, Salem and Steffen as Examples

Susquehanna University's example to colleges the country over in the promotion of clean sports for sports' sake alone comes in for more attention and commendation at the hands of Stoney McLinn, feature Sports Writer for the Evening Public Ledger. In penning his column for the issue of the Evening Ledger under date of May 15th McLinn picked out a "Sexton," a "Watchman" and a "Shoemaker" among Susquehanna's athletes to show that the Simon pure athlete has not passed from the arena of college sports.

The story as it appeared in the Evening Public Ledger follows:

By Stoney McLinn

Missionary athletes are touring foreign countries demonstrating the science of running foot races. These young men have no visible means of support while touring—except expense accounts.

Large indoor arenas are jammed with paying persons to watch the missionary athletes run their foot races. Thousands of dollars are paid in at the gates.

The Amateur Athletic Union and its district subsidiaries are bickering over what constitutes a legitimate expense account. Many pairs of whitewash are used to cover over some nasty allegations.

Is it any wonder that the Dear Old Public—the spectators who buy the tickets—are asking, "What is the motive power behind amateur athletics? Is it money, money, money?"

An amateur, according to an everyday definition, is one who plays a game for fun. Shall we always mix expense accounts and money with our pursuit of pleasure in playing games?

And then when we begin to think that AMATEUR athletics have gone the way of horse-drawn buggies and two-bit baseball bleachers, almost always we bump into a story which proves that the sports world isn't all money, money, money!

For this day's session at the typewriter we have as our subject "The Sexton, Watchman and Shoemaker—Amateur Athletics All." The scene of our story is the quaint old town called Selingroves, where Susquehanna University is located.

Three Susquehanna students are our heroes—Guy Lubold, the sexton; Luther Salem, the watchman, and Eugene Steffen, the shoemaker. If you want to learn about three athletes who work that they may earn an education, and find time to play a game for fun, follow along.

It was in the fall of 1921, when our heroes entered Susquehanna as freshmen, that our story has its beginning.

Sexton, Watchman and Shoemaker Lubold, Salem and Steffen had no idea that they possessed athletic ability of any sort. They had graduated from Selingroves High School, where competitive sports on an organized plane were virtually unknown to them.

Furthermore, in addition to their studies in the university, the lads had their jobs. Lubold is the sexton of Trinity Lutheran Church in Selingroves—has duties to perform there weekdays as well as Sundays.

A safecracker who tries to do his stuff at the First National Bank of Selingroves at night would have Salem to reckon with. The student-athlete is night watchman there.

Steffen earns the dollars that pay his tuition and living expenses by working several hours each day in a town shoe factory—and he keeps in trim by running to and from his work.

Track Squad Lost In Juniata Meet

SQUAD WITHOUT THE SERVICES OF TWO OF ITS STARS, CAPT. SLEIGLE AND LUBOLD. DAUBENSPECK HIGH SCORER FOR SUSQUEHANNA

Last Saturday Susquehanna's track squad journeyed to Huntingdon and met defeat at the hands of the powerful Juniata squad. The score of 90% to 35% does not clearly tell the story. As we were without the services of Capt. Sleigle and Lubold, each of whom would have annexed several points.

Daubenspeck, by tossing the javelin 155 ft. 1½ in. set a new school record and greatly surprised Giles, the Juniata ace, and by taking second in the shot put made himself the high scorer for the visitors. Koch and Swank were tied for second honors with seven points each.

Susquehanna Synod Met at Jersey Shore

Many Susquehanna Professors and Students Attended Conference. Officers Elected for Coming Year

Susquehanna University was well represented at the meeting of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania, which convened May 19, 20, and 21 in St. John's Lutheran Church, Jersey Shore, Rev. Park W. Huntington, pastor.

The following were present from our institution: President Charles T. Atkins, F. P. Manhart, T. C. Houtz, Wm. T. Horton, Geo. E. Fisher, W. A. Sadtler, T. W. Kretschmann, H. A. Kern, Wm. S. Ulrich, also the members of the Senior class in Theology and a few Juniors in the same department. Jacob Diehl and R. L. Schroyer represented the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Susquehanna Alumni took a prominent part in the deliberations and discussions of the Synod.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: President, John Wagner, Hazleton; secretary, Wm. M. Reardon, Millburg; treasurer, Wm. T. Horton, and in addition to the preceding officers the following were elected to comprise the executive committee: Ira S. Sassaman, I. A. Shaffer, Harry Gast, and Geo. E.

Dramatic Club Gave Pleasing Program

VARIED PROGRAM CONSISTED OF SKETCHES, SOLOS AND READINGS. ACTORS PERFORMED VERY CREDITABLY. COMEDY AND DRAMA PRESENTED

A very pleasing program was presented for the approval of the students and friends of the University last Thursday night by the Dramatic Club. The program consisted of several sketches interspersed with clever readings by Miss Geating and vocal solos by Misses Brumgart and Haines.

The first number was a rendition by Miss Geating of "Minnie at the Skating Rink." Minnie evidently had her troubles in keeping upon her feet and Miss Geating portrayed her struggles admirably. A short sketch "A Pair of Lunatics," came next, in which Mr. Easterbrook and Miss Stohler filled the main and incidentally the only parts. These two were both visitors at an insane asylum and both that the other to be hopelessly insane. Of course it turned out well, as all nice plays do, and the young man was found to be the college chum of the young lady's brother. Altho we knew all the time just how it was going to end, we enjoyed it.

The sketch was followed by a solo by Miss Brumgart, who sang "When the World was Young," by Morse, very beautifully. Her solo was followed by a Civil War drama, which portrayed an episode in the life of a hunted Northern soldier upon whom the lives of 30,000 men depended. Professor Keener donned shirt and socks and admirably filled the part of the old man of the home. His faithful wife was Miss Verda Long, who caused the death of the two confederate pursuers, who were hunting the "Union Man" down. This Union was Marlin Foutz and the Confederates were Harold Swank and George Young. It was all very thrilling. Ask the Moller Men—!

Miss Geating then gave another of her humorous readings, "Mary Curry," after which Miss Helen Haines sang "Pale Moon," by Cadman. This beautiful Indian ballad was indeed enjoyed by the audience.

Minstrel Show Was A Huge Success

PHI MU DELTA FRATERNITY PRESENTED VERY INTERESTING BLACKFACE PROGRAM. PROCEEDS TO GO TOWARDS STAGE EQUIPMENT FUND

A minstrel show at Seibert Hall, W. L., we have seen Minstrel shows before, so what was that to rave about? The audience looked forward to the entertainment with the usual anticipation, expecting to be tolerantly amused. But when the curtain was drawn and the temporary darkies appeared and volumes of music began to ring thru the Chapel Hall, what a surprise. Familiar figures were hidden behind disguise and—talent. Yes, we were not aware of all this dormant ability, but the secret is out. We know what the boys can do now.

Our actor friends seemed to be perfectly at home in their new environment. Each number was rendered with the ability of professionals. The jokes were clever and original and the mock trial was indeed a feature. If anyone had the least spark of humor in him, it was certainly stimulated that night.

If you didn't see the minstrel, you certainly missed an evening of wholesome and refreshing enjoyment. It was a good show for a good cause. The financial report is not quite ready, but Manager Rhoades states that he will have a nice little sum to turn over to the stage equipment fund.

SCHUYLKILL COLLEGE DEFEATED BY S. U. NINE IN CLOSE GAME — 6-4

Batting and Fielding of Knisely Feature. Rice Collects Three Hits. Thomas Scores Twice. Three Out of Four Last Games Were Victories

The Reading Collegians were sent home with an adverse score last Friday when Coach Clemens' nine continued their record of victories by settling them back with a 6-4 score. The home team played pool ball and Capt. Clark as usual pitched a stellar game, allowing only six well scattered hits.

Knisely, the Newport lad, who filled Pete Bell's position, did so without an error and handled six hot assists. Not to be outdone by his fielding, he collected a home run, scoring three runs in the fourth inning. Rice connected for three hits during the contest and seemed to have little trouble in finding the Schuykill moundsman, Clark, Hanner, Weaver, Thomas, and Kurtz each had a hit. Weaver's being a double, which all helped to win the game.

Clemens, a nephew of our coach, was the outstanding player for the visitors, having two hits and no errors. He held down the hot corner. Seems as tho baseball intellect runs in that family as Coach Clemens is of game.

Varsity Meets F. & M. And L. V. This Week

OPPOSITIONS SHOW GOOD RECORDS. F. & M. WON FROM LOCALS IN FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON. TEAM EXPECTED TO ANNEX TWO MORE WINS

Coach Clemens' squad will leave next Friday to meet Lebanon Valley College and to Lancaster the following day to play F. & M. The opponents both have strong teams and F. & M. defeated the local nine at the opening game of the season here. The Anville nine will be met for the first time this spring.

Prospects look favorable for the return of two victories, as Capt. Clark's men seem to be playing better ball every game, as the victories to date will verify. Capt. Clark and Southpaw Hanner will do the mound work and altho F. & M. came thru in the tenth inning for their victory here the home team is all set to reverse the score at Lancaster. Lebanon Valley has a good record so far this season and the game at Anville should be a hotly contested battle, giving the local nine an idea what to expect when they come to Selingroves for the final game on our schedule.

The Scrubs traveled to the wilds of Middleburg last Saturday and were defeated by the High School there. The squad missed the superior handling of Barnes who was not able to be present. Sultcase, Rarick also was conspicuous by his absence, thereby giving the physical strength of the J. V.'s another shock.

Jr. Class Play Week Of Commencement

"The Rivals," a comedy in four acts, to be given by members of the Junior class of Susquehanna University Tuesday evening, June 9th in the Chapel Hall at 8:30 p. m.

Admission 50c, reserved seats 75c. Chart opens Wednesday, June 3rd at 1 p. m. at Rea & Derick's Drug Store, corner of Pine and Market streets.

In life's journey of today one finds Rivals in most every walk of life. However these Rivals are a different type than any other class that has ever contested for victory. This play is a thrill from the rise of the curtain until the last word is spoken.

Remember the date. Secure your seats early.

surely to be complimented on the record our team is making this season.

A break out occurred in the third inning when Hanner was hit by a batted ball. S. U. completed two double plays.

The game ending by inning was as follows:

First inning—Schuykill, E. Loose out, Knisely to Hanner; Clemens singled between first and second; Vagler made first on Clark's error, R. Loose singled to right, scoring Clemens, Fredericks hit to Hanner for third out.

S. U.: Thomas out, Alhright to Fredericks; Rice walked, Hanner fouled to third; Weaver doubled to center, scoring Rice; Kurtz lined to second base, third out.

Second inning—Seems out, Rice to Hanner; Hunter field to Thomas, Alhright out, Knisely to Hanner.

S. U.: Gelnett struck out, Baird field to second, Knisely filed to center.

Third inning—E. Loose made first on error, Doran sacrificed, Clemens doubled to right, scoring Loose, R. Loose filed to Knisely.

S. U.: Clark struck out, Thomas walked, Rice singled, Thomas scoring; Hanner out, touched with ball hit by Weaver.

Fourth—Fredericks struck out, Seems hit to center and caught off first; Hunter made first on error, Alhright lined to Knisely.

S. U.: Kurtz singled to right, Gelnett walked, Baird fouled to third; Knisely connected for home run, scoring three runs; Clark filed to center, Thomas walked, Rice singled, scoring Thomas; Hanner singled out short, Rice caught off second.

Fifth—E. Loose doubled to right, Doran tripled to center, scoring E. Loose, scored on catcher's error, Clemens fouled to Thomas, Zeigler out, Rice to Hanner, R. Loose made first on error at short, caught trying to steal second.

S. U.: Weaver out, short to first; Kurtz hit by pitcher, Gelnett fouled to catcher, doubling Kurtz.

Sixth—Fredericks singled thru

COLLEGE

Kinsely made his usual trip to his home in Newport over the week-end.

The Hanner brothers spent Sunday at their home in Montoursville.

Miller was visited by a friend from Millersburg on Sunday.

Ehberts visited State college on Friday. Postum.

Stroup and Cassel spent the week-end at their homes in Harrisburg.

Benner, a student at the Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia, spent a few days on the campus.

Rising spent the week-end at his home in Trenton, N. J.

Salver motored to his home in Liverpool.

Constable sang in Marysville for Rev. Charles Strong on Sunday.

Jay Riden was a visitor on the campus Saturday.

Oleson was visited by his mother from Renovo.

Dr. Spigelmyer and wife of DuBois, visited Susquehanna on Monday.

Sands journeyed to his home at Jersey Shore over the week-end.

SEIBERT HALL

My Dear Jeanette:

What a week-end this has been. The seniors are the only ones who seemed to have spent it profitably. Just to see them patiently and laboriously pouring over history questions is enough evidence that commencement is drawing near.

We had very few visitors in the dorm. Mrs. S. N. Carpenter, from Johnstown, visited us on Friday and Saturday. Ada and Esther Newman visited their sister, Zella. Ethel Peters and Vesta Steinger went to Lewistown, and Ruth Folkman spent the week-end with Mabel Goss in Lewis town. Lillian Layton and Mildred Bayley visited State College. Joyce Bonshum went to Elysburg with Hannah Pittner and Arlene Hoyt went to Dalmatia with Anna Brosius.

That is the extent of Seibert Hall news, except that the lumps has in some manner found its way into our midst. We are all unwellish enough, however, to let Essex entertain them alone. Next week we will take our turn preparing for that eventful week of exams. In case we survive I shall write to you about it.

Love,
Peg.

W. C. A. DELEGATES TO GO TO EAGLES MERE

The weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in Seibert Hall parlors last Tuesday. Emily Winston and Naomi Fogle led, taking as their subject "Judgment." It was a timely subject for a school, as we too often judge people before we really know them, and this is especially true where there are so many around that you meet them one at a time. After the lesson, the president took the chair and we heard the report of the treasurer, after which we decided we could send four delegates to the Eagles Mere conference, June 19-29. Messrs. Pounder, DeRemer, Yelms and Mary Cawler were elected to go with Laura Arnold and Gertrude McKee as alternates.

DRAMATIC CLUB GAVE CONCERT

The concluding number was a comedy sketch entitled "Who's Who?" Misses Ertel and Steininger and Messrs. Ditzler, Shaffer and Fuge performed very creditably. The sketch did keep us guessing who was who, but it turned out alright and everyone was well pleased.

The whole program was good indeed and the student body is looking forward greatly to the next appearance of the Dramatic Club. Now that we have a suitable place in which to give entertainments we have every reason to expect many such programs throughout the year.

EXCHANGE

Some weeks ago there was considerable discussion over the pros and cons of the Customs Committee. Such discussion is in itself an encouraging and a healthy symptom.

But it should be borne uppermost in mind that hazing and Sophomore control of hazing are worsted systems. They have been proved of little value. American colleges and universities are moving away from hazing for the pure pleasure of hazing. Indeed, no upperclassman at Haverford at the present time can trace back to his own Freshman year and lay his finger on any definite character improvement that was wrought by a hazing system. It is the public sentiment of the student body that alone has the power to correct a Freshman.

Again going back to the encouraging symptom of Customs Committee discussion, it was noted that most of it was of a destructive sort. However, there were and are positive suggestions of value that can better the whole present system of general College and Freshmen customs.

The customs for next year are now in the process of formation. Freshmen must be showed the errors of their ways when they are erring. There are certain customs that are desirable for the College body as a whole. But the whole student body should have a part in the rules which regulate Freshmen and the customs that pertain to the whole student body. Now is the time to make positive suggestion to next year's Customs Committee.—"Haverford News."

Life in olden days must have been considerably different from what it is today. In an old memorandum book of President Mohr's are recorded some very interesting notes on cases of discipline. We give the gist of one case. During February, 1878, President Mohr, of St. Olaf College, who at that time was teaching third class, had to be absent a couple of days at a Circuit riding. In his absence the members of the third class got up a petition addressing it to the assistant principal, Professor Teisberg, demanding in said petition that they be given a competent substitute in Professor Mohr's absence. They had had enough of such occasions! They had paid for their schooling, and that schooling they wanted to receive. Imagine our students writing that kind of a petition in case a professor had to be absent from the school one of two days! —"The Manitowish Messenger."

The Athletic Council of Washington and Jefferson passed a new rule with regard to the election of football captain, in an effort to control fraternity politics, making it necessary that an athlete must receive three-fourths the total vote.

A new college, exclusively for young women of the Roman Catholic faith, is to be opened at New Haven in September. It will be known as Albertas Magnus College.

As a result of the death in Nice, France, of Sir W. Northrup McMillan, wealthy African hunter, Washington University, of St. Louis, will receive more than $100,000 for the establishment of a hospital to be known as the McMillan Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat hospital.

Last month the students and faculty of Ohio State University enjoyed a thrill over an effort that was made in the Ohio State Senate to weed out of the faculty certain members suspected of being Bolshevistic or "Red" in their views.

Pennsylvania has more colleges and universities, exclusive of professional schools, than any other State, according to the educational directory of the U. S. Bureau of Education. The Keystone State has forty-six such institutions; New York has forty-one; Ohio, forty-one; Illinois, thirty-three, and Iowa, twenty-five.

He—"What gives a fellow a thrill?"
She—"A 'Rival' of course."
He—"What is a 'Rival'?"
She—"We'll buy two tickets to the Junior class play and we'll both see."

Two heads are better than one.

Lebanon Valley and Schuylkill won From Locals. Rain Halts One Game. Team Had Strong Opponents

The racquet wielders of Lebanon Valley proved too strong for the local squad and finished at the favorable end of a 6-0 match held at Annville Friday, May 22. Several of the matches went the limit, but all resulted in Lebanon Valley's favor. Scores: singles:

Rupp, Lebanon Valley, defeated Long, Susquehanna, 6-2, 6-3.

Herr, Lebanon Valley, defeated Vorlage, Susquehanna, 6-1, 6-2.

Shroyer, Lebanon Valley, defeated Stong, 6-4, 7-5.

Welty, Lebanon Valley, defeated Blough, Susquehanna, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

Doubles:

Rupp and Welty, Lebanon Valley, defeated Stong and Blough, Susquehanna, 6-2, 6-3.

Shroyer and Herr, Lebanon Valley, defeated Vorlage and Long, Susquehanna, 6-1, 6-3.

On Saturday at home Capt. Stong easily defeated his opponent from Schuylkill while the remaining single matches went to the visitors. In the doubles Susquehanna seemed the probable winner, when a rain stopped the fun. The final result of the match was 2-1 with Schuylkill leading.

Scores, singles:

R. Loose, Schuylkill, defeated Long, Susquehanna, 6-3, 6-3.

E. Loose, Schuylkill, defeated Vorlage, Susquehanna, 6-2, 6-1.

Mosser, Schuylkill, defeated Streamer, Susquehanna, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Stong, Susquehanna, defeated Kene-sic, Schuylkill, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles not complete.

Now for the athletic part of our story. In the spring of 1923, Susquehanna for the first time since 1916 was preparing to compete in a dual track and field meet.

The sexton, watchman, and shoemaker, along with other students, had added to L. D. Grossman, coach of the track team. But they had no previous experience in competitive athletics and very little time for intensive training and drill.

The dual meet was staged in Huntington, Pa. The opponent was Juniata College. Track conditions were unfavorable; it had rained earlier in the day. This is what happened:

Steffen, the shoemaker, was victor in the pole vault. Salem, the night watchman, placed third in both the 880 yards and two-mile runs.

I hold, the sexton, romped away with the mile even, rested a while and then with equal ease won the two-mile run, establishing a new record for the Juniata track.

No Susquehanna athlete had previously performed so well in the events as did Steffen, pole vaulter, and Lubold, distance runner, in their first meet.

Now Making Good With Vengeance

Later it developed that Lubold, determined he was going to enter and win both the mile and two-mile events, had been working out on an indoor track. Reared on a farm, he is rugged and of splendid physique, altho not possessing the build for a runner.

However, the Sexton, Watchman and Shoemaker were novices that first year. The following season, 1924, found them improving in form as they gained experience.

Steffen added high jumping to his athletic feats. He bettered his former record for the pole vault by eight inches and tied for first place in the Central Pennsylvania collegiate track meet, where Susquehanna took championship honors in their class.

Salem shifted his efforts to the two-mile run and showed marked improvement. He added his team materially in gathering points throughout the season.

Lubold, altho feeling the results of a sieve of illness in the winter, continued to come thru in his favorite distance races.

This spring, as seniors, the three lads who entered Susquehanna in 1921, "underbred and unsmug," are carrying the burden of the track team's efforts. And they are making good.

The Sexton, Watchman and
Shoemaker are not world-beaters.
But they are "way out in front" in their class.

Susquehanna's track team came to Philadelphia to meet Drexel last Saturday. The Selingsgrove athletes won by scoring 66 points to 58 for the home college.

Sexton Lubold won the mile run in 4 minutes and 48 seconds. This was a new mark for him and for Susquehanna.

Shoemaker Steffen was top man in the pole vault. He cleared the bar at 10 feet 3 inches. Another Susquehanna record.

Watchman Salem stepped out in the two-mile and finished first in 19 minutes and 36 seconds. This was the fastest time ever credited to a Selinsgrove athlete in the event.

These performances are not wonderful when compared with what has been accomplished in the Olympics, the intercollegiate and other big track and field meets.

But they do compare favorably with the work of athletes in other small colleges. When it is remembered that Lubold, Salem and Steffen had no high school training or preliminary experience, then it may be said that their accomplishments were very creditable.

Varsity Nine Lost to F. & M. in Last Game

WEAVER KNOCKS OUT HOME RUN; KNISELY HAS TWO HITS; LEBANON GAME CALLED ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN; ONE MORE GAME ON SCHEDULE

The scheduled game with Lebanon Valley last Friday failed to take place, on account of rain, so the team traveled to Lancaster the following morning and staged a Memorial Day event in which the local nine lost 5-3. For the second time this season F. & M. has been victorious over Couch Clemens' nine, and the southpaw moundman of the Lancaster nine seemed to be the puzzle for Capt. Clark's men to solve, as he is the first "lefty" they bumped up against this season. "Buck" Weaver found the old pill for a circuit clout, keeping up his "Babe" Ruth rep. Kniseley, the Newport lad, came thru with two hits, being the only player to collect more than one from the home team pitcher, Thomas, Rice, Kurtz and Gelnett each banged out singles.

The sixth inning brought forth the first run for the Selingrove Collegians and the eighth and ninth frames gave one each, making our total 3. F. & M. scored one run in the first and third frames and three in the fifth, and from then till the end of the game were held scoreless.

Rather loose ball was played by Susquehanna till the closing innings, when they began tightening up and threw a real scare into F. & M. in the ninth episode when we had three men on base, but were only able to score one of them. The box score is as follows:

Sophs and Juniors Held Elections

BRUBAKER AND EBBERTS ARE RESPECTIVE PRESIDENTS, NEW OFFICERS HAVE HIGH STANDARDS TO MAINTAIN. TAKE OFFICE NEXT YEAR

The class of 1926 held its election of officers for the following year last Thursday with these results. President, Theodore Ebberts; vice president, Lee Boyer; secretary, Martha Larson; treasurer, Louis Rode, and historian, Eleanor Birk.

The Junior class has taken a very active part in all of the campus activities this year, as it has in those preceding. The members of the class feel that the year has been a rich one for them, both in attainments for themselves and in service to the Alma Mater. Two of the big things that the class did were the publishing of the Lanthorn and the settling of the precedent of holding the prom as a farewell party to the Seniors. Its members have participated in all the sports and the captains of the football and track team were Juniors. It is hoped that this class will not fall into a lethargic next year, as do so many classes when they enter upon their Senior year. Under the newly elected officers this does not seem likely. Keep going '26.

SIX GRADUATE FROM SCHOOL OF EXPRESSION

On Wednesday night, June 3rd, the graduating class in the School of Expression will hold its recital and commencement in the Chapel Hall.

The School of Expression, under Prof. N. N. Keener, is a valuable component of the whole that makes up Susquehanna University. This year's graduating class includes the following: Margaret Speigelmeir, Katherine Beachley, Verda Long, Sara Brungart, Anna Geating and Martha Eriel.

ROLLO F. MAITLAND, ORGANIST, AND JUDSON HOUSE, TENOR, IN RECITAL

Rollo F. Maitland, concert organist and Fellow of the American Guild of Organists, will appear here in a recital in conjunction with Judson House, tenor, in Selbert Chapel Hall Monday evening, June 8th at 8:15 p. m. Mr. Maitland has played upon the country's largest organs. All seats will be reserved at $1. Seats on sale at Lytle's Drug Store, June 6th and 8th.

Summer Assembly to Men's Glee Club Have Noted Speakers Held Picnic at Park

SUSQUEHANNA TO ENTERTAIN UNITED LUTHERAN ASSEMBLY; YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK TO BE STRONGLY STRESSED; LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

The United Lutheran Summer Assembly will be held at Susquehanna University from August 15th to 27th. With the completion of the new auditorium and dining hall this year's assembly is expected to break all records.

The director, Rev. John B. Kniseley, of DuBois, has issued a preliminary statement in which the speakers, subjects and evening programs have been announced. The morning devotional period will be conducted by Rev. John Weidley, D. D., of Washington, D. C., and Professor T. B. Birch, of Wittenberg College, will give daily lectures upon Educational Psychology as applied to moral and spiritual development. The president of Carthage College, T. D. Hoover, will present a series of lectures. Rev. E. A. Chamberlain, of Teacher's Quarterly fame, will present chalk work for religious leaders. The young people's hour will be conducted by Oscar T. Blackwelder, Roanoke, Va., and Carolyn Filler will give instructions in Christian kindergarten work. Rev. and Mrs. J. Roy Strock, recently returned missionaries from India, will have charge of the Missionary program. The general secretary of the State Sabbath School Association will be present and Rev. I. Chaney Hoffman will have charge of the Sunday sermon. The B. R. and P. Railway quartet, of DuBois, will be the musical feature.

Dormitory reservations can be had by writing Wm. T. Horton, registrar, Selingrove, Pa.

ROLLING GREEN THE SCENE OF MUCH MERRIMENT. CLUB ENTERTAINED FRIENDS AMIDST MANY ANVIL CHORUSES. KID ROBERTS LEFT IN HURRY

The Men's Glee Club of Susquehanna University completed its season last Monday night with a picnic at Rolling Green at which every Glee Clubber and his girl, if he had one, attended and had a good time.

Most of the club, together with their guests, boarded the 3:30 car at Selingrove and reached the park about fifteen minutes later. Several missed the car and had to wait for the next, and as a result missed a very interesting impromptu concert by Mr. Williams, who artfully tickled the ivories. Encouraged by his efforts to please several of the young ladies volunteered to furnish music, and did so to the plaintive accompaniment of "She lived down in our alley," on the part of Mr. Roberts. Old "Horlachs" Baird was there without the piano. Oleson evidently got it too, so they got together on the one that was there and sang "The Swallow's Return." in a

Camp Susquehanna Commencement To Open June 12th Plans Completed

CAMPUS WILL BE HOST TO 175 BOYS FOR EIGHT DAYS. NEW PROGRAM TO GO INTO EFFECT. CHRISTIAN TRAINING TO BE STRESSED

The morning of June twelfth will be a happy time for about one hundred seventy-five boys, aged 13 to 17, who have planned to come to Camp Susquehanna for a period of eight days beginning June 12 and ending June 20.

The camp site is the beautiful campus of Susquehanna University. This is a most ideal place for conducting a camp of the nature of Camp Susquehanna. This is a camp noted not only for recreation and novelties, but also for Christian training into which enters the leavening power of the ideals of Jesus for the whole life.

A definite program of events has been scheduled. Not only has a definite program been made for this summer, but for four summers. Upon enrolling each boy is given a certificate. At the completion of each year's work a stamp and seal is placed thereon to indicate the work finished. The major portion of the forenoon program is filled with periods for religious study and class work. The remaining time of the forenoon and most of the afternoon is spent in athletic activities, such as playing tennis, pitching quail, track meets, swimming, baseball, etc.

The living conditions and entertaining are just fine. Dr. Alkenson is very glad to open the doors of Hasselger Hall as our "home," and Mr. Horton spares no efforts to care for us in other respects—including the making of that wonderful ice cream.

Rev. Norman S. Wolf, Bloomsburg, Pa., is camp director. Anyone wishing more information should get in touch with him.

Choral Club Closes Successful Season

MUSICAL NUMBERS IN FIRST PART AND OPERETTA IN SECOND. MUCH CREDIT DUE PROFESSOR KOCH AND MISS DOROTHY READER

As the year draws to a close and the efforts of each and every organization are presented before us, we cannot help but feel a certain satisfaction in them. It is a feeling that comes to us from work well done, and we all have a feeling of triumph, for we as well as the organizations are a part of dear old S. U.

The Ladies Choral Club culminated a series of entertainments during the month of May. It was last but far from least. Each number was an indication of ceaseless training and untiring effort. Each voice was placed at exactly the right one for harmony. The feeling with which each song was rendered certainly justifies the pride we feel in our school and its organizations.

The program was in two parts. The first part consisted of musical numbers by the entire club, a trio by Misses Smith, Welker and Beckley, and readings by Miss Geating. The second part consisted of the operetta "In India." A beautiful story ran thru the music, which alone would have warmed the hearts of the audience, but the real charm lay in the music and the way it was rendered. The principal characters were Misses Keiser, Norwat, Beckley, Latsha, Smith and Brosius. The scene was laid in the central square of the Indian village, Fishni, on the banks of the Ganges, during the time of the Festival of Flowers." The following completed the personnel of the club: Misses Haines, Morning, Ott and Patterson. First sopranos: Misses Buyers, Hackenbury, Hauser, McCahan, Smale. Concluded on Page 2

S. U. Tennis Squad Tied Juniata Away

BLOUGH AND LONG WON SINGLES IN HOT SETS; VORLAGE AND BLOUGH WON DOUBLES, WHICH WENT THREE SETS. MATCH WAS VERY INTERESTING

The Susquehanna net men traveled to Juniata last Saturday and played a 3 all match with the Huntingdon lads. The outcome of the match was anxiously awaited by tennis enthusiasts here, as the opposing teams seemed to be about evenly matched by their showing on the local courts some time ago.

Long and Blough, playing fast tennis, set their opponents back in straight sets. Vorlage and Streamer lost to Ellis and Funk in the singles, but must be given credit as they were matched with fast racket wielders.

In the doubles Blough and Vorlage played an excellent match, going to three sets and defeating the Juniata players 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Long and Streamer lost their doubles to Daley and Hurlock in straight sets.

The tennis team as a whole has been a great success this season, and more men have earned their letters than in several past seasons combined. Lebanon Valley is the next and final opponent, Saturday, June the sixth, on the local courts, and should prove to be a good match, as the local team was defeated at Annville two weeks ago.

The results of the Juniata match are as follows: Singles—

S. U. Long, J. Daley—6-3, 6-3.

S. U. Vorlage, J. Ellis—3-6, 3-6.

S. U. Blough, J. Hurlock 6-3, 6-2.

S. U. Streamer, J. Funk 3-6, 4-6.

Doubles—S. U. Long and Streamer, J. Ellis and Funk 2-6, 4-6.

S. U. Blough and Vorlage, J. Daley and Hurlock 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Spring is here! That time when a young man's fancy turns lightly to what the girls have been thinking of all winter. To most of us it brings joy and gladness that we may be alive in so glorious a season and that we may prepare ourselves for our life's work at Susquehanna, where nature has been so generous in giving us so beautiful a campus.

Spring's loveliness seems to reach its climax in June, the month in which we put away our studies for a short time during vacation. To most of us, Spring brings joy, but perhaps to some of those who are leaving Susquehanna's campus, never to return again as students, each passing day brings a trace of sadness as the time for parting draws nearer. We shall be sorry to see them go for the class of 1925 has done much for Susquehanna and the student body appreciates what they have accomplished. Of course some stand out more prominently than others, but they all have worked hard in order that they might uphold the proud name of their Alma Mater.

Among those that stand out most conspicuously are they who have distinguished themselves in athletics, and their loss shall be felt most keenly. This year Susquehanna will lose men who are good athletes, it is true. But we shall not miss them especially because they are athletes, but rather, because they stood and fought for the principles of fair play and good sportsmanship. Their motto was "May the best man win," and their cry was "play hard, but clean," and they are the type of men that our school needs in order that she may attain the development that she should. We are sorry to see Thomas go, for he is a mighty fine all round athlete. We shall miss Harley Barnes and Roger Blough, for they, too, have done much for our school and have proved themselves to be true Crusaders, Bullock and Nipple, Hanner, Clark and Stong, are others, and there are many more. In fact so many that we cannot attempt to name them all and must be content with wishing them well in whatever they take up as their life's works.

NON-SORORITY PARTY

Susquehanna's new social hall was again the scene of a pleasurable event, when the non-sorority girls gave an informal party on Friday evening, May 29th. The music was furnished by Messrs. Reichenbach and Messner. After a very enjoyable evening of fun and frolic the guests left, each reporting a good time.

LOCAL STUDENT SAILS FOR BELGIUM ON S. S. TOMALVA

Harold Belg, a member of the class of '26, and one of Susquehanna's three letter men, left Selingrove May 22nd for Philadelphia, where he became a member of the crew of the S. S. Tomalva.

"Pete" has already risen to the position of Captain of the vessel, or at least he uses the Captain's shower. He is one of over 400 college men to ship on the same boat. The men are from practically all the schools in the east. Last Friday the ship left Philadelphia for New York and next Thursday, June 4th, it will sail for Antwerp, Belgium. After spending about a week there it will return and then leave for Genoa, Italy.

Mr. Belg expects to make both trips with the vessel. He will undoubtedly have a good time and a great deal of hard work. He expects to be back at school next fall.

LADIES' CHORAL CLUB ENJOYED PARTY

The Ladies' Choral Club held its annual party Saturday evening, May 30th, 1925 in the new social room in Selbert Hall. Messner's Trio furnished music that put life into everyone. Punch and wafers were served as refreshments and as usual Messner tried to hide most of the wafers. The patroness was Mrs. Koch.

As the party ended each couple left with a happy smile, thus indicating that all had a good time.

STEWART HARTMAN WEDS MISS STINE

The many friends of Stewart Hartman were pleasantly surprised to hear of his marriage on May 22nd to Miss Dorothy Stine, of this year's graduating class of Mt. Carmel High School. The newlyweds will not leave for a honeymoon until after Commencement exercises at Mount Carmel High School, which will begin May 31. The bride will graduate with the class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Stine, of Mt. Carmel. Professor Hartman is a son of Mrs. Charlotte Hartman, of Selingrove and a graduate of Susquehanna University, class of '21. He has been supervising principal of the public schools of Centerville for the past two years. He was instructor in Chemistry in Mount Carmel High School in 1922 and 1923 and it was during his work there that he met his bride, then one of his pupils. The Susquehanna wishes Mr. and Mrs. Hartman the greatest success and happiness.

lan, Steininger and Welker, second soprano; and Misses Malbus, Haines, McKee, Salem, Stong and Schmiermund, altos, with Miss Naomi Ulrich, accompanist, and Miss Geating as reader.

Previous to May 25th the girls had given their concert in Shamokin and Sunbury, both being very gratifying engagements. The success of the concert is due in a large measure to Professor Koch and Miss Reeder, but much can be said of the faithful efforts of the girls themselves.

SOPHS AND JUNIORS HOLD ELECTION

President, O. B. Landis; vice president, Clyde Ertel; secretary, Arline Hoyt; treasurer, Theodore Ebberts; historian, Eleanor Birk.

The Sophomore class also held its annual election last Friday, in which William Brubaker was elected president; Harry Bard, vice president; Marion Pounder, secretary; Miles McLain, treasurer, and Gertrude Walker, historian. With these persons at the head of the class it is probable that the class will continue to maintain its high standards and perform the duties of the ensuing year with all possible credit to the Alma Mater. The retiring officers are: President, Harold Swank; vice president, Helen Yeigst; secretary, Betty Stong; treasurer, William Bonney; historian, Gertrude Walker.

DR. FOLLMER ADDRESSES Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. held a joint meeting on Tuesday evening in Clio Hall. The devotional exercises were in charge of Miss De Remer, after which the Rev. Dr. H. N. Follmer delivered a very inspiring address.

Dr. Follmer based his remarks on Psalm 48, verse 14, "This God is our God for ever and ever and He will be our guide even unto death."

Henry Van Dyke said that there are four things a man must do if he would keep his record true. To think without confusion clearly, to act from honest motives purely, to love his fellow-men sincerely and to trust in God and heaven securely.

The Hebrews were proud to point to Jehovah. In Egypt and Palestine he revealed Himself as the true God. This God wrought many things. Their God was a covenant keeping God. This God is a God of majesty and might. No man has made mountains or built great hills. The mountain peak speaks of the majesty of the Maker. The vibrations of the earth in a storm tell us that there is a might and majesty supreme there.

Him it will be an honor and a privilege to serve and follow. If we know ourselves and our fellow men we know that there is need of sympathy and understanding. He understands. A God of the seen and the unseen is our God. He is the changeless God that hears and answers prayer and that guides and protects us in all our ways. He is our guide even unto death. He will guide us until sin and darkness are swallowed up by light, life and immortality.

Can you be satisfied with anything less than the guidance of God. Going out with Him as our guide and helper.

David in Saul's armor falls. In Himself plus the presence of Jehovah he could succeed. When people are natural and not striving to be like someone else they do the best and accomplish the most. Be the best as God gave you strength to be. Dare the high things in life and meet them. To us it comes as an appeal to take life's ventures and not to be coasters, afraid to venture and launch out into the deep.

God is a God of infinite truth. There are too many commonplace things, if you want to be successful. Christ bade the fishermen to cast their nets into the deep. Some one once said, "I am sick of four walls and a ceiling, I have need of the sky." Dare to keep your records clean. There are temptations for the sakes of popularity, position and money is often offered to lower one's colors. Blots are hard to erase. The records were clean for St. Paul, for he says "I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." Right things right done are worth while even though they are not in print they will bring rich rewards.

Christ said "Without me ye can do nothing." Without His companionship we will fail. You can succeed if you will follow. "Come follow me," "Go, and lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world." If in the midst of darkness go and seek Him. If the way runs smooth go, thank Him. If he shows a "shekinah" go to Him with a rejoicing heart saying "My Father," and he'll know.

Roberts was visited by his mother and friends on Friday.

Bonner, '22, was a visitor on the campus Saturday.

Crouse was visited by his father Sunday.

Frost left Thursday to work over Decoration Day.

Cassel and Stroup made their usual trip to Harrisburg.

Albert Barnes spent the week-end at his home in Lewistown.

Barnes and Fopano spent the week-end at their homes in Middleburg.

Dr. Kern preached at the Memorial Day service in Kratzville.

Horton was visited by friends on Sunday.

Easterbrook was visited by friends Saturday.

Kroen sang in the Presbyterian Church in Sunbury morning and evening.

Watkins visited the parental mansion in Johnstown over the week-end.

Young made good use of his clothes meantime.

Don Rhoades had company Saturday and Sunday.

Weaver and Gordon spent Sunday night on the books.

L. Ramer hiked to the ball game at Lancaster.

Marlin Grubb spent the week-end at home.

Gordon took his annual bath Sunday afternoon while swimming.

SEIBERT HALL

Dear Jeanette:

Memorial Day has had its effect in this dormitory. So many girls have gone home so that it has been rather an uninteresting week-end for those who had to stay here. Even the thought of examinations could not produce the effect that they usually do just before the event of their happening.

Georgienne Fickes went to Newport and Doris Frick to Northumberland. Lucy Herr and Barbara DeRemer hiked to Bucknell. Marion Pounder, Marion Eyley and Naomi Fogle spent the week-end in Sunbury with Emily Winston and Hazel Mabius. Mary Farling was visited by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsett, and their sons, Dayland and Donald. Martha Eitel and Grace Beckley spent several days at the Stone cottage in McAllisterville. Verda Long and Mary Weimer at the Barnes' home in Middleburg. Naomi Ulrich went to her home in Wilkes-Barre. Florence Trometter was visited by her brother and sister from Gordon.

With the entrance of various childish diseases into our college life has come the adoption of a new pastime by our co-eds, who find time hanging heavy on their hands. This sport, which has so occupied our minds over this week-end is the venerable old game of "jacks." That is merely one evidence that we refuse to let the seriousness of our college career weigh too heavy upon our lives.

Love,

Peg.

STUDENT COUNCIL

HELD ELECTION

The first election under the new constitution of the Student Government Association was held in Chapel during the past week with the following men being elected to serve on the Council for the year '25 to '26: Siegle, Henius, Lutz, Derr, Foutz, P. Wagner, Rode, Carleson and Lewis. Lee Boyer was also elected from the non-fraternity group, but will be unable to serve because of having joined a fraternity. President Blough of this year's Council, called the newly elected Council together for the purpose of electing officers. Lester Lutz was elected president; Holger Heims, vice president; Martin Foutz, secretary, and Louis Rode, treasurer. The new council will go into power the beginning of next year.

Albert G. Gawinske, '08, of Pittsburg, is busy in the real estate business and is Recorder of Allegheny Commandery No. 387 Knights of Malta, secretary of Malta Temple Association; treasurer of Imperial Council Princess of Mosera, member of advisory council Order of DeMolay for boys, and is one of Susquehanna's biggest boosters in the city of steel. From what we can learn, he expects to send four Allegheny High School boys to Susquehanna for Fall delivery.

Keep it up, old top!
Harry W. Papenfus, '20, of Steelton, is head of the science department of Latrobe High School and is also coaching athletics at that school. He came to Latrobe from Ridley Park High, one of the most prominent Philadelphia suburban schools. Mr. Papenfus is an all Susquehanna man, and is continually working for his Alma Mater as shown by the students he has convinced to enroll here.

Joseph McLain, '24, is supervising instructor of Hartwick Seminary, N. Y. Joe can now boast of a baby daughter and we wish him all the prosperity possible. His wife was a graduate of the same class, Miss Mabel Mumma, and is ably assisting her husband in the educational profession. Rev. Chas. Myers, another of our alumni, is president of the New York Seminary.

The common mosquito, magnified 4 times, is a truly ferocious insect!

But this electric pumping station effected a remedy.

Do what Toledo did

Once Toledo had a nuisance, a tract of swamp land near the lake, a breeder of mosquitoes, foul odors and fogs.

Study what electricity is doing to make a better and happier America; remember that you will live in an electrical age, full of surprises, and full of new services to humanity. The monogram "G.E." which you see above is placed on the epoch-making products of the General Electric Company.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

But an automatic pumping station, equipped with motors made by the General Electric Company, turned the swamp into dry land—and abolished the menace to the city.

This is one example of what electricity can do. As you meet life's problems, think of electricity as a valiant and ever-ready ally.

Juniors Compete In Oratorical Contest

Annual Contest Was Held Last Wednesday. Winner Will be Announced in Next Issue

Six Juniors competed Wednesday evening, May 27 for the honors of the Junior Oratorical contest, held annually.

The program was one of the finest given for a number of years. Each person gave his best. Much time had been spent on the preparation as shown by the manner in which each oration was given.

Many different subjects were discussed, each oration being on an entirely different topic.

The program was inter-spersed with musical numbers. These numbers were very well given and tended to keep the program from being monotonous.

No winner was announced, but it will be at the Commencement exercises.
There are a few possible winners, but there seems much doubt as to the actual outcome.

The judges were very capable to their task. Men of some prominence in the oratorical line were chosen.
They were: Rev. Morgart, local minister of the Methodist Church; Sanford
Carpenter, prominent Sunbury lawyer, Judge Albert W. Johnson, Federal judge.

The program was as follows:

Trilo—Allegro, Op. 119—Gurlitt, Marjorie Phillips, Lois Brungart et al.
jorie Phillips pianist, Lois Brungart cellist, Arnold Michaels violinist; prayer; Gists of Industry, Louis C.
Rode; The American of Tomorrow,
Lester Lutz; The Used Heritage, Lee
E. Boyer; Song, "An Old Port in a Storm"—Mills, Clyde Ertel; Democracy, Orren Wagner; The Conflict between Labor and Wealth, Park R.

Theodore E. Ebberts; announcements;
Chorus—"A Spring Song"—Pinsuti,
Misses Keiser, Morning, Norwat, stable, Ertel, Fopeano; benediction.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB PICNIC AT ROLLING GREEN

very heart rending manner. Mr. Puch, the author, would hardly have recognized it. The vocal athletes then demonstrated the possession of accomplishments that required even more brute strength than does singing. One of the most popular of these athletic contests was that of swinging. A good time was had by all—the girls. They did the swinging, and the fellows pushed.

By that time supper was ready and was served more or less in cafeteria style. Professor Sheldon enjoyed this part of the picnic especially. Sandwiches, beans, potato salad, pickles, olives, coffee and ice cream were at hand and were consumed in alarming quantities. Ertel was kept busy seeing that everything went alright and Henius was imposed upon greatly when it came to serving the beans.

After supper a game of ball and a form of the game of hide and seek was indulged in and the picnickers then repaired to the pavilion, where Felton awaited with his "Blacksmiths." Roberts had to leave at an early hour, but a loyal alumnus of Susquehanna appeared just in time to take care of the Kid's girl. The Glee Club men and their friends had demonstrated to them at that time that S. U. prepares her men for most anything.

After many encores of the Anvil Chorus the students collected the warped Victrola records and ran to board the 10:15 car. Much experience in running for trains while on Glee Club trips had hardened in the boys for this, however, and they did not mind a bit. Hand painted door knobs were presented to the ladies as favors and the gentlemen received concrete ear muffs. Professor Sheldon and Mrs.
Sheldon each received one of Zez Confrey's books on Jazz for the piano.

Professor Sheldon reports a clear conscience.

"THE RIVAL"

The first act of "The Rival" was given in front of Sleepy Hollow on Monday noon of this week. If this was a sample of the real performance, we feel safe in promising the audience an evening full of thrills and excitement.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICES USHERED IN COMMENCEMENT WEEK FOR '25

Graduating Class Heard Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Paul L. Yount; New Chapel Hall and Pipe Organ Were Dedicated

Baccalaureate services on Sunday morning, afternoon and evening ushered in Commencement Exercises for the Classes of 1925 at Susquehanna.

The graduates were addressed in the morning by Rev. Paul L. Yount, B. D., of Williamsport, and at the vesper by Rev. Park W. Huntington, B. D., of Jersey Shore. Both devotions were inspiring and the sermons of genuine value.

At 10:30 o'clock, the Academic Procession, consisting of the Faculty and the Seniors in their caps and gowns, formed at the Gustavus Adolphus Hall and moved to the new Selbert Chapel Hall, where a large congregation of relatives and friends of the graduates awaited. They entered and took their places, while Prof. P. M. Linebaugh played the prelude upon the new Moller organ. The Trinity Lutheran Church choir sang an opening anthem, "O Great is the Depth," after which Dr. Aikens, President of Susquehanna University, led in the opening services. Dr. Diehl, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, of Selingsgrove, read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. W. C. Beck, of the First Lutheran Church, of Selingsgrove, offered prayer.

After the singing of a hymn and the rendition of another anthem by the choir came the baccalaureate address by Rev. Mr. Yount. His text was taken from First Kings 6:17 and 18, "And the king commanded, and they brought great stones, costly stones, and hewed stones to lay the foundation."

Tennis Team Defeats Lebanon Valley Here

FIRST INTERCOLLEGIATE MATCH WON—FAST TENNIS PLAYED THROUGH—EBBERTS COMES THRU AS NEW MAN. BLOUGH AND VORLAGE WON

While S. U.'s nine lost to Lebanon Valley last Saturday the tennis team from the Annapolis institution was trimmed on the local courts. It was the first intercollegiate tennis match ever won by a S. U. team and it was an uphill fight throughout, as the same team defeated the S. U. tennis squad at Lebanon several weeks ago. The final score was 6 to 4 and the visitors were allowed only one single and one double match. The tennis team, as the baseball team, was a decided success the past season, and the players are to be complimented on the support given their respective coaches throughout the season.

Ebberts, Blough and Vorlage came thru with victories in the singles and Long and Vorlage won their doubles match. The tennis played was of superior quality throughout and the Lebanon racquet men all played like veterans. The local squad includes several Freshmen and prospects look good for the future. As proof of the fine record of the tennis team more letters will be awarded this spring in tennis than have been given for several seasons.

The results were as follows:
Singles—Ebberts of S. U., beat Herr of L. V., 2-6, 9-7, 6-1; Blough of S. U., beat Ortiz of L. V., 6-2, 4-6, 6-2; Vorlage of S. U., beat Shroyer of L. V., 6-1, 4-6, 6-2; Long of S. U., lost to Rupp, 6-2, 6-0.

Doubles—Ebberts and Blough lost to Herr and Shroyer, forfeit. Long and Vorlage beat Rupp and Ortiz 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

S. U. Nine Lost to Annville Collegians

HANNER PITCHED GOOD GAME, LEBANON VALLEY TO PLAY
HERE TODAY, KNISELEY AND
WEAVER COLLECT HITS. SEAS-ON GREAT SUCCESS

MAX CLARK, CAPTAIN

Coach Clemens' nine journeyed to Annville last Saturday and lost to the Lebanon Valley team by the score of 8 to 0. The game had been previously scheduled for a week earlier, but had been called off on account of rain. The Lebanon squad had one of the best moonmen the local team has bumped against this season, as he allowed only two hits. Weaver and Kniseley were the S. U. boys to connect and kept up their old batting form, which has been a big help to the nine throughout the season. Hanner was on the mound for the Selingsgrove Collegians and pitched good ball, all his support was poor with quite a few errors on our side of the box score.

Lebanon Valley is to be the feature athletic event here commencement week and should be a close game, as the nine always goes good on the home diamond. Taken as a whole the season has been one of the best for S. U. in several past seasons. Coach Clemens is to be given much credit for the nine he has assembled, especially when the number of green men he had to work with are taken into consideration. As the scores stand now we have won six and lost six games. Among the teams met and defeated this season are Juniata, Haverford, P. M. C. and Ursinus.

Capt. Clark will not doubt be on the mound against Lebanon Valley on Tuesday. His stellar pitching has been an asset to the team all season, as he always seems to worry the opponents. Capt. Clark, Earl Thomas, and Southpaw Hanner will play their last game for old S. U. against Lebanon Valley and their loss will be seriously felt as Clark and Hanner are the complete pitching staff and Thomas has held down the hot corner in big league fashion for several past seasons.

SUMMER SCHOOL WILL START JUNE 22nd

Susquehanna University Summer School will begin June 22nd and continue for eight weeks, for which nine weeks credit will be given. Judging from the enrollment, this year's Summer School will be larger than any previous one. For information write Dr. H. A. Allison; for rooms write Wm. T. Horton, registrar.

REV. LESTER KAUFMAN MARRIED

Last Tuesday, June 2nd, Rev. Lester Kaufman, of this year's graduating class of the Department of Theology, was married to Miss Helen E. Shoff, of Irwona, by Rev. John B. Kniseley, of DuBois. Rev. Kaufman has accepted the Brookville charge and will begin his pastorate there on the third Sunday in June.

CLASS OF 1925 WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS TOMORROW MORNING

Seventy-Two Graduates Will Receive Degrees at Commencement Exercises; Winner of Junior Oratorical Contest Will be Announced

Commencement is here. For some of us it is a time of joy, for classes are over and there is not a single care resting upon any of us. If of course, we have passed all our examinations successfully. The brightness of the season and the beautiful days give us a feeling of elation and the conscious knowledge of work well done.

But for some, those who leave the campus this year never to return as students, have a different aspect on this time of the year. For them it means a beginning of something bigger, the real beginning of life, but no matter how big a challenge life holds for them they are all sorry that they will no longer be students at Susquehanna. Now is the time when they must face the world and produce what society demands of College men and women. They shall not fall for the record of old '25 shows men who have made good. Judging from our contact with them we believe that they possess the qualities that are potential of great achievement.

Commencement exercises start at 8 o'clock with the Alumni Social and Business meeting in the old Chapel Hall and at 9 o'clock in the Academic Procession will proceed to the new Chapel Hall, at which place the graduates will receive their diplomas. The address will be delivered by Dr. W. G. Landes, C. E. D., of New York City. Dr. Landes is the general secretary of the World's Sunday School Association and is very well known. His message is certain to be very inspiring.

Many of this year's graduating class will enter the teaching profession. Many others will take up the ministry, and others medicine. Some will probably be married, some will enter the business world and there are some who have not definitely decided. The following will graduate from their respective departments:

Theological Seminary

Reid Elmer Binkaman, Beavertown; John Irvin Cole, State College; David Day Dagle, Millburg; Oscar Freeman, Lebanon; Lewis Franklin Foltz, Sunbury; George Rhine Groninger, Port Royal; Lester Jacob Kaufman, Benfer; Claude S. Ridenour, Newport, Va.; Samuel Dewey Sigler, Paintersville; John Jefferson Weikle Milton.

Schuykill Defeated by S. U. Track Squad

QUITE A FEW NEW RECORDS FOR OUR TRACK WERE HUNG UP.
SCHUYLKILL DISPLAYED SUR-PRISING FORM CONSIDERING HER INEXPERIENCE

Last Saturday Susquehanna overwhelmed Schuykill College in a dual track meet here by a 73-35 score. Five Susquehanna records were broken, Capt. Siegle breaking three of them. He ran the 100 yards in 9.9 seconds, quarter mile in 52.8 seconds and running broad jump distance 20 feet 4 1/2 inches. Other record breaking achievements were made by Koch in the 220-yard low hurdles at 26.1 and the throw by Steffen, who attained 10 feet 8 inches in the pole vault.

The team as a whole deserves much credit, considering it was Exam week, thus having to train under difficulties and the intense heat under which they ran. Prospects for next year are very bright, as we only lose three men by graduation.

The summary

100-Yd. Dash—Won by Siegle, Susquehanna, second, Binkley, Schuykill; third, Millard, Schuykill. Time, 9.9 seconds.

220-Yd. Dash—Won by Siegle, Susquehanna, second, Binkley, Schuykill; third, Millard, Schuykill. Time, 23.1 seconds.

440-Yd. Dash—Won by Siegle, Susquehanna; second, Millard, Schuykill; third, Fopano, Susquehanna. Time, 52.8 seconds.

880-Yd. Run—Won by Zeibler, Schuykill; second, Swank, Susquehanna; third, Morning, Susquehanna. Time, 2 minutes, 6 seconds.

220-Yard Hurdles—Won by Koch, Susquehanna; second, Fuge, Susquehanna; third, E. Loose, Schuykill. Time, 26.1 seconds.

Two-Mile Run—Won by Salem, Susquehanna; second, Vought, Susquehanna; third, Roberts, Susquehanna. Time, 11 minutes, 2.3 seconds.

Alumni Pageant a Brilliant Affair

"THE MARCH OF THE CLASSICS,"
THE FIRST PAGEANT OF ITS KIND EVER HELD AT SUSQUE-HANNA, PAGEANT WRITTEN BY AN ALUMNUS

One of the most interesting and most spectacular sights ever witnessed on the campus will be the pageant presented by the Alumni Association tonight at their annual twilight meeting.

The educational pageant "The March of the Classics," written by Dr. Sanford Carpenter, president of the Alumni Association, is a pleasing departure from the annual routine program and will attract hundreds of spectators.

Dr. Carpenter's scholarly application of historical events, coupled with his wide experience and appreciation of pageantry in the writing of this classic served as a splendid opportunity for the talent of 100 members of the alumni, who so ably took their assigned parts.

The costuming of the sixty parts was cleverly handled under the capable direction of Mrs. Sanford Carpenter, who came last Thursday from her home in Johnston to put the final touches on the directing. Mrs. Winard, Miss Jacobs, Miss Phillips, Mrs. Aikens, Mrs. Horton and Mrs. W. D. Ulrich spent several days making the costumes at the home of Mrs. Winard.

"The March of the Classics" is an attempt at exhibiting the process and elements of education, in the spectacular mode of pageants. It consists of four main groups.—The Science group and the Art group, the Historical group and the Language group.

A large chorus grouped at the rear of the Selbert Hall, will furnish music.

LESTER KLINGMAN, EX-'25 KILLED IN ACCIDENT

It is with great sorrow and a keen sense of loss that we announce the death of Lester Klingman, ex-'25, of Sunbury.

Mr. Klingman had been teaching in Bradford, and was hurt so badly in an automobile accident near Williamsport that he died soon afterwards in a Williamsport hospital.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. To his family, we who considered him a wonderful friend, offer our deepest sympathy.

TRUE COLLEGE HEROES

A recent editorial on "College Heroes" gives the impression that to be a "hero" while in college one must win on the athletic field. I feel that this gives an unfortunate impression in giving undue emphasis to only a minor side of true college life, ignoring what I consider the real elements of true college heroism, and leaving unmentioned those who have won by application of the fundamentals that should be the guiding College spirit.

The True College Hero is the one who realizes why he comes to college and places first things first—refusing to be led aside by any of the numerous extra-curricular activities that detract from the fundamental point of studentship. It is easy to put forth one's best efforts while under the stress of plaudits of friends and volumes of cheers, but it requires courage amounting to true self-denial to stay in one's room and learn the subjects that he has come to college to study while others go away to play or sing. The student who knows his objective point in coming to college and sacrifices all else to the extent of making that the primary objective and all others secondary—who says with the Apostle Paul, "This one thing I do"—and who does only enough of other things to keep his mind and body in the fittest possible condition for enabling him to meet and overcome all obstacles in the way of being a good student, is the only one who becomes the True College Hero.

In my third of a century of teaching I have seen many students who were good in their Freshman year, because they had not yet been drawn into diverting side features, but losing in grades in each succeeding year on account of having "too many irons in the fire" in the way of outside activities, and always neglecting studies for the sake of these really less important affairs. Fortunately, recent tendencies are to go back to the emphasis of studentship and character-building as the most important features in college, and the recognition of the students who do this as the True College Heroes.

I am asked annually to give testimonials concerning scores of students. Invariably the primary question is concerning the applicant's scholarship. I have never been asked how he stands in some club, society, or athletic records. I have many times been told by students who have left my instruction that they were very sorry they did not apply themselves more seriously as students while they had such great opportunities. Many times they have said that they regretted the frittering away of their time. Many have filled positions successfully because they did prepare while they were in college, while others have failed through lack of application and achievement. Every student upon entering college should know of this, and should not only be warned of the dangers in giving time to outside attractions, but should be shown that the True College Hero is the one who holds himself to getting his lessons and doing all his assigned work before he attempts to do anything else.

There are in the college this year many students who are True College Heroes. Their class mates recognize this, and I would do an injustice to two of the best real students that I have ever taught if I should fail to mention in this connection the names of Harold N. Moldenke, in the Freshman class in Botany, and Mr. Park R. Wagner, in the Sophomore class in Zoology.

Mr. Moldenke has collected and mounted and learned over six hundred species of plants—more than ten times as many as all the combined remainder of the class of fifty-two students. He knows the plants, and he knows the other features of his botanical work. The accuracy and minuteness of his data and note-books are remarkable, and he has done what some others have not done—put it into his head as well as in his note-books.

Mr. P. R. Wagner must be mentioned as a True College Hero because he has proven himself an absolutely reliable, faithful systematic plodder, who has learned the methods and gained the habits of study and stays with the work to the exclusion of all else. Neither of these two young men have taken any part in extra-curricular affairs this year, excepting in the Y. M. C. A., which no student can afford to neglect. They as well as some others I might mention, are entitled to be mentioned with the True College Heroes.—H. A. Surface, Professor of Biology, S. U.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON STARTED COMMENCEMENT

to prepare themselves for their future life. Athletics and extra-curricular activities may mean much, but knowledge and information are the essentials.

The announcements were made by Dr. Aikens, another hymn was sung and the benediction pronounced by Dr. Manhart, Dean of the School of Theology.

Dedicatory Services
At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the new Chapel Hall and the Pipe Organ were dedicated with impressive services. A prelude was played upon the 3-manual organ by Prof. Linebaugh, after which the Trinity Lutheran Church choir sang a beautiful anthem. Dr. Houts offered the prayer. A hortatory solo by M. P. Moller, Jr., of Hagerstown, followed. Mr. Moller has a charming voice and his number, "How Lovely are Thy Dwelling," deeply impressed his audience.

Rev. John Wagner, D. D., of Hazleton, president of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania, gave the afternoon address. Dr. Wagner spoke from years of experience as a servant of Christ and he was listened to with the greatest attention.

Dr. Aikens then dedicated the beautiful Chapel Hall and the organ to the use of the university. After the impressive service the doxology was sung and services continued over the graves of Dr. and Mrs. Day, who performed much in the service of Christ in the Mission Field of Africa. Mention was made of the fact that one of the graduates of the School of Theology, Rev. David Dagie, will leave to enter the missionary service in Africa in about a month from the present time.

Vesper Service
At 7:30 p. m. was held the most beautiful vesper service ever held at Susquehanna. Many that could not attend the services in the morning or afternoon, heard the new organ for the first time.

Rev. Park W. Huntington, B. D., of Jersey Shore, an alumnus of Susquehanna, delivered an able address.

An anthem, "O Sing to God," began the devotional service. It was indeed a beautiful service of worship. Again the audience thrilled to the wonderful voice of Mr. Moller, and again a wonderful message was delivered, this time by Rev. Park W. Huntington, of Jersey Shore. He chose as his text these words from Matthew 4:19, "And He said unto them, 'Follow me and I will make you fishers of men.'" It was a mighty sermon, told in simple language and it gripped the hearts of the listeners and gave many of the graduating class a bigger view on the opportunity for real Christian service. A special musical number, a motet, "Hear My Prayer," by Mendelssohn, was given by the Trinity choir with Miss Margaret Keiser as soloist. The beautiful music was a fitting climax to a day of dedication and worship. May Susquehanna's new Chapel Hall have many more such services as these.

MOLLER PIPE ORGAN INTRODUCED BY ARTIST RECITAL LAST NIGHT

Attractions Were Rollo F. Maitland, F. A. G. O., of Philadelphia, and Judson House, Tenor, of New York

The new three manual pipe organ in Selbert Chapel Hall was introduced to the public last evening by a joint organ and song recital given by Rollo F. Maitland, F. A. G. O., of Philadelphia, organist, and Judson House, tenor, of New York.

Both artists were well received by an enthusiastic and discriminating audience, and encores were demanded after each group.

The difficulties confronting a visiting organist are perhaps not evident to most in the audience, although each organ console is built over a specially arranged grouping, making it necessary for the performer to familiarize himself with the location of stops or necessarily retard the speed in performance.

Mr. Maitland has played the largest organs in this country and his experience and adaptability were manifest in the recital last evening by the ease with which he produced effects which would have staggered the amateur. Mr. Maitland sails on June 20th to give recitals in England and Switzerland.

Mr. House possesses a tenor voice of most pleasing quality, backed by musicianship which enabled him to give an interpretation to his songs which was entirely satisfying to the most exacting demands. His singing was a fine example to students of breath control, sustained pianissimo, contrasted with moments of real dramatic intensity.

Mr. P. M. Linebaugh's fine support as accompanist was recognized by Mr. House before the audience and to others after the recital.

A detailed write-up of the numbers of the program cannot be given space in this issue. The program follows:

This chorus, under the direction of Prof. Sheldon, will open the pageant by singing "Star of Descending Night." The historical group, with Miss Mary Phillips, as group leader, will be composed of Education, played by Miss Margaret Ertel, who will be dressed in Academic robes and hold a lighted torch, explaining that education has uplifted the torch of learning, so that man may walk in the light of truth. She then will call the group leaders, who in turn call the characters in the respective groups. Miss Evelyn Allison appears as History in triple roles, representing Ancient, Medieval and Modern periods. The other characters in the group:

Egypt, Rev. W. H. Traub; Assyria, Rev. Walter Brown; Babylon, Mrs. Florence Marks; China, Miss Violet Moyer; the Hebrew, Dr. George Manhart; Greece, Mrs. Samuel Michaels; Rome, Dr. Jacob H. Diehl; the Goth, Henry Ulrich; the Roman, Eugene Keller; the Knight, Paul Ulrich; the Peasant, Mrs. Eugene Keller; the Scholar, Ralph Woodruff; Luther, Dr. W. S. Ulrich; the German, Blair Harmon; the Frenchman, Ernest Walker; the Englishman, Rev. Clyde Schaeffer; the Russian, Miss Abbie Bremler; America, Mrs. Jay Riden; Indian, Miss Adeline Wingard; Puritans, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Witmer.

The Language group, lead by Miss Mary Woodruff, is made up of: Hebrew, Dr. Kretschmann; Greek, Dr. Allison; Latin, Prof. Brungart; German, Dr. Kern; Anglo-Saxon, Charlotte Fisher; English, Dr. Woodruff; Spanish, Miss Cole; French, Miss Marion Pounder; the Bible, Dr. Manhart; Poetry, Mrs. David Brown; Prose, Dr. Aikens.

The Science group, lead by Mrs. Gaugler: Science, Dr. Fisher; Astronomy, Miss Helen Hendricks; Mathematics, Lynn Ramer; Geography, Catherine Wagenesser; Geology, Lawrence Fisher; Biology, Dr. Surface; Chemistry, George Detwiler; Forestry, Sella Phillips; Agriculture, Wayne Schaeffer; Engineering, Joe Snook; Social Science, Alma Bowersox; zoology, Margaret Miller; Psychology, Marjorie Phillips; Medicine, Albert Ott, and Olive Whitely; Politics, Frank Ramsey; Sociology, Adeline Wingard; Theology, Prof. Sanders.

The Arts group, lead by Miss Fannie Jacobs: Art, Mrs. Blough; Painting, Irene Fasold; Sculpture, Christie Zimmerman; Music, Helen Ott; Mechanical Arts, Albert Pottelger.

Mrs. E. R. Wingard, is the local director of the pageant and Mr. Harold Follmer, business manager.

Too much credit can not be given to Dr. and Mrs. Carpenter and their assistants for the time and energy they spent to make the Alumni evening a brilliant occasion.

SORORITY PICNIC

The new musical sorority, Mu Sigma Gamma, entertained at a picnic at Rolling Green Park on Friday, June 5. They arrived at the park in time to enjoy a few of its amusements before supper. Supper was then served to twenty-six people, including some of the honorary members and their husbands. After supper they went to the movies and at 10:30 returned to Selinsgrove, having spent an enjoyable evening.

addressed the graduating class in a very able manner, pointing out to those graduating the real meaning of the life of service that they are about to enter, also the work that they are able to do, and the influence that they are able to exert if they are willing to fulfill that which is expected of them. Dr. Kretschmann was also officially inducted as a member of the Seminary faculty of S. U.

Two members of the class spoke at the exercises, delivering orations, Rev. Reide Bingham, and Rev. Lewis Foulz. A large number were in attendance at these exercises.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

Tonight at 8:15 will be given the Junior Class play. It is a screamingly funny comedy. The classes for the past few years have been presenting Shakespearean plays. This year they will present "The Rivals," by R. B.
Sheridan. The cast is entirely composed of Juniors, and they all seem well fitted for their parts.

The cast follows:

Sir Anthony Absolute . . . S. R. Frost
Capt. Jack Absolute . . . Theo. Eberts
Sir Lucius O'Trigger, John Spigelmyer
Faulkland . . . Jacob Krohn
Sir Bob Acres . . . Joe Fopcano
Lydia Languish . . . Mary Reiser
Julia Melville . . . Arlene Hoyt
Mrs. Malaprop . . . Anna Norwat
Fag . . . Luther Weaver
David . . . Alfred Streamer
Thomas . . . Clarence Detwiler
Lucy . . . Mary Ella Gaugler
The cast has been coached by Prof.
Keener, who deserves much praise, and many thanks for his efforts.

Arthur Easterbrook, the business manager, also deserves much credit for his efforts as to the financial details, costumes, etc.

According to the reserved seat chart the hall will be crowded to capacity and everything has been done to have every one enjoy themselves.
If you want to laugh be there when the curtain first goes up, we know you will stay for the last word.

"S" CLUB STATEMENT

The financial statement presented herewith is but a brief summary of the receipts and expenditure of monies contributed largely by the students of Susquehanna during their One Day Drive for funds to make possible the erection of the Entrance to the Athletic Field. Not only students were active in this drive, but the hearty support and cooperation of the members of the Faculty and some of the Alumni, aided greatly in making the effort successful. Primarily the drive was a student undertaking sponsored by the Varsity S Club.

Mere figures, no matter how exhaustive they may be in detail, etc., will never be able to convey the human interest that was manifested in this student undertaking, which undoubtedly stands out as one of the finest expressions of student interest and cooperation in behalf of their institution ever witnessed on Susquehanna's campus.

The members of the Varsity "S" Club wish to express their deep and sincere appreciation of the fine spirit manifested and the splendid cooperation received in this matter.
